Law Library News

We're excited to kick off the 2017-2018 academic year at Richmond School of Law. The Law Library has tools to help you for your first year as a 1L or LLM student, research your upcoming papers, work with free study aids, and make it easy to work with our resources off-campus.

We made a few library updates this summer, and we continue to provide study resources and spaces for all. Below you'll find details of several updates, as well as reminders about ongoing resources. One subtle but important change is with our bathrooms. All library bathrooms now have identical signs and amenities. Choose any of our six single stall bathrooms, but remember to lock the door behind you for privacy and to avoid embarrassment.

West Academic Online Study Aids

Get a head start on your studying for the fall, without spending a dime at the bookstore! West Academic has a huge selection of study aids, outlines, nutshells, hornbooks, and guides on success in law school and on exams. And you can listen to Sum and Substance recordings on the "blackletter" of your classes as well. NOTE: requires using the VPN for access.

Welcome to Maureen Moran

Maureen Moran, Reference & Research Librarian, grew up in New Jersey and Connecticut and attended UConn before the rest of the country had heard about the basketball teams. After a brief career in journalism, she went to law school and practiced litigation in New York City for a variety of firms, both big and small, and the City Law Department. Once she decided to become a law librarian, she packed her dog and cat into a U-Haul and took a job as a reference librarian and legal writing instructor at Pacific McGeorge School of Law in Sacramento, California. She made the trip back to the East Coast this August (same dog, different cat) to join the Library staff here at Richmond. Stop in and say hello!
