General Statement

A Law School was first established in Richmond College in 1870. After a somewhat uncertain existence, due to lack of money, the School received, in 1890, from the family of Mr. T. C. Williams, of Richmond, an endowment of $25,000. In recognition of this gift, the name of the School was changed to the T. C. Williams School of Law. Since 1890 there has been no interruption of work. At various times the School has received further generous gifts from the late Miss Mary T. Williams and from Mr. T. C. Williams, Jr., both of whom were among the donors of the original endowment. The endowment now amounts to $100,000. The T. C. Williams School of Law is firmly established as an integral part of the University of Richmond. The degrees in law are conferred by the University of Richmond.

LOCATION

Since the close of the World War the Law School has occupied "Columbia," the original building of Richmond College. The location is on the old campus of Richmond College at Lombardy and Grace Streets. In 1921 additional rooms were added, but the growth of the School has induced the trustees to plan further building in 1924. A large wing fronting on Lombardy Street, and containing library, six lecture-rooms and necessary offices, is in course of construction and will be completed by September, 1924. The architecture is colonial and will conform in all respects to the original building. With this new building the Law School can accommodate in its classes about 250 students.

GROWTH

Although standards of entrance and of graduation have been steadily raised in recent years, the increase in attendance of students has been noteworthy. Since the World War the enrollment has been as follows: 1918-1919, 41; 1919-20, 75; 1920-21, 94; 1921-22, 114; 1922-23, 143; 1923-24, 141. The raising of the entrance requirement for candidates for the law degree from fifteen high school credits to high school graduation plus one year of college work in 1923 doubtless accounts for lack of increase during the past session.

Three teachers and one lecturer have been added to the faculty for 1924-25.

COURSES OF STUDY

For most of its history the T. C. Williams School of Law has been taught in evening hours. But the growth of the School and the development of legal education have made necessary certain important advances which are explained below.

Beginning in September, 1922, there came into being a Morning Division and an Evening Division of the School. The Morning School has three, and the Evening School has four years of work leading to the law degree. Regular attendance, satisfactory classroom recitations, and approved written examinations in all of the subjects of each class are required for graduation in either Division. No degree candidate is permitted to advance from one class to another, without having successfully completed the work of the preceding class either in this School, or the equivalent thereof at some other accredited law school. Special and conditioned students are subject to other regulations.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Beginning in 1923-1924 one year of college work in addition to 15 high school credits was required of all candidates for the LL. B. degree, and in 1924-1925 two years of college work will be required. In every case the applicant for admission should apply to the Secretary of the Law School for a blank certificate of admission, and have the question of entrance definitely settled before coming to the Law School.

For a limited time those who have not the full required college preparation and yet wish to become degree candidates, may in certain cases be admitted as "conditioned students," subject to restrictions as to permissible law work until all academic conditions are removed.

In exceptional cases those who are not and do not expect to become degree candidates, may be admitted as "special students," subject to particular regulations.

Those who are unsuccessful in some part of a given year's work, or those who wish to lighten a regular session's work, or those (particularly in the Evening Division) who desire to complete the degree requirements in less than four regular sessions, or those who care only for some special branches of the law, will find it of advantage to enter the Summer Division.

In the Summer School of 1924 there were two terms, the first June 11 to July 22, and the second July 23 to September 1. The following subjects were offered: Bankruptcy, Bills and Notes, Sales, Municipal Corporations, Professor Barnett; Property I, Domestic Relations, Carriers, Damages, Professor Herrick; Constitutional Law, Professor Catterall. The hours of instruction were 6:30 to 9:30 P. M.

SCHOOL SESSIONS

Evening School

Evening Lectures are held between the hours of 7:00 and 10:00 P. M., Monday to Friday, inclusive, in the Law Building. The address is 601 North Lombardy Street, Richmond, Va.

Morning School

Since September, 1922, lectures are given in the morning, between 9 A. M. and 1 P. M., Monday to Friday, inclusive.

SUMMER SESSIONS

From about June 15th to July 31st of each year, lectures in selected branches of the law are given between 6 P. M. and 9 P. M., Monday and Friday, inclusive.

DEGREES AND DIPLOMAS

The Professional Degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL. B.) is conferred by the Trustees on recommendation from the Faculty. This degree cannot be given as an honorary degree.

For this degree is required graduation on all subjects included in either Division of the Law School, with complete compliance with all entrance requirements, set forth above pp. 5-6.

Students who complete the required work in any subject may be awarded a certificate of proficiency in such subject and are not required to study the subject again in order to win the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

All candidates for degrees are expected to present themselves at the closing exercises of the University Commencement, at which time degrees are conferred. It is the custom of the graduating class to wear on this occasion Oxford cap and gown.

THE LAW LIBRARY

The Law Library is established in the Law Building. This library contains the valuable collections of law books owned by the late Hon. Henry Heaton, of Loudoun County, and donated to the University by his sister, Mrs. Harriet M. Purcell. On this foundation of approved works on law, the University is building up yearly accessions of Reports from the General and State Courts, and necessary current magazines.

During the session of 1910-'11 the Law Library purchased a complete set of the National Reporter System. This added nearly 1,000 books to the former collection, and means that the law student has ready access to every reported case in the American Union, decided both in State and Federal Courts.

Other very extensive additions are regularly being made to the Law Library.

LAW PRIZES

In 1924, the Callaghan & Company prize, "Cyclopedic Law Dictionary," for the First Year student in the Forenoon Division, who attains the highest average grade on all regular examinations in that class, was awarded to H. M. Myer.

The same prize for the like student in the Evening Division was awarded to J. E. Drinard.

The Bobbs-Merrill Company prize, "Elliott's Work on the Advocate," for the special student in the Evening Division, who attains the highest average grade on all regular examinations in that class, was awarded to W. H. Gray.

The O. H. Berry & Company prize, a gold medal, for the best all-round law graduate, was awarded to D. J. Mays.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Outdoor sports are fostered and encouraged at the University of Richmond. Details of management are entrusted to the Athletic Association, composed of students and professors, but the President and Faculty exercise general control. In season the University is represented in contests with other colleges by teams in football, baseball, track meets and the like. Membership in all teams is open to students of the Law School.

LITERARY SOCIETY

In 1922-'23, the law student body, headed by the Forenoon Division, organized the "Thomas Nelson Page Literary Society," for the purpose of fostering general culture, debating, public speaking, and interest in political and historical matters among the embryonic lawyers.

Much enthusiasm has been manifested, public meetings have been held, and dinners given, on which occasions attractive programs were cleverly carried out, including addresses from University officers, distinguished attorneys, and public minded business men.

The future of the Society is assured; its influence has become a permanent part of the work in the Law School.

EXPENSES

The charges are the same for both Morning and Evening Divisions.

University Fee, $35.00—Includes matriculation, use of Library and all college privileges. This fee must be paid at entrance, is not subject to deduction, nor in any case refunded. Students entering after the fall term pay $25.00. Those who enter for the spring term pay only $15.00.

Tuition, $100.00—Payable one-half on entrance, the balance February 1st. This is subject to deduction for time lost by late entrance or by sickness, if the time so lost be two consecutive months or more, but not subject to deduction for other causes or for less time.

Contingent Fee, $5.00—Payable on entrance. This is charged each student to cover unnecessary damage to university property, loss of books from the Library, etc. Such part of this fee as is unused is returned to the student at close of session.

Students should make provision for the payment due on entrance so as to avoid delay in matriculation and loss of attendance at classes. Those who wish to withdraw at the close of the first half session and have the charge for the second half session's tuition cancelled, must notify the Secretary of his withdrawal not later than February 10th.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Matriculation	$10.00
Tuition in any one subject.....	20.00
Tuition in any two subjects.....	40.00

These charges are payable at the beginning of the summer session.

Books

The books required in the first year of the Forenoon Division will cost about $40.00; in the corresponding Evening Division about $25.00; and in the full summer session about $10.00.

Rooms and Board

Students can obtain furnished rooms in private homes near the Law School at prices varying from $10.00 to $15.00 a month.

Good table board may be obtained with private families in the same neighborhood at from $6.00 to $8.00 a week.

Names and addresses of persons willing to receive in their homes student boarders, will be furnished upon application to the Secretary of the Law School, 601 North Lombardy Street, Richmond, Va.

DIPLOMA FEES

For every Certificate of Proficiency awarded the charge is $1.00. For a Degree Diploma, $5.00.
