

Osmosis Magazine

Volume 2019
Issue 2 Osmosis Magazine - Fall 2019

Article 2

2019

Letter from the Editor

Anthony Isenhour
University of Richmond

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarship.richmond.edu/osmosis>

Part of the Life Sciences Commons, and the Medicine and Health Sciences Commons

Recommended Citation

Isenhour, Anthony (2019) "Letter from the Editor," Osmosis Magazine: Vol. 2019 : Iss. 2 , Article 2.
Available at: <https://scholarship.richmond.edu/osmosis/vol2019/iss2/2>

This Letter from the Editor is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at UR Scholarship Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Osmosis Magazine by an authorized editor of UR Scholarship Repository. For more information, please contact scholarshiprepository@richmond.edu.

Letter from the Editor

Dear Reader,

I welcome you to enjoy our lucky number issue 7 of Osmosis! As a Biology and English double major I have come to deeply appreciate the ways in which science is interesting and should be written in interesting ways that everyone (even those Business majors) will enjoy. This issue has been an interesting one to make and taking on the role of Editor-in-Chief has been a learning experience for me. As a reader, what I hope you take away from this issue is not only some cool new info about some science-y stuff, but also some questions and desire to learn more about the world around you. In a world full of confusing and sometimes contradictory information, remember the wise words of Ms. Frizzle, “Take chances, make mistakes, get messy!”

Science on,
Anthony Isenhour, Editor-in-Chief

Meet the Executive Team

Editor-in-Chief

Anthony Isenhour '20

Executive Editor

Joseph McEachon '20

Managerial Editor

Cassidy Hilton '20

PR and Marketing

George Qiao '20

