Director's Message

Well, we're at the end of another busy and exciting semester. As the last classes conclude, we're gearing up for exams, with a look ahead to graduation. Thanks to all who completed our bi-annual library and technology survey. We're reviewing all comments to help guide our services and resources to support our entire community. As we head into the 24-hour study period, please be mindful of fellow students. "Shushing" may be a librarian stereotype, but we will do this when needed to maintain quiet study spaces. If you need anything big or small, let us know. Good luck on exams. The end is near.

- Roger Skalbeck, Associate Dean
