The Elevating Justice Institute is made possible through the financial support of two organizations. The Virginia Law Foundation provided a Spot Grant to support this work. The Virginia Law Foundation supports projects throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia that facilitate access to justice, promote an appreciation and understanding of the Rule of Law, and provide law-related education in support of these ideals.

Support also comes from the AALL / Bloomberg Law Continuing Education Grant Program. The purpose of this program is to encourage educational program development and promote program sharing among AALL entities. The Elevating Justice Institute takes place on the day before the two-day annual conference for the Southeastern Association of Law Libraries (SEAALL).

Institute Introduction and Overview
Facilitator: Roger Skalbeck, Richmond School of Law

Session Description
No single person, group or project will fix the access to justice challenges we face across our communities. Improvements and solutions arise from collective efforts and collaborative projects.

The Elevating Justice Institute is structured to show a range of techniques and topics, inspiring all participants to do good and do well for ourselves and those we serve.

Session Objective
This session will include an overview of the day’s programming, together with an opportunity to learn more about event participants.

We’ll engage with the audience to learn more about attendees, including the organizations and regions they represent.

10:30 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.
User Mapping & Issue Spotting
Facilitator: Emily LaGratta, LaGratta Consulting LLC

Session Description
Legal consumers represent every demographic and bring a range of experiences and challenges to their interactions with the legal field. This session will begin to explore that diversity – both seen and unseen – and how it may influence needed services.

Session Objective
Explore the process of user mapping and how it informs access and fairness efforts and priorities
Explore potential user needs and expectations through the framework of procedural justice and legitimacy

Lunchtime Keynote

Speaker (virtual): Hon. Don Johnson, PhD, Chief Judge, 19th Judicial District of Louisiana

Keynote Description

This session will highlight perspectives from a unique vantage point: a sitting judge and academic scholar in the fields of justice management and innovation and procedural justice.

Speaker Biography

Chief Judge Johnson holds several advanced degrees, including a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice Administration with a doctoral minor in statistics and a doctorate in philosophy with a major in judicial studies. He is the winner of several awards, including the William R. McMahon Award from the American Bar Association for significant implementation and development in the use of technological advances in a court of limited jurisdiction.

Additional biographical information is provided at the end of these materials.

Local Innovations & Solutions
Facilitator: Emily LaGratta, LaGratta Consulting LLC

Session Description

Every jurisdiction has its own strengths and limitations in addressing community needs. While no two places are the same, many share common themes in what resources are developed and how. This session will invite audience members to describe local innovations and the strategies that support them, as well as what challenges remain.

Session Objective

Outline the range of access and fairness efforts represented by attendees’ jurisdictions and review through a user-centered framework.

15-minute break

1:15 p.m. – 2:15 p.m.
Real-World Planning for Self-Help Centers
Facilitators: Judge Stoney and Renee Danser

Session Description
Self-help centers are longstanding cornerstones for many courthouses and mere fantasies for others. This session will explore the creation story of two self-help centers, one built years ago and one currently in the making.

Session Objective
Chart and contribute to the design and planning process for a real-world project, as Fairfax County in Virginia begins to implement a pilot self-help law center in partnership with their law library.

Join a conversation between two members of the Virginia Committee for Self-Represented Litigants, sharing your expertise and insights.

Questions to Explore
How do we pick a good location? How do we define the best scope of help provided?
How can people best understand the difference between legal information and advice?

15-minute break

2:30 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.
Communicating Clearly: Forms, Scripts and Signs
Facilitator: Emily LaGratta, LaGratta Consulting LLC

Session Description
Effective communication goes beyond plain language. It accounts for the multitude of abilities, learning styles, needs, and expectations of those in conversation. When guided by a procedural justice framework, various written and oral communications can build trust and legitimacy along the way.

Session Objective
Practice reviewing and editing typical resources within user-centered and procedural justice frameworks

Additional Resources
"Building Public Trust and Confidence Through Model Court Websites,"

"Design Standards for Court & Government Forms,"

"If Walls Could Talk: Can Better Signs Help Build Public Trust?,"
3:30 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Action Planning
Facilitator: Emily LaGratta, LaGratta Consulting LLC

Session Description
The barriers to delivering justice can be overwhelming. However, tangible improvements are possible.

In this session, we plan how to bring new ideas, big and small, back to your organization and community.

Session Objective
Draft tangible follow-up items for attendees to continue the dialogue and efforts going forward.
Hon. Don Johnson, PhD, Chief Judge, 19th Judicial District of Louisiana

Judge Donald R. Johnson is a lifelong resident of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. In 1977, he graduated from Southern University with a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering. In 1982, he earned his Juris Doctor degree from Louisiana State University, Paul M. Hebert School of Law. He has several advance degrees, including two doctorates.

Immediately after graduation, he worked as an Assistant District Attorney with the East Baton Rouge Parish District Attorney’s Office. During this period, he opened a private law office until his election to the City Court of Baton Rouge in 1993. In 1999, he was elected to the 19th Judicial District Court where he has served on all divisions of court. Currently, he serves on Criminal, Traffic, Drug Treatment, and the Pretrial Release Court. He is the winner of several awards, including the William R. McMahon Award from the American Bar Association for significant implementation and development in the use of technological advances in a court of limited jurisdiction.

Judge Susan J. Stoney, Fairfax County General District Court Judge

Judge Susan Stoney is Fairfax County General District Court Judge. She is a graduate of the University of Virginia and William & Mary Law School. Susan clerked for the Honorable James W. Benton, Jr. on the Court of Appeals of Virginia before beginning her career as a Legal Aid attorney.

Over her twenty-five-year litigation career, Judge Stoney represented the interests of low-income individuals and marginalized communities on a wide variety of cases in both state and federal court. She served as the Deputy Director of Legal Services of Northern Virginia (LSNV) from 2010 until November 2016, when she was appointed to the Fairfax General District Court bench. Susan was recently appointed to the Committee on District Courts and serves as on the Access to Justice Commission’s Committee on Self Represented Litigants. She also serves on Fairfax County’s Council to End Domestic Violence (CEDV), co-chairing the Court Process Work Group. Susan was awarded Most Influential Women of Law in 2020 and Leader in the Law in 2012.

Renee Danser, Associate Director of Research and Strategic Partnerships, Harvard A2J Lab

Renee L. Danser obtained a Bachelor of Arts and her J.D. from the University of Pittsburgh. She graduated from the Institute for Court Management Fellows Program in May of 2013 where her project was awarded the Vice President’s Award of Merit for Applied Research.

Ms. Danser began her career as a court manager when she chaired the multidisciplinary committee to unify the family court in Pittsburgh under the best practice principles of “One Judge/One Family”. Thereafter Ms. Danser began oversight of self-represented litigant services. Ms. Danser then went on to oversee all court operations as the Court Administrator for the 43rd Judicial District of Pennsylvania before transitioning to advocacy as the Deputy Director of the Self-Represented Litigation Network (SRLN).

Institute Resources + Attribution

Following is information on the resources used to create materials for the Elevating Justice Institute.

“User Mapping” Pictures

The “User Mapping and Issue Spotting” session includes photographs and biographical details for several people. They are all fictionalized. To create the photographs, we used the website “This Person Does Not Exist” – this site now redirects to Stability.ai, which developed the Stable Diffusion network that provides a system to generate images based on user prompts. The site was formerly at: thispersondoesnotexist.com – The system used a “generative adversarial network” that combined elements of actual photos to create fictional composites.

Stylized Program Graphics

The cover images and all images in the program originate from MidJourney, which is an Artificial Intelligence-assisted system that creates pictures from text prompts. Images are generated using an implementation of Stable Diffusion. Some of the images are derived from actual photographs of the Fairfax County Law Library and Virginia Supreme Court. Others originate purely from MidJourney.

Photographs for the Real-World Planning for Self-Help Centers

Photos displayed during the Self-Help Center session include pictures taken by Judge Susan Stoney and Renee Danser. Judge Stoney provided photos of the Fairfax Public Law Library and the Self-Help Center being developed there. Renee Danser provided photographs of a few of the court systems and organizations that she has worked with through the A2J Lab at Harvard, where she works. Some photos also include stylized versions of the Fairfax Public Law Library, reimagined with MidJourney.

State Maps

The state map outlines for the resource guide come from the Noun Project, created by designer Ary Prasetyo https://thenounproject.com/arypst/ - Noun Project subscribers can choose from millions of icons to use on a royalty-free basis. With the service, you can illustrate everything from subpoena to statute to social distancing.
