Director's Message

Congratulations. We've made it through another semester. From all of us in the library, we wish you a wonderful summer, wherever it may find you. For students who have completed studies here at the law school, you may be studying soon for the bar, or you might be returning to your home town or country. For those returning next year, many of you are getting ready for a summer experience, where you'll explore ways to put classroom theory into practice. For all of you, we hope you find time to relax, catch your breath and make time to enjoy life. When you need a place to study, resources to use, or a friendly library team, we'll be here for you.

Again, from all of us in the William Taylor Muse Law Library, we say: Congratulations!

- Roger Skalbeck, Associate Dean and Professor of Law.
