General Statement

A Law School was first established in Richmond College in 1870. After a somewhat uncertain existence, due to lack of money, the School received, in 1890, from the family of Mr. T. C. Williams, of Richmond, an endowment of $25,000. In recognition of this gift, the name of the School was changed to the T. C. Williams School of Law. Since 1890 there has been no interruption of work. At various times the School has received further generous gifts from the late Miss Mary T. Williams and from Mr. T. C. Williams, Jr., both of whom were among the donors of the original endowment. The endowment now amounts to $100,000. The T. C. Williams School of Law is firmly established as an integral part of the University of Richmond. The degrees in law are conferred by the University of Richmond.

LOCATION

Since the close of the World War the Law School has occupied "Columbia," the original building of Richmond College. The location is on the old campus of Richmond College, at Lombardy and Grace Streets. In 1921 additional rooms were added, but the growth of the School induced the trustees to plan further building in 1924. A large wing fronting on Lombardy Street, and containing library, six lecture-rooms and necessary offices, was completed in September, 1924. The architecture is colonial and conforms in all respects to the original building. With this new building the Law School can accommodate in its classes about 250 students.

GROWTH

Although standards of entrance and of graduation have been steadily raised in recent years, the increase in attendance of students has been noteworthy. Since the World War the enrollment has been as follows: 1918-1919, 41; 1919-20, 75; 1920-21, 94; 1921-22, 114; 1922-23, 143; 1923-24, 141; 1924-25, 162; 1925-26, 154.

The slight decrease in attendance for 1925-26 is explained by the fact that, in accordance with the requirements of the Association of American Law Schools, the matriculation of special students was limited to 10 per cent of the average number of students first entering the school during each of the two preceding years. Twenty-seven applicants who might have been admitted under former regulations were denied matriculation for lack of adequate preparation.

The Trustees have decided that for the session beginning in September, 1926, all requirements of the Association of American Law Schools and of the American Bar Association shall be met by this school.

COURSES OF STUDY

For most of its history the T. C. Williams School of Law has been taught in evening hours. But the growth of the School and the development of legal education have made necessary certain important advances which are explained below.

Beginning in September, 1922, there came into being a Morning Division and an Evening Division of the School. The Morning Division has three years, and the Evening Division has four years of work leading to the law degree. Regular attendance, satisfactory classroom recitations, and approved written examinations in all of the subjects of each class are required for graduation in either Division. No degree candidate is permitted to advance from one class to another without having successfully completed the work of the preceding class either in this School or the equivalent thereof at some other accredited law school. Special students are subject to other regulations.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Beginning in 1923-1924, one year of college work, in addition to fifteen high school credits, was required of all candidates for the LL. B. degree, and in 1924-1925 two years of college work were required. In every case the applicant for admission should apply to Secretary of the Law School for a blank certificate of admission, and have the question of entrance definitely settled before coming to the Law School.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Persons twenty-one years of age or more who cannot qualify as candidates for the law degree may, on approval of the faculty, be admitted as special students. The number of special students admitted each year will not exceed 10 per cent of the average number of students first entering the school during the two preceding sessions. A certificate, but no diploma, will be issued to special students.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Those who are unsuccessful in some part of a given year's work, or those who wish to lighten a regular session's work, or those (particularly in the Evening Division) who desire to complete the degree requirements in less than four regular sessions, or those who care only for some special branches of the law, will find it of advantage to enter the Summer Division.

In 1925 and in 1926, courses comprising two terms of six weeks each were offered.

SCHOOL SESSIONS

Morning School

Since September, 1922, lectures are given in the morning between 9:00 A. M. and 1:00 P. M., Monday to Friday, inclusive.

Evening School

Evening Lectures are held between the hours of 7:00 and 10:00 P. M., Monday to Friday, inclusive, in the Law Building. The address is 601 North Lombardy Street, Richmond, Va.

SUMMER SESSIONS

From about June 10th to September 1st of each year, lectures in selected branches of the law are given between 6:30 P. M. and 9:30 P. M., Monday and Friday, inclusive.

DEGREES AND DIPLOMAS

The Professional Degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL. B.) is conferred by the Trustees on recommendation from the Faculty. This degree cannot be given as an honorary degree.

For this degree is required graduation on all subjects included in either Division of the Law School, with complete compliance with all entrance requirements set forth above, page 8.

Students who complete the required work in any subject may be awarded a certificate of proficiency in such subject and are not required to study the subject again in order to win the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

All candidates for degrees are expected to present themselves at the closing exercises of the University Commencement, at which time degrees are conferred. It is the custom of the graduating class to wear on this occasion Oxford cap and gown.

THE LAW LIBRARY

The Law Library is established in the Law Building. This library contains the valuable collections of law books owned by the late Hon. Henry Heaton, of Loudoun County, and donated to the University by his sister, Mrs. Harriet M. Purcell. On this foundation of approved works on law, the University is building up yearly accessions of Reports from the General and State Courts, and necessary current magazines.

During the session of 1910-11 the Law Library purchased a complete set of the National Reporter System. This added nearly 1,000 books to the former collection, and means that the law student has ready access to every reported case in the American Union, decided both in State and Federal Courts.

Other very extensive additions are regularly being made to the Law Library.

LAW PRIZES

In 1926, the Callaghan & Company prize, "Cyclopedic Law Dictionary," for the First Year student in the Forenoon Division, who attains the highest average grade on all regular examinations in that class, was awarded to Harry M. Herman.

The same prize for the like student in the Evening Division was awarded to Walker J. Miller.

The Bobbs-Merrill Company prize, "Elliott's Work on the Advocate," for the special student in the School who attains the highest average grade on all regular examinations in that class, was awarded to Isabelle Eason.

The O. H. Berry & Company prize, a gold medal, for the best all-round law graduate, was awarded to Malcolm Ray Doubles.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Outdoor sports are fostered and encouraged at the University of Richmond. Details of management are entrusted to the Athletic Association, composed of students and professors, but the President and Faculty exercise general control. In season the University is represented in contests with other colleges by teams in football, baseball, track meets, and the like. Membership in all teams is open to students of the Law School.

LITERARY SOCIETY

In 1922-23, the students, headed by the Forenoon Division, organized the "Thomas Nelson Page Literary Society," for the purpose of fostering debating, public speaking, and interest in political and historical matters.

Every session several public meetings are held, on which occasions attractive programs are carried out, including addresses from University officers, distinguished attorneys, and public-minded business men.

EXPENSES

The charges are the same for both Morning and Evening Divisions.

University Fee, $35.00—Includes matriculation, use of Library and all College privileges. This fee must be paid at entrance, is not subject to deduction, nor in any case refunded. Students entering after the fall term pay $25.00. Those who enter for the spring term pay only $15.00.

Tuition, $125.00—Payable one-half on entrance, the balance February 1st. This is subject to deduction for time lost by late entrance or by sickness, if the time so lost be two consecutive months or more, but not subject to deduction for other causes or for less time.

Contingent Fee, $5.00—Payable on entrance. This is charged each student to cover unnecessary damage to university property, loss of books from the Library, etc. Such part of this fee as is unused is returned to the student at close of session.

Students should make provision for the payment due on entrance, so as to avoid delay in matriculation and loss of attendance at classes. Those who wish to withdraw at the close of the first half session and have the charge for the second half session's tuition cancelled must notify the Secretary of such withdrawal not later than February 10th.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Matriculation	$10.00
Tuition in any one subject.....	20.00
Tuition in any two subjects.....	40.00

These charges are payable at the beginning of each summer term.

The books required in the first year of the Forenoon Division will cost about $40.00; in the corresponding Evening Division, about $25.00, and in each summer term, about $10.00.

Rooms and Board

Students can obtain furnished rooms in private homes near the Law School at prices varying from $10.00 to $15.00 a month.

Good table board may be obtained with private families in the same neighborhood at from $6.00 to $8.00 a week.

Names and addresses of persons willing to receive in their homes student boarders will be furnished upon application to the Secretary of the Law School, 601 North Lombardy Street, Richmond, Va.

DIPLOMA FEES

For every Certificate of Proficiency awarded the charge is $1.00.
