Where do we go from here?
Miss Monsell Dies

Miss Helen A. Monsell, who served on the University staff for 39 years, 31 as Registrar of Richmond College, died September 15th. As this information was received at press time, a detailed report about her will appear in a later issue.

Pack your bag, load the car, and come on back to the beautiful University campus for Homecoming. This year's celebration will be a bigger and better production than any you have ever attended before.

As you can see from the schedule of events, there will be several new activities on tap. The most obvious addition is the full day of action scheduled for the beautiful James River Golf Course of the Country Club of Virginia on Friday. Tee-off time has been set for 10:00 a.m. Green fees are $5.00. The round of golf will be followed by a social hour on the clubhouse lawn courtesy of the Richmond Robins ice hockey team and E. Claiborne Robins, Jr. B'68, tournament chairman. A delicious buffet dinner will be served overlooking the autumn-colored James River Valley to the strains of live music designed for your listening and dancing pleasure during and following dinner. The price of dinner is $7.50 (tax and gratuity included). All alumni are encouraged to bring their wives to this very special affair.

All alumni and alumnae will want to be in the James L. Camp Memorial Theater at 10:30 Saturday morning. At that time Dr. E. Bruce Heilman will speak to the assembled graduates about his plans for the future course of the University. This will be the first official opportunity for alumni-ae to meet and hear the dynamic new president.

Among other new activities planned will be the University-wide worship service scheduled for 9:30 Sunday. A perfect way to end a full and memorable week end, the service will feature lovely music by the outstanding University Choir and the magnificent Beckerath pipe organ. Dr. Philip R. Hart, RC'45, University professor of religion will deliver the morning message. The 9:30 starting time was set to enable local alumni-ae to attend their own church services and those who must drive some distance to their hometowns to arrive home by early afternoon.

A hard working Homecoming committee has planned this special weekend of activities for the enjoyment of all alumni-ae. They encourage everyone to make a special effort to be on hand for all the fun. The committee members are: Mrs. Louise Thompson Chewning, WC'31, Samuel B. Cutchins, B'57, and Robert G. Watts, RC'59.

Alumni and faculty will join hundreds of representatives from colleges and universities across the country October 30 for the inauguration of Dr. E. Bruce Heilman as fifth president of the University of Richmond.

The ceremonies will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the Luther H. Jenkins Greek Theater. Representatives of higher education, the community, the State, the Baptist denomination, university faculty, students and alumni will give welcoming remarks preceding the inaugural address by Dr. Heilman.

Rector Robert T. Marsh, Jr. will confer a new medallion of office upon Dr. Heilman as part of the ceremonies. A reception on the Westhampton Green will follow the inaugural ceremony. Following the reception, guests will dine at the inaugural luncheon.

In the event of rain, the inaugural ceremonies will be held in the George M. Modlin Fine Arts Center.

Dr. Heilman, a specialist in long range planning for colleges and universities, took office September 1. He succeeded Dr. George M. Modlin, who served as president for 25 years before retiring June 30 to become Chancellor.

Dr. Heilman had served six years as president of Meredith College in Raleigh, N. C. before accepting the position of president of the University of Richmond. Prior to that, he had served as administrative vice president of Peabody College, vice president and dean of Kentucky Southern College and in administrative and teaching positions at other private institutions. He was at one time coordinator of higher education for the State of Tennessee.

He holds a Ph.D. degree in Educational Administration and several honorary degrees. He is a lay leader in the Baptist denomination. He is married to the former Betty June Dobbins of Louisville, Kentucky, and they have four daughters and a son.
HEILMAN BIDS FAREWELL TO MEREDITH AND TELLS OF UNIVERSITY CHALLENGE

There are so many reasons why I should not leave Meredith that I’ve spent many nights pondering the options. I have thought about fairness and responsibility to myself, my family, and, most of all, to Meredith and the people who have been so meaningful to Meredith and to me. I have treated the matter as objectively as I know how and after every consideration, I am convinced that I must move to a new field of service and assume the Presidency of The University of Richmond.

You have treated me well. In fact, Meredith has done all I could ever wish for in regard to my personal welfare and that of my family. I have from the beginning appreciated all that has been done, and I cannot give you an adequate expression of thanks.

I am not ready to leave Meredith, but feel that this opportunity will not come to me again, and it is as nearly suited to my experience, philosophy, and interest as anything I can conceive of for the future. This is a situation unlike any of some eight or ten serious contacts for positions of leadership I have received since coming to Meredith. Nothing else has inspired my interest beyond initial curiosity. As you know, I came with a commitment for an unlimited period of time, willing to spend my life here, but realizing that a larger challenge could come at some time. Unfortunately, opportunities don’t knock when you are looking for them, but when they are looking for you.

Among other reasons I choose to accept the Presidency of The University of Richmond, are these:

(a) It includes a college for women (Westhampton) separate and distinct, offering much the same kind of program afforded by Meredith.

(b) It has a men’s college (Richmond College) and the two are on the same campus so that full efficiency can be achieved through inter-change of all facilities and resources—human as well as financial.

(c) There is a school of business. My major area of study in college was business, and I appreciate the role of this program in the total University.

(d) Attached to these other elements are a School of Law and a University College serving the community of Richmond in a unique way.

(e) Everyone has assured me that the University will remain small, will provide only limited graduate programs, will not try to finance major adjuncts such as medical education, and that there is no desire to grow in numbers—only in quality.

(f) Finance is the big issue for private institutions in the years ahead. This University has an endowment fund in the top 50 in the Nation. One gift of $50 million was contributed two years ago which, with its challenge portion, will be $60 million. I believe many millions more are in the offering and have reason to believe that much more will be forthcoming.

(g) Not only will my daughters be well served by Westhampton (Woman’s) College as they are at Meredith, but my son can be educated at the undergraduate level and attend law or business school.

(h) Richmond is a Christian institution, perhaps financially the strongest university affiliated with Baptists. It is located in a capital city, as is Meredith, and as was Peabody. It is the largest private university or college in Virginia, and is highly respected as one of the leaders.

(i) I believe this university needs what I can give to it at this point in history, as I would succeed a man in office 25 years who has maintained a highly respected institution much as Dr. Campbell did at Meredith in his 27 years of service.

While I believe I could continue to be successful for some while to come, I may have given the best I have to offer and I may have rendered my best service for Meredith. I think I am a builder of a sort, content to see things moving from where they are to where they ought to be. With your help and the great service of the whole Meredith Family, we have made some significant advances in these five years. There is no better time to make a change than when you are still welcome. Everyone has continued to make me feel wanted. I believe that providence is in this decision, and while I submit my resignation to you with deep regret and with the feeling of tearing out a part of myself, I know that the Lord does work in mysterious ways and because of that, Meredith will in the longer run be best served, and I hope, so will Richmond.

Leaving Meredith is not easy for me. I feel a part of the college. I believe in it. I am indebted personally to those who have helped me succeed in doing some things for it. I want Meredith to succeed even more because I think North Carolina needs this grand college. She can continue to do well with men and women like you.
“I Should Have Done Twice As Much!”

Editor’s note: This warm and interesting profile of the distinguished and oldest living University of Richmond alumnus, Dr. E. Emmet Reid, ’92, was written by Victoria B. Obrecht and appeared in the Maryland Baptist, March 25, 1971.

His is the vehement opinion of Dr. E. Emmet Reid, professor emeritus of Johns Hopkins University, author, holder of patents, consultant to industry, and much loved charter member and deacon of University Baptist Church.

This is one man’s opinion. Dr. Reid’s.

On June 27 Dr. Reid was ninety-nine years old. Right now, he is having his autobiography read to him, page by page, while he makes an occasional addition. It will be illustrated by nostalgic pictures of places he lived while growing up, such as the fishing village of Beaufort, N. C.

Known as the “father of Sulphur Chemistry,” his books are sold all over the world. Japanese libraries are using 95 sets of his six-volume work Organic Chemistry of Bivalent Sulphur. In a recent book Chemistry Through the Language Barriers, he presents a new and fast way to scan chemical articles in other languages, making use of 400 key words.

Born in Fincastle, Virginia, the son of a former missionary to Nigeria, E. Emmet Reid grew up in a succession of Baptist parsonages in the Carolinas and Kentucky.

He received his masters from Richmond College, a school where, he says, he flunked an advanced course in Latin “because I was lazy,” a school which later conferred an honorary degree on him. At Hopkins he began his sulphur research, earned a doctorate, and headed the graduate Chemistry Department. He also taught at the College of Charleston and at Baylor University.

Industry didn’t allow this professor to spend all of his time in an ivory tower.

“Would you believe that a big company like duPont would pay me to come there and discuss their problems with them? And they kept it up for 40 years!”

Besides consulting for many companies, he is responsible for the chief compound in tear gas. To stimulate interest in chemical research he has visited colleges without pay and forfeited royalties on patents and books.

With his wife, the late Margaret Kendall Reid, he always enjoyed music. The holder of two patents on electronic organs, he can hear a tone and tell you the size, shape, and length of the pipe that made it. As chairman of the music committee at University Church, he led in the selection of the church’s first organ. “The real purpose of a church organ,” he believes, “is to support congregational singing.”

In February he was guest of honor at a dinner given jointly by the American Chemical Society, Johns Hopkins University, the University of Richmond, where a new chemical library has been named for him, and former associates from industry.

Dr. Reid lives in a house purchased in 1917, works at a roll-top desk, and sits in a floppy chair. Recently, his doctor advised him to get a cane and to sit in a straight backed chair. He got the cane. He writes on the typewriter and by hand, and listens as the students he employs read to him. He has only peripheral vision and one good ear.

Dr. E. Emmet Reid loves company and, if you come to see him, will give you keen competition in a game of dominoes which he plays by “feel.”
On returning to the office from the NCAA East Regional basketball playoffs in Raleigh, one began the rather formidable task of winnowing the "real" mail from the handouts and publicity blurbs. One envelope popped up, much in the fashion of "the" card a magician causes to rise from a full pack. Addressed to "Sportview," The Times-Dispatch, it was from the Veterans Administration Center, Bath, N.Y.

One knew the contents before opening the letter which was from Edgar W. Guilford, Chief, Social Work Service. It read:

"I have your column, dated Friday, Nov. 15, 1968, in regard to Col. David Morris Miller. David died March 10, 1971, at the VA Center at Bath, N.Y., and was buried this morning (March 15) by Rabbi Zielonka of Elmira, N.Y., and will rest at the Veterans cemetery at our center."

After four years of agony, death came as a friend to Dave Miller, but the 12-letter athlete at the University of Richmond, the highly successful coach of three sports at John Marshall High School and the "doer" who rose from second lieutenant to Air Force colonel in World War II fought the Dark Angel as bravely as any man has.

With both legs amputated and nearly blind from numerous operations on both eyes, Dave wrote, in large handwriting, cheerful letters. His voice fairly boomed over the wire when he called long distance. "I'll be in Richmond within two months," he'd always say.

WITHOUT SELF-PITY

We last saw Dave in the mid-fifties when he was in robust health. He had remained in Europe after World War II and became a dealer in surplus war material. He said he sold the first planes to Israel. When he returned to Europe after his visit to Virginia in the mid-fifties he became afflicted with circulatory trouble in his legs. When it became evident that he was an ill man, he returned to his homeland and care in veterans hospitals.

In early 1967, one of his legs had to be amputated. A second amputation cost him the other leg in December of '67. In Nov., 1968, came a lonely but brave letter from him.

"As you probably know," he wrote, "I lost both legs and had two other operations to try and get better circula-

Reprinted from Richmond Times-Dispatch, March 25, 1971
How many times have you heard it said that "the University really doesn't care about its alumni except their giving of money?" "No one is going to do anything at the University to change." "The alumni activities at the University really are nonexistent." "Of course, we don't have a voice in the University affairs."

This is a new day and I can assure you that the statements you have heard in the past are not representative of the University of Richmond. We will and can be heard, that much I can assure you. For the first time in the history of the University the alumni organizations are preparing a detailed report for submission to the administration and Board of Trustees of this great University on where we would like to see the University go and what we would like to see it become. Those of us who feel a part of the University and are, in fact, her product, should have a part in charting her future course.

To be sure that this proposed report reflects the feelings and views of the University's thousands of alumni, we are asking you to take part of your valuable time to give us your personal views using the questionnaire in this magazine. A small return by alumni will indicate that we don't particularly care what happens to the University. We need the viewpoints and reactions of every graduate who feels a part of this University. And what about the new president? Is he really interested in our comments? Even before he assumed the administrative responsibility at the University, he expressed to us his desire to have the guidance and input of loyal alumni and alumnae.

Our questionnaire is a formidable thing at first glance, with some 56 questions covering a wide range of subjects. It would be quite easy to put it aside with the thought that it is too long and too detailed. If you give in to that temptation, then you will have failed to take advantage of the very first opportunity we have ever had as alumni to express our views on what we would like to see the University become. Your ideas and suggestions will be of value to Alma Mater at a time when change is inevitable. This, in essence, is a once-in-a-life time opportunity for the University in its planning and for the alumni in their opportunity to be heard.

As you prepare to answer the questionnaire, keep in mind this important fact—while the questionnaire may not be professionally prepared, it was labored over by 60 alumni and alumnae putting over five thousand man hours into its development. Many more hours will have to be spent in analyzing the results. After the questionnaire has been tabulated and the various alumni and alumnae subcommittees have studied the results, the contents will become part of the report that is being prepared for submission to the University's administration and Board of Trustees. It is our plan to publish the results of the questionnaire, along with the committee reports, in future magazine issues.

DO YOUR PART

I urge you to do your part to make this project successful. Take advantage of this opportunity to have your say. Just complete it, seal it and mail it—the postage is already paid.

Since it usually takes considerable time for alumni in some sections of the country to receive the magazine, the deadline for returning the completed questionnaire has been set for November 8. We would appreciate your responding promptly, however, and ask that you not delay in completing and returning the questionnaire.

REMEMBER—This is our chance to state our feelings about our school and to have these feelings count. The University needs you more than ever before. We are calling upon you to give of your time and your talents, your points-of-view and your reactions. With your help the University we all desire will emerge.
Heilman Names Patterson Aide

Charles W. Patterson, III of Raleigh, N.C., a development officer at Meredith College, has been appointed Assistant to President E. Bruce Heilman and Director of Estate Planning.

Patterson, who was highly successful in estate planning at Meredith, will have as his major responsibility the development and maintenance of the University's estate planning program. He will work with H. Gerald Quigg, the University's Executive Director of Development, in the overall development program.

Also, he will assist President Heilman in a variety of activities including long-range planning, and organization and implementation of routine administrative matters. He will represent the president in special activities and serve as liaison staff assistant to the president.

Patterson had been a member of the staff of the office of development of Meredith College since 1968. Prior to that, he was employed by Duke Power Company in Charlotte, N.C. for five years.

Patterson has completed special study with Kennedy Sinclaire, Inc., a consulting firm in the field of trust accounts for banks and their correlation with the financial needs of colleges and universities. His study included key principles of federal estate gift and income tax law, as well as extensive investigation of the fundamentals of various trust instruments and life insurance plans.

During the past two years, Patterson directed the Meredith Estate Planning Program; formed a 26 member Meredith Advisory Council composed of attorneys, trust officers, certified public accountants and certified life underwriters; conducted an educational estate planning seminar for the general public, and spoke at numerous church and civic meetings about charitable giving through estate planning.

He is a native of High Point, N.C., and is married to the former Eleanor Wood of High Point. They have three children. He attended High Point city schools and is a graduate of Davidson College, where he received the A.B. degree in psychology in 1961.

In Raleigh, Patterson was a member of Forest Hills Baptist Church where he was active in youth work. A member of the Raleigh Kiwanis Club, he served as chairman of the Reception Committee. He also held membership in the Raleigh Optimist Club and the Raleigh Sports Club.

Boykin to Head Parents, Friends

J. Wesley Boykin, '38, has accepted the position of president of the newly organized University of Richmond Parents Association.

Boykin, who makes his home in Alexandria, is vice president, secretary and treasurer of The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Companies, Washington, D.C.

The Association of Parents and Friends was established by the University Board of Trustees to "provide an opportunity for expanded representation in the University's activities and programs. Through this new organization, effective communication of information and the opportunity to be involved in the improved programs will be provided to parents of students at all colleges of the university."

Boykin's responsibilities will include serving a one-year term; approving plans and programs for the Parents Association, the Parents Fund and Parents Day, and working in cooperation with the Alumni and Development staff to implement these plans.

Boykin is married to the former Fannie Mae Putney, and the couple has two children: Nancy Jo, a Westhampton College senior and Betty Lynn, who attends St. Andrews Presbyterian College in Laurinburg, N.C.

Class Reunions will be held during Alumni Weekend, May 20 for the classes of 1922, 1927, 1932, 1937, 1942, 1947, 1952, 1957, 1962 and 1967. You will receive more information later but mark your calendar now!
McGehee Elected Bishop Coadjutor

Rev. H. Coleman McGehee, L'49, former assistant attorney general of Virginia, was recently elected bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

Formerly rector of Immanuel-on-the-Hill Episcopal Church in Alexandria, Va., McGehee's new post will be in Detroit. He served in the Virginia attorney general's office from 1951 until 1954 when he began seminary study. Traditionally, a bishop coadjutor automatically succeeds the bishop of his diocese.

Cayton Elected Vice President

Roy S. Cayton, '52, has been elected vice president and treasurer of Overnite Transportation Company in Richmond.

Cayton joined the company in 1965 as chief financial officer and treasurer. At that time he was also elected to the board of directors and executive committee, positions he currently holds. In 1970 he was elected secretary and treasurer.

Cromwell and Wilson Become Vice Presidents

R. W. Cromwell and James M. Wilson have been elected vice presidents of United Virginia Bank/State Planters in Richmond.

Cromwell, SBA '59, will serve as Controller while Wilson, '55, is Personnel Director.
YOUR TIME IS VALUABLE!

WON'T YOU GIVE THE UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND SOME OF THAT VALUABLE COMMODITY?

This questionnaire was prepared by a large group of truly dedicated alumni and alumnae in a university-wide effort unequalled in our school's history.

Now, you are being asked to demonstrate your interest in Alma Mater by contributing your time (valuable time) to the task of answering the questionnaire.

It's not a short and easy-to-answer group of questions because questions pertaining to a university in the unique position of the University of Richmond could be neither short nor simple.

You are being asked for neither money nor support. Rather, you are being asked to take a hard, critical look at the University of Richmond and its alumni programs.

GIVE an hour to the University of Richmond. Your donation of valuable time will not be tax deductible but that will not detract in the least from the value of your gift.

Westhampton alumnae will recognize several questions as being similar to those included in a recent alumnae questionnaire. Please answer them again. The computer will be most appreciative.
ALUMNI QUESTIONNAIRE

Strong alumni interest can be stimulated and increased if alumni are informed of the University's problems as well as its accomplishments and then given the opportunity to voice their ideas and opinions concerning the University's present and future policies and plans.

This questionnaire contains a series of questions and statements on a wide variety of topics pertaining to the University. Most questions, with the exception of those calling for written responses, are followed by response options designated by letters (a, b, c, etc.). For each such question select the option that best expresses your opinion and encircle the letter corresponding to that option in the answer column.

Following each major section of the questionnaire is a space for you to make comments or suggestions on that particular section or its questions if you wish to do so.

PLEASE RETURN NO LATER THAN NOVEMBER 8.

ALUMNI QUESTIONNAIRE

I. ALUMNI PUBLICATIONS

1. The present purpose of the alumni magazine is to keep graduates and former students informed of campus activities and the activities of other alumni. How much of the alumni magazine do you read?
   - a. all
   - b. half
   - c. very little
   - d. none

2. I would prefer to receive the alumni magazine
   - a. more often
   - b. less often
   - c. present number

3. Short questionnaires in the alumni magazine would be of value as a means for providing the alumni an opportunity “to be heard”.
   - a. agree
   - b. uncertain
   - c. disagree

4. A “Letters to the Editor” column in the alumni magazine would be beneficial.
   - a. agree
   - b. uncertain
   - c. disagree

Comments or suggestions.

II. ALUMNI-STUDENT RELATIONS

5. Student and alumni interest would be increased if both knew in more detail how alumni contributions are used by the University.
   - a. agree
   - b. uncertain
   - c. disagree

6. Special campus days would be more informative and interesting if I could have the opportunity to talk informally with students.
   - a. agree
   - b. uncertain
   - c. disagree

Comments or suggestions.

III. ALUMNI EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

7. For the Alumni-Faculty Forum lecture series, should a nominal admission charge be made to provide funds for securing nationally known speakers and programs?
   - a. yes
   - b. uncertain
   - c. no

8. If you responded “yes” to item 7, how much should the admission charge be?

9. University College was established to give the University an opportunity to provide educational programs for high risk students in the Day Division as well as continuing education in the Evening Division for the adult working population. In regard to the Day Division:
   - a. I believe that University College should continue to offer a curriculum leading to the Bachelors degree.
   - b. I believe that University College should confine its curriculum to the first two year level.
   - c. I don’t have enough information to make a judgment.

28. In regard to the Evening Division of University College,
   - a. I believe that it should continue to evolve certificate, award, and degree programs.
   - b. I do not have enough information to make a judgment.
   - c. I believe that it should offer only non-credit programs for the business community.

29. There is student and faculty sentiment to upgrade the academic quality of students admitted to the University of Richmond. In regard to this, I believe:
   - a. The University should accept only the best qualified applicants.
   - b. The University should maintain high admission standards but should also provide programs for some applicants who are culturally different and do not meet such standards.
   - c. The University should establish an open admissions policy and accept all applicants regardless of their high school academic records.

30. Two schools of thought exist in regard to student athletes: some say that because athletics involve so much time, athletes should have at least as high academic admissions qualifications as others, while some insist that athletes do not necessarily score high in high school because lessons were not their primary interest, and thus athletes should not be expected to have as fine high school grades as others. In regard to this, I believe:
   - a. The same admission standards should be applied to all students.
   - b. Athletes should be required to have as high scholastic aptitude test scores as other students, but grades of athletes in high school may be slightly below other applicants.
   - c. Athletes should be allowed to enter with somewhat lower high school grades and aptitude scores than others.

31. Although the University of Richmond has an open admissions policy in regard to race, religion, and national origin, the proportion of students from minority groups is very small. In regard to this, I believe:
   - a. Yes
   - b. Uncertain
   - c. No

27. University College was established to give the University an opportunity to provide educational programs for high risk students in the Day Division as well as continuing education in the Evening Division for the adult working population. In regard to the Day Division:

Two schools of thought exist in regard to student athletes: some say that because athletics involve so much time, athletes should have at least as high academic admissions qualifications as others, while some insist that athletes do not necessarily score high in high school because lessons were not their primary interest, and thus athletes should not be expected to have as fine high school grades as others. In regard to this, I believe:
   - a. The same admission standards should be applied to all students.
   - b. Athletes should be required to have as high scholastic aptitude test scores as other students, but grades of athletes in high school may be slightly below other applicants.
   - c. Athletes should be allowed to enter with somewhat lower high school grades and aptitude scores than others.

31. Although the University of Richmond has an open admissions policy in regard to race, religion, and national origin, the proportion of students from minority groups is very small. In regard to this, I believe:
   - a. Yes
   - b. Uncertain
   - c. No
9. Many universities conduct continuing education programs for alumni each summer on a non-credit basis and varying in length from one day to two weeks. I would be likely to attend such programs at the University of Richmond.
   a. yes  b. uncertain  c. no

10. I would be more likely to attend programs mentioned in item 9 if I could bring my family and have programs available for them as well.
   a. yes  b. uncertain  c. no

11. Alumni associations at the University have sponsored travel tours for several years. I think these groups should continue to sponsor tours.
   a. yes  b. uncertain  c. no

12. I would also like to see foreign tours of shorter duration at lower cost.
   a. yes  b. uncertain  c. no

V. ADMISSIONS

FACTS: In President Modlin's 1970 Annual Report, the proportion of students attending the University who are residents from out of state were: Richmond College, 17%; Westhampton College, 15%; School of Business Administration, 23%; Graduate School, 7%. The T. C. Williams School of Law has students from 12 states but does not report the proportion from out of state. University College serves chiefly residents of the Richmond Metropolitan area. Each college has its own admissions requirements. Richmond College and Westhampton College have separate admissions personnel. Some believe a false impression of our campus is created in high schools when girls report to be seen by a Westhampton recruiter and the boys report to a separate room to be seen by a Richmond College representative. Not all, but most classes on the campus are now coeducational.

22. In regard to the proportion of out of state students at the University of Richmond, I believe:
   a. Our present policy provides adequate numbers of out of state students.
   b. Some efforts should be made to recruit more out of state students, although primary emphasis should continue to be on Virginia students.
   c. Some sort of quota system for each division should be installed, perhaps 30% out of state and 70% Virginia students, or some such deliberately announced ratio.

23. In regard to recruitment for Richmond College and Westhampton College, I believe:
   a. Each college should continue to have separate recruiting personnel and separate recruiting literature.
   b. Recruiters should represent all undergraduate divisions of the University and provide information to both young men and young ladies, with University-wide brochures.
   c. While recruiters should represent the University of Richmond and not separate colleges each college should continue to develop its own recruiting literature.

24. In regard to admissions standards for Richmond College and Westhampton College, I believe:
   a. Each college should continue its own separate admissions standards.
   b. Admissions standards should be the same, but separate admissions committees for each college should continue.
   c. Admissions standards should be the same and there should be a single undergraduate liberal arts admissions committee.

25. In regard to the Law School, where most students are Virginians, I believe:
   a. The current practice is good and should be continued.
   b. Some efforts should be made to increase out of state students slightly.
   c. Efforts should be made to increase out of state students significantly.

26. In regard to the School of Business Administration, which recruits transfer students from junior colleges and four-year colleges, in addition to other divisions of the University, I believe:
   a. The present recruiting policies are good and should continue
   b. Efforts should be made to increase the proportion of out of state students slightly.
   c. Efforts should be made to increase out of state students significantly.

III. THE UNIVERSITY IN THE FUTURE: COORDINATE OR COEDUCATIONAL?

By charter, Richmond College and Westhampton College were established as coordinate liberal arts colleges for men and women. Many feel that having two separate colleges has been beneficial to both colleges and that this condition should continue. Others feel that some changes should be made.

37. Do you feel that the present coordinate policy relative to Richmond College and Westhampton College should continue as it presently is:
   a. yes  b. don't know  c. no

38. For each of the functions below indicate:
   a. yes  b. no, or c. don't know, as to whether or not you believe they should be separate functions:
   (1) Deans
   (2) Admissions
   (3) Placement
   (4) Registrar
   (5) Alumni Assoc
   (6) Some Faculty
   (7) Housing
   (8) Dining Halls
   (9) Medical Care

39. If, hypothetically, Westhampton College and Richmond College should become one coeducational college, please indicate the admission policy you would prefer:
   a. Open (best qualified regardless of sex).
   b. Ratio (set percentage of men and women).

40. I would like for the University of Richmond to be, academically, an outstanding institution of:
   a. Area and State (Virginia and immediately surrounding states) reputation.
   b. Regional (East Coast) reputation.
   c. National reputation.

   (10) Mathematical Analysis (one year)
   (11) Report Writing (one semester)
   (12) Business Policy (one semester)
   (13) Introductory Computer Programming (one semester)

45. For the typical student's undergraduate major or area of concentration, I favor:
   a. Major emphasis on theoretical, academic training.
   b. Major emphasis on the applied and practical aspects.
   c. Balance between academic and applied aspects.

46. What areas or specific subjects do you feel should be emphasized in preparing students to be better businessmen of the future?

Comments or suggestions __________________________

53. At present, the Law School curriculum contains required courses in judicial remedies (4 hours) and Virginia practice (4 hours) and elective courses in equity practice (2 hours) and federal procedure (2 hours). These are all of the civil procedure courses in the Law School curriculum.
   a. I believe that the civil procedure law curriculum is satisfactory as it now exists.
   b. I believe that additional civil procedure courses should be added.
   c. I believe that some or all of these courses should be consolidated and the entire group of civil procedure law courses be revamped.
   d. I believe that (fill in any or all of the above named courses) should be eliminated from the curriculum.

54. The Law School curriculum presently includes the following property related courses: real property, personal property, conveyances, and related courses.
   a. I believe that the property law curriculum is satisfactory as it now exists.
   b. I believe that some or all of these courses should be consolidated and the entire group of property law courses be revamped.
   c. I believe that additional property law courses should be added to the curriculum, such as land use, eminent domain, etc.

55. Lawyers often complain about the inability of law school graduates to write properly. The present Law School curriculum includes no specific course on legal writing, although writing opportunities are afforded students in some of the regular courses, the individual research course and extra-curricular activities such as moot court, law review, etc.
   a. I believe that a separate legal writing course should be added to the curriculum.
   b. I believe that the present curriculum and extra-curricular activities provide students with adequate writing opportunities.
   c. Although I do not believe that a specific course in legal writing is necessary, I believe that greater emphasis should be placed on legal writing in the present curriculum where appropriate.

56. At present, Law School students are in most cases limited to the Law School curriculum. It has been suggested that a law student might benefit in his legal education from classes taught at the School of Business Administration at Richmond College by the Political Science Department, etc.
   a. I believe that such an interdisciplinary approach would be beneficial to law students.
   b. I believe that the present arrangement is satisfactory.

IX. GENERAL COMMENTS
C. The T. C. Williams School of Law

47. The Richmond metropolitan area includes many lawyers, some highly specialized. At present, the Law School has a few of these on its faculty and sometimes, during the summer, employs others. With regard to securing local lawyers as faculty members, I believe the Law School should:
   a. Draw upon practicing lawyers to a greater extent than it now does.
   b. Draw upon practicing lawyers to a lesser extent than it now does.
   c. Retain its present policy.

48. Many professors at the Law School received their legal education at the Law School, although this trend has been somewhat modified recently.
   a. I believe that the Law School should, in great part, continue to draw from its alumni for its professors.
   b. I believe that the Law School should make an attempt to obtain a greater number of professors with legal degrees from other law schools.

49. Presently the Law School curriculum includes only one four hour course on private corporations. Many other basic courses offered deal with the business law areas, such as contracts, commercial law, etc.
   a. I believe that other business law courses should be added to the curriculum, such as securities regulation, antitrust law, corporate finance, etc.
   b. I believe that the present business law curriculum is satisfactory.

50. The present Law School curriculum includes two taxation courses: 1) Federal estate and gift taxation and 2) Federal income taxation.
   a. I believe that other tax courses should be added to the curriculum, such as corporate tax, state and local taxation, etc.
   b. I believe that the present tax law curriculum is satisfactory.

51. The majority of courses in the Law School are lecture classes as opposed to seminars. Seminars would include smaller working groups, more individual research and class participation and possibly in some instances, some student direction and control of the scope and subject matter of the seminar.
   a. I believe that more seminars are needed in the Law School curriculum.
   b. I believe that more seminars are needed in the Law School curriculum, but these should be limited to third year students.
   c. I believe that more seminars are needed in the Law School curriculum, but they should be limited to matters of practice and procedure as opposed to substantive law courses.
   d. I believe no change should be made in the Law School curriculum concerning seminars.

52. At present the Law School curriculum includes no separate course on legal philosophy of jurisprudence.
   a. I believe that such a course should be added to the curriculum.
   b. I believe that such a course should not be added to the curriculum.
The University of Richmond provided the business education for my postgraduate degree in Hospital Administration. The University, however, was to have a much greater influence than I could imagine. The arrival of Rev. Ken Burnette ('58) at the Altoona Hospital in August of 1968 set in motion a sphere of influence that still hasn’t been fully realized. Pastoral Care is still in its infancy or is non-existent in most hospitals in this country. Rev. Burnette has guided its maturity at The Altoona Hospital.

Having had no previous experience with a full time hospital chaplain I was at a total loss as to how I could assist the program or what I could expect from the program. Today, three years later I can reflect on why a hospital cannot be without a service of this type.

The quality of the program is a direct result of Ken Burnette’s efforts. The initial public announcement of his appointment caused a negative reaction from some conservative elements of the community; but, now even formerly antagonistic clergymen will stop by to thank Chaplain Burnette for his emer­

By Lawrence G. Flannagan, SBA ’58

The counseling service which this program brings to patients and employees has demonstrated significant benefits and many times administrative counseling assists in personnel policy planning and organizational planning. After three years it is difficult to think of not having Chaplain Burnette and his counseling strength available to the management team.

The impact on the Altoona area by the University of Richmond is far greater than could ever have been imagined when two young men graduated from two different educational programs, business and religion, and ten years later found themselves working shoulder to shoulder in helping to provide the best in hospital patient care to a community.

By Kenneth A. Burnette, RC ’58

Cooperation from the hospital administration has been the key to the successful establishment of the Department of Pastoral Care at The Altoona Hospital.

The chaplain’s relationship to the hospital administration is a complex one. He is dependent upon the administration for support of his program and for selling it to those who consider a chaplaincy service to be an unnecessary expenditure in the hospital’s budget. At the same time, he must be allowed autonomy and freedom to move throughout the many departments and to minister to employees at all levels in the hospital structure. If his ministry is to be effective, his role must not be interpreted as being exclusively related to either management or labor.

Flannagan’s philosophy of management by objectives and his insight into the overall internal operation of the hospital has been of inestimable assistance in integrating the chaplaincy service into the hospital structure.

Though we did not know each other at the University where we both graduated in 1958; though we graduated from different schools, Flannagan from the School of Business and Burnette from Richmond College; and though from diverse religious backgrounds, Flannagan, a Roman Catholic, and Burnette, a Southern Baptist; we both now recognize the influence of The University of Richmond in the establishment of a unique ecumenical program not in a church, but in a hospital.

1969 Roger Lynn DeMik and his wife will be moving to Philadelphia in September where he will start school at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Finance. He will be leaving his job at the Federal Trade Commission as an Attorney-advisor in their Bureau of Industry Guidance.

Birth

1970 Mr. and Mrs. Michael T. Goode, a daughter, born February 27.

Necrology

1966 C. W. Owen, retired Dean of Bluefield College, has died, according to information received from the Postal Service. He served at the Baptist Junior College from the time he was appointed Dean in 1923 until his retirement as Dean Emeritus in 1962.

1911 E. Ross Millhiser, retired president of the Gulf Red Cedar Company, died July 8.

1916 Philip M. Flanagan, former Bristol, Va. Attorney, died September 13, 1970. A former athlete, he once wrote of himself, "Known at Richmond College as "Hoss" Flanagan. If the fly ball stayed in the park, it did not get over my head—unless it hit the fence too high up."

1928 Ira Ashby McCary, retired division chief of the North Carolina State Board of Health, died March 5. Winner of the Outstanding Service Award of the State Board of Health in 1968, he had served in the division for 23 years.

1943 Meredith Watkins Rhodes, former assistant to the executive vice president of the Virginia Manufacturers Association, died July 26, 1971. Prior to joining the Association in 1961, he had served as director of research for the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.
ALUMNAE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Ever underestimate the power of a woman—especially at Westhampton College! On our campus we see each year the continuing fulfillment of the vision of our graduates and the administration working together. Contributions to Keller Hall, the Tea Room, the Fanny G. Crenshaw Swimming Pool, the Emily Gardner Room, to mention only a few, are the tangible evidence of the generosity and dedication of Westhampton women. Perseverance has accomplished our goals, sometimes brick by brick and spoonful by spoonful of water for the swimming pool, it has seemed. Academic excellence and interest in the current student body as well as concern for the physical facilities have had top priority with the Alumnae Association.

Involvement in the college community has come naturally to most of us as a result of the contacts of our student days. At Westhampton College a real source of strength is the close personal relationship of the faculty to the individual. Also the alumnas have been receptive to student opinions and have encouraged them to translate their undergraduate enthusiasms into action as alumnae.

Despite these ties to Alma Mater, our alumnae, like others throughout the country, need to know more about what is going on in the University in order to understand what is happening. The college experience has changed dramatically on all campuses in the last decade. Though ours has not been as drastic as some, it nonetheless seems radical to many. Correct information at the right time can clear up many misunderstandings. New channels of communication are necessary.

As a move in this direction, Mildred Harrell Clinkscale, our former president, appointed an Ad Hoc Committee to study "Westhampton College within the University of Richmond: Its Strengths and Weaknesses." This committee, under the chairmanship of Mayme O'Flaherty Stone '41, has done a monumental job of research and writing to complete its report. The sharing and interpretation of this information by members of the committee will be an invaluable contribution to each member of our association. The method of accomplishing this and the furthering of the work begun by the Ad Hoc Committee will be the charge of the Continuing Committee I will appoint with the approval of the Governing Board.

Because of the amazingly high percentage of response from both alumnae and students to the questionnaire of the Ad Hoc Committee and the testimony to the warmth and loyalty of feeling for Westhampton evidenced in the replies, communication will be my main emphasis as president. It is necessary that we keep constantly informed and work out some ways to aid in understanding each other, student life, University goals, and the identification of areas where we can assist Westhampton College to develop further as an educational leader.

Dr. E. Bruce Heilman becomes president at a unique time in our history. Seldom has a university had such an opportunity for greatness. Because of the graduate, we are bound together by a common goal. Its achievement requires no great talent but rather a heart for commitment.

From the Secretary's Desk

Homecoming Weekend will be October 22-24! Mark this date on your calendars. I know you will want to be on Keller Hall (replaces my residence, Dr. E. Bruce Heilman, and enjoy the activities planned. Louise Thompson Chewning, '37, will serve as Westhampton Homecoming Chairman.

Westhampton class news will be carried now as part of each issue of the U of R Magazine. Starting with this issue, we shall go on the Odd-Even system for reporting class news. Other colleges and universities use this or a similar means of class reporting when the number of classes becomes too large to include all in each issue. The following deadlines have been sent to the class secretaries: RFI-WCR news and Odd-numbered classes only: Fall issue-August 2; Spring issue-February 10, RC-Co-Ed News and Even-numbered classes only: Winter issue-November 16; Summer issue-June 2. Local club news will be carried in each issue.

Our 1970-71 Fund Drive was most successful. To all who had a part—our general chairman, Mildred Gustafson Donohue, the class chairmen, class agents and all who contributed—go our sincere thanks and appreciation. It is this "working together" which has always marked the Westhampton alumnae throughout our history.

After operating expenses, we were able to help meet needs in the following areas: new carpeting with pad, and draperies for the Reception Room of Keller Hall (replaced in use since the thirties), 100 chairs for large meetings in the Reception Room or wherever needed (all will rejoice that the old splintered ones will gradually be replaced!), a contribution to the Catherine Bell Scholarship Fund, which was started as the senior gift of the class of 1971, and a continuance of the Dean's Discretionary Fund (two projects already selected from this Fund—special furnishings for a much needed seminar room, and audio equipment for the Reading Room.

Thank each of you for all you do!

WESTHAMPTON CLUB

Chairman: Mrs. L. Wayvelly Anderson (Elise Morgan, '23) 2108 Villa Drive, Greensboro, North Carolina 27403

On April 17, 1971, Westhampton alumnae of the North Carolina Triad Area (Greensboro, Winston-Salem, High Point) held their annual spring luncheon meeting at the King's Inn in Greensboro. Thirteen attended: 7 from Greensboro and 6 from Winston-Salem. The chairman held a short business meeting, followed by a discussion of W. C. news: the retirement of Dr. Modlin, the selection of the new president, and the impact of the discontinuance of Westhampton alumna notes in the Bulletin.

RICHMOND CLUB

President: Mrs. Gerald Van Audsall, Jr. (Rebecca Grissom '60), 4516 Southampton Road, Richmond, Virginia 23235

About 90 alumnae and their guests enjoyed a spring luncheon at the Country Club of Virginia. Three new officers were elected to serve two-year terms. They are: Suzanne DuPuy Black, '61, 2nd vice president; Quita Tansey Collins, '66, recording secretary; and Joyce Still Gibson, '56, treasurer. President, Rebecca Grissom Van Audsall, '60, 1st vice president, Julia Jett Shepard, '59, and corresponding secretary, Joan Hoad Yoder, '64, will continue to serve the second year of their terms.

Richmond Club members were hostesses for the exam teas for the students in May. The 1971-72 calendars are now available.

W. C. R. (Madge Bowie, a cousin of Dr. Chandler) was a symbol of our admiration and love. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Deans of Westhampton, Miss Mary Louise Gehring and Miss Clara Keith, Alumnae Secretaries, Mrs. Louise Long and former Secretary, Mrs. Leslie Booker. Attention was called to the presence of the three Herring sisters, Zelia '12, Frances '12, Edwina '14. Also present were Louise '13 and Elizabeth '14 Ellyson, sisters and their sister-in-law Belle Gayle Ellyson, Vice-president of W. C. R. Alumnae and sponsor of our Nostrae Filiae. Louise Ellyson Wiley '43 Westhampton, is the daughter of Edwina Ellyson; Mary Morris Ellyson '37 Westhampton, is the daughter of Belle Gayle, and Edie Graves, '60 Westhampton, is the daughter of Mary Morris. The mother of Louise and Elizabeth Ellyson attended R. F. I. and to express our appreciation of what Dr. Modlin, in 25 years of dedicated service, had done for the University of Richmond and for our Association.

A gift board member, enjoyed a buffet supper at Becky Van Audsall's on May 11 before the final board meeting to evaluate this year's activities and to plan for those for next year.

The 1971-72 calendars are now available and co-chairmen Cary Bell Harris, '61, and Em St. Clair Kay, '60, will gladly fill your orders.

Congratulations to the Class of 1971. We hope those of you living in the Richmond area will join in the Richmond Club activities now that you have become alumnae.

WASHINGTON AREA CLUB

President: Miss Ann Carter, '65, 2240 North Beauregard Street, Apt. 21, Alexandria, Virginia 22311

The Washington Area Club held a fashion show at Woodlawn Plantation in Virginia in May. Our special guests were students admitted to Westhampton as 1971 freshmen and current students. The following new officers were introduced: president, Ann Carter '65; vice-president, Mrs. L. Wayvelly Anderson, '23; secretary, Barbara Ryland '62; and telephone chairman, Shannon Starke '57.

in good health at last reports.
One of the Richmond newspapers carried a fine profile of Hannah Coker in June. It covered her "green thumb," acquired from her grandfather, as well as the musical interest in her church and the youth of today. Her contributions to Westhampton are manifest in the landscaping projects and the music library, which consists of 2500 records and about an equal number of scores. It is really the work of a lifetime.
Hannah's present plans are a trip to Europe to see how the people there really live, and gardening, both at college and her own home.
Dora Ransone Hartz and Dennis are traveling in Europe with the University of Richmond group this summer.
The splendid gift from Garland Gray, a dormitory for two hundred fifty girls, dedicated to and named in honor of Agnes Taylor Gray, will be a fine addition to Westhampton. Agnes was a member of 1923, as our special thanks are in order.
Mildred Campbell Broom wrote from England that she plans to spend next Christmas here with daughter, Barbara, and to become a permanent resident of the U.S.A. in 1974. We hope she can also work in our 1973 reunion.
News travels in roundabout ways, for Mil-were to be in Los Angeles this summer.

He will preach there for three months, as he has retired from his Baltimore church. One of their grandchildren attends Goucher and another Mary Washington.
In May, Alumnae Week-end was properly devoted to recognition of Dr. Modlin on his retirement. You have seen the program and enjoyed this memorable occasion in person or vicariously, as I did. Only five from 1923 attended the luncheon. They were Hannah Coker, Elizabeth Hill Schenk, Mildred Pulliam Stone, Dora Ransone Hurtz and Ethney Selden Headlee. Hannah was recognized on her retirement for her thirty-six years of remarkable service.

Despite the weather they and the other had given a prize for the one who came the fairest to attend our reunion last year, it would have gone to Billy Spangler Rogers who flew in from Las Vegas. As the school where she teaches was in session she could only stay the week-end, but she said that at that time she'd come back in '71 when she could stay longer, and she did. She was visiting friends in Alexandria. While she was there Gladys drove the two of us to Richmond, stopping in Doswell to pick up William Brown. She also invited Kathryn and Jeanette Henna to meet us at Miller and Rhoads for lunch. The six of us had a delightful time—good food and good conversation. Kathryn and Jeanette told us about what was exciting in August—Warsaw, Moscow, Leningrad, and Prague, and other cities behind the "Iron Curtain." Through A.A.U.W., meetings were being arranged with university women in the various places.

in Urbanna. Lauretta stays "as busy as she wants to." She and Gene have a first floor apartment in a condominium on a canal at Ft. Lauderdale. Lots of travelling, blue ribbons in creative dress design, children and grandchildren. Can you believe that our class baby is mother of a 15 year old? Johnnie's note showed a picture of her attractive house, Minnetree Hill, at Providence Forge, Va. Family events were keeping her too busy to attend. Dorothy Pulliam Dysart and her husband are involved in the fun and work in restoring and maintaining their home and land near Morganton, N. C. Virginia High Begoie is enjoying the children of her three married daughters, two of whom live in Morganton. She compiles Fairfax to visit another daughter and really should stop by sometimes.

Gertrude Murrell DuPont is enjoying an entirely new career—in archaeology. Teach-es a class here at Virginia Commonwealth University and goes to sites of the ancient world for digs.

Even our retired members keep busy so our 45th should produce lots of new directions. To get ready for that we will have as chairman, Selma Rothschild Mann; Alumnae Fund Chairman, Laura Thornhill; and myself for the Bulletin news.

Elizabeth Gill Minor has added to her busy life the presidency of King and Queen Historical Society.

You will all be saddened by the news of the death of Amelia Ullman on Tuesday, June 29. In spite of her illness she had remained active and in 1970 was cited as Volunteer of the Year by the Richmond Section of the National Council of Jewish Women. Many projects claimed her time and interest, but one which gave her special satisfaction was a cultural enrichment program for underprivileged children.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch carried a review in a recent Sunday edition by our sponsor, Dr. Jean G. Wright, of a book on French history. Rhea Talley Stewart is in the midst of cutting her book, "The Fire in Afghanistan," to be published next year. A party which Rhea and Arthur gave at their shore cottage with minor relatives of the subject of her book, Amanullah, the late ex-king of Afghanistan, was publicized in the Hartford, Connecticut, newspaper with almost a full page of pictures and story.

A fine record was made by our class to the Alumnae Fund, and appreciation is expressed to all who contributed.

Attendng our 30th reunion gala were: Betsy Woodson Weaver (daughter of a sophomore at Westhampton this year), Tinsy Garrett Buckler, Phyllis Anne Coghill, Kira Nicholsky, Anne Phillips Bonifant (on staff at library at Union Theological Seminary), Helen Dodd Driscoll, Mary Alice Smith Tillotton, Annie Addison Bowling (son a Lt. in the service), Evelyn Cosby (Assistant Chief of the Analy­sis and Retirement Branch, Directorate of Accounting Operations, U. S. Army Finance and Comptroller Information Systems Command, Fort Monmouth, N. J.), and the first time Betty Melius Wornke (the mother of 6 children, three of whom are triplets), and Anna Marie Rue Stringfellow (Charl­ene is attending graduate school at U. Va., Patty is in Ft. Lauderdale and enjoyed a trip to Europe this summer, and Rue just was appointed to fill a resigned member's term on the Culpeper Town Coun­cil.

Attending with their husbands were: Helen­etta Sadler Kinman (was on Richmond TV news recently explaining a program in the schools), Suzanne Trussell Wright (daughter of a recent graduate and lives in Virginia Beach), Its Holden Slipes (who did a great job as president of our class), Mayyne O'Flaherty Stone (elected national president of the Alumnae Association), Kay Levison Krug (has a granddaughter and grandson, and a daughter, Robyn, a member of Mortar Board, who graduated from William & Mary in June), Betty Eames Irvine (had secretaries and many thanks from all for the past 5 years and a fantastic 30th), Connie Powell Luttrell (who came the longest distance), Jean Neaschmidt Dickinson (also a grand­mother, and a second mother to many of our children as Assistant Professor of Psych­ology at U. of R.), Virginia Omohundro Purcell (son, Charles, entered U. Va. in September, and son, Hal, is with the Vir­ginia National Bank in Norfolk) Our symp­athy to Gin whose mother died during the summer. Ruth Hiller Johnson writes—why is it we never really appreciate anything until it is taken away from us? I always enjoyed reading the news of marriages, but just never could seem to find the time to sit down and write about myself. To begin with, I have been happily married to Harry Lee Johnson since 1957. Still no children, but oodles of nieces and nephews. Ruth is working as technical librarian for the Pigm­ents Division of American Cynamid Com­pany. The Johnsons live on "a very beauti­ful beef cattle farm fifty miles outside about six miles north of Sweet Briar. Our great rivalry notwithstanding, the campus at Sweet Briar is almost as lovely as Westhampton's." Harry is also assistant to the golf greens superintendent at the local country club.

Anne Fisher Kegler—We bought a small house and moved from our Faculty House last summer after Hardaway and Long's arrival. Lisa, 16, and Peter, 9, and I have plenty of space and can accommodate Tod (4th year at An­tioch) and John (living in Colorado) and their friends when they turn up. I'm in the Admis­sions Office at Smith.

Liz Parker Cone's daughter Frances made her debut in June, followed by a "Sundowner" Party at the Cone's lovely home. As you might guess, the color theme was tobac­co gold! Center, but the whole family visited Texas this summer and made a short trip to Mexico as well.

Ruth Wicker Lynch was in Mexico, too, this summer. She spent her vacation with a family in Guadalajara brushing up on her Spanish.

Frances Crowder Laird and Doug plan to drive through Ireland, Scotland and England in September. This past spring Doug attended the Advanced Management Seminar for Executives at Harvard. Randy, a senior, has been elected president of Student Government at Hampden-Sydney for the coming year.

Katharina Immink Atkinson's family spent two weeks in Nova Scotia during July and loved driving through the beautiful countryside. They returned by way of Erie for Kathy's grandmother's 95th birthday! John has gone to Japan for the International Boy Scouts, but the whole family visited Texas Seminar for Executives at Harvard. Randy, a family in Guadalajara brushing up on his Spanish.

Dottie James Foster's son, Darrell, graduated from the U. of R. in June. He is the seventh student in the history of Richmond College to graduate with all A's for the four years. Darrell majored in political science, and was Phi Beta Kappa and ODK. He is married and will enter the University of Virginia Law School.

Jean Motter Dempsey writes—we've had a very quiet year which is good considering that we live next door to Berkeley! Had one lovely trip to Las Vegas—two nights and three days of sheer debauchery. It was nice having Kathy Mumma for lunch last summer, but I scored zero in recognizing faces in the latest class picture. Maybe I'd better stay away from reunions.

Anne Twombly Leland sent a card in the midst of packing for an August vacation on the Cape. Jim was Harold Hill in the spring production of THE MUSIC MAN, graduated from Smith and Deidre receives her master's from Syracuse in August.

Lottie Blanton Applewhite and husband, Warren, took a "See America" tour with another couple in May and June. They flew to Las Vegas and rented a car; drove to the Grand Canyon, Mesa Verde and the Rocky Mountain National Park. Later they saw Mr. and Mrs. Crazy Horse, and spent several days in the Old Faithful Inn at Yellowstone. They continued on to the Grand Teton and Salt Lake City where they turned in their car and flew home. A final thrill was a helicopter trip across San Francisco's Bay. Lottie reports that this was a marvelous way to travel... We have seen the great plains of America and the salt flats and the deserts. We are glad we have and know that those are a part of America also. We met lots of college kids in the National Parks. They really were wonderful models of American youth and were doing a super job in the park facilities.

Betty Clement Adair deserves the thanks of all for the letter she sent each of us since none of her material was printed last year. Thanks for your effort in restoring these Class Notes to the Bulletin.

As to the Youells, we wound up a memorable tour in Puerto Rico by renting an Aquamobile (houseboat) in St. Thomas and cruising through the Virgin Islands. The Laird family joined our family and we all agreed it was the most relaxed family vacation we'd ever had. Mac retired from the Navy in February and John graduated from VMI in May. Bill is now a first classman there. Our new home is located on a small fresh water lake and we can fish from our backyard. The ocean is only a short drive away. After five years overseas, it is fun seeing old friends in our beloved Virginia.

Betty Tinsley Andrews' daughter, Marsha, went on a windjammer cruise off the coast of Maine with the Girl Scouts.

Dottie James Foster's son, Darrell, graduated from the U. of R. in June. He is the seventh student in the history of Richmond College to graduate with all A's for the four years. Darrell majored in political science, and was Phi Beta Kappa and ODK. He is married and will enter the University of Virginia Law School.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Jean Waldrop in the loss of her sister, Mrs. Emma B. Cruickshanks, after a short illness, and to Dottie Hughes Freitag in the loss of her father, Mr. Steven Hughes.

Lois Johnson Willis's son, G. T., III, will enter VPI this fall. Mimi Daffron Horigan's son, Johny, starts at Mount St. Mary's, Emmitsburg, Md.

Betty O'Brien Years and her family have moved to another home in Alexandria. Her new address is: 8705 Brandgate Rd., Alexandria, 22308.

Betty Brown Parsons' son, Shep, 16, topped all other contestants in the nation in one division of a French aptitude test with a grade of 94.3. There were 41,000 finalists.

Sara Frances and Sam Derieux and their daughter, Justin, went on a European vacation this summer. Justin remained in England for a year at high school, and Sam and Sara Frances had an unexpected stay at Shannon Airport in Ireland when their flight was the victim of a bomb hoax.

Jean Waldrop's new address is: 11 Malvern Ave., Richmond, 23221.

Our 25th Reunion comes up next May. Plans will begin after the first of the year.

I learned too late to write to group leaders that I would be serving as secretary this year and that odd numbered classes would appear in the Fall and Spring issues only. So we must do lots of communicating before the Spring issue, the deadline for which is February 10. Please send me news of you and yours at Christmas time, and I shall try to disseminate it for everyone to enjoy. Also include new addresses, ever valuable to the Alumnae Office. I shall look forward to hearing from you this fall.

Our 20th Reunion was every bit as grand as the others. Not many of us came, and we truly missed those of you who didn't make it, but we really did have two days of wonderful fun and "togetherness". We are grateful to those Richmond girls who made the arrangements and did all the work that goes into making such a gathering the success it was. Among those there to enjoy the weekend were: Frances Arghill Tonacci, Betty Bethune Langhorne, Rita Bross, Martha Carpenter, Marylyn CooperMcCraw, Suzanee Gibson Madden, Rene Groves Howland, Shirley Hall Murphy, Charlotte Houcins Decker, Jo Hyche Bauchl, Liz Latimer Kokiko, Jane Lawson Willis, Jean Lowe Bradley, Jean Love Hanson, Bookie Maroney Obebre, Marilyn Montague Harper, Mary Lee Moore Vinson, Ann Plunkett Rose, James John Roberts, Norma Streever Doss, and Lea Thompson Osborn. Of course I was there or I wouldn't have this job that Ann Rogers Crittenden said she would do with me.

Friday night we dressed up, even had one of our members in "hot pants", and enjoyed a gourmet dinner at the James River Country Club. Saturday night we went informal to a picnic at Jane Lawson Willis' and David's house. They got more than they bargained for in that we had to move our crowd of nearly fifty from their lovely yard into their equally lovely house.

After looking ourselves over for over two days we came to the conclusion that it had been good to us and in 1971 we look as well as we did in 1951. Ann Rogers Crittenden is the skinniest; Liz Latimer Kokiko had come the greatest distance; Martha Carpenter has furthered her education the most; Shirley Hall Murphy has the most children; and I have changed the least, and I didn't even get my hair "touched up".

I don't know whether the Class of '51 doesn't do much or just doesn't write much, but we do need and want news of you and your families. Please take a few minutes twice a year and drop me a line. Our news goes in the Fall and Spring issues.

'55 Mrs. Bob D. Willis (Barbara Turner) 522 W. Franklin Street Richmond, Virginia 23226

Jody Weaver Wampler, Zed and the children spent their Easter vacation in Florida. This summer, Jody played for the Children's Theatre production of "Bremen Band" which was presented at Dogwood Dell.

Nancy Johnson White attended the PTA Summer Conference at Randolph Macon College. She was one of the Mechaniotics Elementary School PTA's last year and will be president again this year.

Arnett Kizzie Neuville and family have moved to Virginia Beach. Their address is: 2504 San Miguel Court, 23456. Bob is Division Traffic Manager of Eastern Virginia for C and P.

Joy Winstead Proctor said that the whole family enjoyed Dave's four weeks of active duty with the Navy this summer at the Naval Air Space Institute in Pensacola.
Florida. Fishing, surfing, and snorkeling took up much of their time.
Emily Menefee Johnstone, Bill and the children spent several days at Blowing Rock, North Carolina and saw many of the places of interest in the area.

Jennie Jo Fyock Tignor and Milton will become civilians in July, 1971, after five years in the Air Force. They will move to West Palm Beach where Milton will enter private practice in Urology. John (7½) and Kathy (5) will miss Tampa but Jennie Jo will transfer to the Junior Woman's Club of North Palm Beach.

From Florida, Peggy Dulin Crews writes of enjoying water sports with Merrill and their two boys, Kevin (3) and Shawn (6 months). The Crews family had a visit from Becky Keller Ottinger and Charlie when they were in Miami on vacation.

Nancy and Bill Phillips have a new home on a lot of over an acre of land at 2610 Salisbury Road, Midlothian, Virginia 23113. Eileen Cordle Harris and Ed have also invested in a house on an acre of land on the western edge of Clarksville. Their new address is P. O. Box 793, Clarksville, Virginia 23927.

Martha Jordan Chukinas and Warren have long been active in their local Association for Retarded Children. Warren was recently elected president of the Virginia association. They both enjoy tennis and have had an active summer with George's Babe Ruth baseball and summer band; kindercamp for Mary; and camp for John.

Nancy Kipps Hughey and Ray enjoyed fishing and a trip down to the Chesapeake Bay on their new 27-foot cabin cruiser. Their Jo-Anne is recovering from a bad break in her leg in the spring.

Beverly Eubank Evans was recently honored by being chosen to represent her junior woman's club as hostess candidate for the Tobacco Festival. Julia Jeff Shepherd and Sue Kaufman Wilson are returning to the classroom this fall. Both will be teaching at the Richmond Day School.

The Class of '61 owes a great vote of thanks to many people for a wonderful reunion. I will not attempt to name everyone for fear I'd leave out some; but I will thank Mary Catherine Sellers Dunn, in particular, since she was the coordinator of the weekend. It was terrific seeing so many class members on Friday and Saturday nights—a special thanks to Gwynn Barefoot Raper for the use of her lovely home on Saturday night. Another thank you from the Class of '61 is due to a very special person. Miss Mary Jane Miller, our class sponsor, has left WC and we would like to say, "Thank you, Miss Miller, for helping us, loving us, and just putting up with us. We would have been lost without you." Miss Miller can be reached at 2822 Central Avenue, Ocean City, New Jersey 08226.

Betty Pritchett White and Ray have moved to 11760 Wiesinger Lane, Midlothian 23113. Ray will be on the faculty at MCV as assistant dean of the dental school.

June and VanderBoegh Carroll and Bob were transferred from Richmond and are newly settled in their new home at 300 Phiray Road, Richmond 23235, Rebecca, 8, will be in the third grade in September and Andrew, 5, will start kindergarten.

Got a very hurried note from Jessica Scarborough Burmester who was busily packing to move to 5217 Grinnell Street, Fairfax 22030.

Lee and Betty Lou Hillman Gray have moved to 7302 Whiston Drive, Springfield 22153. Betty Lou has had her hands full since she also has been taking classes and studying for her teaching certificate. She has received a Master of Education degree in the field of guidance from U. Va. and plans to substitute in the fall.

Dave and Kay Leber Crookshanks moved to 120 Janney Ct., Fredericksburg 22401, in March, in order to be closer to Dave's job. Dave now has his own grocery store—STOP AND SHOP—and Becky reports it has been quite exciting starting out on their own.

Jim and Louise Inman Chandler have moved to their new home at 613 Westwood Drive, Richmond. The move was north of downtown. Jim has begun his plastic surgery residency at Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas, though he will rotate at Baylor University Hospital first. Louise, Jimmy and Matthew have already joined the city pools, rec center and tennis courts.

They even have library cards! Louise invites all visitors from near or far.

Better and Gayle Gowdey Williams attended the Virginia Bar Association meeting at the Greenbrier in July. Ebb was elected a member of the Executive Committee of the Young Lawyers Section of the Association from the Southside District. They enjoyed seeing Norman and Joyce Slavin Scher and Sam and Anne Abbitt Kerr. Ebb and Gayle will vacation in Williamsburg and Jamestown in August.

Hobby and Kitty Thorburn Neale are leaving the children with grandparents and are flying to California for two weeks in August. Missed seeing Kitty at the reunion but a very young man in her life just wouldn't wait!

Margaret Denman, probably our most traveled classmate, wrote a fascinating letter of her work and travels. She is approaching her fourth year teaching sixth grade social studies in a suburb of Boston. She has been abroad every year since graduation and will go to Nova Scotia this summer.

Carol Chapman received her master's degree in education from U. Va. at the termination of the session in August.

Nancy Adams Booker reports an active life taking care of her two girls—Anne, 2½, and Sarah Elizabeth, 4 months—doing church work, and working in the Junior Woman's Club.

Jennie Stokes Howe still enjoys life by the Carrillon—attending the summer programs there. Her boys also have a tendency to keep her "on the go."

Ray Armstrong Johnson (Mrs. G. E., Jr.) reported at the reunion that life is never dull living next door to Meg Gunter Lovelace—at 1502 Wellington Drive, Bedford 24523.

Mary Evans writes she is "dean-ning" (as she puts it) at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio—13,000 students! Her job involves training and supervising the work of the mobile state assistants in college personnel, and coordinating the academic advising of the freshman class—in addition to serving as the Mortar Board adviser. She is also active in both the national and state associations of deans in the fields of professional development and program planning.

Betty Wade Blanton Jones and I had lunch with Mary Catherine Dunn, March 7, in the summertime at Westside. Jerry and Sara Elizabeth were up for our club's Member-Guest weekend in July. Monty and Sara—both 3½—had a great time trying to outdo each other!

I'm sure all of us were saddened upon hearing of the death of Kathryn (Kitty) Haller. Kitty died as the result of an automobile accident on I-2. A memorial service was sent to the Renal Unit of the University of Virginia Hospital from our class.

Carol Daniele Newton and Joe are in Bluefield, Virginia. Carol is in public health nursing in West Virginia. She writes that Barbara Gardner Cook and Richard are in Vineland, New Jersey, where he is working in a migrant workers ministry. They have two children, Sarah and Matt.

Pam Myers completed her masters in French at the University of Massachusetts, June 11. She is continuing to teach at the University.

Fran Dix Mann says even with twin girls she still finds time to do some special consulting for Secondary Reading in Chesterfield County. Her husband, Jimmy, is office manager for Victor Products.

Lynda Beran Murray and Frank both teach in the psychology department at Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg. Frank is an associate professor in the department. They have three children.

Susan Darden Schneider is a registered patient agent. She does some work for College in her own home. Larry is still with the F.B.I. and flew as an armed guard for Pan American for several months.

Susan wrote that Carol Baldwin is married (Mrs. William F. Renzi), and living in Evanston, Illinois.

Janet Renshaw Carnagian and Bob have moved to Shaw Air Force Base, Columbia, South Carolina.

Ann Carter has been elected president of the Washington Metropolitan Area Alumnae Club.

Carolyn Owen vacationed in New England stopping to visit with Peggy Saindors who has moved to Boston where she is with the Record American and Boston Sunday Advertiser. Peggy has been to New York City on several assignments. She covered the men's fashion previews in Buck Hill Falls and the women's shows in NYC.

Linda Holt Lilly has been elected president of the Richmond Chapter of Mortar Board Alumnae. Edde is chairperson in the department of medicine at MCV.

Brenda Netherwood Gibral and George have bought a home on Hampshire Road in Richmond.

Nancy Curtis Wood is now Computer Support Manager with C & P Telephone Company in Richmond.

Diana Ryan Silvion and Jim will be going to Korea where Jim reports for duty in October.

Pam Adams Hall and Sam are building a new home in Pinedale Farms in Richmond.

Under a new system of reporting class news on the Odd-Even basis, it becomes more imperative that I hear what everyone has been doing. Please let me hear from you no later than the first of February.

Nancy Ussery Karam and husband, Al, are moving to Venezuela in August. Al has received a teaching position at the university, having completed work on his PhD in math. Nancy says they are taking with them only that which can carry on the plane! And she doesn't speak Spanish yet!

Maureen I received a teaching position at the University of Virginia Hospital, and Pat in the School of Education in guidance work for an M.Ed.

Graduate school appears to be popular with our class. Mary Lee Brazel is at Clemson in math, Carole Waite is at the University of South Carolina in psychology, Alice Presson is at Penn State in Spanish, and Karen Neal is in graduate school in Chapel Hill.

I ran into Frances Fowler at a Sunday matinee at the Mill Mountain Playhouse here. She'll be teaching at Hugenot Academy in Powhatan and sharing an apartment with Marsha Carl in Richmond.

Several other members of our class are teaching in the Richmond area. Cheryl Blankau teaches at Skipwith Elementary. Nancy Bain teaches French at St. Catherine's, Linda Noell teaches English at Varina High School and Anne Allport is teaching physical education. Anne and Linda share an apartment.

Vickie Bowman is teaching high school math in Danville and says that she is pleased to have two geometry classes.

Nancy (Jarvis) Inge and husband, Cliff, are stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., with orders to leave for Korea in December.

Lindsay Struthers stayed in Virginia after graduation to be in Nancie Caskey's wedding. Nancie and Joel are living in Washington, D.C. where Joel is a lawyer. Lindsay is in graduate school in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Sara Bridges Metz and Jerry are now living in Yokota, Japan, stationed with the Air Force. They plan to return to the states in 1973 after his tour of duty.

My summer was very busy. Varoulouse, Mary Lee Waite and Mary Watson were bridesmaids in Betty Davis' wedding on June 19. Betty is now Mrs. Larry Witter and will be living in Ithaca, N. Y., for two years while Larry finishes vet school at Cornell. The day after the wedding I met Anne Allport at Dulles Airport, and we flew to Paris to join Ann Hodge, Mary Stuart Kinsey, Anne Green and about forty others for a month's tour of Europe. We had a fantastic time, but I don't think any of us want to see bread for a long while!

Ann Hodge and I have been in the process of hunting for jobs. Ann plans to be in Charlottesville, and I hope to be in Winston-Salem, N. C. Let me hear from all of you so that we can have more news in the Spring issue!

Editor's Comment

This issue of your alumni magazine is perhaps the most important one you have ever received. The reason for that statement should be obvious. The questionnaire around which this issue is built is an impressive example of what can be accomplished by a group of alumni with a worthwhile goal in sight.

The more than 60 alumni and alumnae who have worked to make the questionnaire a reality have done so at considerable personal inconvenience. No less than 40 meetings have been held by subcommittees composed of representatives from each of the University's five major divisions. Many Saturdays have been devoted to the project and several evening meetings which began at 7 p.m. have continued until midnight.

Although much has been accomplished since the study began in January, the work is far from complete. Now the time has come for the majority to be heard. The questionnaire was designed to let you speak up about the University of Richmond and its alumni programs. As Otis Brown, the chairman of the alumni study group, has said elsewhere in this magazine, you now have an opportunity to formally present your opinions on many different aspects of the University. The results of the questionnaire will become the heart of an extensive report to be presented to Dr. Heilman.

All this activity is occurring because many alumni feel strongly that the alumni body (all 17,000 of us) can contribute a great deal to the planning for future greatness which is presently occurring at the University. Students and faculty have submitted lengthy reports in which they suggest ways in which the University can be improved. If alumni do not take advantage of this opportunity they will have missed a perfect chance to be heard when the University's leaders want to listen.

If you haven't already done so, please take the time necessary to answer the questions and mail them. What you have to say is important. Let us hear from you.

The Westhampton College classnotes are back by popular demand. I hope that all who were concerned about the manner in which they have been presented in recent issues are happy to find them to be an integral part of this issue. The present plan is for this policy to continue in future issues.
