Dear Mr. Nettles:

We are proud to inform you that the 1948 WEB is dedicated to you.

For your unswerving loyalty and devotion of your time and energy in an unofficial capacity to the furthering of all three publications on the University of Richmond campus, and your vital interest in every phase of University life the staff has selected you for the dedication of our yearbook.

As this book comes out, we wish to thank you for your constant interest and inspiration during the past year.

Sincerely yours,

The Staff

RICHMOND COLLEGE
The Richmond College Student Government Association of the 1947-1948 session faced the difficult task of meeting the needs of the largest student body in the history of the school. To better equip itself for the present and future student bodies of equal or greater size, Student Government adopted several methods for strengthening and improving its ability to represent its membership.

First, it assumed leadership in the organization and establishment of the Student Congress of Virginia Colleges and Universities, an organization of men’s student governments in the State which enables campus leaders of the various member schools to assemble and discuss mutual problems in an effort to share experiences of success and failure. The Student Congress meets twice each school year, and during the past session, the first organizational meeting was conducted at Hampden-Sydney College in the spring of 1947. Roanoke College served as host school for the second meeting, held in the fall of 1947.

Student Government was instrumental in the formation of the Presidential Advisory Council. This group, composed of students holding certain campus offices, meets once each month with the President of the University, the Dean of Richmond College, and the Dean of Students of Richmond College for the purpose of presenting for frank and considerate discussion matters of both student and administrative interest.

Student Government submitted a request to the University of Richmond Board of Trustees asking for increased appropriations through the Student Activities Fee to the University publications and other activities to raise their standards and effectiveness on the campus. At its mid-spring meeting, the Executive Committee of the Board approved the request, thereby assuring the activities of more adequate funds in coming years.

The Constitution of the Richmond College Student Government Association underwent study and revision by a committee appointed last fall. The completed document, improved in many respects, was presented to the students for their approval during the spring election for class officers.
Good relations with the College of William and Mary were continued through the second annual exchange of students just prior to the Thanksgiving football game.

In September, orientation of one of the largest freshman classes in the University’s history was successfully conducted, and the February enrollees received a brief orientation in the early part of the second semester.

The constant goal of Student Government this year, while performing routine assignments, was preparation for a more practical discharge of its duties. A review of the past year’s activities is convincing evidence that the Richmond College Student Government Association is in an excellent position to maintain an efficient administration in the behalf of its members and the University.

Honor Council

"AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE." This old adage is the basis of the Richmond College Honor Code. The Honor Council is primarily an honor influence and secondarily a judicial body. The Honor Code was formulated by the students of Richmond College as a standard of moral living, not as statutes of law, and as a system that operates among a company of gentlemen. It was designed as a basic element in molding character and promoting good citizenship in an atmosphere that trains young men to accept the responsibilities of leadership. Only time can fully measure the merits of an honor system and the men educated under it, and the standard of success of any honor system rests on the men it produces.

The Honor Council of Richmond College is made up of men from all the four classes of undergraduate study. They serve as a judicial body not operating under law but by the standards of conduct expected of gentlemen. Decisions are based upon character and moral development rather than statutes and codes. Proceedings are secret in order that public opinion and undue influences may have no part in arriving at decisions.

These are tasks which at best are difficult. An honor system is not infallible nor is its judicial body, but strength and perfection are ideals always to be strived for in a free society—the like of which the honor system of Richmond College has fought to maintain.

The Class of '48 has drawn its membership from many others. Some members enrolled in the college as far back as 1937, though most of us entered in that fateful year of 1941. Our leaving the campus this time is with a look to the future as citizens in our respective communities and not as members of the armed services.

The college which we knew as Freshmen with an enrollment of some 500 men, now boasts of over 1300. In an attempt to provide partial lodging for this overflow of students five barracks have been erected on the campus. The trolley problem of yesteryear has been replaced by a large problem of parking facilities for a host of automobiles. A bus route has been in operation for a year since the removal of the trolleys. Although many physical changes have come about, the routine remains about the same.

In the past year, as Seniors, we have seen such accomplishments as the formation of a President's Advisory Council, the adoption of a lodge plan for fraternities and others of equal importance. Our esteemed faculty advisor, Dr. Millard K. Bushong has assisted us a great deal in the past year.

We, the Class of '48 with grateful hearts and anticipation of a bright future arrive at graduation. Realization of this achievement for most of us, has been a long road with many obstacles. We are sincerely grateful to all those who have helped make this, one of the most important events of our careers, possible. With a firm foundation in our respective fields we go forward confident of a successful tomorrow.

The members and officers of the Westhampton College Government Association like to think that Westhampton's pattern of government may be compared to our own national ideal. The system is founded upon representation chosen by majority vote. All of the major organizations, the classes, and the faculty are represented on the planning and legislative branch of the association. This branch is called the College Council, and its primary duties are to regulate school life through privileges and restrictions in directions that will benefit the majority of the students.

This year the Council undertook to furnish the new Student Affairs Room, located on the main first floor hall of North Court. This room, ugly and useless at the beginning of the school year, is now conveniently and beautifully furnished and is at the disposal of all organizations as well as individuals.

The Council also gave in October a reception for our new dean, Dr. Marguerite Roberts. The annual Christmas Party, acclaimed by many as the best in several years, was arranged this year by the Westhampton College Government Association with Richmond College students as our guest. The Association gave one hundred dollars toward the W.S.S.F. drive and also contributed toward the expenses of two of our foreign students whose presence at Westhampton so greatly enriched our outlook toward "one worldness."

Besides these various projects, the Council extended to the two upper classes the privileges of personal discretion in the matter of light restrictions, to freshmen the privilege of unchaperoned dating their second semester, and to the entire student body the trust to attend all meetings on their honor.

The second branch of our government is the Judicial branch which is subdivided into Residence and Honor Councils. The Residence Council upholds and reviews social and dormitory regulations. The Honor Council fills the same capacity, but deals solely with what the Association considers infractions concerned with moral integrity. This year the Honor Council instigated two measures which should greatly strengthen the Westhampton College Honor System. The first is that each Honor Council case shall now be made public to the Association in order that the members may be aware of the Council at work and may criticize constructively. The second measure is that the honor pledge shall now be administered only once to each student upon entrance to college, thus increasing its import.

The third branch of our government is the Executive branch. This branch attempts to propel the program of the Association in its attempts toward making Westhampton a better school to attend and an alma mater of which to be rightly proud.

The Senior Class

So near and yet so far away seems that day when we first arrived. We were introduced to the life of Westhampton through the President’s Reception, the A.A. Picnic, College Government classes, Mortar Board’s pajama party, and the “Y” kid party. Then the Sophs were upon us. But Rat Day passed with no broken bones. On Proclamation Night in November our status as a Freshman Class was recognized, and we became members of that family known as The Evens. April 1 found us one year older and feeling much like the fools for which our birthday was named. May Day burst upon us with its traditional rain, but we carried on with the lantern parade and serenade to our Queen.

Sophomores now, we began the year with a reception for our new sponsor, Miss Pauline Turnbull. The school had grown still more, and although Westhampton freshmen now invaded Thomas Hall, we managed to make them feel a little like “rats.” With Betty Hengeveld as our leader, we enjoyed victory in the song contest. Honorary degrees were conferred upon General Eisenhower and Admiral Nimitz, the veterans began their return, and, at last, the ground was broken for the new dorm. We assumed our role in our Big Sisters’ May Day, managing to create a real, flowing fountain in the garden into which we had transformed the gym for the Queen’s Ball. To further prove devotion to our “Big Sisters,” we blistered our hands at dawn picking myriads of daisies to make that traditional chain. Following was the Big-Little Sister breakfast, and then graduation time. We were no longer “Little Sisters.” An era of life had also passed for the University with the retirement of President Boatwright and Dean Keller.

Hooray! We were three and “Big Sisters,” ourselves. Dr. Woodfin was acting as our dean, Dr. Boatwright had become Chancellor, and in November, Dr. Modlin was inaugurated as the new president. The central focus of the year was our Prom. Since our theme was “Orchids in the Moonlight,” it was to the strains of Deep Purple that Flo Lide led us through a moonlit garden of orchids to receive our class rings.

As Seniors we faced grim reality. Instead of being in the new dorm, the majority of our class was in Thomas Hall. As dean, Dr. Marguerite Roberts had come to us from Canada. We donned our robes for our first academic procession. In November we sponsored the Masquerade Ball, and in December came our tea for the faculty and student body. Under the direction of Doris Moore, we broke a record by winning the song contest for the second time. The spring again brought April 1, our fourth birthday and moving day into the new dorm! Next came the climax of tradition—May Day! Exams were finally over. One last week of Westhampton tradition, and the prophecy of “moving up” day was true. Graduation had marked the end of our road as students, the symbol of our achievement, and the signpost of direction into future life.

LAW SCHOOL
We Honor . . .

On November 10, 1947, our beloved Dean, Malcolm Ray Doubles, was installed as Judge of Hustings Court, Part II, of the City of Richmond.

It was with pride that we saw this truly deserved recognition come to the man who for so long has been honored in the hearts of all who were privileged to be his students.

Judge Doubles came to the Law School as a professor in 1926. Since then there have been many who have come to know not only the merry twinkle that appears so readily in his eye but the keenness of mind and understanding of heart that has marked him a great teacher of the Law.

Great schools are not built of stone and mortar but of the ideals and standards of the men who guide their growth. Because he gave so freely of himself to the development of every phase of the Law School, it is with grateful satisfaction that we know he can never really leave us.

(Right) Judge Doubles signs the commission.

Judge Doubles receives a silver pitcher, a gift from the Student Bar.
The appointment of Dr. William Taylor Muse as Dean of the Law School brought joy to the approving hearts of all his students.

Because we respect, admire, and love him for his unfaltering loyalty and sincere dedication of his life to the legal profession and to the University:

Because of the inspiration and zeal he instills in us:

Because he represents the true spirit of tolerance, growth, and wisdom:

Because he is a great American teacher, a friend of students, and a champion of right:

We receive him with gladness in our hearts and extend sincere best wishes in the days to follow.

THE STUDENT Bar has concluded what many students will declare to be its most challenging and successful year since its inception. Founded in 1939, the Student Bar was organized to replace the antiquated Student Government Association, and has proved itself worthy of the efforts of its creators.

Like other schools, we experienced a great influx of students as a result of the postwar quest for a legal education. This year the student body enrollment of 185 students, which was the largest in its 78 years, placed additional burdens on the Student Bar never here­tofore experienced. But the Student Bar, due to its unique organiza­tion and smooth operation, has been able to cope with these problems in a successful and expeditious manner.

Its constitution, which closely resembles that of the Virginia State Bar Association and the Virginia Integrated Bar, sets forth the functions and primary purposes of the organization. In keeping with the present-day trend, the constitution delegates the power in four Executive Offices, a Representative Council, and the Honor Court.

Howard G. Turner ably served as President of the executive branch this year. In addition to his general duties, the President supervises the execution of the laws, recommends legislation to the Council, has a veto power, appoints members to the Court, calls meetings of the Student Bar, supervises auditing of the books, and acts as the Bar representative on the Board of Publications. Vice­President Wilbur L. Skinner presided over the meetings of the Council, in addition to acting in the absence of the President. Ener­getic and efficient Bertram A. Jones, Jr., served as Secretary. In addition to performing his copious secretarial duties, “Bert” was the originator of many helpful ideas which he followed through on to fruition. John M. Bareford served as Treasurer and did a splendid job in spite of the “inflationary spiral” which plagued his budget.

The Representative Council is composed of three judicial circuits, and each circuit is represented by three members. The first circuit was composed of Chairman Thurman S. Cash, Howard P. Anderson and Walther B. Fuller. Ray Hughes served as chairman of the second circuit with Richard C. L. Moncure and Daniel G. Joyce. “Dan” was elected to replace James T. Humphrey, who was killed in an automobile collision last summer. George W. Sadler served as chairman of the third circuit together with Julian E. Savage and John W. Russell.

The third unit of the Student Bar is the Honor Court. This five­man group is appointed by the President to determine the constitutionality of actions of the other governmental departments, and, of course, to decide cases involving violations of the Canons of Ethics. The Court was ably presided over by Chief Justice Victor E. Pregent, III. Other members include John L. Gayle, James W. Payne, Jr., Albert Russinoff and Stuart L. Williams. Upon the graduation of Pregent and Gayle in January, Bill Dixon and Jack Hammack were appointed to the Court.

The three-member Grievance Committee, appointed by the Coun­cil, plays an important part in the operation of the Student Bar. It receives complaints of violations of the Canons of Ethics, makes investigations, and on the basis of its findings prosecutes the defend­ants, where there are such, before the court. John S. Dennis served as chairman of the committee together with Richard E. Lewis, L. John Hammack and George Willis who was appointed to replace Jack Hammack upon the latter's elevation to the Honor Court.

This year a Budget Committee was appointed by the Council to forecast the requirements of the Student Bar and to set a fee which would meet the necessary expenditures of its financial obligations. The committee was piloted by James W. Payne, Jr., as chairman, together with John W. Russell and Paul A. Jamark.

A Publications Committee was also appointed by the Council in order to provide the Law School with adequate representation on the various publications of the University. Richard C. L. Moncure served as chairman of this committee and was assisted by William T. Bareford as Editor of the Collegian; John Ossea, Jr., Editor of the Web; Albert Russinoff, Editor of the Messenger; and Paul A. Jamark, Public Relations Editor. As a result of this committee, future students may well expect citations to such landmarks in the law as "Ike Marvel" in the Collegian, and "I Promise" in the Messenger.

Another innovation of the Student Bar this year was the appointment of an Orientation Committee to give the new students a warm welcome and to help them become better acquainted with their duties and privileges while in school. President Turner and the other officers explained the function and purpose of the Student Bar, the Constitution and the Canons of Ethics to the first year men.

The Social Committee performed an unusually fine job in providing for the "lighter" side of life. The year opened with the traditional informal smoker at the John Marshall to acquaint new students and faculty. The gathering was honored with the presence of Chief Justice Hudgins of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, who is an alumnus of our venerable institution. There was also the annual fall dance at the Hotel Jefferson and the Annual Law School Alumni Banquet in the spring. We salute the members of the Social Committee—Chairman Julian E. Savage, William T. Bareford, Louis H. Miller, Jr., and Howard P. Anderson.

For the first time the Law School took an active part in intramural sports. Under the able leadership of Ed Lane our basketball team participated in a seven-game schedule. Other members of the team were Will Skinner, Bill Patterson, George Jacobs, Pete Holland, Bill Teefey, Bobby Lumpkin, Coleman McGeehe, Jerry Jewett, Dorman Travers, and Leonard Weiss. With Professor Barnett's parental blessing, John Dennis and Ray Hughes organized the golf team.

Moments of relaxation also were made possible through the installation of a Coca-Cola machine, a new cover on the pool table, and an adequate supply of ping-pong balls furnished by one Hillard. Not to be forgotten was the pet project of Councilman Savage, who was instrumental in providing the students with more adequate facilities for a reading room.

Recognition is due—Pressey Turner for his leadership during this unusual year; John Ossea, Law School editor of The Web, for his untiring efforts in making this year's annual a success; Paul Jamark, Publicity Director, for diligently supplying copy to the newspapers; "Tee" Bareford, Collegian editor, for his weekly column "Purely Dictum."

After a spirited campaign, the Representative Party took all offices in the spring elections. Dick Moncure was elected President of the Student Bar, Bill Patterson, Vice-President; Bob Coats, Secretary, and Joe Tenthet, Treasurer. Posters and slogan enlivened the pre-election period.

At the close of this year, it can be said most assuredly that the Student Bar has proved itself to be a practical organization for student self-government.
The McNeill Law Society was organized during the school year 1933-1934 at the instigation of a group of interested students for the purpose of recognizing scholarship in legal studies and affording an opportunity for extracurricular research and discussion concerning legal problems. The Society was named in honor of Dr. Walter Scott McNeill, for many years a teacher and friend of the students of this law school.

At the start of this, our second year of operation since the war, eleven new members were initiated into the Society. The program for the year has consisted of reports on recent judicial decisions, arguments of moot appellate cases and opinions rendered thereon and was highlighted by an address by Mr. Justice Willis D. Miller of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia.

New members taken in after the mid-year examinations were John T. Green and Walther B. Fidler. The annual spring meeting brought to a close a highly successful year for the society. Dr. Ralph C. McDanel, head of the department of history at the University, as honored guest at this meeting, spoke on “International Law.”

Dean William T. Muse has actively served as faculty advisor and the students officers have been James W Payne, Jr., Chancellor; Victor E. Pregeant, III, Vice-Chancellor, and William D. Dixon, Chancellor of the Exchequer.
JEFFERSON SENATE OF DELTA THETA PHI LAW FRATERNITY was established at the University of Richmond Law School in 1911. It remained active until 1939 when the selective service act all but depleted the student body. In the fall of 1946 the senate was reactivated and under the capable leadership of Howard Vick and Louis H. Miller, Jr., has grown to a place of prominence in the school. Indicative of this growth is the fact that during the past year, eighteen new men have been initiated into the fraternity, and during the two-year period the membership has risen from the original seven to forty-eight men.

Once each month the brothers hold an informal smoker or banquet to which faculty members of the fraternity are invited. Prominent attorneys and judges are speakers at these functions which have proved both informative and entertaining.

In June 1947, Jefferson Senate was represented at the Delta Theta Phi national convention in Portland, Oregon, by William T. Bareford. Mr. Bareford holds the office of Tribune of Jefferson Senate, and it was by virtue of this position that he was selected and sent to the convention.

Distinguished alumni of this school and of this fraternity attained high honors during the past year. Former Dean M. Ray Dombles was appointed judge of Hustings Court, Part II, of the City of Richmond: Judge Willis D. Miller was elevated to the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia; and Dr. Wm. T. Muse was appointed Dean of the Law School.

Present officers of the fraternity are: Louis H. Miller, Jr., Dean; Ray Hughes, Vice-Dean; Bertram A. Jones, Jr., Clerk of the Rolls; Marvin F. Cole, Clerk of the Exchequer; R. C. L. Moncure, Master of the Ritual; Wm. T. Bareford, Tribune; Wilbur L. Skinner, Bailiff.

University of Richmond
At last the Evening School of Business Administration has been spun into THE WEB.

Although it is the youngest division of the University, enrollment is running second only to Richmond College. The original enrollment in 1924 was about 50. In September, 1947, the enrollment reached 1,000 students, and that was really news! At least, the Richmond newspapers thought so. That scoop deserved headlines, if not an extra edition.

The Evening School is the service organization of the University for the business community. It enables qualified adults who are employed during the day to take individual courses which are designed to aid them directly in their particular field or to further their education by following the curricula leading to a Bachelor's or Master's Degree in Business Administration.

The preponderance of evidence indicates that adults are eager to take advantage of all educational opportunities which may be offered. Many are willing to go to considerable inconvenience to achieve their goals. During the 1946-47 session, one student made a round trip of 198 miles each Monday to attend a class in the Evening School. A Captain in the Air Corps enrolled in two classes while stationed in Richmond. During the semester he was transferred to the Norfolk area, and for the rest of the year he commuted by plane twice a week. These are extreme cases, but are unlike others only in the matter of degree. No college student ever evidenced more enthusiasm or ambition than a 56-year-old man who recently came to the Dean's office to discuss the possibility of working for a Master's Degree in Business Administration. The fact that he would be well past 60 before completing the course was no deterrent.

The Student Advisory Committee of the Evening School is planning a program of activities which will cultivate closer relationships with the other Divisions of the University in the future. Other students of the University are invited to become acquainted with the work the Evening School is doing to meet the need for adult educational opportunities in Richmond.

Selection of the Web Beauty

As the staff set to work last fall, we decided that there must be a more effective way to choose a Web Beauty. Because we wanted to have a person chosen for beauty alone, notwithstanding personality, we asked a Board of three judges to assist us in deciding the winner of the ten-candidate race.

John Robert Powers and Harry Conover, directors of the two largest model agencies in the United States, and Al Capp, creator of the comic strip character, "L'il Abner," were called upon to select the typical American college lass. Later, to make their selection more rounded, we called in Robert Dimenti, of Dimenti Studios in Richmond, who photographed the winner and runner-up. All the judges unanimously agreed that Miss Winifred McAlpine, of Portsmouth, Virginia, should be The Web Beauty of 1948. The runner-up was Pamela Burnside, of Nassau, Bahamas.

May Day

Annually May Day unfolds at Westhampton as the symbol of that which is most cherished in college tradition and heritage. This day, above all others, is acclaimed by visitors from far and near and by every girl who, as a part of college life here, has perceived fully the spirit of Westhampton tradition.

In order to enjoy the best of lovely spring weather Westhampton chose the second Saturday in May for the celebration. A gay atmosphere of festivity prevailed on the campus as the queen and her court reigned supreme. The events of the day were colored by an international theme, indicative of that aspired international understanding which is foremost in the minds of students today.

Bedecked with flags of every country, the booths opened on the green as the initial feature of the day, while girls, gayly clothed in peasant costumes of various countries, moved about the campus. The Greek Theatre served as the background for the peak of events, the crowning of Pamela Burnside as Queen of May. She was attended by Jacqueline Jeter, Maid of Honor, and seven lovely seniors. As night fell the freshmen formed their traditional lantern parade and serenaded the queen. Then followed the presentation of the ballet based on the Polish story of “The Wedding of Wyspianski.”

ACTIVITIES
FEELING THE NEED OF CLOSER COORDINATION and a stronger Christian fellowship on the Richmond College Campus, the cabinet of the Young Men's Christian Association has endeavored to make itself more strongly felt in bringing about these objectives.

The Y.M.C.A. maintains a small stucco building on the Richmond College campus for recreational use by male students of the University. Among the facilities found in the building are ping pong tables and a reading room. In addition to being used for meetings of the Cabinet every other Tuesday, the building serves as a practice place for the University's band and a meeting place for other campus organizations.

Officers of the Cabinet for the 1947-'48 session were: Donald Ball, president; Percy Gates, vice-president; James Jeter, recording secretary; Harold Smithson, corresponding secretary; and Richard Whitehead, treasurer. To aid these officers, an executive committee was elected, which serves the Cabinet by recommending new members for the Cabinet and by acting as a steering committee.

Membership of the "Y" Cabinet is composed of students from all the classes of Richmond College, but every man matriculated in the college is included in the Young Men's Christian Association. Faculty advisor for the Cabinet is the Rev. Jack R. Noffsinger, director of religious activities of Richmond College.

Along with its campus activities, the Cabinet authorizes representatives to all state and regional meetings of Christian organizations.

Breaking a precedent in Y.M.C.A. campus activities, this year the Cabinet in conjunction with the Y.W.C.A. compiled information for and published a University directory, including the name, address, and phone number of every student in Richmond and Westhampton Colleges. Julius Fanney served as chairman of the Directory Committee. These directories were sold to students at a nominal cost. It was felt by the Cabinet that this directory would do much to bring about closer cooperation between the students and would facilitate smooth working in campus organizations.

In keeping with the traditions of college Christian organizations, the "Y" Cabinet sponsored a World Student Service Fund drive again this year. The drive, headed by Spilman Short, set a goal of a thousand dollars to be used for relief of needy foreign students. The W.S.S.F. provides foods, medical supplies, books, study grants, and financial aid for students throughout the world.

Under the direction of Lawson Pankey and Ed Clark, the Cabinet presented a Christmas party on the campus for needy children in the city, many of whom, the Cabinet felt, would have had no Christmas had it not been for the "Y" party. Two of the faculty took part in the program—one acting as Santa Claus and the other reading Christmas stories.

Again this year the "Y" conducted a ping pong tournament in which all students in Richmond College were invited to participate. Games were played on the tables in the Y.M.C.A. Building, and the winner had his name placed on a plaque which hangs in the reading room of the building.

To further the coordination between religious groups on the campus, the president of the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet serves, along with the president of Westhampton's Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, as co-chairman of the Religious Activities Council. As do all campus religious organizations, the "Y" Cabinet conducts several times a year Thursday night Vesper services in Cannon Memorial Chapel.

The Richmond College Forensic Council is the governing and controlling body of all organizations recognized by the administration as credit-bearing forensic activities. Its membership is composed of men who are particularly outstanding in literary society work, debating, and other forensic activities.

This year the Council worked under the leadership of Frank Dickinson, President, and Walter Bradley, Secretary-Treasurer. Again, it was under the capable guidance of Professor Lloyd F. Pierce, as faculty advisor.

For its fall project, the Council worked with the local chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha in sponsoring the fall tournament of the State Tau Kappa Alpha—the first time in the history of the school for a state-wide debate tournament to be held on our campus. The results were so encouraging that this will probably be adopted as an annual project.

The annual inter-society debates which were held in the spring did much to promote interest in the work of the literary societies, and gave these societies a chance to compete against each other. These debates and the annual University oratorical contests, also held in the spring, proved even more successful than in past years.
The Philologian Literary Society has as its aim the promotion of better forensic relations on the campus. The programs this year have been of a mixed variety, ranging from prepared and extemporaneous talks to informal debates and discussions. The subjects of the prepared talks have been current events, world problems, and character sketches of campus personalities. The informal debates have been concerned with problems confronting students of this university and schools all over the country.

Founded in 1856 at Richmond College, Philologian has always maintained an enviable record. It has constantly kept pace with the other societies on the campus, contributing many worth-while men to the forensics of Richmond College. This year the Affirmative Debate Team, consisting of Morris Cather and Stanley Snead, won the inter-society debates, thus having their names engraved permanently on the plaques in the University Library. Also two Philologians were elected to high forensic offices on the campus for the coming year of 1948-49. Morris Cather was elected to the presidency of Tau Kappa Alpha, which is the honorary forensic fraternity, and Walter Bradley was elected president of the Forensic Council for the coming year.

During the remainder of the school year, the society plans to provide a broader scope of intellectual thinking on the part of the participants. It expects to have several distinguished guest speakers who will speak on subjects from their individual vocations. The society again this year has provided fellowship and educational recreation for the men of Richmond College.

Officers for the coming year are: Bill Corder, president; Bill Gee, vice-president; Bill Sloop, secretary; William Copperage, treasurer; Morris Cather, historian; Walter Bradley, representative to the Forensic Council.
Unique patterns have become the aim of the Mu Sigma Rho Literary Society this year. Every member may sincerely state the interesting and varied programs which have characterized the meetings. They have given that aspect of life which deals with debates, firmly positioned thoughts, spur-of-the-moment reasoning, and concrete rules of order. Reference has been constantly made concerning the essentials of a practical program in life—well-rounded and sufficiently balanced.

Completed with the society have been debates, round-table discussions, quiz programs, and those general measures that make a person better adjusted to a college life as well as preparation for that portion of a political and administrative career later on.

Pat Velenovsky and Jimmy Banks have served the society as president. John Moncure and Bernard Smith have filled the vice-president's chair with programs of wide interest. Supported by others, we class this society a pleasant and useful function for the advancement of those standards which have been called the "aims of a society."

Probably the oldest student's organization at Richmond College, Mu Sigma Rho was founded in October, 1846. From 1851 to 1878 it published the weekly Mu Sigma Rho Star. In 1876, with the Philologian Society, it established Monthly Musings, which is the present Messenger.

Credit toward a bachelor degree is given for work in the society in place of physical training.

S. C. Mitchell Literary Society

WITH ITS MEMBERSHIP ONCE MORE AT PREWAR LEVELS the S. C. Mitchell Literary Society celebrated its eighteenth anniversary in high hopes for a banner season. Indicative of the position the society was striving to maintain in declamation, public speaking, and debating, were a host of returning members, the majority veterans, and a bumper crop of freshmen.

Among those back were Baine Harris, who captured the first annual Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Forensic Council last spring, and Warren Russell, who gained runner-up honors. The Society could also name the two leading members of the debate team, John Chamberlayne and Neil Cline, among its members.

Speeches during the year were varied with topics ranging from the very humorous to the very serious. Typical of the former was James Moncure's extemporaneous speech "Dick Tracy is 100%, American and Therefore Should be Elected President." On the more serious side were speeches like Samuel Crews' answer to the question "Should Henry Wallace Form A Third Party?" There were also debates, including the never-to-be-forgotten one on the Richmond City Charter which Bill Baylor favored, and Warren Russell "voluntarily" opposed. Quizzes were also held throughout the year.

Another highlight of the season was the drawing up of a new constitution. The need for this was great as there had been many confusing points in the one used during the war. The new document was finally approved after some "opposition" to the wording led by Chamberlayne's fiery "left-wing." Although much time was spent on this, it was not wasted as every member's knowledge of parliamentary procedure was augmented.

The Society also aided Tau Kappa Alpha in conducting the state debating tournament held on our campus. S. C. Mitchell watched its debate team members argue the question "Resolved: That a Federal World Government Should be Established."

As in other years the social side was not neglected. The Society held its annual banquet which will long be remembered by all who attended. At this writing ideas for S. C. Mitchell's part in the annual campus carnival, sponsored by ODK and the Varsity Club, were being discussed. Last year it manned a "penny-pitch" concession which collected several dollars for the new student activities building.
In the present term, the Richmond College Glee Club has enjoyed its most successful year in many past. Not a little of this fine showing has been due to the excellent leadership and fine musicianship of Mr. Mark Troxell, our new director. Mr. Troxell received his B.A. from Randolph-Macon College and his M.A. from the University of North Carolina. He follows in the footsteps of his father who led the club for eight years. With the cooperation of the administration, a separate period was set up for rehearsals. This enabled interested students with conflicts to make adjustments. As a result, sixty men turned out for auditions in September. Elected to serve as officers were: Harry Fore, president; Walter Barger, vice-president; Johnny Howerton, secretary-treasurer; and Bill Gresham, business manager. David Starke was accompanist for the group.

The ability of the club was first demonstrated at the Homecoming Pep Rally, broadcast over WLEE. Elsewhere on the campus the club performed at several convocation exercises in Cannon Chapel and at the Evening School. The performances at First Baptist Church and at the Community Chest luncheon brought many compliments from our downtown friends. The members always showed a fine community spirit when asked to participate in programs in Richmond.

In March we began our concert season. We were invited to several schools and churches throughout the state. In each the club lived up to the fine record achieved by other clubs in years past. The climax of the year was a joint program with the Westhampton Glee Club in the Greek Theatre. This concert was enthusiastically received by the students to put a finishing touch to a most outstanding year.
ACTIVITIES

Mark Troxell
Director

University of Richmond Band

For the first time since before the war, the Spider Band has been reorganized on a full-time formal basis. Ably led by its new director, Mark Troxell, the organization consisted of a hundred per cent of school-spirited volunteer musicians, who gave of their time and their talent to spread Spider spirit throughout the community.

Highlighting the season were performances at all the home varsity football games plus the morning game on homecoming day for the Baby Spiders vs. the Randolph-Macon Bees. One away-from-home trip was taken, that to lend musical support for the varsity at the Virginia game in Charlottesville. In an effort to raise funds for uniforms, music, and equipment, the band played in the Thalmimers’ toy parade in November, giving downtown Richmond a treatment of the “Victory Swing” all along Broad Street.

The band switched from football-style musical capers to a concert band after the final Thanksgiving Day game with William and Mary, presenting in excellent style several concerts, the final one being held in the Greek Theater before a near capacity audience.

The Ministerial Association, led by President Jack Brizendine, has experienced one of its most active years of service. The organization is composed of all students preparing for the Christian Ministry as pastors, missionaries, and religious education workers. All students regardless of denominational affiliation are welcomed into its fellowship. Six denominations are represented by the students: Baptist, Brethren, Disciples of Christ, Episcopalian, Methodist, and Presbyterian.

The membership of this association is the largest in the history of the school. One hundred and eight men are related to this association. These men are all active in the various other religious organizations on the campus. They have participated in all campus activities, taking an active part in the work.

At their bimonthly meetings the members have heard speakers from the various seminaries in which they are interested. Dr. Solon B. Cousins, the faculty sponsor, has been as usual, the ever-present help in guidance and counsel, speaking to the group. The Reverend Jack R. Noffsinger, the Director of Religious Activities, has given valuable guidance throughout the year.

Since the latter part of the first semester the association has been seeking to effect cooperation and understanding with the ministerial students at Virginia Union University. This effort has served to broaden the students’ understanding of the racial and religious problems that exist in the area where they will work and serve. It has benefited all concerned and the members of the group regard it as one of their most valuable activities.

The association is represented in the Religious Activities Council of the University and has actively cooperated in all the programs sponsored by the group. They have conducted Vesper Services in the Chapel and individual members have assisted a number of other groups with their programs. The members have continued their weekly service at the Home for Incurables throughout the year under the leadership of Ed Clark, vice-president. This service is conducted in the assembly room at the Home and is well attended by the patients. They are planned to lighten the daily monotony of their lives. Fellowship singing and special musical numbers by various members and by young ladies from the Baptist Student Union, the Christian Volunteer Association, and the Y.M.C.A. A short devotional message is brought by one of the students. After the service the patients who are unable to attend are visited. A Christmas party complete with Santa Claus and presents for every one was given for the patients the last Friday before the Christmas vacation. This program continues to be one of the most rewarding efforts of the association.

Other religious activities include the various Mission Centers throughout the city where students work as counselors and leaders for underprivileged boys and girls. The annual Student Night program was carried through this year. On April 18 the members occupied the pulpits of the churches in and around the city of Richmond.

Many of the members have attained honors scholastically as well as in other fields. Some have held positions of importance in various churches throughout the city. Some have held student pastorates in the smaller churches around Richmond. On the whole the association feels that it has lived up to its heritage and to the ideals as set forward in its Constitution. Conscious always of its responsibilities it has endeavored to become a part of campus life.

The following officers have been elected to finish this year's work and to prepare for next year's opportunities: Ed Clark, president; Rolen Bailey, vice-president; William Alford, secretary; Walter Barger, treasurer; Nelson Basil, chorister; Ernest Harris, publicity director.

ACTIVITIES

The Baptist Student Union, serving as a link between the student and the local churches, has grown in strength and usefulness this year. With over seven hundred Baptist students in the University, there has been ample opportunity for this group to enrich the campus with a Christian spirit and to provide leadership in the local churches.

During the year the B.S.U. has maintained a daily prayer service in the Chapel and Youth Revivals have been conducted throughout the state. For the second semester this latter type of work has been greatly expanded through the formation of six revival teams under capable leadership.

The summer of 1947 was a busy one. Activities included those of the South-wide Student Retreat at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, Home Mission projects, Daily Vacation Bible Schools, Youth Revivals, Summer Camps, Massanetta Springs, and a pre-school retreat at Virginia Beach.

A new voice sprang up this year, the Spider BSUster, a six-page paper edited monthly by a competent staff. It has a circulation of one thousand, going to all Baptist Students here, ministers of Richmond, members of the faculty, the Student Department at Nashville, and Student Secretaries over the United States.

To attain the motto of the group, "Maximum Christianity," the B.S.U. has been benefited by excellent counselors in the person of Dr. Bushong, Faculty Advisor, and in Miss Araminta Harper and Mr. Jack Noffsinger, respective Directors of Religious Activities on the two campuses. Mr. Noffsinger is now serving at Tabernacle Baptist Church.

Christian Volunteer Association

This year especially we have been conscious of our duty to our fellow men by providing food and clothing, but we must not forget our duty to God to spread His gospel to those in need. The purpose of the Christian Volunteer Association is to unite students of Westhampton and Richmond Colleges of all denominations who are interested in mission work. By presenting speakers from various fields of religious activity, the organization helps members to understand more clearly the World Mission of Christianity and helps them find the place in which they may render the best service.

This year was started for our group with a visitation to the mission centers in Richmond. From these visits we received a realization of the great need that awaits us at our doorstep, and with new zeal, our members went out to take their places in the fields of missions. Some are teaching Sunday School, working in the library and providing wholesome recreation for the children in the Goodwill Centers of Richmond. One of our members has accepted the pastorate at the Fulton Mission.

These dreams have only become a reality through our help from God. Each day at one o’clock we meet in the chapel for a prayer meeting that we might find God’s will for our lives. During the year we have conducted prayer services in many homes in Richmond.

“Go ye therefore into all the world teaching the gospel to every creature.”
The Wesley Foundation is a world fellowship of Methodist college students. It aspires to unite all Methodist students in a deepening of spiritual life through fellowship and worship.

It was not until the spring of 1947 that the need for increased religious fervor here on our campus was realized in the organization of a Wesley Foundation Chapter of the University of Richmond. At that time about six students served as the nucleus of our group which has since grown greatly in interest and membership. Rev. and Mrs. Henry Lee Robison served as the very competent and loving “Mom and Pop” in the birth of our organization. In September 1947 Dr. E. W. Gregory became our faculty advisor.

Having affiliated ourselves with the State Student Movement, many members of our group have come to know what a dynamic experience it is to attend state and regional conferences. During the year such conferences have been held at Natural Bridge, Roslyn, Mary Washington College, Hampton Institute, and other colleges in the state.

Here on campus during the year we have had varied and worth-while meetings. The first meeting was a picnic at which the Randolph-Macon Chapter was our guest. Another of our meetings was outstanding in that Mr. Jerry Speidel was present. “Jerry,” who is the state director of the Methodist Student Movement, brought with him a delegation from the University of Virginia Chapter. We have had some very good speakers, one of whom was our advisor, Dr. Gregory.

On November 15 the “Wesley” conducted the University Vesper Service after which our initiation service was held. This will be recalled as a deeply inspirational experience for all of us who on that night signified, in joining “Wesley,” the desire to give Christ a place in our college life.
Activities

The pathway to acquaintance and association with those of one's own faith is often difficult in the complex society of campus life. Dr. Timothy L. Harrington, recognizing this need, established the first Newman Club at the University of Pennsylvania in 1893. It has so successfully served the purpose of developing an organization through which Catholic students can share their mutual culture and fellowship, strengthening and fortifying their own spiritual ideals, that it has spread to virtually every large university or college in the United States, Canada, and the Orient. The ideals of the Newman Club are those of its patron, John Cardinal Newman, namely; love of truth, honesty, hatred of duplicity and coarseness, refinement of manner, gentleness, and manliness.

The first Newman Club was established at the University of Richmond in 1941 by the Rev. Dr. Francis J. Bladely of the Sacred Heart Cathedral. Suffering a loss of membership during the war, as did other campus organizations, it has once more assumed leadership among the Catholic students at this institution since the fall of 1946 when it was reorganized by members who returned from the service. The Rev. Dr. Justin D. McClunn of the Sacred Heart Cathedral is the Newman Club’s able advisor.

The officers are: Nicholas J. Diemente, president; Bernard J. Hulcher, Jr., vice-president; Louis J. Lombardo, secretary; Andrew J. Meoni, Jr., treasurer.

This spring the Richmond College Newman Club in conjunction with Westhampton College and the Richmond Professional Institute held a Communion breakfast at Sacred Heart Cathedral.

Next September the officers of the Newman Club will be: Buddy Hulcher, president; James Dandridge, vice-president; George Bruce, secretary; and Al Rinaldi, treasurer.
The Canterbury Club

This is the second year of the Canterbury Club on the University campus. Its sponsors, Dr. Edward Peple and the Reverend Reno S. Harp, Rector of St. Stephen’s Church, have led the group in meetings, outings, and church functions throughout the year. The Canterbury Club is the campus organization for Episcopalian students; its aim is to keep the students of its affiliation in touch with their church and proceedings.

The Club has sponsored Vesper services in cooperation with the other religious organizations of the campus, and has worked with the Religious Activities Council in University religious functions.

The members of the Ionian Music Club, University students taking applied music courses, vocal and instrumental, are seriously interested in deepening their appreciation of music. During the past year the club programs and chapel recitals developed musical talent and audience poise in the student performers. Radio broadcasts broadened the field of activity and offered valuable experience to participants. Various concerts presented by the music department truly helped to promote a fuller appreciation of music, the language understood by every man, no matter what tongue he speaks.

ACTIVITIES

One of the most important roles in college life is played by a choir of boys and girls who are desirous to sing and bring inspiring music to other students. The choir of the University of Richmond fills this position more than adequately. The familiar anthem is enjoyed even more when done by the choir for vespers services and convocation exercises. The choir has attained this high spiritual goal through the able direction of Hilton Rufty. The enthusiasm and interest of the members has been heightened by the great ability of Mr. Rufty.

It is impossible to think about the Christmas season and not think about the choir’s rendition of Handel’s MESSIAH. This traditional annual Christmas concert does much to produce the good cheer and will of the season. Perhaps after all the desire to sing and spread musical fellowship is the secret of the choir’s success. Through the choir, great religious music has become a vital part of the growth of Christianity in the University.

At the first of the next school year, probably in October, there is planned a tea for the incoming freshmen of both colleges to acquaint them with the purposes and activities of the University of Richmond Choir. Through this it is hoped that much new and needed talent will be gained for this traditional organization.

Previously membership in the choir has not been gotten through tryouts; we hope that this will be changed by next year. Although tryouts are desired, they will not exclude people with a genuine talent and love for singing. Vocal training is not a requirement, but the aforementioned love and talent for singing plus a slight knowledge of how to read notes is an asset.
Radio Guild

The University of Richmond Radio Guild, with a roster of some twenty-five members, touches on all phases of radio from script writing to the actual production of a broadcast. With members from every class and also students from other countries, the Guild offers to its members something that the average radio-listener knows very little about. Weekly broadcasts over a local station instruct the Guilders firsthand as to what actually goes into the making of a successful broadcast.

By participating in a variety of programs throughout the year the members gain actual experience in producing, announcing and acting. They discover that rehearsals and correct timing are two important factors that help to make “good listening.”

Under the direction of Professor Alton Williams and the guidance of President Nelson Weber, assisted by Production Manager Jack Shea and Secretary-Treasurer Warren Rowe, this year’s Guild boasts a much larger membership than last year. In embarking upon its second peaceful postwar year, the Guild, with its eyes upon the future, is looking ahead to bigger and better programs.

The F.T.A. is an organization established on the University of Richmond campus early in 1947 for the benefit of those students who plan to enter the teaching profession or those who are taking education courses. This association soon became known as the William L. Prince chapter and has since become a member of the national organization of the F.T.A. Under the sponsorship of Dr. Edward Overton the group has sought out and discussed the problems they will meet as teachers, and interest has been further stimulated by movies and by speakers who are experienced in the field of education.
The purpose of the International Relations Club is to stimulate student interest in world affairs. Monthly programs of debates, discussions, and lectures by authoritative speakers are centered around this year’s theme of Peace Through Understanding.

The Westhampton chapter is under the guidance of Dr. Susan M. Lough and the leadership of its president, Vivian Borton. One of its chief projects was to increase campus awareness of the United Nations by presenting special programs on the structure and problems of that Assembly.

Although the Richmond College chapter existed prior to the war, it was disbanded shortly thereafter. Reorganized this year by President Baine Harris, it is already an integral part of campus intellectual activity. Dr. R. C. McDanel is faculty advisor.

Representatives from both chapters attended several I.R.C. state and regional conferences as University of Richmond delegates. Believing that unity accords strength and understanding, we thus exchange ideas, programs and resources with students from other Southeastern colleges.
Math Club
Motto: For the Promotion of Scholarship and Mathematics
Founded 1938

As mathematics assumes an increasingly important role in the scientific world in which we now live, the embryo mathematicians on our campus have felt the need of some medium through which they might express themselves as a group. As a result the Math Club was organized at the University in 1945 to increase interest in higher mathematics, and particularly to cultivate an appreciation for its application in related fields. An honorary society, it recognizes scholastic achievement by accepting as members all students of mathematics who have shown outstanding interest in and aptitude for the subject.

The club sponsors occasional social functions in an effort to develop more balanced personalities and to encourage more intimate relations among its members, faculty and student.

This year, in an effort to increase the value of membership as a professional asset, the youthful organization has sought the grant of a charter from Pi Mu Epsilon, the national mathematics society. Final acceptance awaits the ratification of the application by the individual chapters throughout the country. The attainment of this goal will be no small achievement and will reflect credit not only on the members, but on the University as a whole.

The culmination of an entire year’s work lies here in this 1948 Web. At times, we wondered if there would ever be a 1948 yearbook, yet somehow, the staff has managed to put everything together.

We have endeavored to show a pictorial analysis of the many classes, organizations, and varied activities of the year 1947-8. Here in your book are the people you have known—your close friends, your fraternity brothers, your class leaders, your professors, your roommates, the BMOC’s.

For their unfaltering support to make this a great Web year, we wish to thank Merin Studios, who did the photographic work; Virginia Engraving Company, who made the photographic engravings; Garrett and Massie, publishers of the 1948 Web; Mr. Jones of the Richmond News Leader, and our many advertisers, who supported us financially.

Now the book is yours. Look at it and read it. We hope you enjoy it.

Bill Stigall returned to the University publications in September after an ab­sence from school of two years. He was appointed business manager of the Collegian by the Board of Publications at that time, and fell heir to the additional advertising headquarters of the increased size of the paper. With the aid of the Westham­pton business manager, Irene Barbour, Stigall organized a new staff to help in advertising.

Morton Marks, Jr.

Morton Marks, Jr., who was appointed managing editor in September, 1947, was responsible for several of the Collegian’s most progressive news features of the year.

In an attempt to present to the student body here a comparison between the state of campus activities and activities buildings at Richmond and at similar schools throughout the country, Marks conducted a series of articles written by correspondents at such instistitutions as Boston College, Amherst, and Washington

Before becoming managing editor, Marks served as reporter, feature writer, and news editor on the staff for a year.

The weekly column “The Luckys’ Line” contained the observations of the Spider sports scenes during Luck’s three years on the Spider sports page. Luck’s reviews covered the cause of intramural sports and endeavored to give adequate cov­

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Richmond’s Oldest

As the oldest publication on the campus, and as the literary magazine, The Messenger has served the student body through three wars and the periods of reconstruction which followed. The goal of the magazine has always been to give to the campus the best of creative works of the students, and to act as a medium of expression for those who like to write. This year The Messenger has added the works of alumni, and has taken pieces from old issues.

In keeping with current trends of student thought it has mixed humor with the serious and literary. A page of jokes was added to each issue to supplement the humorous poems which appear from time to time. For the musically inclined, and for those who “just like music,” Disc ‘n’ Data was instituted. This covered the various music fronts from popular to classic, with stopovers to tell of the doings of personalities in the world of music.

Another new feature this year was the “Class Lass Of The Month.” Here a member of one of the Westhampton classes was featured, in a page photograph, in each of the last four issues. Having made the men happy with these photographs, the staff looked around for a way to please the lovelies across the Lake. After much thought and work on the part of Frank Wentzel, a page of fashion pictures was decided upon.

Poetry Editor Mimi Thalenberg hit the jackpot when one of her poems, “A Burned Child Sometimes Loves The Fire,” caught the eye of the Editor of Campus Parade, a national magazine catering to college students. Some of the most popular pieces printed this year were: “Yule Like This,” a Christmas poem in the modern manner, by Professor William Maner; “I Promise . . . .,” a dissertation on Breach-of-Promise laws, by Walther Fidler of T. C. Williams School of Law; and Seth Darrow’s “Nothing For Something,” a humorous exposé of the “We will send you free of charge . . .” racket.

From the Staff’s point of view the two best issues were the Christmas issue and the “Exam and Graduation” issue. The latter featured cuts which had been retrieved from dark corners of the Playhouse, and tied the year up into a neat package.
The psychologists of tomorrow, now students at the University of Richmond, gained practical experience and knowledge by becoming members of the Psychology Club. Organized in 1944 for the group of Psychology majors and minors then on the campus, it served as a meeting ground between faculty and student outside the classroom where informal discussions and clinics could be held. In this manner the club offers the opportunity to its members for a practical application of their classroom knowledge and firsthand information from outstanding men and women in this field on psychopathical situations and conditions in society. The students are also guided to the opportunities open to them in the field of psychology by the contacts afforded through the club's programs.

Twice this year, in December and February, the Psychology Club initiated new members. Selection of members is based upon the number of hours completed in the department's work, twelve being the minimum, and upon the average grade attained during this time; a "B" average is the standard. The faculty members of the Psychology Department, Dr. Carver, Dr. Blake, and Miss Landsman have served in an advisory capacity to the group. The club has functioned this year under the following officers: Sally Taylor, president; Melvin Lubman, vice-president; Betty Hengeveld, secretary-treasurer; Frances Orrell, publicity chairman.

The Psychology Club has tried this year to stimulate more interest among the students in the field of Psychology, and is seeking through its record of achievement to receive recognition from the National Honorary Psychological Fraternity.

For the first time to be presented Mr. Austin Grigg, Instructor of Mental Hygiene at the Medical College of Virginia, conducted a course at the University of Richmond on the "Projective Measurement of Personality." This course of Mr. Grigg's placed special emphasis on the study of war shock.

The three members of the University faculty who are members of the Psychology Club are Dr. Merton E. Carver, Miss Gloria Landsman, and Dr. John A. Blake.

In preparing for the coming semester next fall the Club held an election of officers. Those elected were: Mitzi Vera, president; Betty A. Allen, vice-president; and George McClary, secretary-treasurer.
The world of tomorrow is not a dream in the future but is the result of what we are doing today. The importance of science in this has been especially emphasized in the last few years. Constructive scientific research plays a major role in building a better world. The days of exploration and discovery are not left behind in the past; the present and the future are bright with the possibilities of the wealth of knowledge to be gained through research.

This year Beta Beta Beta is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary as a national honorary fraternity for students of the biological sciences. Beta Theta Chapter was organized in the University of Richmond in 1939, replacing the Phoenix Club which originated back in 1927. In limiting its membership to those students with superior academic records and special interest in biology, the aim of Tri-Beta is to encourage high scholarship in this field.

Our meetings have a twofold purpose. On the intellectual side, the discussion of recent achievements in biology increases not only our interest but our understanding of science. Socially, the fellowship we have enjoyed with others whose interests are in common with our own, has left many a pleasant memory that we will long remember.

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club is an organization formed for the purpose of furthering the interest in chemistry, promoting more intimate relations among students of chemistry, and recognizing those students who have shown ability and interest in chemistry at the University of Richmond. Its activities include addresses by outstanding men in the field of chemistry and tours of local industries and laboratories in order to give the members a broader view of their future vocation.

During the past year, the Club has taken one of the longest strides in its history by becoming associated with the American Chemical Society as a Student Affiliation. By this recognition the members are given the privilege of attending the Society’s conventions and of obtaining the very informative chemical literature published by the Society at the reduced rates offered to the regular members. These are but some of the advantages gained by the affiliation.

At the close of another year, the Chemistry Club sincerely hopes that its effort to instill unity and mutual understanding among America’s future scientists has been a success, and that it has helped to further the interest of chemistry on the campus.
The laughing couples reluctantly left their seats, as the curtain fell on the final performance of Hay Fever. Thus the Playhouse had opened the 1947-48 theater season with Noel Coward’s hilarious comedy under the direction of Alton Williams. Nancy Curtis should have special mention for her performance of the slightly aged actress, still living on the laurels of her youth. The plot evolved around a scatterbrain family, and the mess they got into one week end, with four guests and one guest room.

To the tune of murder and mystery, the Players presented next Night Must Fall, working under William Maner’s able direction. Many acclaimed this as the best and most professional play given for a long time on the campus. Surely Hansford Rowe gave the most effective performance, with his irritating mildness, his facial expressions and his ability in the portrayal of the murderer. Doris Vickers, the old invalid of the wheel chair, exhibited her powers in setting the eerie mood that brought screams of real terror from the audience. A cast party was held at William Maner’s house amid spaghetti, reminiscing and reluctant farewells.

Though no plays issued from the cold Playhouse during the winter months, the Players spent the time in hard work and planning for an original Revue—one of big production, costume numbers and an original plot to bind all the talent together.

Professor Williams’ home was the scene of winter and spring initiations, and the Players grew into the largest group for many years.

After the “Smash-Hit Revue,” sewing machines started flying and hammers pounding, and the old Playhouse saw the production of its two final plays of the year.

The season ended with the Players participating in the Spring Festival, where they played on the professional stage of the WRVA Theater.

The University Players have contributed much to the entertainment and cultural life on campus. Because of the interest displayed this year, they have once more brought the old Playhouse through a highly successful year!

The University Players are planning another big season next year, and would like the help of the student body. With their cooperation the Players will have a larger number of people from which to pick for parts in the forthcoming productions. In the past several plays have been cancelled altogether because too few people tried out for them. However, with better cooperation next year the Players are looking forward to their greatest season.

The Players In Action

University of Richmond
Established at the University of Richmond in 1932, Sigma Pi Sigma is the only national physics honor society. Members are selected from advanced and graduate students who have maintained high standards of scholarship and have a manifest interest in physics, and from faculty members, alumni and others who have achieved distinction in the field of physics.

The objects of the society are: to serve as a means of awarding distinction to students having high scholarship and promise of achievement in physics; to promote student interest in research and the advanced study of the subject; to encourage a professional spirit and friendship among those who have displayed marked ability in physics; to popularize interest in physics in the general collegiate public.

As was customary in alternate years before the war, the chapter sponsored a "Physics Open House" this spring in cooperation with a similar program of the Psychology Club. Opportunity was given for the public to inspect the facilities of the Physics Department and many interesting experiments and demonstrations were performed. The adjacent snapshots show members of the chapter in preparation for the occasion.

Tau Kappa Alpha

Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity on the campus of the University of Richmond, was founded at Indianapolis, Indiana, May 13, 1908, for the purpose of honoring men who have attained achievement in the field of forensics and debating, and to foster interest and participation in these activities. Requirements for membership in the Richmond College Chapter, established in 1917, include active participation in intercollegiate debating or in the activities of one of the three literary societies on the campus over a period of two years, a manifestation of an ability in public speaking, and a high scholastic average.

The sponsor of the Richmond College Chapter is Mr. Jack R. Noffsinger, a member of the society in his undergraduate days on the campus. On December 6, the Richmond College Chapter was host to the fall invitation meet of TKA for the state, successfully conducted with the aid of and sponsored by the Forensic Council. TKA feels this meet has helped to strengthen forensic interests on the campus and to bring about a closer cooperation with the other chapters in the state. Officers for the year 1946-47 were John K. Chamberlayne, president, and Morris E. Cather, secretary-treasurer.

Camera Club

The Camera Club was organized again this year, after four years of inactivity, for the purpose of creating an interest in photography on the campus. It also served to help and instruct its members in the art of taking, developing, and printing pictures. The main project undertaken for the year was the photographic work for The Web. In addition to this, some of the members took pictures at many of the University functions, which was greatly appreciated. This year’s sponsor for the Camera Club was Dr. Smart, who has held this position very ably before. Under the leadership of its president, Joe James, the Camera Club looked forward to a very successful year.

The First Annual University of Richmond Photographic Salon Exhibition was held during the week of May 3-7 in the University Library. John Fergusson and George Newman were awarded first and second ribbons for the entire exhibition. Among the other awards given in the two classes were George Newman and Morton Marks, Jr., first place winners, and Corbett Haden, who won second place in both classes.

University of Richmond
The work of the varsity debate squad during the 1947-48 season was the most extensive and perhaps the most brilliant in the history of the University. Both men's and women's varsity teams toured extensively throughout the East and South and entertained representatives from many colleges and universities on the campus. In addition to the inter-campus debates the varsity teams engaged schools from all sections of the United States in tournament competition and in dual debates before civic organizations and radio stations. Including tournament debating they participated in well over 150 intercollegiate debates.

The teams gained widespread recognition for their distinction in a number of tournaments, among which were the Grand National Tourney, The South Atlantic Tourney, the State Tau Kappa Alpha Tourney, the International Tournament, the University of Virginia Invitational and the William and Mary Invitational. The calibre of work done is perhaps best evidenced by outstanding performances against such schools as Wake Forest, University of Georgia, Princeton, Tulane, Florida, Swarthmore, Georgetown, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Temple, Vermont, Johns Hopkins, Rutgers, Pittsburgh, United State Military Academy, United States Naval Academy and Notre Dame.

Of particular significance has been the "comeback" of women's varsity debating. The representatives from Westhampton have not only honored the University, but have provided incentive for further extension of forensics among women.
A black-robed man walks onto the stage of the chapel, halts before the stand, and begins to read from the paper which he holds in his hand. As he reads, another black-robed man, or woman, walks to one of the rows of chapel benches, reaches out, and taps a student lightly on the shoulder with the baton which carries the green and white ribbons of Pi Delta Epsilon. Together, these two walk to the front of the chapel, turn about, face the audience, and then follows another brief reading, followed by loud applause. Thus is another member brought into this honorary journalism fraternity which was founded in 1909 at the University of Syracuse for the express purpose of recognizing students who have made outstanding achievements in the field of collegiate journalism.

To qualify for membership in Pi Delta Epsilon, a student must work at least two years on one or more campus publications, and attain a position of responsibility on at least one of them. The student must also show a sincere and unselfish interest in improving campus journalism.

Pledging itself, as it has, to the improvement of campus journalism, the University of Richmond Chapter, through its members, has worked unceasingly to bring campus publications to a higher level. Neither time nor effort was stinted. Also this year, the chapter played host to delegates from Virginia colleges who gathered for the Virginia Inter-Collegiate Press Association Conference. Through this conference the campus journalists were able to find ways and means to add improvements to our own publications.

On January 15, 1948, Pi Delta Epsilon held its spring tapping ceremonies. The new tappees were: Jimmy Banks, Jack David, Earle Dunford, Peggy Harris, Morton Marks, John Ossea, Jimmy Robinson, Albert Russinoff, and Pete Singleton. The green and white ribbon of Pi Delta Epsilon is the mark of highest journalistic accomplishment, and is a fitting and proper reward for those who record and interpret the life and activity of the student body.

V. I. P. A. Conference
For conspicuous attainment and service in collegiate activities, Omicron Delta Kappa, National Honorary Leadership Fraternity for men, twice yearly elects its members from the men on the campus who have attained prominence in one and excellence in two of five fields of endeavor: scholarship, leadership, social and religious affairs, athletics, publications and forensics, and dramatics. There are also other points considered indispensable for leadership, character, intelligence, fellowship and consecration to democratic ideals. The purpose of ODK is threefold: first, to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities; second, to bring together the representative men who will help mould the traditions and inspire the ideals of Richmond College; and to bring together members of the faculty and student body on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

The Circle at Richmond College consists of four active faculty members, a national officer and the elected student members. This year the officers were: Jack Wilbourne, President; Reid Spencer, Vice-President; and Professor Fred Caylor, Secretary-Treasurer. The active faculty members were Professor Caylor, Coach Pitt, Dean Gray, and Dr. Herman Thomas. Dr. R. C. McDanel served in the capacity of advisor and in addition was the national President of ODK.

When, in solemn ceremony, a black-robed member of ODK rests the blue and red emblem of the fraternity on the shoulder of a Richmond College student in a Chapel service, our student body is cognizant of the fact that Leadership has been duly awarded.

During the spring semester there were two alumni and eight students tapped into the Circle. The new alumni members of the organization are Dr. J. Caldwell Wicker, president of the General Society of Alumni and head of Fork Union Military Academy, and James H. Barnett, Jr., professor of law at T. C. Williams. John Ossea, Jr., was the new student member from the Law School.

Newly tapped undergraduates in the University’s Epsilon Circle were Neil Chine, Bill Hinnant, Billy Jordan, Bob Kilpatrick, Stuart Massie, Jimmy Suttenfield, and William Warren.
Leadership, Scholarship and Service—on the basis of these three ideals stands Mortar Board, the national honorary society for senior women. On a spring night of each school year, the juniors, dressed in white, file quietly into the chapel. Though the occasion is solemn, excitement runs high; for out of this number a chosen few will be tapped into Mortar Board. This organization was founded in 1918 and now has more than seventy-eight chapters over all the country. In 1930 Mortar Board was established at Westhampton, and since that time a few of each rising senior class have been chosen to be wearers of the Mortar Board pin.

The Westhampton chapter of Mortar Board began its year's activities with the Orientation program. Letters of welcome were sent to each new student, and an informal pajama party was given for these girls during the Orientation week. In the fall, the chapter sponsored the Anne Florence Frazier lectures on marriage and the family and presented a movie in keeping with the lectures. According to tradition, on Thanksgiving morning, following the alumnæ-varsity hockey game, the chapter served coffee to the alumnæ and visitors. The main financial project of the chapter was a Christmas card selling campaign in the fall.

As its contribution to scholarship, Mortar Board set up a tutoring service on campus to help maintain the scholastic ideal of Westhampton. Also, the chapter had its annual Smarty Party to entertain and recognize the top three honor students in the freshman and sophomore classes, the junior Intermediate Honors, and the senior members of Phi Beta Kappa. In line with leadership, Mortar Board was in charge of College Government elections and in the spring sponsored a School for Officers to help train all newly elected officers of campus organizations.

At the end of the year, the coveted honor—the Mortar Board cup—was presented to the class whose achievements had been the greatest as a symbol of the qualities for which the organization stands—Scholarship, Leadership and Service.

El Picaro

The members of El Picaro look back on an enjoyable year filled with programs and parties to further their knowledge of the phases of culture of Hispanic-America. The Christmas party with the Les Femmes Savantes will long be remembered as well as the enjoyment of the Mexican Pinata. Guided by Miss Margaret Rudd and Miss Mary MacDonald, las señoritas stepped into a land of Spanish enchantment.

Serving as officers this year were: Carol Buxbaum, president; Pamela Burns, vice-president; Caroline Bruner, secretary; Lenore Greenberg, treasurer.
Nostrae Filiae

That our daughters may be as the polished corners of the Temple—these words were inscribed on the catalogues of the Richmond Female Institute and its successor, the Woman’s College of Richmond, the predecessors of Westhampton College. To the daughters, granddaughters, or nieces of the alumnae of these institutions are entrusted those words as a watchword. Through Richmond Female Institute chartered in 1853 and Woman’s College chartered in 1894, Westhampton College has a noble heritage; and to Nostrae Filiae are committed those cherished ideals and traditions.

Organized in 1936, Nostrae Filiae has been active ever since under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jack L. Epps, an alumna of the Woman’s College. Founder’s Day, commemorating the founding of Richmond Female Institute, was observed on October 2 by the alumnae and Nostrae Filiae. A special chapel program was presented with Mr. Arthur Bergholze as guest speaker followed by a luncheon. Mr. Bergholze spoke on “The Contemporary Novel.”

Alumnae or Alumni Daughters Club

Westhampton has really come of age—as evidenced by the fact that it now has a club of alumnae daughters.

In November all daughters of Westhampton alumnae and Richmond College alumni were invited to meet together to consider the forming of a club. There was an enthusiastic response, and at a tea a few days later a club was organized and the following officers were elected: president, Barbara Brann of South Boston; vice-president, Flo Gray of Waverly; secretary, Agnes Feild of Alexandria, and treasurer, Dorothy Warner of Tappahannock.
In spite of a late start, Les Femmes Savantes has accomplished many things this year. After a thorough revision of the constitution, a program was launched to promote greater student interest in French life and culture.

During the Christmas season, French Christmas cards were sold, and a joint party was given by El Picaro and Les Femmes Savantes for all the members of French and Spanish classes on the campus. Later, a chapel program was sponsored by the club for Westhampton students.

In the way of the unusual, a French newspaper was composed and mimeographed by the members of the group, who circulated it throughout the campus. Finally, a major project was begun to build up a French library in the Reading Room.

Through correspondence with students in France, Les Femmes Savantes has endeavored to foster a corresponding interest in American life. If in this way it has promoted a better understanding between French and American students, the club can be proud of a year well spent.

Eta Sigma Phi

Eta Sigma Phi, not content with helping students to be more appreciative of the classics, this year decided to tie the bond of acquaintance between faculty and students even more closely with its first project. This decision produced the combination of tea and exhibition of pictures of our professors as babies, given in October. Beta Gamma, Westhampton's chapter of the national honorary classic fraternity, Eta Sigma Phi, has as its purpose the recognition of students excelling in the study of Latin and Greek. Although their main aim is to increase understanding of the culture, classics, and people of ancient Athens and Rome, the organization does not forget the rest of the world. This year it has attempted to emphasize to Westhampton the great cultural heritage of the Orient by the exhibition and sale of Japanese prints.

Although handicapped at the beginning of the year by a membership totaling three, the organization immediately began its ambitious program of exhibitions and sales. In November seven girls were selected for membership in Chapel tapping ceremonies. At Christmas came the sale of cards and the annual tea for students of advanced Latin at Westhampton and throughout the city, given as is traditional at the Deanery, the home of Miss Pauline Turnbull, one of its sponsors. The co-sponsor of the chapter is Miss Marjorie Rivenburg, who helped guide it through an extremely active year.
Starting this year with a record enrollment, the Glee Club attempted to develop a deeper appreciation of music on the campus. Whether from the old familiar strains of one of Cain’s, Kern’s, or Gershwin’s melodies, the dynamic strains of Palestrina or Bach, or the perennial favorite, “The Lord’s Prayer,” there is gained a great sense of inspiration, satisfaction, and keen enjoyment. Traditionally, the Glee Club presented its Christmas and spring concerts, broadcasts, and pep rallies. Many enjoyed the “sweetest music around the lake” each Tuesday in the Chapel at practice time.

Not only did the students of the University of Richmond enjoy the fine singing of the Westhampton Glee Club, but also the Richmond chapter of the Rotary Club.

This year’s spring concert was presented in the Luther H. Jenkins Greek Theater, and given in conjunction with the Richmond College Glee Club. Combining the two groups for the first time in giving a concert proved to be a great success.

The Glee Club is fortunate to have Miss Thelma Cook as its amiable and talented leader and Elizabeth Gill as its most able accompanist. Assisting Miss Cook is the president, Millie­cent Hutcherson; the vice-president, Ellen Largent; the secretary-treasurer, Doris Moore; and the librarians, Ann Pulsford and Barbara Taggart.

For the semester beginning in September the new officers of the Westhampton Glee Club will be: Jean Moody, president; Kay Mallory, vice-president; Frances Sutton, secretary-treasurer; and Elizabeth Hsu and Ida Smith, librarians.
The vesper service on October sixteenth of this fall was a solemn, yet cheerful program. One that was different and meaningful to the Y.W.C.A. One hundred and forty West­ hampton students received their active membership cards at that recognition service, and thus were launched into the widespread, encompassing campus organization that has warmly knit together the girls' religious and social lives all through the years of its existence.

The new students had by then gotten to know the "Y," and all it means to Westhampton; the very first night of school, all the Freshmen were invited to a "whapawhooza" of a party. And did the rafters ring! Songs . . . games . . . and, of course (that part of every good party . . . and don't think the "Y" doesn't know it!) . . . food. We like to think that the Y.W.C.A. mixes the three F's like no other campus organization does . . . you know, Fun, Food, and above all, Fellowship.

And where does all this lead? Fellowship leads to cooperation, and cooperation is the key word of any religious organization. The Y.W.C.A. is so large that all its aims and purposes can only be materialized through its various committees; but, the harmonious picture of the whole is like a patchwork quilt... and the gay word “picture” is literal, for the deeds and patches of work have long since been distributed into various “Y” projects, drives, and programs. The keynote is SERVICE; to God, to the churches, to the community, to the world, and to and by the Student.

There’s the World Fellowship committee, headed this year by Carolyn Bonham. Their main project has been the conducting of the World Student Service Fund drive. There’s also the Social Service group, headed by Betty Ann Allen. Through this committee, the “Y” has adopted a ward at the Crippled Children’s Hospital. There is also the annual Christmas Gift visit to the Bon Air Industrial School, Kilbourne Farm, with a party being held on our campus for these girls every spring.

A new phase of “Y” organization this year, was the instigation of a plan proposing to send the President of the Westhampton Y.W.C.A. to the Presidents’ School which is held during July and August at Union Theological Seminary at Columbia University every year. This year’s leader, Margaret Sabine, attended the session last summer and has given us invaluable suggestions largely selected from work done there.

The “Y” bundled the clothing which it had been collecting all fall and sent it, along with thousands of other bundles which went to points of shipment on the Friendship Train.

But so much for the international and community “Y” projects; the “Y” puts the greatest emphasis of its program on the students of its own campus. The organization is responsible for various Vesper programs throughout the year, in addition to the short week night Vespers which are held in both dormitories. And who would dare leave out the annual “Y” house party at Roslyn? There the girls really “let down their hair”... and enjoy nice feminine sports like football, baseball, and climbing trees. The more serious side is not forgotten though, and lively discussion groups and programs lend just the right touch.

Speaking of Roslyn, the Westhampton “Y” enjoyed the week end that the State “Y” Conference was held there. It was an interracial retreat, and it was fun getting to know girls who are active in “Y” work in the various colleges throughout Virginia. By the way Julie Wann did a fine job as co-chairman of the Conference, and Nancy Curtis provided some grand entertainment for the group.

“Bungle, bungle, bungle, I don’t want to leave the jungle” or rather “Civilization” was the topic of a very interesting and inspiring chalk talk given by Miss Ann Wood at one of the All-Association meetings this year. Although time has been scarce for general “Y” meetings, the meetings which were held presented various phases of the association’s program. One meeting pictured the “Y” activities by way of skits, one presented a movie film “This Road We Walk,” and another was conducted in cooperation with the International Relations Club and included a movie and panel forum on the United Nations. The Public Affairs Bulletin Board was also a real help to those of us who never manage to find time to read the daily newspapers. The most important news articles of the day were posted for us to read each morning.

The University function of the Y.W.C.A. is a joint one with the Y.M.C.A. of Richmond College; both organizations serve to coordinate and integrate all of the other religious groups and services through the Religious Activities Council. As the activities of the “Y” are carried out through these many channels, the Y.W.C.A. becomes a co-curricular rather than an extracurricular organization and plays an integral part in the over-all picture of any Westhampton student’s life.

FRATERNITIES
Social harmony and better relations between the femmes of Westhampton and the fellows of Richmond College is the primary purpose of the Harlequin Club. Ably led by President Bill Hinnant, the club carried out this purpose through the medium of social affairs throughout the school year.

Membership in this exclusive organization is limited to thirty-three and is composed of the president and two others from each of the eleven social fraternities.

Judging from the work done in the past and by the plans being made, it is with great expectation that the club faces the future.
The eleven social fraternities on the Richmond College campus are organized into the Interfraternity Council. The council itself is composed of two representatives from each of the eleven fraternities and three members of the faculty, who serve as officers and in an advisory capacity. The council has developed into a valuable and important campus group since its organization in 1914. The duties of the council are to supervise rushing, sponsor the campus’s three main sets of dances, award interfraternity athletic and scholarship trophies and foster better relations among the fraternities.

Dr. R. C. McDanel served as president of the Council this year along with Dr. H. P. Thomas, vice-president and Professor F. M. Caylor, secretary-treasurer. Herb Liebman was elected chairman of the dance committee and Bill Hinnant as chairman of the interfraternity relations committee. Jim Banks and Stuart Massie were the council’s delegates to the National Interfraternity Council Conference in New York last November.

One of each fraternity’s representatives on the council is a member of the dance committee. The purpose of this committee is to plan, finance, and supervise the three sets of dances, known as Openings, Midwinters and Finals, given by the Interfraternity Council. Starting with Chuck Foster for Openings this year’s series got under way successfully. The dances were financed by the sale of subscription cards to all fraternity men. The sale of these cards gave the committee necessary operating capital and also admitted those who bought them to the dances at a reduced price.

The second representative from each fraternity is a member of the Interfraternity Relations Committee whose duty it is to develop better relations among fraternities. In order to accomplish this the committee sponsors an interfraternity sing and a Greek Week. Greek Week, which is held just before the fraternities’ spring initiation, is devised to impress the prospective fraternity men and the entire campus with the aims and the ideals of the college fraternity.

Intramural sports were successfully promoted with a great deal of spirited and friendly competition.

The Interfraternity Council has succeeded in promoting friendship and cooperation among the fraternities.

ETA CHAPTER
Established at the University of Richmond, 1870

The 1948 WEB
The K.A.'s returned to the campus in the fall of '47 full of determination to work hard and make this year one of their best on the University of Richmond campus. Leading the fraternity were President Larry Bournias; Vice-President Martin L. Shotzberger; and Secretary Oscar Wooten. Their first big job was to get busy and furnish and decorate the room in the dormitory that was allotted to them by the University. From within these walls plans were formulated which resulted in a very successful rush period. The ranks were swelled by the addition of seventeen new members who are anxious to carry on the high ideals of the Fraternity.

Members of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity were well represented in campus activities and held many different offices on the campus. President Larry Bournias held the position of Secretary when he was in the Sophomore Class. He was also President of the F.T.A. Vice-President Martin L. Shotzberger was Treasurer of the Student Government, he was on the Debate Team, tapped by 0.O.K., and listed in the College Who's Who; he was also a member of the Honor Council. Secretary Oscar Wooten was unanimously elected President of A.S.S. and was also Chairman of the Student Party.

With emphasis placed on close cooperation, the K.A.'s succeeded in building a clever, attractive float to commemorate Home-coming Day. Late in the football season the K.A.'s challenged another fraternity on the campus to a Chariot Race, which was held between halves of the Davidson football game. Each chariot was pulled by six members of each fraternity and driven by the respective president of each fraternity. The K.A.'s won the race by a very close margin. The Kappa Alpha Fraternity expects to make this race an annual affair.

The Kappa Alpha football team, under the capable coaching of Charles Mattox, won the intramural football championship. Outstanding playing was exhibited by all the members of the team, but special mention should be given to Jay Border, Bill McCall, Huestis Cook, Jim Weber, and Ralph Fishburn.

The Annual Alumni Banquet was held on March 5, 1948, at the Country Club of Virginia. This year’s affair surpassed the one the Alumni held last year. Alumni from classes of 1905 were represented and active members from every college in the state.

The Brothers of Eta were especially interested in the success of Greek Week. Their show on the opening night was a South American number featuring James Duckhardt and Fenton Bowles. Everyone in the chapter is looking forward to an even more successful “week” next year.

After elections were held late in the school year the men honored to head the Fraternity during the year 1948-'49 were Charles Mattox I, Huestis Cook II, and John Hess III. Next year promises to be an even bigger and more eventful one. Definite steps have been taken by the chapter, with the support of the Alumni toward fulfillment of the building of a lodge on the campus.

PHI CHAPTER
Established at the University of Richmond, 1873

"Old skull and bones, old maltese cross." Once again our song echoed through the trees surrounding No. 1 Fraternity Row. Once again a fraternity year was begun, and with its beginning came great expectations that this year would be one of the best remembered of the seventy-five years during which Phi Chapter has represented Phi Kappa Sigma on the Richmond College campus.

With the officers Jack Baker, Alpha; Wert Hurt, Beta; Doug Brown, Pi; Ned Irby, Tau; William Gee, Sigma; John Harwood, Upsilon; William Owen, Iota; and James McClellan and Dick Wiltshire, Thetas, properly installed, the Phi Kaps as a body began to stir. Fifteen men were selected from the new students on the campus to form our pledge class, and with their acceptance of the pledge vows, a banquet was given at The Clover Leaf for both pledges and actives. Soon afterwards the pledge class, under the direction of Iota Bill Owen, held an election, with Charlie Macatee being selected as President, and George Lynch as Secretary.

With a desire in everyone’s mind for something different along the lines of social activity the committee for such drafted plans for an "Apache Party," and on the night of November 7 the Apaches "partied."

The pledges were soon to find out that "our work is where THEY find it," leaves were raked, grass and weeds were cut, and the first two floors of the house received new coats of paint.

Phi Kaps were busy with campus activities also. Baker served on the Collegian staff. Macatee and Harlow were members of both the Radio Guild and The Web staff. Steed was elected Secretary of the Freshman Class. Ford was Vice-President of the Sophomore Class, and along with Pitts saw much action with the Spider basketballers. McClellan and Gee were members of the Philologian Literary Society. Baker and Owen represented us on the Interfraternity Council, and Halloran, Baker and Owen were members of the Harlequin Club.

A small but very spirited Phi Kap team, taking on, in most cases, heavy opposition, battered its way to a successful football season, losing only two contests while winning three and tying one.

With only a fourth of the year completed at the time of this summary, Phi Kappa Sigma looks forward to much additional activity—activity which will serve to strengthen us and our principles. We are well on our way.

VIRGINIA DELTA CHAPTER
Established at University of Richmond, 1875
Reestablished at University of Richmond, 1939

Phi Delta Theta was founded on December 26, 1848, at Oxford, Ohio. Virginia Delta Chapter first came to the University of Richmond campus in 1875. In 1895 when the University appeared incapable of going through a period of hardship, the chapter voluntarily gave up its charter with the expectation of again receiving it some day. In the fall of 1938 Phi Delta Omega, a local fraternity of long standing, petitioned for restoration of the chapter. Phi Delta Theta reappeared on the campus in 1939.

On the conclusion of the 1947 Spring term the Phi Delts found themselves well represented on the state championship baseball team with Weenie Miller as Captain and All-State selection. On Coach Russ Crane's 1947 edition of the Varsity Track team Claude Thomas was a standout in the middle distances and high point man for the season. Claude also placed third in the 880-yard event at the Big Six Meet held at the College of William and Mary.

The beginning of this year has found the Phi Delts still holding a top-notch position in all phases of campus life and welcoming back many old brothers. The number of brothers was soon increased, however, as rushing season got under way and before it was over fourteen new men were wearing the badge of Phi Delta Theta. The very successful rushing season was highlighted with the annual pledge banquet held at the Y.M.C.A.

The wearers of the sword and shield made their mark in practically every phase of campus activity. On the Spider football varsity brothers Co-Captain Joe LaLuna, Wes Curtier, Don Bermont, Harry Bode, Walt Bolen, Charlie Suttenfield, and Steve Henkes were standouts. Jimmie Jeter, Joe Jozefowicz, and Joe Bowman added more color to the varsity football team as they carried out the chores of manager. Karl Collawn and Jerry Cunningham were mainstays on the varsity tennis team. Jimmy Robinson was number one cartoonist for the Collegian and served on The Web as the Business Manager. Led by brother Lou Ciola, the intramural football team was among the top contenders in a fast-moving league. The team was sparked along with Ciola by brothers Chapman, Collawn, Cunningham, Gibson, and Jozefowicz. Brother Bill Jordan led the Senior Class through a successful year as President and also was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges. President of the fraternity, Earle Dickinson, was Secretary of the Senior Class, Secretary of S.A.C., and served on the Dance Committee. Aiding brother Dickinson in governing the fraternity were Basil Morrissett as Reporter, Lewis Booker as Secretary, Buddy Hulcher as Treasurer, Jack Jennings as Chorister, Bill August as Librarian, Jimmie Robinson as Chaplain, and Alton Sharpe as Warden.

As long as roses are being thrown at some of the brothers let's throw a few at Baxter Causey for his fine acting with the University Players. Last but not least a bushel basket full on Phil Avery and Eugene Duncan for being selected for Phi Beta Kappa.

The Founder's Day Banquet and Ball held in the Virginia Room of the Hotel John Marshall on April 10, ranks high as one of the most successful events ever held by the Phi Delts. The banquet was held in formal attire and the Virginia Delta Chapter was honored to have as guest speaker President O. H. Tallman from National Headquarters located in Oxford, Ohio. The banquet was followed by a formal dance in the Virginia Room.

Phi Delta Theta maintained its place of leadership among the fraternities on the campus. Mixing social functions with studies and doing excellently in both, we have passed through another highly successful year in as close a spirit of harmony as can be reached by any fraternity. Phi Delta Theta has shown that it can earnestly say, "One for all and all for one."

VIRGINIA TAU CHAPTER
Established at University of Richmond, 1884
Reestablished at University of Richmond, 1938

"There remaineth a lingering presence, the ghost of good fellowship rare." This line of one of our oft-sung SAE songs, embodies the spirit of the Virginia Tau Chapter. Although the chapter meetings are of necessity held in the Administration Building and the only place for the brothers to gather during the day is our room, C-3, in Jeter Hall, an air of brotherhood and fraternal spirit worthy of SAE has developed. This spirit has made itself evident at all of our intramural contests. Not only the players, but the entire chapter did its utmost to secure victory.

The social functions of the chapter have been very successful with the parties at Hollyfield Plantation and Camp Richmond, along with our Founders’ Day Banquet and Dance, which were outstanding. The party at Hollyfield Plantation in November featured hot dogs, dancing, singing, and a superb rendition of the "Virginia Reel." In the spring we sallied forth to Camp Richmond and danced to the music of Tommy Dorsey, Harry James, and other leading orchestras of the country. The main social event of the year was our Founders’ Day Banquet and Dance. The Chapters at William and Mary, Washington and Lee, and Virginia, along with numerous alumni attended. The banquet held at the Country Club of Virginia on March 8, was preceded by a formal initiation. The dance, which was held on March 12, measured up to our highest expectations, and proved to be one of the leading campus social events of the year.

The chapter was well represented in campus activities. Sattler Anderson and Bill Luck were tapped into ODK; Anderson, Luck and Jim Gaines served on the Student Government Senate. On THE WEB Staff were Johnny Howerton, Richmond College Activities Editor, and Frank Dickinson, Fraternity Editor; Luck was Sports Editor of the Collegian and THE WEB; Don Camden was Copy Editor of the Collegian; Dickinson was President of the Forensic Council and a member of the Interfraternity Dance Committee; Howerton was Secretary-Treasurer of the Glee Club; Larry Jenson was a member of the Forensic Council and a member of THE WEB Photography Staff; Luck was Vice-President of the S. C. Mitchell Literary Society; Dickinson and Garber were members of the Interfraternity Council; Garber, Saunders, and Camden were members of the Harlequin Club, and Virginia Tau was represented in all major college athletics. Bobby Johnson, Paul Atwell, and Raymond Magette were on the football squad. Sattler Anderson played his third year of varsity basketball and Johnson, Carlyle Williams, and Anderson were members of the baseball team. Jensen and Dickinson were tapped to Tau Kappa Alpha and Luck and Dickinson were tapped to Pi Delta Epsilon. Bill Wills is a member of the Chemistry Club. Howerton, Mason, Mann, Garnette, and Clark keep SAE well represented in the Richmond College Glee Club. Doug Crawford is a member of the Student Activities Council.

Miss Kitty Rosenburger was elected as sponsor for the year. Kitty, who is from Arlington, Va., is a sophomore at Westhampton College. She is pinned to Brother Garber.

Plans have been made for a house party to be held after final exams. It will be held at Sunken Meadows and all are expecting to end the year in grand fashion.

The following Brothers are receiving their degrees in June: Brockenbrough, Farmer, Jensen, Luck, and Saunders. Good luck to them and may they get back to visit us often.

Due to excellent cooperation by the alumni, we expect to break ground on our lodge soon. We also wish to thank our Central Virginia Alumni Association for their cooperation and help in making our Founders’ Day banquet and dance so successful.

With these things in mind we are looking forward to an even better chapter in the future.

RHO CHI CHAPTER
Established at the University of Richmond, 1890

Phi Gamma Delta is one hundred years old! The year of 1948 marked the centennial of the Fijis, founded at Washington and Jefferson College and fifty-four Phi Gams returned to the campus in September, '47 to celebrate the glorious occasion. After a most successful rushing season, the number was increased to seventy-seven when twenty-three new men accepted bids from Phi Gamma Delta and placed the white star on their lapels.

The chapter was headed during the year by Reid Spencer. Earle Dunford served as treasurer; Herman Fleming, as recording secretary; Stuart Massie, corresponding secretary; and Tom Leath, historian. Jack Butterworth succeeded Fleming as recording secretary when Herman's duties on THE WEB consumed the majority of his time.

The social whirl, under the direction of George (Boogie) Wilkinson, started off in fine fashion with a steak fry at Wingfield's Farm in October. In the same month came opening dances with Chuck Foster's music. The brothers took off at intermission for parties at Dunford's house one night and Chase Decker's the following evening. Immediately following the Christmas holidays the local alumni sponsored a party at the Virginia Boat Club which was attended and enjoyed by all Fijis and their guests.

In the spring came the Phi Gam Spring Formal, sponsored again by the active local alumni chapter. Banquets held their place during the session, too, with a father-son affair at the John Marshall Hotel in February. The fathers of all Fiji initiates and pledges were invited to learn more about Phi Gamma Delta and to meet all the undergraduates. On May 1 came the annual Norris Pig Dinner, to which every Rho Chi alumni, all Phi Gams in the state and many out-of-state were invited. The affair was a gigantic celebration of Phi Gamma Delta's one hundredth anniversary.

One occasion enjoyed as much as any during the year by the brothers was a Christmas party for underprivileged children held at the Fiji rumpus room.

Fijis were outstanding in every extracurricular activity on the campus during the entire year. On the gridiron, Ed (Sugar) Ralston, Reid Spencer, Bill Scherer, Frank Thompson, Bill Newhouse, Corky Hohmann, Al Kudukis, T. C. McDow, and Corky Brimm performed; and Brimm saw much action with the basketball team. Big Bob Kilpatrick, All-State pitcher in 1947, captained the baseball team. On the track squad were Jack Mallory, Jack Pierce, Sugar Ralston, Stu Massie, Doot Dunford, and Larry Seyler.

Spencer served as vice-president of Richmond College Student Government and president of the Varsity Club. Herman Fleming worked to the bone as editor-in-chief of THE WEB and also was president of Pi Delta Epsilon. Earle Dunford was managing editor of The Collegian and served as secretary of the Senate. Phil Frederick, Dimmock Jenkins, Haddon Snead, and Gordon Cousins also lent their journalistic talents to The Collegian and THE WEB.

Eric Kemp headed the Westminster Fellowship, while Deck Hankins was president of the Canterbury Club. Hankins rang up further honors for Phi Gamma Delta by being elected as student representative to the Board of Publications. He and Honor Council member Doot Dunford were both cheer leaders for the entire year.

Three members of Rho Chi were also members of Omicron Delta Kappa leadership fraternity—Reid Spencer, Herman Fleming, and Earle Dunford, with Spencer serving as vice-president.

With the 100th National Ekklesia of Phi Gamma Delta set for June in Pittsburgh, the password from one Fiji to another on the Richmond campus was “See you in Pittsburgh!”

OMICRON CHAPTER
Established at University of Richmond, 1891

The 1948 WEB
Omicron Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha enjoyed one of the most successful years of its history, attributable to very capable leadership and strong internal cohesion. The record of the chapter in athletic, scholastic, extracurricular and social attainments is one of which the wearers of the "shield and diamond" are proud to boast.

In keeping with the traditions of Omicron Chapter, both Hell Week, Hell Night were revived as an integral part of the pledges' initiation. The week preceding the All-State Ball was designated as the period of extreme sacrifice and the chapter's fifteen pledges were to be seen about the campus wearing large goat signs and nursing goldfish in brandy sniffers.

The chapter was well represented in intramural sports throughout the year. In touch football Billy Rock, Jimmy Pond and Dick Whitehead led the team through an undefeated season. When the basketball and softball seasons rolled around the PiKAs were among the top teams in the leagues. As the lone representative of the chapter on the varsity gridiron Roy Paulette performed creditably.

Omicron had many leaders in the extracurricular activities on the campus. On the staff of the Richmond Collegian were Pete Singleton, editor-in-chief; Bill Stigall, business manager; and Donald Ball, columnist. Percy Gates served as Richmond College editor of The 1948 Web. Dwight Anderson was a senator-at-large in student government, and holding class offices were John Campbell and Hunter Bernard, president and treasurer of the sophomore class respectively. Percy Gates and Pete Singleton were members of the Honor Council. Three of the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet officers were Donald Ball, president; Percy Gates, vice-president; and Dick Whitehead, treasurer. Donald Ball served as vice-president of the International Relations Club and Bob Otto was president of the University Band. Chapter members honored during the year were Pete Singleton and Percy Gates who were elected to be listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Being further honored Percy Gates was elected to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership fraternity.

Donald Ball, Pete Singleton, and Bill Stigall were elected to Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity. Morris Cather was vice-president of the State-wide Baptist Student Union and has been elected president of Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensics fraternity, for the college year 1948-49. Dick Whitehead has been elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association on the campus for next year. Also particularly worthy of mention are the scholastic records of two of the brothers, Donald Baxter and Morris Cather, who made straight A's during the year.

Incoming officers of the chapter for the first semester of the college session of 1948-49 are: Pete Singleton, president; Jimmy Sease, vice-president; Sam Flannagean, treasurer; and Morris Cather, historian. Randy Rouse, district president of the fraternity, held a district convention in Washington on May 1, 1948, meeting with the representatives of the various chapters throughout the district. The incoming officers of Omicron Chapter attended, and much constructive work was accomplished. Plans are now being made to send at least two representatives to the national convention which is to be held in August in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The highlights of the year were the three large social functions. On December 6 the chapter was host to some twelve hundred guests at the annual All-State PiKA Ball. Representatives of the four other chapters in this state, alumni in Richmond, and representatives of the other fraternities on the campus were all present for this gala affair. With the coming of spring came another annual function, the Founders' Day Banquet, which was attended by many prominent members of the fraternity. Last, but far from least, came the annual house party which immediately followed Finals. Throughout the year there were various social functions of lesser importance including stag parties, visits to other chapters, and picnics.

BETA BETA CHAPTER

Kappa Sigma

WE FEEL THAT THIS HAS BEEN ONE of the brightest years since the founding of Beta Beta. With the postwar problems erased and college activities functioning smoothly, we have strive to realize the maximum benefits from our fraternal association.

Under the leadership of Bill Hinnant, our president, we have established many new rules and customs which have made this year more productive. The return of a housemother has been one of our most profitable moves. Miss Mabel A. Higgins, who serves us most ably in this capacity, is a diminutive little lady who has already captured the hearts of all who have met her. She was introduced to the faculty at a Tea on December 14 given in her honor.

Twenty one new pledges, under the leadership of Goat Master Joe Coulbourn, are grooming themselves to take the place of many good brothers who will be lost via graduation route. Dick Garst, a freshman, was elected president. Their outstanding project has been the refinishing of the dining room which they have been highly successful.

As in the past, we have been well represented in athletics. Jack Wilbourne, Tom Billingsley, and George Hodges took up where they left off last fall, playing outstanding ball on the gridiron.

Last spring we followed the Spider nine very closely, especially observing brothers Pat Fenlon, the all-important clutch hitter who guarded the hot corner; Tom Billingsley, the center fielder with his "rifle arm"; Tommy Nichols, the right fielder and leader in round trippers; Ed Johnson, who saw service as a catcher; and pledge brother Bill Finney, who distinguished himself as one of the best moundsmen in the state.

Jack Kolcum, our lone representative on the track team, brought home his share of points.

Jack Greene was rewarded for many of his excellent achievements by being tapped by O.D.K. of which brother Jack Wilbourne is president. Both of these men are members of Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges. Greene is also Chairman of the Honor Council. Hinnant is president of the Harlequin Club while Dick Nash serves the Math Club in the same capacity. Jack Shea has directed the Radio Guild through a successful year of weekly programs. Rusty Warren, Kolcum and pledge brother Hansford Rowe have brought the fraternity much closer to dramatics as they have taken roles in several of the plays presented this year. In a recent election Brother Don Fendler and Pledge Brother Jimmy Sutenfield were elected as Representative to the Athletic Association from the Student Government and Secretary of the Student Government respectively for the coming year.

We celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of this chapter on March 5th at the Hermitage Country Club.

The Brothers retired to the banquet table after an afternoon of golf for a feast of turkey and the trimmings. Recently appointed Judge Harold F. Snead presided as toastmaster. After a few welcoming gestures, he introduced Dick Nash, present G. M. of the active chapter. Nash expressed the chapter's appreciation for this event, and urged all alumni to attend the Annual Spring Formal the following night. D. G. M. Ralph McDaniel next on the program expressed his gratification at seeing such a large group of alumni.

We were honored by the presence of two of our founders, Dean William L. Prince and Senator Robert F. Norris, who briefly aired points of interest concerning the founding of Beta Beta. Through the untiring efforts of Brothers Dick Poage, G. A. Carlton, Bob Des Portes, the anniversary committee, and the alumni chapter, this occasion was a major success.

The Virginia Room of the John Marshall Hotel was the site of our Spring Formal on March 6th. Music was furnished by Jack Clark and his orchestra. Among the four hundred guests were members from Nu Chapter of the College of William and Mary and Eta Chapter from Randolph-Macon College.

VIRGINIA ALPHA CHAPTER
Sigma Phi Epsilon, the only national fraternity which had its start on the Richmond College campus, celebrated on November 1, 1947, her forty-sixth anniversary. Virginia Alpha, the Mother Chapter, again, as she has in the past, contributed greatly to the traditions of Richmond College.

This past year has indeed been a successful one for Virginia Alpha. Much of the success can be contributed to our fine group of brothers who served as officers. For the 1947-48 term the chapter elected Bill Roper as its president. At his side to aid his every "motion dies for lack of a second" were Harry Munsen as Vice-President, George Terry as Secretary, Ben Triplett as Comptroller, and Tom Howard as Chapter Historian.

Virginia Alpha added another star to her glory by taking seventeen active and alumnae brothers to the National Conclave of SPE, held in Kansas City, Missouri, this past summer. Brother Neil Cline was elected as delegate to represent the chapter. We set out for the trip with two objectives. We returned with both accomplished—we took the Man-Mile trophy for having the most representatives from the greatest distance and we succeeded in postponing the proposed plan of moving Sig Ep headquarters from Richmond, Virginia.

The socials for the year were without a doubt a success. Bob Gibson acted as the Chapter's Social Chairman—his outings will long be remembered by the brothers. The informal dances, the cabin parties, and the New Year’s Eve party with the kangaroo and the special sunrise service, were all climaxed by the traditional Sig Ep Banquet and Spring Formal.

In almost every campus activity brothers of SPE are to be found participating, always doing their part. Tad Crump, "Our Boy," served as President of the Student Government, and President of the Student Congress of Virginia Colleges and Universities. Bill Roper, the man with the gavel, served as Editor of the Spider Handbook. The positions of honor and dependability on the campus have long been a part of the Sig Ep tradition.

Sig Ep social season was climaxed by the Golden Heart Ball, held at the Country Club of Virginia on May 2nd. Brother J. Vaughan Gary, an alumnus of Virginia Alpha Chapter, was the principal speaker at the banquet which preceded the dance. Another unforgettable event was the cabin party at Laurel Lake in North Carolina during the spring vacation.

Sig Eps were active in many extracurricular activities with many of the brothers serving on the Collegian, Messenger, in the Glee Club, Band, and various clubs and societies.

This year marked the appearance of Virginia Alpha Chapter's Spider Spiel, a newsletter designed to inform Sig Eps alumni of the activities of their fraternity on the campus.

And so it is, another year of accomplishments—another year of memories. The Sig Ep Heart will always shine as a symbol of success on the campus, as a symbol of friendship in our lives.

Theta Chi

It has always been the boast of Omicron Chapter of Theta Chi that the active chapter, the Alumni Corporation and the Mother’s Club have worked in close harmony. This year these three bodies have accomplished a great deal, the major project being the redecoration and refinishing of the downstairs of the “White House on Roselawn Road.” New tables and chairs were obtained for the dining room, and all the furniture in the living room and den was replaced by plastic covered furniture, and the walls were repainted. The result was a joy to behold and has added immeasurably to the appearance and atmosphere of the house.

The second edition of the Alumni Bulletin was published this year under the editorship of “Pappy” Hargrove. This served greatly to cement the bonds between the Alumni and the Active Chapter.

The Annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children was bigger and better than last year. Dean F. Byers Miller served as Santa Claus, assisted by Miss Monsell who told Christmas stories. This bids fair to become one of the finest of the chapter’s traditions.

Believing that the fraternity should be well-rounded rather than concentrated in one phase of college life, Omicron had men in many campus activities. Pat Velenovsky was President of Mu Sigma Rho Literary Society, and as editor-in-chief of the Messenger, was assisted by Kenny Butler and Jimmy Banks. Harry Fere was President of the Glee Club, Budgie Fleshood guided the University Players. Joe James headed the Camera Club while Hugh Adair served as Secretary of the Chemistry Club. Buddy Rosser played a great game of football, as well as being a leader in campus religious activities.

The Theta Chis have done well socially. The annual “Bowery Ball” was again a huge success. In the spring Omicron Chapter men went all out to attend the annual “Mason-Dixon Jubilee” which is held in conjunction with the chapters at Virginia, Hampden-Sydney and Maryland.

The pride of Theta Chi this year was its intramural record. They started the year by placing third in touch football. Then in basketball the T.C. quintet, under Coach Wes Brown, overcame two strong teams, the Phi Gamms and the Catbirds, to take first place in League A. Not satisfied with this, the big red team took the play-offs from the Kappa Sigs by winning two out of three games. In the final game the T.C.’s came back strong and defeated their opponents 56-35. Johnny Thomas and Buddy Rosser were placed on the All-Intramural Team while Wally McGraw was the high scorer of the season.

Next in line of victories was the intramural track meet. Buddy Rosser, Wes Brown, and Bruce Price led Theta Chi to a smashing victory by accounting for five first places. The final scoring gave Theta Chi 47 points and first place, while Phi Gamma Delta was second with only 17 points.

Theta Chi long known for its socials enjoyed a year of unsurpassed parties. Week-end parties at the White House led to a climax with the traditional “Bowery Ball.” The house was decorated both inside and out in gay-ninety fashion. Everyone came dressed in true bowery style and the party was acclaimed by all as the best yet. Next came the Mason-Dixon Jubilee, which was held in Richmond with Omicron Chapter as host. The visiting chapters were Virginia, Hampden-Sydney, Maryland and Wake Forest. This regional affair got under way with the registration and an informal party. This was followed by a formal dinner at the Hotel Jefferson with Coach Malcolm U. Pitt as speaker of the evening. The Jubilee was concluded with a formal dance at the Mosque. This Jubilee, the eighth of its kind, will long be remembered by the Theta Chis.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Although one of the youngest fraternities, being founded November 9, 1909, at Boston University, Lambda Chi Alpha has grown until it is now an international fraternity and the largest national fraternity in the United States. Alpha Chi Chapter was organized at the University of Richmond on May 8, 1918.

The spring social season opened with a dance given in Millhiser Gymnasium by the active chapter on the evening of March 2. Among the chaperones present were Dean and Mrs. Pinchbeck and Brother Clifford Goode.

The next function of the social calendar was a Founders’ Day dinner given by the alumni at Oak Leaf Inn on March 22. Guest speaker was Dean Pinchbeck. Also present was William Bareford, State Coordinator for Lambda Chi and other distinguished alumni of Richmond.

Next on the string of social events was a picnic at Wayside Inn in May, and several other minor parties.

Outstanding positions on the campus were held by Nelson Weber, Sophomore Class Senator, President of the Radio Guild and a member of the Freshman Orientation Committee. Al Saleeby, Medical Assistant in the University health service, member of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, and serving with the University Players.

Among the Dean’s List students were Nelson Weber, Earl Weed, William Holland, and William Carrington.

Lambda Chi’s softball team, captained by “Peanuts” White, ended its successful season with a .500 average.

The Lambda Chi Alpha football team had only a mediocre season this fall; however they ended the season in a tie for fourth place in league standings. “Peanuts” White captained the team.

This lack of talent and luck in football was counteracted by Captain “Peanuts” White’s basketball team. Losing only two games in the scheduled season, they finished in a tie for second place in the league standings. In the semifinal championship play-offs Lambda Chi was defeated in a 45-44 thriller by Kappa Sigs. Our team was coached by our “gift” to the varsity basketball team, Al Rinaldi.

The ’48 softball season is under way, and Lambda Chi is well on the way to grabbing that championship with four wins and no losses so far in the season.

This year’s social calendar has been stocked with small parties throughout the year. Founders’ Day was celebrated by the alumni and active chapter with a dinner-dance held at the Hermitage Country Club on April 2, by the alumni. Several other social events have been scheduled for this spring, including a closed dance at the Stonewall Room of the Hotel Murphy, and several of those “famous” Lambda Chi picnics.

The school will officially be closed after our house party in June.

Brothers Bill Carrington and Bob Snyder have been chosen by the fraternity to represent Alpha Chi in the Lambda Chi Alpha International Convention at Grove Park Inn, Asheville, North Carolina, in June, 1948.

This semester witnessed the first publication of our local chapter publication, The Virginian, since the start of World War II. A nice job of editing The Virginian was done by Brother Al Saleeby, who was assisted by Brothers Ed Sommers and “Rip” Radcliffe.

June’s graduating class will take with it Brothers “Bill” Fitzgerald and Al Saleeby. They will be a great loss to the fraternity for both were the first two postwar presidents of the chapter. To them goes the credit for rehabilitating Lambda Chi to its present position on the Richmond College Campus.

Bill Fitzgerald, Earl Weed, Nelson Weber, Bill Carrington served capably as chapter officers this year. Next year’s officers: Nelson Weber, president; “Peanuts” White, vice-president; Gerald Kynert, secretary; and Bill Carrington, treasurer.

RHO CHAPTER
Established at the University of Richmond, 1925

The fall semester found Rho Chapter of Phi Alpha enjoying its best all around condition since before the war. The solid foundations laid down by our older brethren had survived the war years, the period of readjustment and now with excitement running high because of the fine prospects for the coming year, Phi Alpha began to roll.

Our wildest dreams were answered almost immediately as our social committee swung into action and carried off a series of very successful and enjoyable affairs. Brother Arthur Rosen and the men who worked with him are deserving of much praise for their fine efforts. Led by Brother Jay Samuels and coached by Brother Charles Flax, Phi Alpha took to the intramural fields of battle with a mixed feeling of light heart and grim determination. Although not always victorious, we came off with our share of laughs and tears and even more important richness in the experience that working together as a team gives.

As usual, men of Phi Alpha were to be found in every campus activity or wherever a job needed doing. All of the school publications bear the mark of Phi Alpha men. The literary societies, varsity debate team, and social organizations all had their representatives from Jeter Hall, D-3. Brother Herb Liebman served as chairman of the Interfraternity Dance Committee and Brother Melvin Lubman served on the Honor Council. Brother Al Evans, among his many activities, found time to be one of Richmond College’s varsity debaters, while Brother Jerry Leon was photo editor of The Web.

As February drew near, the main topic of campus conversation was the impending “Rho-Tau” which had been such a success the preceding year. This year bigger and better plans were made for Richmond College’s “Dance of the Year,” and not a man was disappointed. Under the chairmanship of Brother P. Sidney Berz, who had the enthusiastic support of every man in the chapter behind him, the affair went off as smoothly as was expected. He and his committee deserve hearty congratulations for their accomplishments.

Before January had rolled around we had increased our membership with the election of Brothers Warren Friedman, David Mann, Charles Spital, Donald Roth, and Marvin Menkes. This brings to mind another Phi Alpha “First.” For our size we have a larger percentage of out-of-state members than any other fraternity on the campus.

At the closing banquet in May, the events of the past year were recounted, relived, and enjoyed a second time. For the new brothers the topic of “Hell-Night” held most interest. The experience of being stranded on a country road at three o’clock in the morning is not something soon forgotten. For others the high-gear bridge games made for many a smile and for some, much chagrin. The rivalry between Brother Mel Lubman and Brother Dave Brenner as to who is the oldest man on campus made many nights, that may have been just ordinary, be classed as extra, unexpected enjoyment. We talked of the Brothers who had given their pins to their “heart’s-delight” and of the Brothers who retrieved their jewelry from a somewhat different source. The unofficial awards were as follows: Most handsome, Don Roth; Most likely to succeed, Mel Lubman; Quietest, Warren Friedman; Most ambitious, Dave Brenner; Most studious, Charlie Spital; Rosiest cheeks, Jay Samuels; Most steady, George Posner; Best bridge player, Artie Rosen; Hardest worker, Harold Katz; Biggest appetite, Marvin Menkes and a host of others who fall into the class of generally all-around swell fellows.

In consideration of all events Rho Chapter can well feel pride in this year’s accomplishments and the strong bid made for national recognition. Buoyed by these successes we can look forward to even better results next year.

Time is marked on our campus by sounds. Fall is identified by the thud of toe against pigskin, winter by leather tattooing a crescendo on hardwood floor, spring by horsehide against ash, and Phi Alpha by friendly spirit, strong grip, and warm laughter.

Alpha Delta

Founded at the University of Richmond, 1923
Colors: White and Copper
Flower: White Rose

Alpha Delta was founded in 1923 at the University of Richmond to encourage recreational periods in developing the lives of ministerial students. It was organized as a club but became a fraternity in 1927. During the war the fraternity had many places for meetings. The fraternity at present occupies a private and comfortably furnished room in Jeter Hall.

Our big social occasion is the annual spring banquet. Alpha Delta gladly joins hands also with the community to help in its social affairs at Christmas and at other seasons.

Even in such a small fraternity there has been great achievement by some of the members. Kent Kiser has served as president of both the state and local B.S.U. He also was recently elected to O.D.K. Lawson Pankey also received election to O.D.K. and is now doing an excellent job as president for Alpha Delta. Jack Brizendine accepted the challenging position as assistant pastor of First Baptist Church in this city.

The annual formal banquet this year was a distinctive affair. The banquet meeting place was changed from the old traditional John Marshall Hotel to the large banquet hall of Ewart's Cafeteria. The attendance upon the affair was the largest of recent years, including active members, recent initiates, alumni and faculty members. The speaker for the occasion was Mr. Hill Fleet. The Reverend Junius Foster, who is now a student at Crozer Theological Seminary and a recent alumnus of our Fraternity, served capably as toastmaster. This, it was agreed, was one of our most successful banquets. To round out the week end, Brother Bill Smith held an informal party in his home the following night.

Another big social event of Alpha Delta is the spring outing. Each year a trip is made to the Bay or some river where we participate in swimming, boating, picnicking and the like. Brother Temple Bennett has kindly consented to provide the boats for us this year. This outing has proved of great value and enjoyment in the past. Not only are fish sometimes caught but, as Brother Kiser can vouch, sometimes a wife is caught—don’t know “Howie” did it, but he did it. This outing comes just after all the brothers have finished their examinations and before the Commencement and it serves to bring relaxation to the minds and bodies of those who have studied so hard for the past few days previous.

The Fraternity has admitted a larger number of pledges this year than is customary, but they are high calibre men. They took to the tasks of the informal initiation with spirit and enthusiasm—even to the point of demonstrating the “New Look” to the people on Broad Street.

For the first time since before the war when the brothers lived at the “head of the lake,” Alpha Delta is in the process of making plans to build or buy a house. It is felt that a greater unity and spirit of fellowship can be perpetuated by having a fraternity house. The plans are far reaching and are based on the confidence that all the brothers, past, present, and future will support the effort to the limit. We are grateful for the way in which certain of the alumni members have responded to the need for furniture for our room in the dormitory and we are sure that others will be equally glad to help in furnishing our house when it is secured.

As we take a backward glance over the year as a whole, we feel that we can truthfully say that it has been a worthwhile year for those who are old members, recent members and even those who are still pledges. We believe that Alpha Delta will continue to grow and prosper and to make her contribution to the life of the college campus community.

Alpha Delta hopes to grow both in number and in spirit and help fellow ministerial students to be better servants of mankind.
Despite the loss of five regulars from last year's team and the failure of Quarterback Marion Timberlake to return to school, prospects were pretty bright for Johnny Fenlon's 1947 gridiron machine when over a hundred candidates turned out for the first drills in early September. From the first day of practice, however, when Back Charlie Suttenfield sprained his ankle, the Spiders were plagued with injuries throughout the season.

These injuries, coupled with the fact that Richmond showed little if any improvement over the '46 aggregation while their opponents were definitely better, gave the Spiders an unimpressive record of three wins and seven losses.

The Spiders supposedly were bolstered by the acquisition of a host of freshmen mostly from the Midwest, but for the most part they were too green to be of much help until the latter part of the campaign. Playing alongside of such veterans as Ed (Sugar) Ralston, Jack Wilbourne, John Zizak, Reid Spencer, and Co-Captain Joe LaLuna, several of the frosh broke into the lineup after midseason and showed promise of making next season's record a better one. Among these were Center Merle Darragh, Back Vic Jasaitis, Ends Doug MacLachlan and Steve Szwak, and Tackles Steve Henkes and Bill Newhouse.

Thanksgiving's traditional clash with William and Mary, which the Indian's took 35 to 0, marked the end of the gridiron trail for six Richmond seniors. In this group were Backs Joe LaLuna, Jack Wilbourne, and Bill Scheerer and Tackles Carroll Richard, Reid Spencer, and George Hodges. Saying... farewell to Spider football were not only these players but also Head Coach Johnny Fenlon, who, last year, announced his resignation as of January 1 to take over a position as city recreational director in Fredericksburg. Dick Esleeck, former John Marshall High Coach, was announced as his successor during the season.

Although the Spiders failed to place anyone on any of the mythical elevens, Back Sugar Ralston and Guard John Zizak made the Associated Press All-State second team and All-Southern Conference third team.

Richmond—28 Randolph-Macon—7

Led by Jack Wilbourne and Cotton Billingsley, Richmond opened its season at City Stadium by dropping a stubborn bunch of Randolph-Macon Jackets 28 to 7 in what proved to be perhaps the costliest game of the year. On the opening play of the game Guard Russ Gulick was put out of commission for the year and Tackle Reid Spencer broke two bones in his wrist. Later in the game Carroll Richard, Co-Captain and Tackle, was injured and never got into top condition the rest of the year.

Wilbourne tallied Richmond's first TD on a line buck and Frank Thompson booted the extra point. The Jackets tied up the game before the half on a 61-yard pass play from Gummerlock to Scrivener. Sprenger converted. The Spiders came back strong after intermission and scored three times. Following an 84-yard run by Wilbourne, Ralston hit the line for six points. Other touchdowns were registered by Billingsley on a line smash and Dick Hensley on an end run. Frank (Toe) Thompson booted all four extra points.

Washington and Lee—16 Richmond—3

Washington and Lee's surprising Generals, with Brian Bell, Jr., running wild, handed the Fenlonmen their first setback of the season by a 16-3 score under the arcs at City Stadium.

After spotting the Spiders three points in the second quarter on Frank Thompson's field goal, the Lexingtonians roared back on the following kickoff to shake Bell loose on a 94-yard scoring jaunt. W. & L. scored again in the quarter when Jim Lukens blocked Wilbourne's punt for a safety, and then finished up the pointmaking in the third period when Bell plunged over from the 3-yard stripe. Walt Michaels converted for the second time.

Although fighting all the way the Spiders couldn't seem to find their scoring punch after Bell's run. The brightest spot for the U.R. in the contest was the running of Vic Jasaitis, Chicago freshman fullback, who looked like a veteran in reeling off several sizable gains.

Rollins—20 Richmond—7

After travelling 1,000 miles to Orlando, Florida, for what was supposed to be a breather, Johnny Fenlon's boys received quite a shock when the Rollins Tars upset them 20 to 7 in a night contest.

The Tars pushed over touchdowns in every period but the second, and five times they held Richmond when the Spiders drove within the Rollins' 30.

Richmond's only score came in the final quarter when Fullback Bernie Hofbauer stole the ball from Ed Simmons and dashed 30 yards for a touchdown. Frank Thompson kept his place-kicking record intact with a perfect boot to make the score 20 to 7.

Freshman Vic Jasaitis suffered an ankle injury which kept him out of commission until the William and Mary game.

Maryland—18 Richmond—6

Despite little Walt Bolen's 85-yard touchdown run, the Spiders found Jim Tatum's Terps a completely rejuvenated eleven and went down in defeat, 18-6 in a night tilt at College Park.

Richmond failed to take advantage of two scoring opportunities in the first quarter and regretted it in the second as Maryland's Lu Gambino scored on a 61-yard run. In the last half Maryland scored twice more on a pass from Gambino to Simler and a line plunge by Gambino.

Bolen's run for the Spiders was one of the highlights of the U.R. season. Taking Schwarz's kickoff on his own 15 the half-pint Syracuse speedster went all the way to score after some spectacular broken field running. In addition to Bolen other outstanding performers were Reid Spencer, Dick Hensley, and Jack Wilbourne.

Richmond—21 V.M.I.—20

Clicking for the first time in a month the Spiders turned back V.M.I., 21-20, at City Stadium despite a last-period rally by the "Flying Squadron."

The Keydets ran only four plays in the first quarter as an ever-alert Spider forewall dominated the period. The Red and Blue scored in the first half when Ed (Sugar Express) Ralston bowled over from ten yards out. After intermission the big fullback scored again, following a 36-yard pass from Walt Polen to Bernie Hofbauer which set up the score. Thompson converted after both touchdowns.

V.M.I. recovered shortly after this to rack up a touchdown on a pass from Joe Veltri to George Crowson who outran Billingsley to score. The Spiders came back to complete their scoring in the fourth quarter which featured three touchdowns in three minutes. Zizak tackled Bob Thompson so hard that he fumbled, and Doug MacLachlan recovered on the 22. A minute later Billingsley went over from the five, and Thompson kicked the vital point.

After that it was all V.M.I. Crowson ran 87 yards to score on the next kickoff. Moments later the Keydets ended the scoring on a pass from Thomson to Eddie Lutes.

RICHMOND—20 HAMPDEN-SYDNEY—0

After his regulars had rolled up two touchdowns in the first quarter, Johnny Fenlon jerked them out with the following week’s game with Virginia in mind, and let his substitutes carry on for the remainder of the Hampden-Sydney contest which the Spiders won 20 to 0.

The Richmonders went into the lead a few plays after the opening kickoff when Sugar Ralston took off around end for 32 yards and a touchdown. Still in the first quarter, Cotton Billingsley, on the outstanding run of the game, crashed through the Tiger line for a 55-yard touchdown run. Thompson’s try for the extra point was good, and the Spiders led 13 to 0. The final Richmond score came in the second period when Roy Paulette, formerly with the B team, caught an aerial from Walt Bolen in the end zone. Thompson again converted to make the count 20 to 0.

VIRGINIA—34 RICHMOND—0

Scoring in every period, Art Guepe’s high-powered Virginia Cavaliers avenged a stinging 1946 defeat by the Spiders and handed the Fenlonmen a 34 to 0 defeat in Charlottesville for the Spiders’ fourth loss of the season.

The Spiders outrushed the Wahoos, but the winners’ passing attack was just too much for Richmond, which couldn’t get its own aerial game clicking. Three times the Cavaliers scored on passes; Ray Brown tossed for six points to Ed Bessell and Carlton Elliott, and Joe McCary threw one to Brown. Bruce Bailey, Mr. Big in the Virginia backfield, scored once on a 28-yard run, and Grover Jones tallied the other touchdown after taking a lateral from Jones. George Grimns booted the four Cavalier extra points.

Richmond’s line played superb ball, with Wes Curtier, John Zizak and Don Bernont standing out. Sugar Ralston’s defensive play was a thing of beauty.

Cotton Billingsley gave Spider fans something to cheer about in the second period when, back against his own goal line, he broke through the Virginia line for 39 yards. Bobby Weir, lone man between the Fredericksburger and the goal, pulled him down.

Davidson—13 Richmond—7

In the dullest game of the season Davidson’s Wildcats, running from the single wing, proved too much for the Red and Blue on the rain-soaked Stadium field and won, 13-7.

The ‘Cats tallied twice in the first half on passes from Burt Anderton to Hal Mapes and Buddy Cheek. The Spiders’ only score came in the third quarter after John Zizak had recovered a Davidson fumble on the Wildcats 26-yard line. Ralston passed to Bill Long for the touchdown, and Thompson converted.

V.P.I.—26 Richmond—14

Although playing one of their best games of the season, the Spiders were unable to defeat an alert Virginia Tech team and came out on the short end of a 26-14 score at Blacksburg.

Fullback Ray Beasley went over from the twelve for V.P.I. in the first quarter and the hard-charging Gobbler forearm blocked two Spider punts for scores in the second half. Then after Harry Walton had rung up the final Tech tally, the Spiders began to click. On a series of straight power plays they moved down to the V.P.I. four, and on his third try Ralston smashed over.

Jack Wilbourne, playing his best game of the year, gave the Fenlonmen their final touchdown of the season when he went off left guard for ten yards. Frank Thompson converted for the second time.

William and Mary—35 Richmond—0

Rube McCray brought his Big Green of William and Mary to town Thanksgiving Day and in addition to handing Richmond a 35 to 0 defeat, won the Southern Conference championship and gained a share with Virginia in the State Crown. It was the seventh straight win for the Indians over the Spiders and marked an equal number of successive games in which Richmond has been unable to cross the Indians’ goal line.
Stan Magdziak was the big gun in the William and Mary attack completing eight out of fourteen passes, two of them for touchdowns. Leading ground-gainer for the Indians was Jack Cloud, sophomore All-Conference fullback from Norfolk, who rolled up 56 yards out of the winners’ 94, rushing and scoring touchdowns on line bucks of five and one yard.

Magdziak, in addition to tossing scoring passes to Ragazzo and Blanc, kicked all five of the Big Green’s extra points.

In the final minute of the last quarter, the Spiders lost a golden scoring opportunity with a first down on the one, when McCray threw his first string line back in the game. Four tries at the line were unsuccessful and William and Mary took over on downs on their own five as the game ended.

Wilkbourne,Ralston, and Vic Jasaitis were the leading gainers for Richmond in rushing, but losses by other backs reduced the Spiders’ net rushing to 15 yards. Joe LaLuna, Corky Brimm, and Walt Bolen completed a total of eight passes for a total of 93 yards.

If the Varsity’s football record gave the Richmond student a feeling of disappointment, the record of 5 wins and one loss of Jack Null’s B team certainly made him sit up and take notice. The 22-year-old Null took his boys who served as cannon fodder for the varsity and made out of them a team which improved with every game it played.

The only loss the Jayvees suffered was a 2 to 0 setback at the hands of Randolph-Macon’s Bees in a morning Home-coming feature on Millhiser Field. The Baby Spiders opened their season at the Newport News Apprentice School and took the home club in tow by a 14 to 0 score. Following the loss to Randolph-Macon, the Baby Spiders downed V.M.I.’s B team 19 to 0 with Quarterback Johnny Thomas leading the way.

Next came the Virginia B team which Null’s charges took 21 to 19, with the extra-point kicking of Al Lane and Don Anderson providing the margin. Following this game the Jayvees spotted Fork Union a 7 to 0 halftime lead and came back in the last two periods to come out the victor by a 13 to 7 count.

The Baby Spiders saved their best game for last when they upset a heavy bunch of William and Mary Papooses 20 to 12 on Millhiser Field. A pass from Thomas to Billy Cox accounted for one touchdown, and Charlie Webber and Roy Paulette scored the other two on runs.

Midfield pileups like this were typical of the Baby Spiders’ lone loss to the Randolph-Macon Bees.
Coach Mac Pitt talks to the five boys who started off the season: Al Bailey, Al Rinaldi, Doug Pitts, Irvin Robinson, and Aubrey Ford.

THREE LITTLE PEPPERS AND A SHARPSHOOTING CENTER. LEFT TO RIGHT: Sattler Anderson, Aubrey Ford, Bernard Dolsey, and Jimmy Suttenfield. Four reasons why the Spiders are looking for improvement next year. Dolsey, only five-foot-five, was again a regular and once more showed his ability to play with the "big boys." Ford, Anderson, and Suttenfield were valuable reserves that Coach Pitt made use of throughout the season.

University of Richmond
The 1947-48 basketball season, which seemed to be one filled with infinite possibilities when practice sessions started in Millhiser Gymnasium, turned out to be the most disastrous Coach Mac Pitt had experienced in twenty-five years of tutelage as his Spider five ended the campaign with a dismal record of eight wins and fourteen losses.

Louis (Weenie) Miller, All-State captain of the previous year's outfit had graduated, and in his loss was a hard one; nevertheless the appearance of five newcomers from Illinois and Ohio gave Richmond boosters a lift in spirits in early December.

A strong Quantico Marine five was the Pittmen's first opponent, and they showed the collegians up in hardwood tactics by topping the Spiders 42 to 37. Two of the most powerful cage teams in this sector of the country came next on the schedule, George Washington and Georgetown, and both handed the Richmonders decisive defeats. Coach Pitt's boys found themselves in the first contest after Christmas vacation; and with Sophomore Al Rinaldi bucketing 20 points, the Spiders racked up a 64-41 win over Union Theological Seminary. With this game as a booster, the Red and Blue took three straight before succumbing to the Indians of William and Mary.

Recipients of the Spider scoring punch were Hampden-Sydney, V.M.I., and Randolph-Macon. Little Al Bailey, a freshman from East Liverpool, Ohio, who had become a sensation for the Richmonders, teamed with Rinaldi to give the Spiders a 49-44 victory over Gummy Proctor's Hampden-Sydney quint. Following this game, however, the team suffered a terrific blow when Bailey, who Coach Pitt said had the makings of one of the best cagers the state had ever seen, quit school and took home with him Jim Cunningham, six-foot-three Ohioan, who had been playing a lot of ball at center.

With Art Haines, a junior college transfer from Harvey, Illinois, and Doug Pitts leading the way, Richmond continued its winning ways by trouncing V.M.I. 50 to 34 in the Spiders' first Big Six contest. Next came a win over Randolph-Macon by a 48-47 count in an overtime thriller.

Not content with shellacking the Spiders on the gridiron, William and Mary handed Coach Pitt's boys a 59-47 setback before a capacity crowd at Blues Armory to halt the Red and Blue's win streak. Richmond bounced back in the win column at The Citadel's expense and recorded their highest game total of the year as Art Haines led the scorers in a 71-59 win.

Then came the drastic losing streak of nine games which completely crushed all hopes the Spiders had of making the Southern Conference tournament. Losses incurred were two to Virginia and V.P.I. and one each to Hampden-Sydney, V.M.I., Washington and Lee, Wake Forest, and Maryland. Each time it seemed that the Spiders were on the way to victory as they piled up a comfortable lead, but each time the opposition came back strong in the second half to come out on top. One bright spot during the losing streak came against Washington and Lee at Lexington when Keith Loury, a freshman from Louisville, Ohio, who had been nursing a football injury, went hog-wild and dropped in 23 markers.

The Spiders finally snapped their streak of setbacks against the Generals of W. & L., as they built up a half first lead, held it, and came out on the long end of a 69-57 score. A defense which Coach Pitt had prepared long in advance completely baffled the Blue Cornets as the Richmond five scored its sixth win of the campaign. Three nights later the Spiders gained revenge for a previous defeat and edged the Maryland Terrapins 64 to 62 with Al Rinaldi netting 20 points, all but two of them in the second half.

Hopes of keeping William and Mary from making the conference tourney fell through in Williamsburg as the Indians downed the Spiders 52-47 for their second win of the year over Richmond. Rinaldi continued his "hot" streak and led the losers with 16. The last game of the season was another thriller with the Spiders coming from behind in the last two minutes to beat a stubborn Randolph-Macon quintet 69 to 66. Doug Pitts with 23 points and Rinaldi with 20 topped the Richmond scorers.

Though the season left nothing to brag about, the prospects for next year were somewhat brighter with only one man, Captain Irvin (A pie) Robinson, leaving. The newcomers gained experience and should be much improved when next season rolls around.

Art Haines, playing his first season of ball for Richmond, led the scorers with a total of 240 points.

All-State Pitchers Finney and Kilpatrick.
Coach Mac Pitt, the "Silver Fox" of Richmond College, did it again with his baseball team as the 1947 Spider nine racked up the State baseball championship for the University of Richmond for the eighth time in twelve years and ended the season with a record of twenty wins and three losses.

From the first day the Spiders stepped on the diamond, it looked as if there were good things to come for the Pittmen. Back in the fold were Pitchers Bob Kilpatrick and Dan Ramer, aces of previous years; Catcher Angelo Setien, Peppermint from up Vermont way; Weenie Miller, a superb fielding first baseman; and sluggers Pat Fenlon and Tommy Nichols, third baseman and outfielder respectively. There were also some promising freshmen in Bill Finney, a pitcher; Shortstop Marion Timberlake; and Outfielder Cotton Billingsley.

The Spiders opened the season with a bang, winning their first ten games before dropping a 1 to 0 heartbreaker to William and Mary on the Indians' field. Following this loss, they proceeded to take everything the opposition could offer except in two instances—games with Washington and Lee at Lexington and North Carolina at Moores' Field.

Lanky Bob Kilpatrick, workhorse of the pitching staff from Swartz, Louisiana, turned out to be the season's hero. On May 22 at Millhiser Field, Richmond was trailing William and Mary 6 to 0 in the third inning when Kilpatrick entered the game as a relief hurler. He then turned on his stuff, allowed the Indians only three hits for the remainder of the game while his teammates were slamming Indian pitchers for eight runs, and led the Pittmen to an 8 to 0 victory and the State and Big Six championship.

An excellent pitching staff centered around Kilpatrick; Dan Ramer, 200-pounder from Falmouth; and Freshman Bill Finney, 17-year-old relief hurler who won himself a starting role, and proved to be the big factor in the Spiders' season. The stickwork of Pat Fenlon, Cotton Billingsley, Tommy Nichols, and Weenie Miller helped the Richmonders to accumulate scores in the double columns on eight occasions.

A 5 to 3 loss to Washington and Lee was perhaps the most stinging blow of the year. A three-run homer by Tommy Nichols in the seventh inning of the game in Lexington had given Richmond five runs in that stanza, and they appeared on the way to another victory. However, the rains descended before the inning was complete, and the score reverted to the end of the sixth inning with the Generals coming out on top 5 to 3.

In addition to the final game with William and Mary, highlights of the season included two shutouts over the University of Virginia. At Mooers' Field, Bob Kilpatrick spun a three-hit 2 to 0 win over the Cavaliers, and on a trip to Charlottesville, Bill Finney set them down with an equal number of safeties in a 4 to 0 contest.

Perhaps the strangest game of the season was the one with Maryland at Mooers' Field which was tied up at 3-all in the tenth inning. An umpire's decision at first base irked Terrapin Coach Burton Shipley so much that the head man drew his team from the diamond, and the Spiders came out on top by a 9 to 0 forfeit score.

The finishing touch to a glorious season came with the announcement that Pitchers Kilpatrick and Finney along with Weenie Miller had been selected for the All-State team.
RICHMOND'S MURDERERS' ROW! Outfielders Tommy Nichols, Tom Billingsley, and Linwood Metzger whose heavy hitting was a big factor in the Spiders winning the state championship.

OLD BUDDIES. The 1945 battery of Catcher Angelo Setien and Pitcher Dan Ramer was reunited after service in the armed forces. Ramer had an undefeated season.
Track 1947

Track returned to the University of Richmond after a five-year layoff, and Coach Russ Crane was named to tutor the host of green youngsters who reported. Lack of experience hampered the trackmen, most of whom had never participated in a college meet, all season.

The Spiders opened their season successfully against Hampden-Sydney downing the Death Valley Trackmen by a 76 1/2-49 1/2 score. Jimmy Sease won the mile and two-mile events; Bill Butler, the 440; Claude Thomas, the 880; Jack Mallory, the low hurdles; Jack Kolcum, the high hurdles; Houston Sizer, the high jump; Ed Ralston, the javelin; Hughes Ware, the discus; and Stuart Massie, the shot-put.

The Cranemen were tripped in their next two meets going down before Washington and Lee 76 1/2-54 1/2, and V.P.I., 102 3/4-23 1/4. Against the Generals L. K. Harvie won the two mile, Butler, the 440, Charlie Randolph, the broad jump, and Kolcum, the high hurdles. Those who triumphed against V.P.I. were Carroll Richard in the shot and Ralston in the javelin.

Wake Forest’s Deacons were next on the Spiders’ schedule and found the Cranemen tougher than expected losing 81 1/2-44 1/2. Mallory led the scorers with sixteen points by virtue of wins in the 220, low hurdles, and high jump. Others who collected first places were: Harvie in the two mile, Butler in the 440, Thomas in the 880, Mark Sternheimer in the 100, Krane in the mile, Kolcum in the high hurdles, Richard in the shot, and Ralston in the javelin.

In closing out their season the trackmen lost to William and Mary, 84-42, and to V.M.I., 88-29. No first places were scored against V.M.I., but against W. & M. Harvie won the two mile, Butler the 440, Kolcum the high hurdles, and Randolph the broad jump.

Claude Thomas topped the scorers for the season with 40 1/4 points and received a letter along with Harvie, Mallory, Butler, Randolph, Richard, Kolcum, Sternheimer, Krane, Sease and Ralston. With all these men possessing further eligibility and the arrival of several talented newcomers the outlook for the future was indeed bright.

Carroll Richard displays the form that made him one of the best shot-putters in the state.
Although their 4-8 record was nothing to write home about, the 1947 netmen enjoyed a successful season considering the difficulties they overcame in order to play. Among other things suitable courts were not available on the campus and the racketers were forced to use the Byrd Park courts for home matches.

After two opening losses to Washington and Lee the netters came back strong to beat the Randolph-Macon Jackets, 9-0, and gain their highest praise of the season from a never-to-be-forgotten headline in the R.-M. student newspaper: "To the Spiders Tennis is a Racket; To the Jackets Only Love."

This win was followed by a near upset of N. C. State, the Spiders being nosed out by the Wolfpack, 5-4. In the next two matches the Spiders exchanged shutouts. They topped the R.P.I. netmen and were themselves beaten by Duke.

Coming back strong from their defeat by the Blue Devils, the Spiders gave Hampden-Sydney’s Tigers their first defeat of the season in a startling upset and followed this with their final victory of the spring over Randolph-Macon. On their remaining matches they were beaten by Hampden-Sydney and William and Mary and suffered two losses at the hands of Lynchburg.

Irvin Robinson had the best average on the team, winning twelve and losing eleven games for a percentage of .552, with Butler, Phipps and Cunningham close behind. The latter held the No. 1 position all season.
The 1947 intramural trophy was won by Phi Gamma Delta fraternity with Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Sigma finishing second and third respectively.

SOFTBALL

After both teams had gone undefeated in their respective leagues, Miles' Catbirds, League A champions, overpowered Phi Gamma Delta, League B winners, by 12-2 and 9-4 scores in the playoffs. The Catbirds were loaded with varsity football talent and their power at the plate, along with Rip Ford's pitching, was too much for the Fijis.

TRACK

The Catbirds won the annual spring intramural track meet with Mike Cocco leading the way. Sattler Anderson, of the SAE's, was the crowd pleaser, however, with his fine 880 performance. The complete scoring:

- Catbirds: 31
- SAE: 15
- PKS: 14
- PDT: 8
- KS: 7
- PIKA: 6
- PGD: 6
- KA: 3

FOOTBALL

With Charlie Mattox and Jay Border leading the attack, Kappa Alpha won the 1947 intramural football championship by a 10-4 margin over Pi Kappa Alpha. It was the only defeat of the season for the Pikas, who had edged Phi Gamma Delta for the League B championship. Kappa Alpha scored easily against the Pikas' when Jay Border booted a field goal, and the winning margin was provided in the second half on a pass from Mattox to Eustis Cook, after which Border converted.

BASKETBALL

Led by All-Intramural performers Buddy Rosser and Johnny Thomas, Theta Chi won the 1947-'48 basketball championship by edging out Kappa Sigma in the playoffs.

The Roselawn Road quintet smothered Kappa Sigma in the rubber game of a three-game series, 56-35, despite the fine play of Bill Doyle for the losers. In their first engagement TC won 47-40 but Charlie Webber paced Kappa Sig to an upset 39-33 victory in the second game.

Theta Chi had gained the League A championship over stiff competition from Phi Gamma Delta and Miles' Catbirds, while Kappa Sigma had edged Longs' Catbirds for the League B crown.

Other All-Intramural performers besides Rosser and Thomas were Tex Cowles (Miles' Catbirds), Charlie Webber (Kappa Sig), Bill Doyle (Kappa Sig), Bob Johnson (SAE), Ed Bellows (Longs' Catbirds) and Jerry Cunningham (PDT).

Westhampton College Athletic Association

"Even Spirit's never dead!"

"It's the Odds born in us!"

If ever a stranger wishes to see visibly that intangible something that pervades the campus—Westhampton Spirit—let him attend an Odd-Even hockey or basketball game. Cheers rise from all sides, and there is excitement plus. Then let him watch the banner ceremony, when the losing classes regretfully take down their banners, and the winning class is praised. Westhampton Spirit, a spirit of cooperation, enthusiasm, friendliness, and true sportsmanship, is embodied in the Athletic Association.

During Orientation Week, the freshmen and new students were introduced informally to the association at the A.A. picnic. Here was food, fun, and fellowship, and many experienced perhaps for the first time, Westhampton Spirit—evidenced again at the Bosher's Dam picnic in October. In November, Westhampton played host to the English Touring Team when it played the Virginia All-State Team for its only game in the South. The two days following this unusual occasion, the Southeast Field Hockey Association held its annual meeting at Westhampton, at which time approximately 120 people from New Jersey to Virginia played hockey at our school.

In December, the A.A. added to the holiday festivities by sponsoring its annual Christmas dance, the traditional Snow Ball. The Westhampton gym was decorated to depict a typical Christmas atmosphere with a Christmas tree, presents, a fireplace adorned by stockings, and candy canes galore.

Song practices for the February Song Contest began with the new semester. The A.A., in sponsoring the contest, feels that it helps promote Westhampton Spirit. Each girl learns the words to old college songs and has a chance to create new ones. Class rivalry is strong, and the gym rafters fairly ring with enthusiastic singing.

In the spring, at the annual A.A. banquet held in honor of the newly elected board, varsity letters in track, tennis, and archery were awarded. Those girls who have won at least three letters in different sports were awarded blazers. The highest award given by the Athletic Association is the seal, presented to those girls who through their enthusiasm, interest, and spirit have promoted athletics and all campus activities.

One of the last events of the year is the traditional board weekend, at which time, members of both the old and new A.A. Boards are entertained at a house party whose keynote is fun and gaiety. The main purpose of this gathering is to acquaint the members of the new board with their duties and make plans for the coming year.

The qualities for which the A.A. stands as embodied in its leaders and members help to imbue the students of today with a spirit of unity and friendly cooperation—the same spirit that is necessary in achieving world unity.
Varsity Hockey

One of Westhampton's most outstanding sports is hockey and this year the squad consisted of many ex-letterwomen who with the aid of several other hockey enthusiasts played as the "spirit" of Westhampton. Miss Fanny G. Crenshaw, professor of Physical Education, gave the team excellent coaching and also arranged several out-of-town games for the team. A tournament was held at Fredericksburg, Virginia, where some of the games had to be canceled because of rain but the game played by Westhampton was won by a score of 6-2 against Norfolk Club.

Varsity letters for the 1947 season were awarded to Marilyn Alexander, Maria Carter, Nancy Chapin, Florence Crute, Emily Dietrick, Joyce Gladding, Virginia Grabee, Lorane Graves, Joy Hull, Gwen Priddy, Jane Sanford, Virginia Smith, Betty Stansbury, and Peggy Stone.

Second Team Varsity

As over forty girls went out for hockey last season it was possible to have an adequate second Varsity Squad as well as a first. This Spiderette team was only able to play three games in which they defeated Blackstone College's first team by a score of 5-0.

Those who received Varsity second team letters for the 1947 season were Virginia Brinson, Lorraine Chapman, Claudia Dornon, Pat Eagan, Pris Enslin, Janet Heany, Fay Hines, Lee Hunter, Kitten Miller, Rita Rhein, Margaret Sabine, Nell Washer, and Peggy Wells.

University of Richmond
Coaches

Miss Fanny G. Crenshaw, professor of Physical Education, coached both first and second team Varsity hockey squads and was assisted by a new and capable member of the Westhampton staff, Miss "Duffy" Moffitt. Mrs. Mary Grubbs, also in the athletic department, coached the 1947-48 basketball team. The three coaches have rendered valuable services in aiding all athletic teams to reach their goals.

Blazer Winners

The Blazer is awarded to any individual winning a letter in three varsity sports. It is of white flannel with the tower insignia in red on the pocket; stripes denote the number of sports in which the letters have been won, and the stars indicate the number of times letters have been won.

Seal Winners

A flannel seal, the highest award of the Westhampton Athletic Association, is conferred on members of the junior and senior classes for exceptional sportsmanship and contagious enthusiasm.
Class Hockey

This year the Junior Class won the intramural hockey championship with five wins and only one defeat as their record. Second place was tied by the Seniors and Freshmen, while the Sophomores finished in last place with only one victory and five defeats. The annual Odd-Even game ended in a tie, 1-1.

Varsity Basketball, 1947

The Westhampton Varsity Basketball team rounded out the 1947 season with four victories and only two defeats. The most spirited game of the year is between the Spiderettes and Sweet Briar but Westhampton once again maintained its victorious spirit and came through to win the game with the score of 27-25.

First team Varsity letters in basketball for the 1947 season were awarded to Helen Conant, Emily Dietrick, Betty Anne Gustafson, Virginia Herndon, Jane Sanford, Peggy Stone, and Anne Wiley.

Lest You Forget . . . . .

Twenty years from 1948 as you turn the pages of this yearbook (and you'll be surprised how frequently you will turn these pages as the years speed by) you'll find that memory is an untrustworthy friend in recalling specific details about those "good old days" at the University of Richmond.

So we set down a few figures here for ready reference:

Enrollment: For the first time in the institution's history the enrollment passed the 4,000-mark in 1948. There were 125 professors in all divisions. Chancellor Boatwright celebrated his 80th birthday.

Construction: The second Westhampton College dormitory was completed and raised the accommodations for campus girls to 330. (An additional dining hall was built to take care of the enlarged resident student body.)

Finances: The University's total resources rose to $7,560,000, including $3,107,000 in endowment.

Those were the figures in 1948. If the figures have grown with the passing years, it is because of the unswerving loyalty of those who call this institution Alma Mater.
