

ALUMNI BULLETIN

UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND

Summer
1952

(See page 16)

Is your name here?

Larson Taylor McGee
Jones Scott Chester
Wissmann Smith Flick
Warwick
Donahue Broussard
O'Brien Johnson
Cavarelli Valez Schimer

IF IT'S NOT — chances are it should be. Because these names represent people who own the electric light and power companies — and you're probably one of those owners!

It's like this: about three million people from all walks of life — teachers, housewives, doctors, clerks, mechanics, farmers — put their savings into companies like ours. They're direct owners.

There are also seventy-five million people who, through their life insurance policies and savings bank accounts, are indirect owners in this way:

The banks and insurance companies which want to invest your money wisely, put much of it into these same electric companies! So, you see, these companies that serve nearly everybody are owned by nearly everybody!

• "MEET CORLISS ARCHER." Sundays — ABC — 9:15 P. M., Eastern Time.

VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER COMPANY

The Alumni Bulletin

HERMAN POLLARD THOMAS

This is no time for evaluating the career of a man as youthful and virile as Dr. Herman Pollard Thomas, '17, head of the department of economics and applied economics in the University of Richmond. In fact, after only twenty-five years of service as a member of the faculty, he has before him thirteen fruitful years before he reaches the retirement age, years which will bring new laurels.

Any enumeration of his accomplishments makes an impressive list. But it is not in these achievements but in his human qualities that his greatness lies. He is the real embodiment of a phrase which has been overworked and too often carelessly applied. He is, in the highest, loftiest concept of the expression, a Christian gentleman.

A thorough teacher, colloquial, jovial with students who do an honest day's work, he can be as stern as the hillsides of his native Southwest Virginia with those who would shirk, with those who would whine rather than work for grades, with those who are looking for a short cut to a degree.

Of rugged stock, he is the son of the Rev. John B. F. Thomas, '95, who is still a power in the Baptist denomination in his community. In addition to his bachelor's degree from the University of Richmond, Herman Thomas has both an M.A. and a Ph.D. from Virginia. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of other honorary societies. He has written for professional journals, he is in demand as a speaker on subjects in the realm of economics.

But, as has been said, his greatness is found in none of these attributes, fine as they are. Herman Pollard Thomas was the sort of professor Dr. Boatwright had in mind when he said that "Christianity is caught as well as taught." "In his association with students on the campus and in the classroom, he has been guided by the precept of the greatest of all teachers: 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth will make you free.'"

MALCOLM U. PITT

The best refutation of the libel that "nice guys don't win" is Malcolm U. Pitt, '18, who has been a nice guy for fifty-six years and a winner since his own student days when he played football, baseball, and ran on the track team.

Strangely enough he never played basketball, the game with which he was so closely associated and in which he produced a great many of Virginia's finest players. When he stepped down as basketball coach last month after tutoring the Varsity for eighteen years, he was dean of basketball coaches in the Old Dominion and in the Southern Conference.

The "Silver Fox" said simply that he was tired, that the rigors of serving as athletic director and as coach of both basketball and baseball were too much. In this contention the Athletic Council agreed after receiving his assurance he would remain on as athletic director and continue as baseball coach.

The 1952 baseball team was another typical Pitt team. It was a winner, with team spirit and cohesion making up for a woeful lack of hitting power. The Spiders won the championship of the northern division of the Southern Conference and Pitt's admiring colleagues officially proclaimed him "coach of the year" in the Old Dominion.

Mr. Pitt's well-wishers hope that the "Silver Fox" will be prominent in the University of Richmond athletic picture for many more years. They like him because he can win gracefully and, when he must lose, conduct himself as a gentleman should. No administrative official has ever had to apologize, no alumnus has ever had to feel ashamed of the conduct of Mac Pitt in the direction of University of Richmond teams.

It is not surprising that he is held in high esteem by his colleagues and by the legion of University of Richmond men who have learned how to play baseball and have learned how to play a much more important game, long after the spiked shoes have been put aside.

THE ALUMNI BULLETIN

Published quarterly at the University of Richmond by the General Society of Alumni. Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office, University of Richmond, Virginia, May 14, 1948. Subscription price: $1.00 per year.

VOL. XVI JULY, 1952 No. 4

JOSEPH E. NETTLES, '30 ..... Editor
LESLIE S. BOOKER, '22... Westhampton Editor
VIRGINIA IVEY, '48 ..... Law School Editor
WM. H. WARREN, '48... Business School Editor
ROBERT M. STONE, '30 .... Business Manager

THE GENERAL SOCIETY OF ALUMNI

Henry M. Taylor, '12 ..... President
Edward R. Adams, '41 ... 1st Vice-President
Wilbur K. Gaines, '29 ... 2nd Vice-President
J. Maurice Trimmer, '27 .. 3rd Vice-President
Aylett W. Goode, Jr., '42 ..... Secretary
Joseph E. Nettles, '30 .... Executive Secretary

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

David Nelson Sutton, '15
William Earle White, '17
and the above officers

THE ALUMNI COUNCIL OFFICERS

E. Claiborne Robins, '31 ..... President
Frank G. Louthan, '10 ... 1st Vice-President
R. E. Booker, '24 ..... 2nd Vice-President
Joseph E. Nettles, '30 ..... Secretary
Robert M. Stone, '30 ..... Treasurer

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Edward J. Fox, '17
S. Frank Straus, '35
F. Ralph Swanson, '26
William T. Bareford, '46
and the above officers

WESTHAMPTON COLLEGE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Nora Turpin Turner, '29 ..... President
Louise Thompson Chewing, '37, Vice-President
Leslie Sessoms Booker, '22, Executive Secretary
Mail all contributions and news items to Mrs. R. E. Booker, Executive Secretary, Westhampton College Alumnae Association, P.O., University of Richmond, Virginia.

Margaret Fugate Carlton, '24
Louise Fry Galvin, '26
Mary Richardson Butterworth, '29
Alice Richardson Connell, '30
Antoinette Wirth Whittet, '41
Florence B. Decker, '17
Emily Gardner, '18
Elizabeth Tompkins, '19
Harriet S. Willingham, '26

Members-at-Large

Board of Trustees

LAW SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

W. Moscoe Huntley, '26 ..... President
Oliver A. Pollard, '16 ..... Vice-President
Virginia Ivey, '48 ..... Executive Secretary
Thomas P. Bryan, '47 ..... Treasurer

COUNCIL

Wade S. Coates, '47
C. Lydon Harrell, Jr., '41
David J. Mays, '24
George Abbitt, Jr., '31
William H. King, '36
A. L. Philpott, '47
M. Wallace Moncure, '27
Charles H. Ryland, '39
R. H. L. Chichester, Jr., '29

Three-year Term

Two-year Term

One-year Term

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Walter Nelson, '50 ..... President
Rudolph Hetzer, '50 ..... Vice-President
William C. Farmer, '50 .... Secretary-Treasurer

An Adventure in World Understanding

By DANIEL H. KRUGER, '49

JUST ONE YEAR AGO a unique aspect of the general orientation program for Germany was inaugurated at the University of Wisconsin. The Industrial Relations Center, in cooperation with the School for Workers, conducted a program for the State Department for twenty-five young German industrial relations trainees. They spent nine months in this country acquainting themselves with the methods, practices and procedures which sustain a free society.

The basic purpose of this orientation program was to enable young Germans showing potentiality for leadership to study and observe the democratic environment in the United States with emphasis on labor management relations. Rigorous formal education was not contemplated; instead, emphasis was placed on extensive experience and general knowledge. Most of these potential leaders were forced to leave school at too early an age to have obtained the education necessary to meet the academic standards of most of the German reorientation programs. Most of the trainees participating in this project, however, came from a class that traditionally has not received higher education in Germany. Thus the project was designed to include the participation of this segment of German society in the reorientation program.

In this group there were twenty-three men and two women. Although their average age was twenty-two, they were persons of serious purpose whose maturity belied their age. They all spoke English with varying degrees of proficiency. In order to qualify for this program they had to pass various selection boards both of the State Department and of their own country.

Because of their varied educational backgrounds, it was not possible to fit them into regular university courses. It was necessary to set up a special program designed for their particular needs. In addition to their work in labor relations, they studied American government and Basic American institutions. They attended the Freshman Forum, which centered around American democracy, its problems and prospects. Various aspects of American culture were discussed in a special seminar.

Classroom presentation and discussion were but one part of the program. The classroom work was supplemented by many field trips about Wisconsin and neighboring states. On these trips the trainees had opportunity to visit industrial plants and to investigate many of our institutions and social processes. At the outset of each tour, a qualified person explained the various operations they were to see. At the conclusion of the tour, there was a discussion period during which the trainees had opportunity to raise questions about things which they saw. The personnel manager or labor relations director explained the industrial relations setup in the plant and then answered the trainees' questions concerning industrial relations in the plant.

On campus, the trainees live in dormitories, each with an American as roommate. The trainees participated in many aspects of campus life. They were members of the Student Halls Association which is the self-government agency of the students living in the halls. In all respects, they were treated as regular members of the university community. Their roommates helped the trainees to gain an insight into what makes America. The trainees discussed with them questions about their work at the University, about life on the campus, and conditions in their respective home towns.

On their field trips to industrial plants, an attempt was made to cover representative firms in as many industries as possible. On these trips the trainees were able to correlate what they learned in the classroom with what they saw in the shop. In the question and answer periods management people as well as labor representatives joined ranks to present the complete picture of labor relations in that particular plant. Seeing labor union and management representatives seated at the same table answering their questions was quite an adventure in American democracy for these trainees. By and large, these sessions showed how labor has become an accepted partner in industrial government.

Madison, where the University is located, was utilized as a laboratory to see how many of our institutions operate. The group visited meetings of the City Council where they heard a bill on anti-discrimination being discussed. A trip to the police station revealed the relationships between city, state and federal law enforcement agencies. In their investigation of the educational system, they visited an elementary school and a high school during which time the principals of the schools explained the operation of their respective institutions. On their tour of the elementary school they inspected the orthopedic division, where the crippled children of the city take special work. They visited the local newspaper where the editor explained the operations of the paper. At the City Hall they met the Mayor who discussed city government in operation. Before they returned to Germany in June, the trainees visited many of our public institutions in an effort to see how all these fit into the pattern of life in America.

As for the academic side of the program, it soon became evident that the formal lecture system was less effective than with American students. These trainees wanted to know what makes America. Particular problems had to be discussed against the background of the entire picture in order to show how interrelated our society is. The trainees were encouraged to ask questions. This was quite an exciting experience for them for they were not accustomed to ask their teachers questions. They had the opportunity to make counter declarations if they desired. Obviously, it was difficult, if not impossible, to follow a well-defined set of lecture notes because these questions often led to new areas not immediately associated with the topic under discussion. This situation marked a departure from regularly scheduled classes because many of the University courses in the social sciences are based upon the assumption that the student is somewhat familiar with life in the United States. At the same time, this provided a challenge to the teachers in the program and a new adventure in pedagogical techniques.

Thus all participants in the program—trainees, faculty, union and management representatives—were a part of this unique experiment in world understanding. Though these trainees studied and were housed at the University, the entire state and country was their laboratory. Not only were members of the faculty of the University their instructors, but every citizen they met helped them to get an insight into America.

(Continued on page 32)

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

As coordinator of the State Department's program for German industrial relations trainees, Dan Kruger served as liaison officer between the State Department and the University of Wisconsin where the program was centered. In its broadest aspects, his task was to make the trainees' stay in America "as educational and informative as possible in order that they might leave the University with some knowledge of our country, its greatness and its faults, but with an understanding of both." Specifically, there were such matters as arranging classes and curriculum, getting speakers for the seminars, arranging field trips. In addition, he was responsible for a series of radio programs for the Voice of America in which the German students told of their experiences in the United States. These programs were rebroadcast in Germany.

In his spare moments, Coordinator Kruger continued his work on his Ph.D. degree at Wisconsin.

Commencement

ALTHOUGH FOR THE FIRST TIME since 1948 the number of graduates dropped below the 300-mark, the University of Richmond closed its 122nd session on the note of optimism.

The administrative attitude was summed up by President George M. Modlin who told the board of trustees at its annual meeting that he was confident "this university is moving forward in a sound, progressive manner which assures it a future of promise and achievement."

Earlier, in addressing the alumni, he had cited five significant events of the year, chief among them the bequest of $2,700,000 from A. D. Williams. He cited too, the establishment of two Reserve Officers' Training Corps units (Air Force and Army Transportation), the completion of the Alumni-Student Center Building, authorization for constructing a $400,000 Law School building on the main campus, and the organization of a School of Christian Education.

As for the graduates, morale was uniformly high, particularly for those who were going immediately into industry at salaries which placement officers said were an all-time high. Of course, military service beckoned to many of the graduates, particularly those in the School of Business Administration, but the men were taking their induction in good grace—grateful that they were permitted to remain in school until they had earned their degrees.

Not only for men but for the women graduates, jobs were plentiful and salaries excellent. The largest single group—twenty-two—of the eighty-three Westhampton women planned to enter the teaching profession, eleven will continue their training in graduate school. Seven will become laboratory technicians, four in industry and three in hospitals. Social service will claim five; business, two; journalism, two, and personnel work, one. Four hadn't decided which of several jobs to take, and ten said they'd have a nice long summer vacation before looking for a job.

Activity was brisk on the matrimonial front. Three were already married and twenty others were engaged to be married in the near future.

Slightly more than half of Richmond College's seventy-eight men planned to continue their education in graduate and professional schools, while about one-eighth expected to go immediately into military service. For the others the job prospects were excellent.

For draft-exempt Business School graduates the prospects were "unexcelled," with the demand for trained men particularly heavy in accounting, sales, and management training. However, almost half of the forty-two graduates were expected to go almost immediately into the armed services.

Practically all of the Law School graduates had already done their military stint, and planned to go immediately into the practice of their profession.

The total of 258 graduates, including ten in the Graduate School, was the lowest since 1948 when 246 received diplomas. (Last year, 303 received degrees, as compared with 342 the preceding year.) The decline can be expected to continue next year but deans were confident that enrollments will increase sharply in the next few years when the colleges feel the impact of the sharply accelerated birth rate of the late '30's and early '40's. (Educators expect college enrollments to be from 50 to 100 per cent higher by 1962.)

To the low birth rate of the early '30's educators give most of the blame for the current nation-wide slump in college enrollments but there are other factors, including the demands of the armed services and the fact that the wave of World War II veterans attending college under the GI bill is now merely a ripple. (President Modlin pointed out in his annual report that the veteran population had dropped from a high of 80 per cent in 1946-47 to a low of 15 per cent of the male enrollment last session. The percentage will be even smaller next year.)

There were several reasons to believe that the University of Richmond might be able to check the enrollment decline next fall. The resumption of normal graduating classes in the Richmond city public schools after a year's lapse upon the establishment of the twelve-year system was the most encouraging single factor. A more intensified recruitment program, coupled with the establishment of twenty-seven new scholarships worth a total of $15,100, were among other reasons

(Continued on page 16)

"YE SHALL SEEK THE TRUTH..."

Graduates who must turn aside from the offer of lucrative jobs to do their stint in the armed services found inspiration in the words of the commencement speaker, Dr. Francis Pendleton Gaines, '12, president of Washington and Lee University.

"If there should be disappointment or impatience that our excellent youth of today's emergency must turn aside from eagerness for personal success," he said, "then we can only remind them of the distinction of their privilege. In new and almost terrible reality they have become custodians of all that is precious in the human effort. Under grim necessity they learn the formula of the only human hope. Using this formula, they can make their day the most influential of the human history."

Dr. Gaines spoke in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church where, for the second consecutive year the exercises were held due to inclement weather which made unsuitable the Luther H. Jenkins Greek Theater.

Dr. Gaines told the graduates that the "noblest concept of education offered by all the centuries is in the words of the Great Teacher, 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth will make you free.'" He added, however, that this "immortal utterance" rests upon the "seldom-quoted hypothesis that great commandments must be kept and great disciplinship achieved before one can hope to know the truth."

The occasion marked the 40th anniversary of Dr. Gaines' graduation. Alma Mater had called him back again, however, to confer on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Four other distinguished sons of Alma Mater were given honorary degrees at the 1952 finals, in addition to Governor John Stewart Battle. Governor Battle and President Morgan L. Combs, '17, of Mary Washington College received the degree of Doctor of Laws. L. Howard Jenkins, '08, prominent Richmond businessman and a member of the U. of R. board of trustees, received the degree of Doctor of Science. The Doctor of Divinity degree was conferred on Clifton C. Thomas, '17, general secretary of the State Mission Board of the Maryland Baptist Union Association, and the Rev. E. Norfleet Gardner, '14, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Henderson, N. C.

In his baccalaureate sermon the preceding evening, Dr. Gardner said that mankind must turn to God to find a way out of the present-day unrest. "Not in communism, and not in capitalism," he said, "is the answer to be found, but in the hearts and lives of the citizens" who make up the nations of the world.

9

10

12

13

15

11

"HAPPY RED, NOSTALGIC BLUE"

HOMEcoming OL' GRADS are painting the town in school colors—a happy red and a nostalgic blue."

That's the way Guy Friddell, '46, a reporter for the Richmond News Leader, starts—
(Continued on page 32)

1—THE GANG'S ALL HERE. Richmond College men and co-eds of 1911 are entertained by Mrs. Eudora Ramsay Richardson at a picnic supper at her home on Skipwith Road.

2—IT'S A MAN'S WORLD. Mrs. Eudora Ramsay Richardson does the paddling while Wilmer L. O'Flaherty relaxes.

3—STILL THE CHAMPION! John Hash holds the watch on Lester (Jim) Tharpe who has slowed up a bit since the days when he set U. of R. records in the quarter, half-mile, and mile.

4—OOPS. The photographer arrived too late to catch the Westhampton Class of '50 which dined at Ewart's.

5—Members of the Class of '12 are guests of Representative J. Vaughan Gary.

6—"Tell-I-I me Why-y-y . . ." Some of the girls of '47 give out with their favorite song.

7—1932. The class met with Miss Phyllis Perkison. A guest of honor is Miss Caroline Lutz.

8—Just 10 years out. The girls of '42 met at the home of Mrs. W. F. Parkerson, Jr.

9—Girls and Boys of '22 meet in the Tea Room at Westhampton.

10—UP TO THEIR OLD TRICKS. Two delightful screwballs of the class of '42 engage in a bit of horseplay. T. Emmett Warriner (left) confers the honorary degree of Master of Assiduous Assininity upon Robert E. Cotten, Jr., now a member of a Washington law firm. Warriner, also a lawyer, was recently elected mayor of Lawrenceville.

11—"GRAY HAIRS AT TWENTY? YES, WHITE IF YOU PLEASE." The boys of '01 and '02 were the dinner guests of Dr. J. P. McCabe. Guests of honor were Dr. R. E. Gaines and Dr. R. E. Loving, '96.

12—"AND FURTHERMORE, YOUNG MAN. . . ." Dean Keller tells off Dr. Oscar Hite, '22, just as she used to do.

13—A Word from "The Neighbor." Dean Pinchbeck tells the men of '42 what's been going on at the university during the past decade.

14—Canes for the Old Men. Members of the class of '27 hold aloft their 25th anniversary souvenirs.

15—What's 25 Years? Members of the class of '27 pose for their picture on the terrace of the formal garden. Guests of honor are Miss Pauline Turnbull and Miss Isabel Harris.

16—WHAT A TEAM! In the line, ready to charge, are W. B. F. Cole, G. Stanley Clarke, and Charles T. O'Neill. The backs are Alan L. Hart, Henry M. Taylor and Earle Lutz. Manager J. Vaughan Gary stands.

14

16

We Are in the International Business

By ELMA H. ASHTON, '25*

A FEW WEEKS AGO an Egyptian, an Israelite, a German and a Frenchman were in our office at the same time. They remained with us a few days, after which we sent them together to a nearby city to observe its social welfare facilities for a two-weeks' period. Newspapers and other articles on the relationships of the countries these people represent might lead us to the theoretical conclusion that these four people could not—would not participate in a co-operative venture. Theoretically, it would not work!

However, the Egyptian, the Israelite, the German, and the Frenchman accidentally arrived in the same office on the same day. Together, by plan, under our sponsorship and under the sponsorship of a designated agency, they went to a nearby city. Together they visited welfare agencies, institutions, schools and churches. Together they visited American homes. Together they returned to our office two weeks later, having had a full and profitable experience.

We are in the International business. People come to our office from all over the world—people who are experts in the fields of maternal and child health, child guidance and child welfare—people who are interested in learning something in this country that they may be able to use in their own countries.

International tensions have always existed, and possibly always will, to a greater or less degree. However, the United States is taking considerable responsibility in the matter of exchange of ideas, information, technical knowledge, etc., with a view toward assisting in the world-wide movement toward raising standards of living, and to the world-wide movement toward achievement of a more peaceful existence for all. In bringing people to this country, the United States not only creates opportunity for mutual understanding between Americans and persons from other countries, but also makes it possible for people from many countries to get acquainted with one another, and establish friendly relations with one another—as in the case of the Egyptian, the Israelite, the German, and the Frenchman.

People from foreign countries come to our office through a number of programs, including the United Nations' Fellowship Program (described in the ALUMNI BULLETIN in the winter of 1949-1950); the Cultural Exchange Program, which allows opportunity for our former enemies to visit and become acquainted with us; and the Point Four Program, a program in which the United States makes available to less developed countries a variety of opportunities for exchange of knowledge and materials.

All of the exchange programs financed by the United States, as well as by the United Nations, have the basic purpose of creating opportunities for countries throughout the world to raise their own standards of living; and of creating a "climate" in which more peaceful relationships can develop among men. I shall deal in some detail with the Point IV Program.

In his Inaugural Address in January, 1948, the President of the United States declared our country's necessity to embark upon a program of international activity. As his fourth point in this statement he announced,

"We must embark on a bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped areas . . . we should make available to peace-loving peoples the benefits of our store of technical knowledge in order to help them realize their aspirations for a better life. . . ."

This fourth point, now known the world over as the Point IV Program, got under way in the year 1951, and now is a major factor in constructive developments in many of the less developed countries of the world. Through this program, the United States, upon request of another country, shares in projects designed to raise the standards of living of the people of those countries.

Our Government, through the Department of State, and through our Embassies in other countries, makes agreements with those countries, each government contributing to the project in accordance with its resources. These projects include our sending experts to other countries to assist in developing those countries in such areas as agriculture, sanitation, communication, industry, health and welfare; and include our receiving for study and training in this country, experts in the various specialties. Through this program the people of many countries are busy improving their own conditions; by increasing the productivity of their land, thus providing more and better food; by building their first out-of-door toilets, thus improving sanitary conditions; by digging their first wells, thus allowing families their first opportunity to drink clean water; by organizing a group of children to form the community's first school; by setting up the first health and welfare centers.

Experts the United States sends to those countries help the governments get the projects under way—the people of those countries carry responsibility for accomplishing results. Professional persons and technicians from those countries come to the United States to study our methods in the various fields and return home to carry leadership in the home country's activities, making use of whatever they have learned that may be applicable and adaptable to that country.

The over-all administration of this program is carried in the United States Department of State. However, all over Washington, in many departments and bureaus, there are International units that carry technical responsibility for the program. For example, the Department of Labor, the Department of Agriculture, the Bureau of Public Assistance, the Children's Bureau, and many other departments and bureaus have designated staff to serve as the administrative routes through which the department of State recruits experts to go abroad as consultants; and plans and arranges observation and study for professional persons and technicians from other lands who come to the United States to explore our methods in the various fields.

Our office, the Division of International Cooperation of the Children's Bureau, carries only a small part of this tremendous job. In the fields of child health, child guidance, and child welfare, we recruit experts to go abroad, and we plan study and observation for visitors who come to this country to gain new knowledge for use in their work at home.

What can an Egyptian learn in this country that she can make use of at home—for example, the Egyptian (a Point IV grantee) who arrived in our office with the Israelite (a United Nations Fellow), the German (a Cultural Exchange Fellow), the Frenchman (a United Nations Fellow)? This Egyptian is a lady who carries broad responsibility for underprivileged, neglected and delinquent children and youth. She is here to study our methods of caring for such children and youth through our agencies and institutions. She is a person who has an important job in her country and who has enough prestige among her people to be able to influence policy and practice in the area of her responsibility. She will study "our ways" and try to adapt whatever may be usable in Egypt.

What does the United States have that a person from Turkey, or Iran, or Iraq, can use at home? We now have a man from Turkey in this country who is a lawyer and who is interested in the whole field of juve-

(Continued on page 16)

*Miss Ashton is Chief, Training Branch, Division of International Cooperation, Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Alumni Fund Nears Record Total

Almost $28,000 Given; '15 Wins Again

GRADUATES spanning the years from Austin of '87 to the youngsters of '51, running through every letter of the alphabet from Abbitt of '31 to Zizak of '49 let their dollars tell of their devotion to Alma Mater in the Alumni Fund of 1952.

As a result, the Fund had an unprecedented July 1 total of $27,885.40 as compared with $25,103.67 at the close of the 1951 Fund—an increase of almost $2,800.

Although the total was $723.94 below the record-breaking sum of $28,609.34 contributed in 1950 when big givers were urged to go all out for the Alumni-Student Center Building, it was far ahead of the $26,155.67 total of July 1, 1950.

There is every reason to believe that before the close of the calendar year the Fund will be the largest since the annual giving plan was inaugurated in 1947. That year 793 alumni participated; in the current fund the total had reached 1,258 on July 1 and was heading steadily to the 1300-mark.

The 1952 total is particularly significant in view of the fact that none of the money contributed in the Law School Building campaign was credited to the Fund.

A brick-and-mortar evidence of the success of the Alumni Fund is the Alumni-Student Center which is having a noticeably good effect on student morale. Students appreciate the luxurious furnishings of the building and are cooperating to the hilt in giving the building the care it deserves. Particularly popular during the hot summer months is the air-conditioned College Shop which is a far cry from the frame shop of yesteryear. The lounge and the adjoining playroom also are widely used.

Staffs of student publications, long used to miserable quarters in the old Playhouse, are jubilant about the comfortable, well-outfitted offices on the fourth floor of the building. In addition to these offices, there is a jointly used mailing room and a morgue for the filing of cuts, pictures and other materials.

Alumni headquarters are located on the second floor of the building.

WINNER AND STILL CHAMPION!

It may take a revolution to dethrone the class of 1915 which for the fourth consecutive year cleaned up all opposition in the spirited fight for first place in the Alumni Fund.

The men of '15 finished with a percentage of 60.53—slightly above last year's 58.97, but not up to their record 77.77 of the preceding year. A perennial contender for the title, the class of 1911 moved into second place with a 51.16 total—the best second place score in the six-year history of the Fund!

The class of 1916, fifth last year, slipped into third place with a fine 47.37, and should be in a position to make a bid for the championship next year.

The soul of consistency, the class of 1907 finished fourth for the third consecutive year. Their score was 40.00.

Others in the top ten: 1917 (38.60); 1924 (37.84); 1910 (37.50); 1905 (36.67); 1903 (36.00); 1914 (35.48).

For the third consecutive year the class of 1949 finished first in the number of contributors—79, exactly the same total as for the preceding year. Perhaps the best showing was made, however, by the class of 1930 which closed with a burst of contributions to move into second place. With forty-six contributors the class had a very creditable percentage of 33.58.

The men of 1950 were third with 44, closely followed by 1948 with 43, the Old Guard, 42, the class of 1941 with 41, and the class of 1951 with 40. Others in the top bracket were the class of 1927 with 39, 1937 with 38, and the class of 1942 with 37.

The names of contributors to the 1952 Alumni Fund, by classes, follow:

Old Guard (Up to 1902) (24.14%)

Albert M. Austin, '87
W. H. Baylor, '88
J. T. Neill, Jr., '88
Henry T. Louthan, '90
W. H. Parker, '90
John W. Reams, '90
W. O. Carver, '91
Garnett Ryland, '92
W. C. James, '93
W. F. Dunaway, '94
Albert P. Fox, '94
G. W. Layman, '94
Hill Montague, '94
H. W. Provence, '94
Jesse H. Binford, '96
Charles M. Graves, '96
R. E. Loving, '96
W. E. Gibson, '97
Thomas B. McAdams, '97
Charles G. McDaniel, '97
E. V. Riddell, '97
Henly M. Fugate, '98
Julian B. Martin, '98
H. G. Noffsinger, '98
Albert O. Boschen, '99
A. W. Freeman, '99
Hunter B. Miller, '99
P. W. Neathery, '99
R. H. Chelf, '00
A. C. Harlowe, '00
J. L. Hart, '00
G. E. Mabry, '00
Joseph P. Scruggs, '00
John B. Welsh, '00
Alan P. Wilson, '00
Adon A. Yoder, '00
M. E. Bristow, '01
J. W. Cammack, '01
J. P. McCabe, '01
R. C. L. Moncure, '01
Cullen Pitt, '01
E. W. Provence, '01

1902 (29.41%)

W. H. Carter
L. B. Cox
C. H. Dunaway
Carter A. Jenkins

R. A. McFarland

1903 (36.00%)

W. P. Clark
Powhatan W. James
J. W. Kinchelee
James E. Oliver
W. L. Phillips
Lacy M. Ritter
Charles W. Sheriff
William Thalheimer
Richard H. White

1904 (20.00%)

O. B. Falls
William H. Ham
L. Howard Jenkins
S. P. Ryland

1905 (36.67%)

S. Burnell Bragg
A. B. Bristow
J. C. Bristow
Clarence Campbell
D. J. Carver
C. W. Dickinson, Jr.
M. C. Frazier
J. S. Galeski
Clifton H. Howell
E. W. Hudgins
J. Temple Waddill
McIver Woody

1906 (33.33%)

W. D. Bremner
Percy Scott Flippin
Thomas E. Hughes
George Morton
F. Morris Sayre
J. Milton Shue
Jesse F. Wood

1907 (40.00%)

John H. Brothers
F. B. Clark
R. N. Daniel
J. Laurens Elmore
E. M. Louthan
L. Cleveland Quarles
A. Willis Robertson
Sidney A. Slater
Dana Terry

J. B. Woodward, Jr.

1908 (30.00%)

Wythe D. Anderson
Conrad H. Goodwin
T. Justin Moore
J. Hoge Ricks
Oscar B. Ryder
Archie G. Ryland
Alex H. Sands, Jr.
Henry C. Taylor
E. P. Wightman

1909 (26.67%)

K. J. Clark
D. N. Davidson
J. B. Hill
G. Edmond Massie
Willard P. McBain
Beecher L. Rhodes
W. R. L. Smith, Jr.
R. R. Spencer

1910 (37.50%)

E. L. Ackiss
Robert Bowling
Louis E. Cutchins
Overton D. Dennis
Stiles H. Ellyson
M. M. Long
Frank G. Louthan
D. B. Moffett
Grover C. Outland
W. Henry Powell
George W. Sadler
T. Harris Smith

1911 (51.16%)

Archer B. Bass
J. L. Brandy
S. A. Caldwell
A. H. Camden
T. E. Cochran
R. G. Craft
J. W. Decker
Robert C. Duval, Jr.
R. Hill Fleet
L. T. Hall
S. E. Hening
John L. Ingram

Alfred J. Kirsh

J. E. King
Arthur Lankford
A. O. Lynch
Wilmer L. O'Flaherty
Merrill E. Raab
W. H. Rogers
A. L. Shumate
Elmer W. Sydnor
Overton S. Woodward
A. W. Yowell

1912 (30.61%)

F. M. Benton
S. S. Cook
F. P. Gaines
J. Vaughan Gary
E. M. Gwathmey
Charles N. Lawson
Earle Lutz
W. Brien Miller
C. T. O'Neill
Henry M. Taylor
E. P. T. Tyndall
James E. Welsh
Frank P. White
A. B. Wilson
Wesley Wright

1913 (25.00%)

Cuthbert Bristow
John W. Elliott
Frank B. Hart
William T. Luck
Ellis C. Primm
W. F. Saunders
P. A. L. Smith, Jr.
R. W. Vaughan
John J. Wicker, Jr.

1914 (35.48%)

George W. J. Blume
Asa R. Crabtree
E. Norfleet Gardner
Odis B. Hinnant
George A. Jordan
Waverly G. King, Sr.
Claude L. Leach
E. B. Loving
D. S. McCarthy

Willis D. Miller
Robert A. Ryland

1915 (60.53%)

Dudley P. Bowe
Aubrey R. Bowles, Jr.
M. L. Breistein
Charles W. Buford
Crawford C. Crouch
Henry W. Decker
Edward B. Dunford
J. Earle Dunford
Frank C. Ellett
Henry E. Garrett
W. S. Green
Inman Johnson
Catesby G. Jones
James A. Newton
George M. Percival
E. V. Peyton
John A. Ryland
H. R. Sanders
Edwin J. Snead
D. Nelson Sutton
William A. Walton
J. H. Wiley
E. J. Wright

1916 (47.37%)

K. Brooke Anderson
W. H. Brannock
Dunton J. Fatherly
John H. Garber
Samuel H. Gellman
J. Newton Gordon
Wistar Hamilton
J. A. Leslie, Jr.
E. C. McDaniel
J. L. McKee
Frank F. Rennie, Jr.
Percy S. Smith
Edloe B. Snead
Thomas J. Starke
L. Bland Taylor
George T. Terrell
H. O. Wyatt
L. C. Yancey

1917 (38.60%)

William Hugh Bagby

James H. Barnett, Jr.

I. Norris Blake
H. W. Charlton
Harvie A. Clopton
Morgan L. Combs
Lynn C. Dickerson
Isaac W. Digges
Edward J. Fox
Moses Gellman
S. S. Hill
Claudius O. Johnson
Howard C. Lane
L. M. Latane
Robert M. Mustoe
Homer A. Noblin
J. H. Potet
G. Willard Quick
George F. Smith, Jr.
Clifton C. Thomas
Herman P. Thomas
William Earle White

1918 (28.85%)

P. C. Adams
Roland J. Beazley
Titus W. Beasley
Frank B. Dunford, Jr.
P. R. Fox
Malcolm H. Harris
E. Carl Hoover
R. L. Lacy
Clinton L. Mason
J. B. Omohundro
Malcolm U. Pitt
John K. Shumate
Meade T. Spicer, Jr.
W. O. Tume
J. A. Vaché

1919 (21.88%)

Francis Lee Albert
Lynwood H. Cosby
B. Clifford Goode
Robert T. Ryland
Harold W. Trumble
Grover M. Turner
J. C. Wicker

1920 (32.20%)

S. T. Bowman

D. W. Charlton
Meyer E. Cooper
J. W. DeJarnette
Clyde V. Hickerson
Jesse R. Hite
H. Russell Holland
A. B. Honts
Bernard W. Mahon
William F. Matthews
Wilkins J. Ozlin
F. E. Paulitt
W. M. Pettus
W. M. Phipps
C. T. Thomas
Malcom Thompson
W. Emory Trainham
W. A. Vaughan
Thomas M. Winn

1921 (27.45%)
Walter B. Anderson
W. S. Beazley, Jr.
B. A. Brann
Kenneth E. Burke
H. Aubrey Ford
Garland Gray
Dennis W. Hartz
W. Rush Loving
R. W. Nuckols
Thomas L. Ruffin
Robert L. Seward
M. L. Skaggs
G. Keith Taylor
Edward B. Willingham

1922 (29.17%)
O. K. Burnett
Cecil G. Carter
Boswell U. Davenport
T. S. Dunaway, Jr.
E. Vernon Ellett
R. H. Griffin
V. Carney Hargroves
O. L. Hite
Charles E. Leek
Frank J. Manhart
R. T. Marsh, Jr.
W. H. Mills
B. L. Mzingo
C. W. Newton
George C. Patterson
W. A. Pollard
A. B. Rudd, Jr.
R. R. Shotwell
C. W. Tune
Richard C. Walden, III
W. C. Woodfin

1923 (18.99%)
Edward S. Anderson
R. Harwood Bagby
J. Pelham Broadus
Louis C. Carlton
L. Dudley George, II
B. T. Gunter, Jr.
William A. Harris, Jr.
J. Warren Hundley
B. F. Johnson
Edgar M. Johnson
Warren Keith
George S. Mitchell
Hubel Robins
James T. Tucker
W. T. Vandever

1924 (37.84%)
W. L. Ball
Guy O. Beale
Howard S. Berger
Ralph C. Bethel
R. E. Booker
Alfred E. Bowers
William C. Brann
Elton C. Cooke
Thomas A. Dekele
Felix E. Edmunds
Junius W. Ellett
Floyd S. Kay
L. C. Lush
F. E. Manning
David J. Mays
Marsh McCall
Warren A. McNeill
C. W. Miller
Claude L. Neale
Emanuel Passamaneck
E. H. Puryear
Elliott M. Ramsey
Robert R. Reese
Raymond Snyder
Waddy D. Street
F. Emmett Topping
C. M. Tredway
Henry P. White

1925 (23.66%)
W. Clyde Atkins
R. E. Brann
H. G. Chesley, Jr.
G. Fred Cooke, Jr.
Linwood Farley
George Freedley
Dr. K. S. Freeman
Oswald F. Hedley
Harry M. Herman
N. B. Jeter
Allen S. Lloyd
H. Mitchell Meyer
William R. Pankey
Edward H. Pruden
Emmett Y. Robertson
William E. Smith

E. S. Snead, Jr.
Harold F. Snead
J. A. Soyars
W. R. Southward, Jr.
G. B. Thomas
W. N. Thompson

1926 (23.33%)
C. P. Anderson
H. L. Arthur
J. B. Blanks
Evan R. Chesterman, Jr.
Reade W. Corr
Samuel L. Creath
Lewson C. Davis
W. B. Deason
W. Roland Galvin
John C. Goddin
Elmer C. Hare, Jr.
Charter Heslep
Guy D. Hicks
Thos. N. Hunicutt, Jr.
W. M. Huntley
Mark Lutz
T. A. McNickle
G. E. Pankey
Clyde N. Parker
Clinton H. Sheppard
J. Chester Swanson
F. Ralph Swanson
J. U. Tatum
T. B. Towill
H. M. Waldron

1927 (22.48%)
B. Gary Blake
Alvah Bloxom
Harvey L. Bryant
L. R. Clements
N. T. Cooke Jr.
Samuel L. Cooke
Wilbert J. Crocker
Winston F. Dawson
George B. Ferguson
M. P. German
C. R. Gibson
Virgil H. Goode
Walter H. Gray
Norwood G. Greene
L. J. Harmanson, Jr.
John W. Hash
Edward T. Haynes
T. J. Headlee
Milton G. Hitt
Charles W. Kent
W. Marshall King
Kenneth F. Lee
Martin J. Logan
C. Yates McDaniel
T. K. McKee
R. W. Mcnathery, Jr.
Ted J. Noffsinger, Sr.
Perry M. Penney
H. M. Richardson
J. Roland Rooke
T. R. Sanford, Jr.
Lester E. Tharpe
J. Maurice Trimmer
Fred W. Wenzel
Thomas Eugene West
John D. Whitehurst, Jr.
John C. Williams
Joseph J. Williams, Jr.

1928 (18.42%)
Ropon S. Bowers
Walter T. Burton
Edward G. Cale
William L. Carleton
W. E. Cullers
John Wyatt Davis, Jr.
Emanuel Emroch
Oscar W. Fary, Jr.
Philip Freeman
John W. Kincheloe, Jr.
O. A. Lundin, Jr.
William T. Muse
W. S. Norman
S. Ashton Patterson
H. C. Peterson
T. P. Reynolds
J. A. Robinson
Wilbur S. Sheriff
W. Lee Smith
Aubrey S. Tomlinson
T. Brent Wayman
Esther Weinberg

1929 (25.00%)
Thomas H. Austin
A. C. Britton
E. P. Bruxton, Jr.
Lloyd H. Caster
Joseph H. Cosby
B. Hutson Cousins
W. F. Creath
L. G. Crenshaw
Chiles J. Criddle
Herman B. Dixon
Hobart E. Duggins
E. Rives Ferguson
R. H. Fowlkes
W. K. Gaines
Charles W. Givens, Jr.
Arthur W. Harrison
J. S. Hart
Ralph P. Johnson
Martin L. Leary
Cyril B. Myers
H. M. Neale
John A. Payne

E. B. Potter
Clifton H. Robertson
Loftus L. Walton
R. E. Walton
Kenneth F. Weaver
Clinton Webb

1930 (33.58%)
William A. Accree
John H. Allen
A. M. Banks
Robley D. Bates, Jr.
John P. Batkins
Walter H. Bennett
J. J. Booker, Jr.
William F. Carter
James B. Dailey
Joseph T. Deatelhauser
Birney N. Denham
W. F. Drinkard
Arthur T. Ellett
C. Aubrey Ellett
C. P. Ely
Robert H. Evans
S. Clifton Finley
Lee O. Gaskins
E. Douglas Gunter
E. S. Harlow
M. D. Harris
Ernest L. Honts
Aubrey V. Kidd
Frank M. Lacy
B. V. Madison
Russell T. Mann
Emmett C. Matthews
Charles H. Miller
C. K. Minor
J. E. Nettles
Charles J. Newell
E. B. Norman, Jr.
P. N. Pastore
Donald W. Pierpont
Clarke W. Powell
W. Victor Richardson
A. W. Schoenbaum
John B. Siegel, Jr.
Alfred Steiner
C. R. Stevens
Robert M. Stone
Carroll Taylor
Reed I. West
James P. Wilbourn
Ernest W. Williams
Thomas C. Yeaman

1931 (26.67%)
George Abbutt Jr.
W. M. Abbutt
Norman V. Cavanaugh
C. C. Chewing Jr.
Julian P. Clark
R. E. Covey
W. S. Cudlipp, Jr.
Thomas E. Duke
Garland Dyches
Irvin D. Forman
Paul J. Forsythe
William Penn Frazer
T. Jack Gary, Jr.
St. George Grinnam, Jr.
Ray Harned
Luther A. Irby, Jr.
Marion W. Jones
H. G. Kincheloe
W. W. Marshall
Burnett Miller, Jr.
E. C. Nininger
Cyde G. O'Brien
Philip W. Oden
E. F. Overton
E. Claiborne Robins
E. Bowie Shepherd
J. Ernest Squire
John R. Stiff
Charles S. Stokes
Clayton D. Sweet
James W. Tredway
W. C. Winn

1932 (16.89%)
D. Blanton Allen
Floyd T. Binns
R. G. Brenner
Leonard D. Carmack
T. P. Carr
Lewis E. Chittum
E. M. Collier
Harold H. Dervishian
J. Branch Echols
S. L. Elfmon
Wat Fugate
Samuel P. Kayne
H. B. Kincheloe
Thomas A. Ligon
L. E. McKenney
John J. Moschetta
I. M. Nuckols
Edward C. Peple
Walter R. Robins, Jr.
T. Burwell Robinson
George W. Schools
Dudley B. Selden
J. Westwood Smithers
Robert T. Stewart
V. Goodwyn Welsh
Emmett A. Williams

1933 (28.35%)
Edward L. Bennett
Archie C. Berkeley
Edwin C. Bryce, II
Cary W. Burkholder

Edgar B. Cahoon
W. Franklin Cale
R. B. Campbell
H. V. Chisolm
Sam C. Couch
Howard P. Falls
Ralph H. Ferrell
Robert P. Fox
J. Spencer Gilmore
Taylor Grasty
Clarence J. Gray
A. N. Hedin
David S. Henkel
R. Milton Hobson
Marby B. Hopkins, Jr.
A. E. Hunter
Robert R. Jones
W. S. Kincheloe, Jr.
Milton J. Lesnik
Jos. McConnaughey, Jr.
R. S. Owens
Sidney W. Quong
Charles R. Rice
N. E. Sartorius, Jr.
E. Harold Thompson
L. R. Thompson
Henry Vranian
F. Gresham Wall
H. J. Whalen, Jr.
George F. Whitley, Jr.
Homer S. Wilson, Jr.

1934 (24.21%)
Robert W. Allen
Hugh H. Baird, Jr.
Samuel T. Binns, Jr.
Harold W. Bryant
Victor H. Chaltain
Beverly Clary
David J. Connors
S. W. Cook
C. E. Denoon, Jr.
John Doley
Vernon L. Duncan
Edgar Garrison
W. O. Grove
Earl P. Guill
Frederick W. Haberer
Edward E. Haddock
W. Kenneth Haddock
David Kamsky
S. B. Kovacs
R. B. Macfarlane
Douglas S. Mitchell
John A. Moore
Grayson L. Nickel, Jr.
G. D. Nuckolls
B. T. Peele, Jr.
Clyde Ratcliffe, Jr.
W. W. Seward, Jr.
V. H. Stevenson
Edward G. Tiedemann
H. Van Allen
W. W. Wright

1935 (19.66%)
Waverly Barbe
E. M. Baroody
R. F. Bates
W. M. Blackwell
D. T. Carr
Woodrow E. Carter
R. L. Chadwick
Jimmy Francis
David M. Frazer
Frederic R. Freund
Ellis M. James
Raymond R. Lanier
Roger W. Leverton
R. C. Longan, Jr.
Richard T. McCrone
John E. Norfleet
C. W. Peterson
R. C. Poage
Vernon B. Richardson
E. T. Sauer
S. F. Straus
Fred J. Vaughan
John F. Wall

1936 (20.00%)
George E. Allen, Jr.
James G. Baldwin
Hilaire E. Beck, Jr.
A. H. Bernhard
W. R. Bowers
E. Guthrie Brown
Benjamin L. Campbell
Hugh L. Cardoza
Woodrow W. Clark
W. W. Clayton
Mott A. Cumby
Curtis M. Dozier, Jr.
C. M. Evans, Jr.
William J. Fallis
Wilfred B. Gregory
Frank A. Jett, Jr.
V. C. Kibler
William H. King
Allen G. McCabe, Jr.
H. B. Pannill
Harry O. Patteson
Arthur W. Rich
Charles H. Ryland
W. S. Simpson
Fred H. Timberlake
B. B. Townsend
Claud M. Whitley
R. Westwood Winfree
G. Stuart Woodson

1937 (27.34%)
J. Lewis Ames
David M. Bear
E. Parker Brown
Mitchell D. Cates
Alfred J. Dickinson
Jerome L. Epstein
Mills A. Eure
S. C. Finney
L. M. Galbraith
Bernie Gilman
A. B. Gravatt, Jr.
Benjamin F. Kong
Fred T. Laughon
Robert C. Lloyd
W. L. Lumpkin
Robert L. Mason
R. B. McNeil
Lewis W. Martin
William E. Moore, Jr.
J. Langdon Moss
David B. Orcutt, Jr.
J. E. Orschel
Channing L. Pace
John Pastore
Carrington Paulette
William T. Robertson
Donald S. Rubenstein
E. M. Schaaf, Jr.
J. Edgar Stevens
Richard L. Todd
Charles W. Turner
Stuart E. Ullman
John T. Walke
Paul G. Wiley
Carroll M. Williams
Donald D. Williams
Harry A. Young
Harold B. Yudkin

1938 (21.71%)
Reuben E. Alley, Jr.
J. T. Arendall
C. Ralph Arthur
John B. Boatwright, Jr.
J. Wesley Boykin
W. B. Correll
Stuart C. Crawford
Ernest H. Dervishian
W. P. Dooley
Jack A. Eady
W. S. Gordon, Jr.
J. Stuart Graham, Jr.
Louis E. Guy
C. T. Hardy, Jr.
Frederick T. Kingdon
B. R. Lamb
Edwin L. Levy, Jr.
E. W. McCaul
E. M. Miller
R. P. Moore
William F. Robertson
H. L. Snellings
Dan M. Thornton
T. R. Thornton
Donald E. Trump
Francis W. Tyndall
J. Richard Willis

1939 (16.67%)
John R. Bell
George K. Brooks, Jr.
Lee Copley
Frank S. Cosby
Oscar Edleton
Eugene W. Ford
Clyde T. Francisco
W. E. Garthright
W. P. Lawless
A. S. Lynch
Robert R. Martin
G. Ben McClure
W. E. Morrison
J. D. Mottley, Jr.
Everett L. Noble
F. Byron Parker
Grover C. Pitts
C. B. Rennie, Jr.
George H. Spears
Corbin B. White
David Meade White, Jr.
McLean Whittett, Jr.

1940 (17.90%)
Arthur C. Beck, Jr.
H. W. Black
Armistead Blackley
W. J. Cash, Jr.
John L. Crews
D. D. Dexter
Forrest E. Eggleston
Robert H. Fennell, Jr.
Walter B. Gillette
Garland D. Haddock
R. E. Herring, Jr.
L. B. Jenkins
Wilbur L. Jenkins, Jr.
John E. Jordan
Thomas D. Jordan
John B. King
Robert C. Krug
Edwin J. Merrick
J. R. Noffsinger
D. C. Rawlings
Robert F. Ripley
George Rockkind
Paul Saunier, Jr.
Edward S. Sinar
Seabury D. Stoneburner
Carlson Thomas

E. B. Van Leeuwen
Porter Vaughan
Arnold F. Watts
Russell K. Wood, Jr.
C. F. Wortham

1941 (30.60%)
E. R. Adams
Ralph W. Allen
Murray Barr
Thomas R. Benton, Jr.
L. W. Bingham, Jr.
Richard Y. Bristow
LeRoy E. Brown, III
S. V. Casale
Frank M. Conner
James H. Donohue, III
Winfred H. Elder
Elmer P. Embrey, Jr.
Ed C. Garber, Jr.
R. Stuart Grizzard
N. B. Habel
Paul J. Harrell
James R. Harris
M. Clyde Hawkins
Ira D. Hudgins
J. Clifford Hutt
John G. Hutt
C. W. Jones, Jr.
William H. Jones, Jr.
John H. Locke
Charles W. McNutt
Martin Markowitz
G. Edmond Massie, III
Dortch Oldham
Harold G. Owens
W. F. Parkerson, Jr.
John W. Pearsall
Thomas E. Pugh
W. N. Rane
C. W. Reynolds
Herman S. Rockoff
William P. Schaffer
George H. Shackelford
James A. Wagner
John T. Wassom
Charles A. Watkins, Jr.
William H. Widener

1942 (27.07%)
W. H. Bingham
Wm. E. Bristow
Melvin D. Burgess
M. W. Burnett
Bernard G. Cline, Jr.
R. C. Cotten, Jr.
George E. Cox
John Dixon, Jr.
Archie Giragosian
A. W. Goode, Jr.
T. W. Green
Leland Higginbotham
R. B. Hill, Jr.
Emmett L. Hubbard
R. E. Humbert
Herndon P. Jeffreys, Jr.
Ralph E. Kinsey
Richard C. Klafky
Edward M. Kleip
Sidney H. Kneip, Jr.
C. W. Krause
Douglas W. Laird
Virgil M. Lumsden, Jr.
Robert R. Merhige, Jr.
Bert W. Milling
Jas. H. Montgomery, Jr.
Malcolm U. Pitt, Jr.
Stanton C. Richards
L. T. Saunders, Jr.
J. J. Taylor
William A. Taylor
Favus B. Walker, Jr.
Thomas E. Warriner, Jr.
Scott N. Wermuth, Jr.
Thomas N. Williams
Lawrence H. Willis
Julian O. Winn

1943 (21.58%)
S. S. Britt, Jr.
H. O. Burnette
Rowland H. Burns
Marvin F. Cole
F. S. Covey
H. Addison Dalton
C. Herbert Davis
John L. Decker
Robert J. Filer
Walter W. Haden
R. M. Hathaway
Rupert S. Hughes, Jr.
Moreland R. Irby, Jr.
A. S. Jacobs
Cecil F. Jones
Maxwell Katz
Bruce Kellison
William S. Kirk
O. Edwyn Luttrell
B. Judson McLanahan
W. A. MacKenzie
Richard C. Owen, Jr.
Warren M. Pace
George W. Sadler
W. A. Sandridge
John A. Schools
Wilbur L. Skinner
Philip Spahn
J. R. Thistlethwaite
Elmer S. West

(Continued on page 15)

Baseball Team Wins League Title

By SPENCER D. ALBRIGHT, III

MAC PITT'S SPIDER NINE, which battled its way to the top position in the northern division of the Southern Conference and posted a 13-4 season record, was the pride and joy of Richmond's 1951-1952 athletic teams. Spider success came with the maximum number of runs scored on few base hits and an almost airtight defensive web thrown up by a phenomenal infield.

Besides reaching the top rung in the northern division of the Conference, the Spiders finished a close second to the Washington and Lee Generals in Big Six competition. The Generals posted a 5-1 mark for a percentage of .833, while the Spiders posted a 6-2 record for a .750 percentage. Mother Nature figured prominently in determining the final standings as Washington and Lee's last game with the Virginia Cavaliers was rained out and a Richmond-William and Mary doubleheader met the same fate in the last week of play.

The Spiders, who had a 6-2 record in regular season Conference play, fell off their pace in tournament competition and bowed out in the second round of the double-elimination affair. Pounding Richmond pitchers for a total of 26 hits, North Carolina

State and George Washington set down the Spiders by scores of 5-0 and 8-7.

The right side of the Richmond infield, which committed only one error in 271 chances, was placed on the mythical all-Southern Conference nine. Simon (Shack) Moughamian, a .246 hitter who handled 180 chances perfectly, was honored at first, and Spider team captain Warren Long, who batted a respectable .266 and made one error

(Continued on page 10)

HOOKER NEW CAGE COACH

The man who won Virginia's Big Six championship his first year as a college coach will succeed Malcolm U. (Mac) Pitt as basketball coach at the University of Richmond.

The newcomer is Lester Hooker, Jr., son of Judge Hooker of the State Corporation Commission. Although he is a graduate of William and Mary, where he played baseball and basketball and served successfully as a coach last year, Hooker is related, through his mother, to the great Sanford family of University of Richmond renown. He was a nephew of the late Dr. T. Ryland Sanford, father of the six Sanfords of modern athletic fame.

Last winter in his first try at college coaching, Hooker tutored a William and Mary team which won nine and lost only one—that to University of Richmond—in ten games with Bix Six opponents. Before joining the staff of his Alma Mater he had coached at Smithfield high school, George Washington high school in Danville, and Hopewell high school.

Hooker, who is now attending the summer session at William and Mary, will join the U. of R. staff in September. In addition to his duties as basketball coach, he will serve also as an assistant football coach and as a teacher in the physical education department.

In accepting the job, Hooker said he would "do my best to live up to the high standards" of Coach Pitt who will retain his position as athletic director and coach of baseball. Mac Pitt, who has been coaching basketball for eighteen years, has the rare distinction of coaching a team (1935) which played out the entire season without a defeat. Eight of his teams qualified for the Southern Conference tournament and several won Big Six and State championships.

ALUMNI OFFERED CHOICE SEATS FOR FOOTBALL GAMES AT STADIUM

RICHMOND'S SPIDERS will be on the road for six of their ten games which will carry them next fall from Boston to Miami.

The new-look Spiders, high-g geared and ready to roll under the tutelage of Merrick, '40, one of the greatest of Richmond football players, are expected to show the result of the intensive recruiting program of the past year.

The faithful who witness all of the home games can get a bargain package of Randolph-Macon, Washington and Lee, V.P.I., and George Washington for $10 instead of the $11 it would cost if the games were sold separately. Furthermore, Treasurer W. Fred Caylor points out, those who clip the coupon at the bottom of this column will get the very best seats in the Stadium.

In addition to the home games, the Spiders play V.M.I. at Lexington, William and Mary at Williamsburg, and Virginia at Charlottesville, within the State, and round out their schedule with Boston College at Boston, Miami at Miami, and Davidson at Davidson.

The Spiders, who won only three games on an 11-game schedule last year but looked mighty good in closing out their season with a 20 to 19 victory over George Washington, put on a great offensive show in the spring practice finale. Among those who were amazed at the touchdown production of the

(Continued on page 10)

University of Richmond Athletic Association
1952 • TICKET ORDER BLANK			Football Games • 1952
NAME _____		(please print)
Street _____		City & State _____ HOME GAMES
No. Tickets	Date	Game	Time	Price	Total
_____	Sept. 20	Randolph-Macon . . .	8:15 p.m.	$2.00	_____
_____	Oct. 11	Washington & Lee . . .	8:15 p.m.	$3.00	_____
_____	Nov. 1	V.P.I. (Homecoming) . . .	2:30 p.m.	$3.00	_____
_____	Nov. 22	George Washington . . .	2:00 p.m.	$3.00	_____
SEASON TICKET ALL HOME GAMES $10.00
STATE GAMES AWAY
_____	Oct. 4	V.M.I. (Lexington) . . .	2:00 p.m.	$3.00	_____
_____	Oct. 25	W.&M. (Williamsburg) . . .	2:00 p.m.	$3.00	_____
_____	Nov. 15	Virginia (Charlottesville) . . .	2:00 p.m.	$3.00	_____
OUT OF STATE GAMES AWAY
_____	Sept. 28	Boston College (Boston) . . .	8:15 p.m.	$3.00	_____
_____	Oct. 17	Miami (Miami) . . .	8:15 p.m.	$3.00	_____
_____	Nov. 8	Davidson (Davidson) . . .	2:00 p.m.	$2.50	_____
Check preference for Home Games				Delivery Charge .25
_____ East _____ West				Total Amount Enclosed $ _____
OFFICE RECORD
Date Received _____			Section _____ Row _____ Seats _____
Date Mailed _____			_____

Baseball

(Continued from page 9)

in 91 chances, was named at second. Long is considered one of the outstanding second sackers in Richmond history.

Joining these two on the all-Big Six team were pitcher Ed Ketchie and Paul (Pinky) Loehr, who saw double duty as an outfielder and a pitcher. Ketchie was the mainstay of the Richmond mound staff with a 5-2 mark and possessed the team's top batting average of .333. Loehr, the only Spider regular to hit above the .300 mark, pounded the ball at a .302 clip in winning a place on the mythical team for the second consecutive year. As a pitcher, Loehr copped three victories in four starts, before facing North Carolina State in the tournament.

The airtight Spider infield was further honored as shortstop Barry Saunders and third baseman Russell Cheatham were named to the all-Big Six second team. All told, in 19 games the four Spider infielders committed only 12 errors. Rounding out the Spider honors, outfielders Bill Eudailey and Ellis Redford received honorable mention.

Coach Pitt considers his '52 Spiders "remarkable." Starting the season with two big question marks—pitching and hitting, prospects weren't too bright for the Spiders. After losing their first two games, the Pittmen quickly dispelled the fears of their supporters, and fashioned an eight-game winning streak which propelled them to the top of the Southern Conference and the Big Six.

Virginia Tech with Jim Beard on the mound halted Richmond's winning ways 3-1. The loss after five straight Southern Conference wins knocked the Spiders from the lead. Undaunted they started another winning streak which carried them back to the top rung in the Conference's northern division.

In the last week of play Richmond journeyed into Lexington needing only a split in the two games to clinch Conference honors. An eighth-inning three-man pinch-hit home run by John (Pinky) Dwyer gave the Spiders the vital 5-4 triumph over the Keydets of V.M.I. The next day, however, they bowed, 2-0, before the five-hit pitching of Washington and Lee's Jack Eubanks. Ketchie, who gave the Generals only five hits, was the victim of the Spiders worst day afield. His mates, who were head and shoulders above the other state teams defensively, committed five errors which contributed to the Richmond downfall.

On May 8 the Spider pitching which was somewhat sensational all season reached a climax when work-horse Ketchie blanked the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets 5-0 without a hit. Ketchie faced only 29 Jackets—two more than the minimum. He walked one, hit one with a pitched ball, and another was safe on Saunders' error. A quick double play started by Captain Long erased one of the baserunners.

Loehr was also stingy with base hits. He set down Maryland with four hits and threw two six-hitters in five starts. Southpaw Jim Tardivo, a six-foot five-inch freshman who was plagued by wildness, contributed a four-hitter against Hampden-Sydney and a six-hitter against V.M.I. to the list of stellar pitching performances. Tardivo had a 3-1 record. Another freshman, Carl Carnes, who saw action mainly in relief, finished the season with a 1-1 mark. Chunky southpaw Clinton Felton pitched superb ball in two relief chores, while recording one win against no defeats.

The Richmond nine which was essentially a "good field, no hit" team finished the season with a team batting average of .204.

Six men from Pitt's sensational Spiders will not be back in 1953. Moughamian, who was elected to Phi Beta Kappa just before the start of the baseball season, Loehr and Felton received degrees in June. Captain Long and outfielders Bill Eudailey and Ellis Redford also have completed their college eligibility.

Alumni Offered

(Continued from page 9)

offensive team—nine in an hour—was Jack Carper, the sports writer who covered the proceedings for the Richmond Times-Dispatch. Said Carper:

"The results left the observers with two conclusions: 1) the offense is better than terrific, or 2) the defense needs HELP in capital letters. Probably the correct picture comes in focus midway."

With freshmen again eligible to play on Southern Conference teams, Merrick may bolster his eleven with some skillful recruiting during the summer, particularly in his native Pennsylvania from which have come some of the brightest stars in the Spider galaxy.

Most observers believe that the Spiders will be moderately successful in '52 as they build for the future. All are agreed that they will play interesting, colorful football from Merrick's conventional "T" formation which will be varied with an occasional play from the split-T.

Alumni who want to get the best seats by ordering now, should clip the order blank on page 9 and mail it to Mr. Taylor.

WEENIE MILLER RETIRES AS COACH

Louis F. (Weenie) Miller, '47, one of the great names in University of Richmond baseball and basketball, has turned his back on coaching as a profession and will enter business in Richmond in September.

In leaving, he declined the position of basketball coach as Mac Pitt's successor. Miller, who for some time had been contemplating the change, said he believed there was "more future" in the business world than in the coaching profession.

"Weenie" joined the U. of R. coaching staff after coaching at Glen Allen high school.

Before embarking on his business career, Miller is spending the summer as manager of the Chase City baseball team in the Southern League.

ALL-SOUTHERN CONFERENCE. Two star members of the Spiders' infield, Captain Warren Long (left), second baseman, and Simon (Shack) Moughamian, first baseman, were chosen on the mythical team.

Alumni Society Elects Henry M. Taylor, '12

E. CLAIBORNE ROBINS, '31, HEADS COUNCIL

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES for the year 1952-1953 will be headed by Henry M. Taylor, '12, who was elected president of the General Society of Alumni, and E. Claiborne Robins, '31, president of the Alumni Council.

Mr. Taylor, who is Federal-State statistician in the Virginia department of agriculture, won election as president in a close three-cornered competition with two other Richmonders, Frank G. Louthan, '10, executive secretary of the Virginia Manufacturers Association, and L. Dudley George, II, '23, secretary-treasurer of the Richmond Guano Company.

Mr. Robins, who had served the previous year as vice president, was elevated to the presidency at the annual meeting of the Council. He succeeds Edward J. Fox, '17, of Washington, under whose leadership the Alumni Fund reached a new high.

Other officers, elected to serve with Mr. Taylor in the General Society of Alumni, are: Edward R. Adams, '40, Wilbur K. Gaines, '29, and the Rev. J. Maurice Trimmer, '27, vice presidents; Aylett W. Goode, Jr., '42, secretary, and David Nelson Sutton, '15, and William Earle White, '17, members of the executive committee. Alfred J. Dickinson, Jr., '37, was chosen as an alumni representative on the Athletic Council.

The Council elected the following officers, in addition to President Robins: Frank G. Louthan, '10, first vice-president; R. E. Bookner, '24, second vice-president; J. E. Nettles, '30, secretary, and R. M. Stone, '30, treasurer. Mr. Fox, S. Frank Straus, '35; F. Ralph Swanson, '26, and William T. Bareford, '46, were elected to the executive committee.

John W. Edmonds, Jr., was elected to represent the class of 1913 on the Council for a five-year term expiring in June, 1957. Lynn Calgar Dickerson, II, was chosen to represent the Richmond College class of '52; William Jerry Roberts, the Law School class of '52, and Roy Spencer Cayton, the Business School class of 1952.

The following members of the Council, praised by the nominating committee for faithful service, were re-elected as representatives of their classes: R. O. Norris, Jr., '99; Overton D. Dennis, '10; George W. J. Blume, '14; J. Vaughan Gary, '12; John J. Wicker, Jr., '13; R. T. Marsh, Jr., '22; J. Maurice Trimmer, '27; John Harris Welsh, '30; Alfred J. Dickinson, Jr., '37; Malcolm U. Pitt, Jr., '42, and Solon B. Cousins, III, '47.

LAW SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

W. MOSCOE HUNTLEY, '26, was elected president of the Law School Association at its Fifth Annual Meeting held on April 26, 1952, at the Hotel John Marshall.

Mr. Huntley, of the class of 1928, is a member of the law firm of Buford, Christian, Huntley and Scott. For a short time before he became a member of the General Assembly, he was substitute Police Justice in the City of Richmond. In the years since he left Law School to enter the general practice of law, he has maintained an active interest in the progress of the school. He was among the alumni instrumental in organizing the Law School Association and has subsequently served on many committees of the Association, having been particularly diligent in his work with the committee to raise funds for the new Law School building.

During World War II he served as Lieutenant Commander in the Navy, and since his return from the service, as well as before, he has remained interested in civic affairs.

As in the past, the annual meeting was well attended by alumni from out of the state and from various sections of Virginia, in addition to the considerable gathering of lawyers from the Richmond area. A social hour before dinner furnished the alumni an opportunity to renew old friendships and become acquainted with other members of the profession.

The outgoing president, W. R. Broadbuss, Jr., '20, in welcoming alumni and guests, stressed that members of the bar have the responsibility of protecting individual liberty, a principle laid down by our founding fathers, and the profession in Virginia, the cradle of liberty, in particular has that heritage.

A progress report on the University was given by President Modlin. He pointed out that although the bottom of the postwar depression in enrollment had been reached, the establishment of ROTC units at the University had meant much in attracting new students and building morale of students now on the campus.

William T. Muse, '28, Dean of the Law School, expressed appreciation to the alumni for their generous support in the building campaign and announced that erection of the long-awaited new law school building had been approved by government authorities, with construction to begin this summer. (The present steel strike will, in all probability, cause a delay in building until fall.) With the additional funds available from the Williams bequest, the Board of Trustees has permitted the original plans for the building to be enlarged, and a $400,000 structure erected, with ample facilities for an ideal enrollment not to exceed 150 students.

Beginning next fall three years of college will be required for entrance in the Law School, and in addition, a four-year law-school program will be inaugurated, to which students with only two years of college credit will be admitted. For the first time in the history of the Law School, scholarships can be awarded law students during the 1953-1954 session as a result of the Williams bequest.

After a brief report on the accomplishments of the Student Bar during the year, officers for the coming year were elected. Judge Oliver A. Pollard, '16, of Hastings Court, Petersburg, was elected vice-president; Thomas P. Bryan, '47, treasurer, and Virginia Ivey, executive secretary. New members of the Council elected for a three-year term, were: Judge Burnett Miller, Jr., '31, of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, Culpeper; Frank G. Louthan, '10, and Joseph J. Williams, Jr., '27, both of Richmond.

—VIRGINIA IVEY, '48.

ALUMNI LEADERS. Henry M. Taylor, '12 (left), was chosen president of the Alumni Society in the annual balloting. E. Claiborne Robins, '31 (center), was elected president of the Alumni Council. The Law School Association elected W. Moscoe Huntley, '26 (right), as president at its annual meeting.

Quiz Kids Win $4200

I'LL SEE YOU AGAIN IN SEPTEMBER. Like all college presidents, Dr. Modlin is always happy to meet a man who has money. He is congratulating Nathan A. Safian of Portsmouth's Woodrow Wilson high school who has just won the top scholarship prize of $900 in the University of Richmond-WRVA scholarship quiz program. Left to right are Quizmaster Pinchbeck, President Modlin, Safian, Ray Kennedy of WRVA, who produced the show, and Sam Carey, program director for WRVA.

NINE SMART BOYS AND GIRLS found that pot of gold, not at the end of the rainbow but right in front of the WRVA microphone.

They were the winning contestants in the University of Richmond-WRVA radio quiz in which more than 500 of the best students in eastern Virginia high schools participated.

In addition to the winners, who will be enrolled in Richmond and Westhampton Colleges in September, the novel quiz turned the attention of many other students to the University of Richmond and won favor with public school officials and with WRVA's large listening audience.

The winner, after thirteen weeks of grueling competition, was Nathan A. Safian, a straight-A student in Portsmouth's Woodrow Wilson high school. He will receive an expense-paid freshman year at Richmond College. The Richmond Rotary Club contributed $750 of Safian's $900 scholarship.

The University put up the remainder of the $4,200 in scholarship prizes. To each of the defeated finalists—Honor Patterson of Thomas Jefferson high school in Richmond, and Leta May Tucker of Thomas Dale high school in Chester—went scholarship prizes of $600.

In addition, six quarter-finalists each received scholarships worth $350—Peggy Baldwin of Hampton high school, Kenneth Gimberty of Norfolk's Granby high, Robert Goolrick of James Monroe high in Fredericksburg, John Millar of Warwick high, Lillian Stephenson of Wakefield, and Ryland Crews of John Marshall high in Richmond.

The twenty-seven boys and girls chosen to fight it out in front of the microphone were those who turned in the best papers in the qualifying written examination. In addition to the written exam, they were interviewed by representatives of WRVA and the University to make sure that they had the necessary stage presence (they did) and that they met all of the University's entrance requirements and measured up to the school's high standards of character and deportment (they did).

Top credit for the success of the program should go to WRVA's Ray Kennedy, chief of the production staff that made the show enjoyable as well as educational. The unseen heroes were the members of the faculties of the English, mathematics, history, biology, chemistry, and physics departments who had to think up the battery of questions. In the starring role was Dean Pinchbeck, the quizmaster who served up the questions and the quips.

Everybody liked it so well that WRVA and the University of Richmond have agreed to do it again next year.

SO YOU THINK YOU'RE PRETTY SMART?

Then try your hand on these questions, all of which were answered by high school boys and girls who participated in the University of Richmond-WRVA scholarship quiz. (You'll find the answers on page 14.)

1. Who said, and on what occasion, "We have met the enemy and they are ours"?
2. Who were the opposing generals at the battle of Gettysburg?
3. What is the square root of the decimal fraction .04?
4. Choose the correct form for this sentence: "Our next door neighbor is one of those women who (go, goes) to town every day."
5. What insect helped find a treasure in an American short story?
6. Locate this quotation: "Finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, Sermons in stones, and good in everything."
7. What president of the United States served two non-consecutive terms?
8. Who was the editor of the Liberator and a leader of the abolitionist movement before the Civil War?
9. Which was the last of the thirteen original colonies to be established?
10. If the edge of a cube is doubled, by what factor is the volume of the cube multiplied?

11. A line joining the mid-points of two sides of a triangle is 8 inches long. How long is the third side?
12. Who was the wife of Brutus?
13. Give the name of the work and the author of the following quotation: "Good fences make good neighbors."
14. What is the maximum height water can be raised with an ordinary lift pump?
15. Which is the largest of the planets?
16. If you inflated a toy rubber balloon at the foot of Pikes Peak and then climbed the mountain, would the balloon remain the same size, become larger or become smaller as you climbed the mountain? Explain.
17. Are goldfish likely to have a more abundant supply of air when the water is warm or when it is cool? Explain.
18. Why are tadpoles required to live in water while adult frogs may sit on the bank?
19. Explain the difference between a postulate and a theorem.
20. The area of a trapezoid is 20 square inches. If the sum of the bases of the trapezoid is 10 inches, what is its altitude?

Westhampton Alumnae Fund Has Successful Year

WITH the total number of contributors 758 as compared with 646 in 1950-1951, the 1951-1952 Alumnae Fund drive came to a successful conclusion on July 1, 1952. The total amount raised was below that of last year—$6,643.00 as compared with $7,493.15 in 1951, but the great increase in number of contributors is a most heartening sign. One or two exceptionally large gifts in 1951 account for the difference in amount raised in the two years. Except for these special gifts actually $900.00 more was contributed by alumnae in 1952 than in 1951, so that all in all we are most gratified over the outcome. In addition to the $6,643.00 reported in the regular alumnae fund, there was a special gift of $2,000 from one alumna so that the total amount of alumnae giving in 1952 was $8,643.00. The fine work done by Katherine Roberts Hesby and her alumnae fund committee, plus the efforts of over 100 alumnae who worked actively on the alumnae fund drive, did much to account for this excellent showing.

Below are listed the top ten classes in percentage of contributors and the top ten in amount of contributions. Following that is the full list by classes of contributors to the 1951-1952 Alumnae Fund.

CLASSES BY PERCENTAGE OF CONTRIBUTORS

1916 — 75%	1923 — 51%
1917 — 55%	1947 — 46%
1946 — 54%	1921 — 48%
1950 — 52%	1918 — 48%
1922 — 51%	1919 — 47%

CLASSES BY AMOUNT OF CONTRIBUTIONS

1931 — $2,142.00	1940 — $208.00
1923 — 519.50	1951 — 197.00
1918 — 493.00	1942 — 195.50
1949 — 401.00	1948 — 191.00
1950 — 244.00	1926 — 189.00

R. C. Co-Eds $85.00 — 32%

Minna Thalheimer Heller
Katherine Gray Curtis
Pauline Pearce Warner
Isabel Harris
Clara M. Gary
Eudora Ramsay Richardson
Ruth Thomasson Clark
Marian Starke Merritt
Frances Trevett Matthews
Catherine Quarles Baskerville
Lula Gaines Winston
Amy Kratz
Sadie Engelberg

Class of 1914 $25.00 — 30%

Margaret Clendon Lee
Virginia L. Coghill
Alice Spiers Sechrist

Class of 1915 $8.00 — 18%

Sara Thomas Hambrick
Mary Shine Brown

Class of 1916 $56.00 — 75%

Sally Wills Holland
Helen A. Monsell
Norma Woodward Throckmorton
Lillian Harding Bixby
Frieda Dietz
Kathleen Bland Cottle

Class of 1917 $96.00 — 55%

Anne-Ruth Harris
Florence Smith
Florence Boston Decker
Gladys Holleman Barlow
Eleanor Copenhaver Anderson
Olivia Gwaltney Stallings
Ruth Elliott Trice
Mabel Henderson Crabtree
Eleanor M. Decker

Class of 1918 $493.00 — 48%

Mary Denmead Ruffin
Mary Clay Camp
Elizabeth E. DuVal
Martha Chappell
Mary Porter Rankin
Betsy Camp Smith
Estelle Kemper Butler
Mary G. Decker
Jennie Phillips LeSueur
Mary G. Lett
Elizabeth Brockenbrough
Deborah McCarthy
Elizabeth Ellyson Wiley
Emily Gardner

Class of 1919 $143.50 — 47%

Virginia Karnes Wright
Juliette Brown Carpenter
Elizabeth P. Gaines
Margaret Hutchison Rennie
Isabelle Feild Gatling
Helen Hancock Hundley
Margaret Semmes McKillip
Adelaide Walton Cowherd
Cora Walton Kayser
Esther Sanford Jett
Elizabeth Tompkins
Margaret Laws Decker
Lillian Robertson Livesay
Janet Wyatt Fountain
Mildred Lewis McDanel

Class of 1920 $95.00 — 28%

Carolyn D. Broadus
Sallie Adkisson Ryland
Frances Shipman Sutton
Virginia Truitt Swan
Mary McDaniel Parker
Jeffries Heinrich
Edna Rawls Dodson
Katherine Vaughn Willis

Class of 1921 $104.00 — 48%

Frances Vaughn Faglie
Virginia Lane
Theresa Pollak
Mary Dudley Cappelman
Gladys Lumsden McCutcheon
Maie Collins Robinson
Ruth Hoover Lide
Elizabeth Eubank Short
Catherine Little Dupuy
Marion Stoneman Oliver
Leonora Dorsey
May Thompson Evans
Mildred Rucker Oaks
Susie Hayman Horner
Mary Hart Willis Winfrey
Ruth Henderson

Class of 1922 $180.00 — 51%

Elva McAlister Berrey
Elizabeth Williams Bell
Alice Garnett Thomas
Ruth Wallerstein Thalheimer
Jeanette Henna
Narcissa Daniel Hargroves
Mary Fugate
Leslie Sessoms Booker
Louise Shipman Hatz
Valeria Arrington Bonney
Irene Summers Stoneman
Julia Roop Adams
Hilda Lawson Jecklin
Rachel Newton Dickson
Edith Newton Eakes
Edna Dudley Hash
Lucille Ledman Kersey
Elsa Wallerstein Gerst
Muriel Sanders
Josephine Talley Kritzer
Virginia Richardson Hartley
Rebekah Lawson McReynolds
Eva Timberlake West
Mary Bristow Thompson
Mary Rilee Wright
Stella Hubbard Taylor

Class of 1923 $519.50 — 51%

Katherine Essex Clark
Ethney Selden Headlee
Ruth Powell Tyree
Camilla Wimbish Lacy
Elizabeth Hill Schenk
Agnes Butterworth Palmer
Ellen Douglas Oliver
Sally Davis
Hannah L. Coker
Bessie Gill Saunders
Louise Beck Morris
Anna Elizabeth Crafton
Eva Banks Haycox
Mamie Smith Fitzgerald
Kathleen Prentiss Perrin
Kate O'Brien
Mary Lynn
Mary Mitchell Clifford Virginia Kent Loving Virginia Epes Feild
Glenna Loving Norvell
Rennie Parks Rue

Mary Burt Beale
Agnes Taylor Gray
Dora Ransone Hartz
Eloise McEwen Ware
Jane Waters Gardner
Sarah Lee Atkins
Mary Mitchell Clifford
Virginia Collins
Josephine Tucker
Altha Cunningham
Ada Arthur Deacon
Gladys Nuchols Wood
Dorothy Sadler Corpew
Agnes Butterworth Palmer

Class of 1924 $175.50 — 44%

Wilhelmina Wright
Mary Anna Powell
Mary L. Peple
Mabel Allen
Norma Coleman Broadus
Virginia Gregory
Anna Hardaway White
Agnes Jones
Inez DeJarnette Hite
Virginia Clore Johnson
Mary Myrtis Cox
Elizabeth Cosby Carver
Mary Taylor Gills Copenhaver
Hilda Booth Beale
Cordelia Crowder Melton
Bernie Whitlock Bowles
Joanna Savedge Ellett
Virginia Clore Johnson
Virginia Gregory
Mary Fugate Carlton

Class of 1925 $155.00 — 43%

Elma H. Ashton
Gary Turner
Christabelle Lindsey Dickerson
Gladys Wright Cocke
Mildred Jones
Mary Glenn Walter Lacy
Ruby Foster Tyre
Eunice V. Gill
Elizabeth Abernathy
Billie Gordon Atwill
Gladys Saunders
Mary Mason Hamrick
Emeline Stearns
Mary Hall Drinkard Walton
Rebecca Brockenbrough
Elizabeth Anderson Knecht
Susie Blair
Martha Lipscomb Walsh
Ruth Watkins Cloud
Susan Brown Graham
Marjorie Rhodes Hall
Idaline McVeigh Ratcliffe
Cathryn Henna

Class of 1926 $189.00 — 31%

Lila Crenshaw
Dorothy E. Campbell
Mary Louise McGlothlin Friebele
Elizabeth C. Sallé
Virginia Walker
Mary Virginia Daughtrey
Alice H. Taylor
Louise Fry Galvin
Margaret Dorsey
Betty Ballard Willett
Dr. Aurelia Gill Nicholls
May Copenhaver Wilson
Margaret Lazenby Brown
Harriet Sharon Willingham
Annie René Powell Sage Nelda Anderson Cotton
Marguerite Roper Tuggle
Louise Mattern Coleman
Margaret Harlan Hilton

Class of 1927 $119.00 — 33%

Catherine Bell
Dorothy Ryce Gunn
Saxon Rowe Carver
Kathleen Privett Bahen
Maude B. Motley
Sara Lee Hutchings
Ruth E. Lawrence
Eleanor Waters Ramsay
Helen Gasser Sheppard
Janet Hall Parsons
Dorothy Head Thomas
Dorothy Knibb
Mollie DuVal
Evelyn Bristow Robert
Cecyle Loving Hackendorf
Margaret Powell Armstrong
Elizabeth Elgin
Jean Wright Woodfin
Virginia McDanel Cone
Edith DeWitt
Dorothy Bagwell MacDannald

Class of 1928 $100.50 — 15%

Buckner Fitzhugh Pannill
Dorothy Seay Brumbaugh
Annabeth Cash
Ethel Pond Brinkley
Gray Robinson French
Elnora Hubbard Robinson
Elizabeth Sherman Cale
Frances Anderson Stallard
Louise Massey Crisp
Nora Turpin Turner

Class of 1929 $138.50 — 31%

Pearle Powell Prillaman
Helen C Moon
Elizabeth Hale
Mary Richardson Butterworth
Virginia Perkins Yeaman
Doris Turnbull Wood
Helen Orpin Wenzel
Mary Stevens Jones
Violet Cervarich Simpson
Naomi Williams Thomas
Rosalie Gore Parsons
Catherine Branch
Frances Sykes DeHart
Mildred Pope Anderson
Louise Hardaway Boswell
Miriam Figgs Rankin
Margaret T. Rudd
Ruth Haverty
Marguerite Stuessey Mattox
Elizabeth Chandler Cox
Roma Lackes Gustin
Clare Johnson Wayt

Class of 1930 $123.50 — 41%

Nancy Cassell Kingsley
Dorothy Abbott Wood
Frances Cake
Helen Bowman Lieb
Janie E. Ruffin
Virginia Prince Shinnick
Lina Light
Dorcas Hooker Herthel
Grace Watkins Lampson
Helen Strickland
Jean Collier Withers
Katherine Tyler Ellett
Cornelia Ferguson Underwood
Margaret Billings Sents
Dorothy Epperly Goodman
Elizabeth Crowder Van Hook
Shirley Gannaway Cornish
Margaret Flick Clark

Class of 1931 $2,142.00 — 23%

Mary M. Hicks
Margaret C. Leake
Laura Thornhill
Lauretta Taylor Sullivan
Amelia Ullman
Dorothy Pulliam Dysart
Hattie Habel Moschler
Mildred L. Bingham
Phyllis Johnson Pope
Helen Haverty
Lucie Taylor Long
Anne Jones Berkholtz
Lelia Roemele Chandler
Selma Rothschild Mann
Mary Faulkner Jordan
Elizabeth Gill Minor
Gertrude Murrell duPont
Lucile Church Hite
Carolina C. Beattie

Class of 1932 $185.00 — 36%

Frances Gottlieb DeDan
Helen Pollard Deck
Mary Hodnett Mathews
Elizabeth Fugate
Catherine Foskett McCloy
Katherine Roberts Hesby
Ruth Cox Weber
Virginia Tabb Moore
Mary Anne Hall Anderson
Zephia Campbell Scarborough
Muriel M. Jones
Jean Peatross
Phyllis Parkinson
Elise Reaguer Miller
Carolyn Thompson Broadus
Marie Davis Deatthausen
Inez Hauke Hartley
Olga Pitts DeShazo
Nelle M. Johnson
Mary Ryland Fessler
Virginia Jones Pharr
Helen LeGrande Butler
Alamarine Montgomery Franklin
Jessie Miller Jones Turner
Louise Sanford
Ruth Hale Bailey

Class of 1933 $69.00 — 27%

Marjorie Canada O'Riordan
Mary Elizabeth Frazer Burslem
Etta Whitehead Nachman
Vivian Barnett Warr
Mary Louise McLaughlin Tucker
Gertrude Dyson
Catherine Dawson
Kathryn Harris Hardy
Archie Fowlkes
Ann Dickinson Welsh
Carolyn Cutchin Powell
Mollie Moorman Simpson
Marion E. Clarke
Phoebe Drewry Thierman

Class of 1934 $85.00 — 24%

Elizabeth Claybrook Bristow
Virginia McIntosh Puckett
Virginia Watkins Ellenburg
Frances Lundin Van Heuveln
Frances Sanford Brian Virginia Ellett Webster
Virginia Ferguson
Elizabeth Goodwin Henderson
Nancy Davis Seaton
Frances Gee
Ammey Herrin Hill
Katherine Brown Van Allen

Class of 1935*$72.00 — 25%

Hazel Weaver Fobes
Nan Owen Manning
Dorothy W. Chewing Susie Anderson Ackerman
Gladys Smith Tatum
Harriet Walton
Betsy Marston Sadler
Jean Shafer
Alice Harrington Hunt
Katherine Grace
Mary Anne Guy Franklin
Mary Patterson Early Love
Sue Cooke McClure Jones

Class of 1936*$87.00 — 27%

Martha Cosby Rucker
Margaret Bowers
Alice Ryland Giles
Anna Castelveccchi Del Papa
Virginia Ingram Guest
Louise Callison
Ruth Parker Jones
Lou White Winfree
Lynde A. Pitt
Helen E. Falls
Virginia Burfoot
Mary Virginia White Webb
Mildred Crowder Pickels

Class of 1937*$111.00 — 30%

Elizabeth W. Angle
Louise Thompson Chewing Grace Elliott Olsen
Pollyanna Shepherd
Jane Lawder Johnston
Louise Carroll Gano Wilkinson
Jane Carroll Slusser
Marguerite P. Hall
Jean Hudson Miller
Nancy Chappell Pettigrew
Virginia Lee Priddy
Margaret Isbell
Florence Moore Flake
Helen Ellett Horne
Mildred Louthan Shepherd
Margaret Mitchell Meador

Class of 1938*$107.00 — 29%

Anne Payne Stites
Virginia Hansford Russell
Augusta Straus Goodman
Elizabeth Shaw Burchill
Nancy Orthey Rowan
Josephine Mallory Cosby
Edna Loving Young
Julia McClure Dunwell
Edith Crostie Grigg
Hilda Kirby
Martha Ellis Ross
Emily Parker Kendig
Allie Martin Holblieb
Elizabeth Darracott Wheeler
Peggy Lockwood Nolting
Henrietta Harrell Smith
Mildred Harrell Clinkscates
Barbara DeJarnette Bagwell

Class of 1939*$43.00 — 17%

Anne Scott Campbell Jacobs
Charlotte Anne Beale
Lois Lyle Mercer
Pat Walford
Rosalie V. Oakes
Agnes Deaton
Marian Wiley Ellett
Juliet H. Florance
Elizabeth Mitchell Driscoll
Jacqueline Faulkner Dixon
Garland Wilson Brookes

Class of 1940*$208.00 — 21%

Doris Hargrove Kibler
Lucy Baird
Katherine Lyle
Jane Davenport Reid
Harriet Yeamans Mercer
Ethel O'Brien Harrington
Mildred James Talton
Jean Miller Yeiser
Maude Smith Jurgens
Pauline Cortopassi
Ruth Latham Gravatt
Marie Keyser Jordan
Patricia Joblin
Betty Willets Ogg
Dell Williams Smith
Elsie Mattingly Dickinson
Mildred Gustafson Donohue
Carolyn Doyle Saunders

Class of 1941*$181.00 — 26%

Barbara Eckles Grizzard
Antoinette Wirth Whitett
Helen Martin Lughon
Mildred Howerton Jones
Gladys Epes Hardy
Kathleen Crawford Lindsay

Sarajane Payne Arkedis
Helen Dodd Driscoll
Ann Phillips Bonifant
Lois Campbell Herlong
Edith Burfoot Lovig
Mary Alice Smith Tillotson
Kathryn Leviston Krug
Louise Morrissey
Virginia Lee Ball Glover
Margaret Purcell Spindler
Mayme O'Flaherty Stone
Jeanne Huffman Waite
Eleanor Kindell Miller
Cecile Gaddis Smith
Margaret Brittingham Curtice
Georgie Philpott Ingram

Class of 1942*$195.50 — 40%

Ann Gwaltney Harwood
Dorothy Hall
Ada Moss Harlow
Annie Loie Walker Seacat
Anne Shafer Carey
Margaret Kalajian Tavetian
Emmy Fountain
Harriett Howe Byrider
Lillian Jung
Jean S. Grant
Rosellen Hoffman Via Virginia Parker Dozier
Wilmer Peters Gambill
Evelyn Clifton Wisowaty
Esther Wendling Cline
Kay Gilleland Crutchfield
May Thayer Holt
Betty Sessler
Kathleen Abernethy Riley
Betty Ann Petzinger Shackelford
Mildred Slavin Cordish
Janice Lane Darlington
Allene Jones Patteson
Ninita Gonzalez Seavers
LaVerne Priddy Muse
Emma B. Waldrop Cruickshanks
Ethne Flanagan Higginbotham
Florine Mahone Palmer
Ann Pavey Garrett
Frances Badenoch
Lucy Burke Allen Meyer
Jayne Maire Massie
Mary V. Mangum Arrington

Class of 1943*$173.00 — 26%

Rosemary Ives
Effie Proffitt Jones
Barbara Krug Evans
Evelyn Allen Krause
Mary Elizabeth Hogan
Lelia Gardner Hathaway
Kathleen Weber McLellan
Frances Beazley Bell
Anne Lilly Fisher
Lois Dorsey Garwood
Georgie Simpson
Althea Johnston Black
Carolyn Babb Heflin
Anne Byrd Tucker Moore
Shirley Huxter Corson
Florine Nichols Claytor
Maxine Williams Rogers

Class of 1944*$123.00 — 44%

Norma Sanders
Harriet E. Shaffer
Heppy Patterson Ellis
Dee Dee Howe Kirk
Margery Carter Peple
Lois Kirkwood North
Molly Warner
Dorothy J. Ihnken
Mary Lee Smith
Kay Hanley Wery
Ellen Mercer Clark Maxwell
Dorothy Monroe Hill
Elizabeth Rice
Billy Jane Crosby Baker
Elizabeth Muller Goldsmith
Gloria Tyler Robertson
Mary Moore Warner
Ann Burcher Stansbury
Ann Thurston Filer
Rita Muldowney Copley
Ruth Jones Wilkins
Peggy Lee Purcell Stephens
Nell Collins Thompson
Evermond Hardee Daniel

Class of 1945*$117.00 — 37%

Ruth Latimer
Jane Wray Bristow McDorman
Conway Bibb Van Slyke
Alma Rosenbaum Hurwitz
Mary Ellen Tucker
Lillian Belk Youell
Mary Carter Campbell Paulson
Jen Lea Guthrie Yancey
Anne Fisher Keppler
Marianne Waddill Jones
Elizabeth Weaver Martin
Audrey Grubin Fixell
Elizabeth Whitehorse
Ruth Smith Tschan
Anne McElroy MacKenzie
Lottie Blanton

Natalie Heller Moore
Ruth Hiller Powell
Betty Clement Adair
Constance Sutton
Betty Lawson Dillard

Class of 1946*$68.50 — 32%

Mary Frances Bethel Wood
Patricia Husbands Berton
Nancy Todd Lewis
Lois Bradley Baker
Alice Prigg Drummond
Cornelia Reid Rowlett
Virginia Lambeth Shotwell
Lucy Harvie
Elizabeth Thompson Schmidt
Cora Lynn Chaffee
Eugenia Sasser Thombley
Irene Taylor Martin
Dorothy Davis Whittenberger
Jacqueline Barnes Wolf
Anne Jones Parker
Irene White Bain
Jacqueline Hodges Walker
Nancy L. Moore
Amy Hickerson Dalton
Marian Lawton Kinzey

Class of 1947*$174.00 — 55%

Beverly Patton Browne
Alice Landi Reed
Lena Thornton Small
Ann Young Lewis
Mildred Daffron Horigan
Mary Sue Guard Woody
Virginia Ellett
Marylou Massie Cumby
Santina Clauter Stapleton
Virginia Wagstaff
Emily Marie Walthall
Elizabeth Slate Riley
Verda Sletten
Isabel Ammerman
Ruth Schimmel Loevinger
Sylvia Haimovitz Silverman
Marion Huske Moomaw
Ollie Menefee Stirling
Doris Pitman Rainey
Betty McLaughlin
Lois Rynaldo
Pauline P. Jones
Alice Landi Reed
Elizabeth B. Decker
LaVina Watson Reilly
Alice Mason Cralle
Betty Anne Gustafson
Margaret Goode
Jean Waldrop
Nancy Richardson Elliott
Marion Collier Miller
Anne Higgins Borger

Class of 1948*$191.00 — 37%

Janice Conant McCoy
Lily Brittle Hepler
Betty Hickerson Butterworth
Jean Brumsey Biscoe
Jackie Jeter
Blair Porter
Seth Darrow Shannahan
Florence Goodman
Hannah Barlow
Virginia Herndon
Frances Orrell Dunn
Pamela Burnside Gray
Arlene M. Moore
Anne M. Gill
Alice Goodman
Anne Bruner Woo
Dorothy Ann Lloyd
Doris Moore
Frances Stuart
Sally Taylor
Mary Jane Spivey Snead
Carol Buxbaum Waranch
Sarah Brenner Rubin
Virginia Kreyer
Margaret Elliott Ownby
Judith Barnett Seelhorst
Emily Holland Lineberry
Helen Condyles
Allen Rucker
Florence Lide Snider
Eleanor Pitts Rowan
Lois McClanahan Garrett
Pamela Burnside Gray
Blair Porter

Class of 1949*$401.00 — 29%

Alda Marlin Nofstinger
Gloria Reid
Alice M. Verra
Gilda Mann Ellis
Betty Ann Allen Doub
Marilyn Alexander
Gloria Reid Jensen
Elaine Leonard Davis
Jacqueline Cunningham
Ida Eanes Patrick
Ann Wilson Bryant
Jean Harper Sellars
Alberta McCullough
Marilyn Alexander Kubu
Lou Winn McCutcheon
Sallie Van Dyck Wood
Catherine Wyatt

Ann Elizabeth Morano
Brooke Triplett
Isabelle Taylor
Kathryn Carter
Elizabeth McNeal Claybrook
Mary Ann Peddicord Williams
Florence Gray Tullidge
Margaret Knapp Howe
Anne Carter Kraft
Cornelia Ayre
Florence Gray Tullidge
Hazel Jennings Walker
Julie C. Moller
Barbara Todd Clark
Hathaway Pollard

Class of 1950*$244.00 — 52%

Mary Bowles Flanagan
Frances Sutton
Maud S. Tyler
Hilda Moore Hankins
Ellen Largent
Julia Wann
Dorothy Warner Gardner
Joanne M. Schanen
Winifred P. Schanen
Carol Sidlovsky Glicksman
Susan Peck House
Barbara White Balderson
Lorane Graves
Ruth Morrissey
Joanne Waring
Lorraine Feinberg Kaplan
Doris Lee Reeves
Jean Bishop
Gene Hart Joynor
Charlotte Westervelt Bispham
Joanna Maiden
Barbara Coleman
Emily-Ann Mintz
Joyce Betts Pierce
Josephine T. Martens
Joy Hull
Nancy J. Chapin
Marianna Rounds Holloway
Elizabeth Rowse
Barbara J. Jones
Judith Lending
Elizabeth Givens Pierce
Margaret Alexander Anderson
Ann Dorsey James
Louise Triplett Fridley

Patricia Kelly Jordan
Betty Gray Finney
Marjorie Parson Owen
Louise Covington
Ann Neblett James
Leonora Davis Head
Frances Chandler
Barbara Beattie
Lorraine Chapman
Virginia Brinson
Barbara Lee Jones
Marjorie Canada
Jean Tinsley
Catherine Krause Keeney
Jean Barbour Ware

Class of 1951*$197.00 — 43%

Patricia E. Smith
Betty Tredway
Mary DeVilbiss
Helen McCarthy
Elizabeth McRae
Barbara McGehee
Mary Frances Arrighi
Frances Allen
Elizabeth Latimer
Betty Munsey
Shirley Robertson
Shirley Hoover Freeland
Mary Booth
Irene Groves
Charlotte Houchins
Maryglyn Cooper
Elizabeth Eanes
Mary Ann Hubbard Dickenson
Paula Abernathy
Joyce Gladding
Helen Blackwelder
Anne Plunkett Rosser
Lea Thompson Osburn
Charlotte Herrink Jones
Jane Slaughter
Jane Lawson
Elizabeth McRae Dudley
Iris Snowden
Patricia Atwill
Jean Lowe
Gladys Maroney
Jo Ann Asbury Hopkins
Frances Allen
Helen Nance Anderson
Virginia Herrink

ANSWERS TO QUIZ QUESTIONS ON PAGE 12

1. Commander Perry at Battle of Lake Erie.
2. Robert E. Lee and George Meade.
3. .2.
4. Go.
5. The Gold Bug in the story by Poe.
6. As You Like It.
7. Cleveland.
8. William Lloyd Garrison.
9. Georgia.
10. 8.
11. 16 inches.
12. Portia.
13. Robert Frost: Mending Wall.
14. Approximately 34 feet. (The atmosphere will support a column of water no higher than this.)
15. Jupiter.
16. Larger, because the atmospheric pressure on the outside decreases with an increase in altitude.
17. When cool. The water dissolves larger quantities of gas.
18. Tadpoles breathe by means of gills. Adult frogs breathe by means of lungs.
19. A postulate is a statement that is assumed to be true, while a theorem is a statement which requires proof.
20. 4 inches.

Alumni Fund

(Continued from page 8)

1944 (20.51%)

Richard N. Baylor
Henry T. Bloom
Charles G. Hall
James T. Hatcher, Jr.
Richard G. James
Philip Keppler, Jr.
Jack D. Lewis
Richard W. Lowery
F. Stanley Lusby
John P. Oliver, Jr.
Ryland O. Reamy
O. W. Rhodenhiser
T. A. Saunders
W. A. Stansbury
Preston J. Taylor
Leland H. Waters, Jr.

1945 (20.41%)

Harry W. Baldwin, Jr.
C. W. Caulkins, Jr.
H. Chesley Decker
William M. Decker
Pierce S. Ellis, Jr.
David J. Greenberg
Philip R. Hart
Charles G. Motley
Wilbur M. Sims
W. Warren Walthall, Jr.
James H. Wiley, Jr.

1946 (21.15%)

James H. Barnes
Lincoln Baxter, II
E. Gordon Conklin
Allen W. Flannagan, Jr.
O. J. Graham, Jr.
Fred. A. Jennings, Jr.
Leonard Kantor
D. Orville Lahy
R. C. L. Moncure
Leslie H. Phillips, Jr.
Straughan Richardson
Zane Grey Ross
Paul Strickland
Phillip D. Weaver
J. G. Wood
George R. Wyatt, Jr.

1947 (20.00%)

David Arenstein
E. Ballard Baker
R. H. Bruni, Jr.
Thomas P. Bryan
M. Caldwell Butler
Martin F. Clark
Stanley N. Cohen
Solon B. Cousins, Jr.
Paul Duke
William K. Easley
P. Winfree Fore, Jr.
Junius E. Foster, Jr.
Douglas B. Goforth
Alvin Guttg
Lewis B. Hasty
Walter B. Hoover
James F. Hubbard
Fred. A. Jennings, Jr.
Spencer M. King
John W. Knowles
William H. Laing, Jr.
Russell Lang
H. George Longaker, Jr.
R. L. McDanel
L. L. McGee
D. Walton Mallory, Jr.
John F. Murphy
George E. Reynolds
James R. Richman
F. D. Shepherd, Jr.
Harry L. Snead, Jr.
George P. Williams, Jr.

1948 (18.78%)

Hugh T. Adair
C. O. Alley, Jr.
Dwight H. Anderson
Howard P. Anderson
William R. Arnette
William T. August
Donald L. Ball
Melvin G. Berman
Chester A. Bishof
James W. Boehling
J. H. Chamberlayne, III
John R. Chappell, III
W. R. Creadick, Jr.
T. T. Crump
N. J. Diemente
J. Earle Dunford, Jr.
Walter C. Fieg, Jr.
Herman V. Fleming
Lee M. Gahegan
Cleveland E. Hall
Joseph H. Holleman, Jr.
Virginia D. Ivey
Joseph S. James, Jr.
L. C. Jensen, Jr.
H. D. Jordan, Jr.
Bertram Y. Kinsey
Herbert D. Liebman
A. J. Martin
C. E. Moomaw
William Byrd Pond
William H. Rowan
W. F. Rowe, Jr.
D. L. Stigall, Jr.
D. Nelson Sutton, Jr.

Locke H. Twigg, Jr.
Clinton E. Tuck
Howard G. Turner
Julian L. Walker
W. H. Warren
Scott H. Wernuth, Jr.
Howard M. Williams
Stuart L. Williams
J. M. Wiltshire, Jr.

1949 (21.97%)

Gordon B. Ambler, Jr.
W. M. Amburgey, Jr.
Sattler B. Anderson
Walter L. Bradley
Cary L. Branch
Donald W. Calder
Elliott W. Calisch
William E. Carter, Jr.
Morris Cather
James E. Caudle
David S. Clay
H. R. Cooley
C. W. Coppedge
W. Gordon Cousins
Jesse L. Cralle
Richard S. Dance
W. H. Doub, Jr.
Edward E. Dunklee
I. B. Fallin, Jr.
Donald B. Fendler
Italo Ferramosca
T. Whitt Fogg
J. E. Galloway, Jr.
E. Carlton Gammon
Walter J. Gans, Jr.
John H. Garber, Jr.
J. F. Garren, Jr.
C. L. Gatling
William N. Gee, Jr.
Robert G. Gibson
John Goode
W. R. Gross
Arthur J. Haines, Jr.
William N. Hallman, Jr.
James P. Hankins, Jr.
Homer W. Hanna, Jr.
Ralph N. Hargrove
Russell B. Harris
James E. Heslep
Edward T. Hooper
Farrar W. Howard
William G. Jackson
Robert M. Jones
L. Alex Jordan, Jr.
Daniel H. Kruger
B. B. Lineberry
Louis F. Luechauer
Carl D. Lunsford
S. M. Luria
George O. McClary
John E. Mallory
Harry M. Markhoff
Morton Marks, Jr.
H. Stuart Massie, Jr.
Orville C. Matthews
William R. Miller
James R. Phipps
John S. Pierce, Jr.
Thomas E. Redford, Jr.
Walter W. Regier
James B. Robinson
W. E. Satterwhite
Julian E. Savage
Melvin L. Segal
R. L. Shue
Sherman F. Sosnow
Nicholas A. Spinella
James Sweeney
Claude G. Thomas
Ben G. Triplett
Bernard L. Webb
Nelson E. Weber
R. C. Whitehead
R. E. Wiggins, Jr.
Norman B. Wood, Jr.
B. N. Woody
Merritt G. Yorgey
John Zizak

1950 (12.64%)

Joseph A. Arcaro, Jr.
R. W. Bartron
Donald L. Baxter
Herbert R. Blackwell
Lewis Booker
H. H. Bradley, Jr.
Eric H. Brest
William A. Brown
T. E. Coleman, Jr.
Nicholas C. Condyles
Alan L. Creedle
P. H. Dalle Mura
Chase S. Decker
Robert G. DuVal
William C. Farmer
Jack L. Flint
H. Aubrey Ford, Jr.
Philip Frederick
Wayne A. Freeland
Ernest G. Garrett, Jr.
Dean M. Greiner
Ernest L. Harris
B. Walton Mahon
F. W. Hardy
Thomas L. Howard, Jr.
J. B. Hudson, Jr.
James A. Hunter

My Neighbor (Mrs. W. A. Harris)

On the hill overlooking the lake lives a lady who is beloved by three generations of University of Richmond men and women, both for her own charm and graciousness and, further, as the wife and now the widow of that truly good man who for so many years was professor of Greek and Latin.

She is Mrs. W. A. Harris, who now, as in years past, keeps beautiful the garden that she and her husband planted. Rhododendron grows in the cool recesses, lilies flaunt their heads against the hillside, and in the rock garden the phlox and verbena grow.

She gives liberally and joyfully of her treasure. Whatever the occasion, when flowers are needed for a social function, the first thought is of Mrs. Harris. Whenever visitors call, they leave laden with cut flowers and oftentimes with shrubs for planting in their own gardens. There are few gardens in the University neighborhood which are not today more beautiful because of her bounty.

One of her neighbors and, it follows, one of her admirers is Mrs. F. Byers Miller, wife of the dean of the School of Business Administration, who has written her tribute in verse.

High on a hill above the lake
She has her dwelling place,
A house of blest tranquillity
A home of charm and grace.

She loves to walk her garden paths
And breathe the air so sweet,
While down the hillside nature spills
Its beauty at her feet.

The house regards with shining eyes
The spot on which she stands.
The stately trees are guardians
With outstretched leafy hands.

She rarely leaves this lovely place,
She cares to roam no more;
But seeking friendship, all the world
Beats pathways to her door.

—RUTH ALTON MILLER.

1951 (13.56%)

Winfield J. Kohler
Edward L. Kurtz
William E. Long
Rudolph V. Lowery
Walter J. McGraw
Donald H. McNeill, Jr.
F. C. Martin
Marvin Menkes
Rafael A. Munoz-Noya
Wallace B. Stockdon
Virgil R. Strader, Jr.
C. W. Sykes, Jr.
Richard C. Tutwiler
Catlin E. Tyler
Edward M. Vassar
Wirt H. Wills
Paul Woodfin
Zack Zambetis

A. L. Loftin, Jr.
William C. Martin
C. E. Minter
Thomas O. Morris
Albert D. Murden
William R. Newhouse
Otis W. Nuckols
Ralph M. Owen
James A. Payne, Jr.
Albert C. Pittman
William G. Pitts, Jr.
W. M. Reams, Jr.
Frank J. Rejevich
Henry D. Robinson
Bill Shabda
W. Spilman Short
Samuel L. Smith, III
Robert S. Stephens

Bernard L. Stokes
Bowman G. Taylor
George D. Taylor, Jr.
Arthur B. Wolan

1952

W. O. Bivens, Jr.
Samuel L. Cooke, Jr.
James A. McClellan
Allen F. Richards

Honorary

Ralph T. Catterall
George M. Modlin
Charles H. Wheeler, III

THE WAY OF A MAID WITH A MAN*

IN THIS GATHERING are, I presume, some men who are yet unmarried. To these I would direct a few remarks. I would read to them portions of a recently discovered and, as yet, little known MS, the Wisdom Book of Methuselah, being his advice to his great-great-grandson Mirzah. In translating, some of the details have been altered slightly to make them conform to modern idiom. I quote:

Hearken unto my words, O my son; give ear unto my counsel, that thy days may be joyful and thy nights abounding in peace.

I have observed the daughters of men, their going out and their coming in. I have considered them when they knew it not.

Behold, my years are nine hundred and sixty and nine, and in my time I have known much women.

Lay up within thy heart the words of my tongue that thou mayest know the guile of woman and be warned, yea, that thou mayest know the way of a maid with a man.

And lo, this is the manner of her working.

She meeteth him at the alumni picnic, and she hath marked him for her own. Verily, he is already lost.

She parteth him from the others; she establisheth a personal relationship; he beareth her raincoat for her, and she putteth her compact into his pocket.

The dogs bark with much fierceness, and she claspeth his arm. She beggeth his protection, and he calmeth her fears with words. Then is she comforted and saith, "Lo, how brave thou art!"

She waiteth not for opportunity, but maketh occasion for nearness. He removeth a speck from her eye, and her breath is upon his face.

She saith to him, "Wilt thou tell me if the seams of my stockings are straight?"

He calleth upon her, and she telleth him, "I have thought of thee often; again and again hast thou been in my remembrance."

They journey forth to the show, and she permitteth him not to take her to the Byrd, saying, "Thou must save thy money; let us go instead to the Carillon, yea, let us see 'The Pride of Saint Louis,' for I know thou dost love the Cardinals."

They return to her abode, and she conducteth him to the kitchen. She putteth an apron upon him. They prepare fudge together. She sitteth upon the Laundromat and swingeth her nylons.

She calleth him by telephone; she manifesteth great interest in his work, saying, "How didst thou at the office today, and that order from Lynchburg, hast thou secured it?"

She asketh his advice concerning the candidates. She inquireth his opinion about Taft, and she saith, "Lo, how clearly hast thou made me to understand the issues."

*An excerpt from an address delivered by Dr. Samuel W. Stevenson at the joint Alumnae-Alumni dinner in Keller Hall on June 7. His speech was entitled: "Husbands Arise, You Have Nothing to Lose but Your Chains."

She visiteth him at his boarding house when he is ill. She prepareth custards to bring him. She feebleth his brow and expresseth great concern.

She saith to him, "Thou must be sure to wear thy rubbers, and thy warm underwear must thou not neglect. For if aught happened unto thee, then indeed would I be desolate."

She maketh him comfortable in her living room. She putteth the Luckies at his elbow and saith, "Recline and take thine ease. Put thy feet upon the sofa, and do not mind the ashes, for they keep the moths away."

She createth a quarrel out of thin air. She speaketh to him sharply, and when he is heated, she abaseth herself. She boweth low before him. The tear trembleth in her eye, and her lip doth quiver. Yet doth she not weep, for she knoweth that red eyes are not comely.

And again she provoketh a struggle, and he snatcheth at her fiercely. She rebuketh him, saying, "How darest thou? What reason have I ever given thee to think thus-and-so?" She accepteth his apology.

She maketh him to feel confident of her; yea, he monopolizeth her, and then, lo, she springeth another man on him. He calleth, and she is not in. She keepeth company with beardless youths.

And now is his time come, although he knoweth it not. She prepareth her snare; she maketh ready her axe. She asketh him to come to her quickly. She saith, "Lo, I am troubled, and thou must advise me. My uncle in Seattle hath invited me to visit him for six months, and verily I do not know what I should do. He coacheth a football team, and he wisheth me to pose with the co-captains."

And he falleth into the trap. He proposeth to her, and she accepteth him, and behold, the fowl of his barnyard is roasted; yea, verily, his goose is cooked.

Commencement

(Continued from page 3)

for the optimistic outlook. Enrollment benefited from the University of Richmond-WRVA scholarship quiz which will bring to the campus this fall a number of the State's outstanding high school graduates.

The twenty-seven new scholarships—among the first fruits of the Williams bequest—will be allocated as follows:

Graduate School: Three teaching fellowships of $1,200 each.

The T. C. Williams School of Law: One scholarship of $1,000, and three scholarships of $500 each.

School of Business Administration: One scholarship of $1,000, and two of $500 each.

Richmond College: One $750 scholarship and seven scholarships of $500 each.

Westhampton College: One $750 scholarship and four scholarships of $500 each.

The new scholarships will increase to almost 400 the number of scholarships which will be available for superior students seeking admission to the University of Richmond. A great many other students will help finance their college education by working on the campus or at jobs downtown.

MATTOX, A.B., M.A., LL.B.

Conard Blunt Mattox, Jr., probably has as many degrees as anyone has ever received from the University of Richmond. His LL.B. at commencement in June was his third degree from the U. of R., following an A.B. and an M.A. Conard, Jr., helps Mamma get the triple-threat ready for the ceremony.

Deans of students at Richmond College and Westhampton College and the director of placements at the School of Business Administration have been doing an outstanding liaison job in bringing together Richmond industry and capable students seeking employment.

We Are In International

(Continued from page 6)

nile delinquency. His country has no juvenile courts; but his country is now in the process of writing a new law relating to juveniles. This gentleman was sent to the United States to study our methods in this field, and when he returns home he will present to his government a plan for the treatment of boys and girls who, because of bad home conditions and inadequate community facilities, have become young "offenders."

Many countries are not yet ready for the more specific welfare services. Many countries are getting help in producing more and better food for undernourished populations, in building simple houses for families that have been living in dugouts, in improving sanitary conditions, in constructing the beginnings of a communication system.

It is the hope of those who are operating the Point IV Program, and other international exchange programs, that as a less developed country moves up the ladder in improving conditions, it can gain assistance in moving another step; and as the people begin to raise their standards of living and to feel more sense of self-respect they will be more inclined toward establishing peaceful relationships with other countries.

As we Americans participate in these programs, sharing with other countries, we grow in understanding and knowledge, and strengthen our position as a constructive force in the world of which we are a part. Everything in which we share internationally is an investment for our own protection and, we hope, a contribution to a movement toward world peace.

Alumni In The News:

1904—

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, noted historian and Pulitzer prize winner, has been awarded a 1952 Guggenheim Fellowship for continued research in the field of American history and biography. Dr. Freeman, former Rector of the Board of Trustees, was granted the fellowship to continue his study of George Washington, about whom the retired editor of the Richmond News Leader has already completed four volumes.

BOUQUET FOR DICKINSON

C. W. Dickinson, Jr., '05, who is making satisfactory recovery from a heart attack suffered last December, has been cheered by an attractive testimonial published by his friends in appreciation of his leadership of the school library program in Virginia. Since Mr. Dickinson became Supervisor of Text-books and Libraries for the State Department of Education in 1923, tremendous strides have been made in the program.

The tribute, prepared by the school Librarians Section of the Virginia Education Association, attributes many notable advances to his leadership, including the minimum library standards, adopted by the State Board in 1928, requiring each accredited high school to have a teacher-librarian. Last year a total of 385 certificated librarians were employed in Virginia public schools.

1907—

Dr. R. N. Daniel, dean of Furman University from 1922 to 1949, writes that his book, Furman University, was published in November, 1951. The history of the university was written in connection

CLARK RETIRES AT MONTANA STATE

After a brilliant teaching career, which included thirty-one years of service at Montana State University, Dr. W. P. Clark, '03, has reached the retirement age of seventy, "still young and vigorous." Scorning the rocking chair, he expects to continue to work. He has enough writing and editing before him to keep him busy for some time. He joined the staff of Montana State in 1921 as associate professor of foreign languages. He became successively professor, chairman of the department of classical languages and dean of the graduate school.

Before going to Montana State, Dr. Clark had taught at Jacksonville College, Simons College at Abilene, Texas; Washburn College at Topeka, Kansas; Colgate University, and William and Mary.

As an undergraduate at Richmond College, Dr. Clark won the Tanner medal in Greek and was elected to Arachnidae. He was president of his senior class.

with the celebration of the 125th anniversary of that institution.

1908—

"Chips off the old block" are Dr. E. P. Wightman's sons, Arthur and Robert. Dr. Arthur Wightman, now Assistant Professor of Physics at Princeton University, his father writes, is on a year's leave of absence on a National Research Council Fellowship and is spending it in nuclear physics research at the Institute for Theoretical Physics at Copenhagen, Denmark. Dr. Wightman's younger son, Robert, a set designer for NBC Television in New York City, has also caught the "continental bug" and is in Europe for six months of study and travel.

1909—

Roscoe Spencer, of Washington, will be traveling throughout the Old Dominion for the next year, following his retirement from the U. S. Public Health Service after 37 years of service, to conduct seminars and discussion groups on the diagnosis and treatment of cancer under the auspices of the Medical Society of Virginia and Extension Division of the University of Virginia.

1910—

Captain Ernest L. Ackiss, retired in 1910 from the Chaplain Corps of the Navy, is once more on active duty—now with the Bureau of Naval Personnel in Washington in connection with the Character Guidance Program of the proposed National Security Training Corps, and also for work on the Navy's over-all Protection and Moral Standards Program.

1911—

Dr. J. W. Decker, secretary of the International Missionary Council, who spoke in Richmond this spring, will be in Europe this summer for IMC work where he'll have a reunion with his son, William B., who'll be en route to the States from Indonesia where he's a vice-consul with the foreign service.

1912—

Dr. William Bricen (W. B.) Miller writes that he was called out of retirement into the pastorate of a "wide-awake church in Charleston, W. Va., only a few miles away from our cozy retreat on Lake Chaweva."

A. B. Nelson says that "two years hence" he plans to retire from wielding the "hickory stick" to his home at Boca Raton, Fla. Since 1912 with the exception of four years, Nelson reports, "I have been in educational work in Virginia as teacher, principal and superintendent." At present he is instructor of Latin at George Washington High School at Danville.

Rep. J. Vaughan Gary, one of Capitol Hill's most traveled solons, has returned from Korea and Japan where he went "to get firsthand information on how the money we are appropriating is being spent." The Virginia Third District Representative was honored recently when he received a certificate of merit for his efforts to provide for the adequate training of the Coast Guard Reserve.

1913—

The Rev. John Wesley Elliott, pastor of the Central Baptist Church at Westerly, R. I., reports the raising of $46,000 for the financing of his church's new building which will be in use next fall.

1914—

Dr. A. R. Crabtree, director of the Baptist Theological Seminary in Brazil, has printed a second edition of Introduction to the New Testament and published his seventh book in Portuguese last year.

1915—

J. Earle (Pete) Dunford has "Dunquit"—that's the name of his Middlesex Co. home where he is now "a retired country squire doing a little legal work to keep out of mischief."

Dr. E. V. Peyton, of Locklies, is going about "my daily duties—visiting, preaching, teaching and conducting studies in parliamentary law."

John A. Ryland, of Walkerton, has been made chairman of the Board of Deacons of Bruington Baptist Church.

Dr. Dudley P. Bowe reports the cancellation of

DR. ARCHIE G. RYLAND RETIRES

His retirement in June as professor of French and chairman of the Department of Modern Languages at William & Mary will give Dr. Archie G. Ryland, '08, an opportunity to continue conclusively research on which he has been at work for several years. He was retired with the title of professor emeritus of French.

After taking his B.A. from Richmond College, Professor Ryland continued his education at Harvard where he won his doctorate and then did graduate work at the Sorbonne in Paris and the Ecole Normale Supérieure in Rouen. He did further work at the University of Chicago and at the Université Laval in Quebec.

After teaching at the University of Richmond and at the Ecole Normale Supérieure, Dr. Ryland joined the William and Mary staff in 1923.

In addition to membership in learned societies and organizations within his field, Dr. Ryland served as president of the Virginia Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, was a member of the Virginia Historical Society, of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, and the English Speaking Union.

He is a past vice-president of the Harvard Club of Virginia, a past president of the Williamsburg Little Theater League, a member of the American Association of University Professors and of the American Association of Teachers of French.

DICKERSON NAMED TO BOARD

The Lynn C. Dickersons, father and son, were doubly honored at the June finals.

The Rev. Lynn C. Dickerson, '17, pastor of the Harrisonburg, Va., Baptist Church since 1938, was elected to the University's board of trustees in recognition of his long service to Christian education in Virginia and West Virginia.

Lynn, II, '52, president of his senior class in Richmond College, was elected to the Alumni Council, in recognition of his selection as the recipient of the Alumni medal which is awarded annually to the outstanding member of the graduating class. The junior Dickerson, who expects to follow in his father's footsteps as a minister of the Gospel, will enroll this fall in Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dickerson, senior, had served Baptist churches in Pulaski, Va., Radford, Va., and Alderson, W. Va., before going to Harrisonburg. In every community he has been a leader in civic affairs. He was president of Rotary clubs at Radford and Alderson, and served as governor of District 186 of Rotary International. He was Boy Scout Commissioner at Pulaski and Radford, and president of the Harrisonburg Community Council for two years.

He has held a number of positions of responsibility and trust within the Baptist denomination, and while in West Virginia served as a member of the board of trustees of Alderson-Broadbush College.

his planned European trip because of an operation in April. "Uncle" Dudley is convalescing at his home at 2 W. Read St., Baltimore.

The Rev. L. Bland Taylor is now pastor "of two noble country churches at Nashville, N. C." where he is working on a $40,000 auditorium for one of his churches.

1918—

Captain Francis Lee Albert, of the Chaplain Corps, U. S. Navy, is the senior Baptist chaplain in the Navy, with 34 years service to his credit.

Titus W. Beasley was recently elected president of the Pomme de Terre District Council, Boy Scouts of America, and was also elected to membership in the Executive Board of the Ozarks Empire Area Council of the Boy Scouts.

1920—

A. B. Honts is serving this year as president of the Front Royal-Warren County Chamber of Commerce which, says Honts, "is the largest and most active C. of C. in the Valley of Virginia, with the possible exception of Roanoke." Honts is also serving as a member of the Virginia Baptist Board of Missions and Education and is serving as chairman of the Missions Committee.

Bernard W. Mahon writes that his son, Walton, is now in Officer Candidate School at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Texas.

1922—

Major George C. Patterson, a chaplain with the Air Force, says that he is on "another government-sponsored tour of the United Kingdom."

Baptist Biographies, "denominational Who's Who compilation of life and service sketches of Baptist ministers, missionaries, chaplains, educators, laymen and others," was launched by the Rev. Charles F. Leck on March 18 for the purpose "of coupling together honor for the meritorious and encouragement to those in the early stages of their careers of altruistic service."

Rear Admiral Irving T. Duke has been ordered to duty at the U. S. Naval Base at Key West, Fla. The former skipper of the "Mighty Mo," had been stationed at Dahlgren Proving Grounds, Dahlgren.

1923—

The Rev. S. Roy Orrell, of West Point, has resigned as pastor of the First Baptist Church there and became pastor of Chatham Heights Baptist Church at Martinsville on July 1.

The Rev. Emmett Y. Robertson is now in his twentieth year as pastor of his home church, the Park View Baptist Church at Richmond.

1926—

W. Roscoe Huntley is managing the Richmond campaign for the renomination of United States Senator Harry F. Byrd in the July 15 Democratic primary.

1927—

The Chevrolet and Oldsmobile Divisions of General Motors Corp. have announced the appointment of M. J. (Marty) Logan as their direct dealer in Fairfax.

John Norwood Clary has been promoted to the post of bridge engineer for the State Highway Department.

Fred W. Wenzel writes that "Helen, Judy and I have been enjoying Florida since we moved here in 1948." Fred is doing research work on citrus processing and by-products at the University of Florida's Citrus Experiment Station.

Alfred M. Dillard is now Chief Supervisor of the Yarn Plant of E. I. DuPont de Nemours at Camden, S. C.

1928—

W. Lee Smith has been elected Chairman of the Goodfellowship Committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. Still a fighting free enterpriser, Lee filed such a devastating blast against the McGuire Fair Trade fixing bill with the House Judiciary Committee that he has been asked to make his brief available for case material at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

1929—

Clinton Webb was recently promoted from assistant trust officer to trust officer of First and Merchants National Bank of Richmond.

1930—

Aubrey V. Kidd was recently promoted from cashier to vice-president of the Bank of Virginia.

W. F. Drinkard, now vice-president of King's Business College in Charlotte, N. C., says "my oldest boy, Bill, is now in the Navy" and has sailed for Japan.

Member of the Virginia State Bar since 1932, W. Victor Richardson is now a member of the law firm of Norris, Richardson and Foster at Lively, Va.

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Ely proudly announce an addition to the family in Melvin Patrick Ely, born on June 11.

"OLD HORSE POWER"

The New York Times in a feature story from Carmel, N. Y., paid tribute to "Old Horse Power," a

"squat man of dynamic energy and many enthusiasms" who is known more officially as the Rev. Henry Pierce Simpson, '19, pastor of the Mount Carmel Baptist Church since 1930.

He's also the new editor and publisher of The Putnam County Press. The Times correspondent points out that "news sources for the new publisher are many. He preaches every Sunday in the church and later chats with parishioners. On weekday nights he works on cake sales and the collection of clothing for missions, officiates at weddings and funerals and visits hospitals and homes."

"Old Horse Power," who is pictured here in his chaplain's uniform, was an infantryman in World War I, and an Army chaplain in Italy, Africa and Washington in World War II. He is a past New York state chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and is now chaplain for District 2. He is also the Veterans' Counselor of Putnam County.

1931—

The Rev. Paul J. Forsythe reports that his church, the Sunset Hills Baptist Church, located in Richmond near the University, began its third year April 20.

1932—

"I have been pastor of the Eastville Baptist Church since 1936," writes the Rev. L. C. McKenny. He adds that "this year we are repairing our present building and are adding on 12 Sunday School rooms."

On April 26 of this year, Dr. Sam L. Elfmon, of Fayetteville, N. C., was informed that he had successfully completed the required examinations and was certified by the Board of Internal Medicine as a specialist in internal medicine.

Harold H. Dervishian recently was elected to Richmond's City Council.

1933—

Henry Vranian is now assistant general superintendent of the Chesapeake Corp., at West Point, Va., after being with the company since 1934.

Starting June 15, Sam C. Couch has accepted a position with the United Nations as Educational Advisor in the rehabilitation program in Korea.

1934—

Married: William Hyde Fowlkes, III, on April 5, to Miss Mary Susanna Gochenour.

William W. Seward, Jr., has been elected president of the Poetry Society of Virginia.

"Just arrived from a trip to Virgin Islands as a guest of U. S. Navy," writes John Doley, of Hilton Village.

Harold W. Bryant and family have "finally returned to the good old Southland after spending ten years in Niagara Falls, N. Y." They are at home at Johnson City, Tenn.

The Rev. W. W. Wright, pastor of the Irvington Baptist Church, has recently been named moderator of the Rappahannock Association.

Of an orient trip: Chaplain Frederick W. Haber reports "I am leaving for the orient this month (April)." He adds that he has been serving as chaplain with the 5460 ASU Reception Center at Ft. Custer, Mich.

Orison T. (Red) Neblett is back at work with the Equitable Life Assurance Society after service with the armed forces in Japan.

1935—

Freddy Vaughan reports his transfer to the Harrisburg Coca-Cola Bottling Works at Harrisburg.

ENGLISH WEATHER

Major John F. Wall, '35, who has a very exacting job as a base weather officer for one of the Air Force Bases, echoes the English joke that "there is nothing more reliable in its unreliability than the English weather."

Major Wall's task is to forecast fog conditions and high altitude winds for jet plane operations.

It's "interesting but difficult" . . . "the fog rolls in rather suddenly at times."

Major and Mrs. Wall and their three children live in a "rambling old farmhouse" which was built in 1600. "A maid, gardener, baby sitter, and a cat came with the house."

HART IN LEBANON

Dr. Thomas A. Hart, '29, is attending a seminar at the American University of Beirut in Lebanon in connection with his duties as chief of the Saudi Arabia-Yemen Branch of the Near East-Africa Development Service, under the Technical Cooperation Administration of the Department of State.

It will be one of many varied experiences in the colorful career of Dr. Hart, who has served as a consultant for the Surgeon General's office, as dean of the School of Arts and Sciences in Roosevelt College, Chicago, as director of malaria control in Bolivia for the office of Inter-American Affairs, and as visiting lecturer in public health at San Simon University, Cochabamba, Bolivia, where his lectures were given in Spanish.

Dr. Hart will visit Jordan, Egypt and Saudi Arabia to review existing technical cooperation programs in those countries.

In addition to his work at the University of Richmond, Dr. Hart has degrees from William and Mary, Emory University and the University of Chicago where he received his Ph.D. with honors in 1941.

1940—

Daniel W. Fowler, Jr., was born to the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel W. Fowler on May 6. The Fowlers, Sr., live in South Bend, Ind.

Edward S. Sinar, of Norfolk, writes he's "so busy" in his new job as personnel director of Norfolk Shipbuilding Corp.

The Rev. W. F. Taylor is now serving his fourth year at the Murfreesboro, N. C., Baptist Church, his wife, Frances, writes.

1st Lieut. John B. King is on extended active duty with the U. S. Army. He is presently on duty

Pa. He adds that he's moving his wife and three daughters soon to their new home there.

Another '35 mover is Woodrow E. Carter who's now established at 1006 Cherokee Trail, Martinsville. The new domicile's moniker is "Carter's Wigwam."

1936—

"I resigned as Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church at Manassas due to the fact that I have been recalled from the inactive reserve to active duty by the Navy," writes the Rev. E. Guthrie Brown. He adds that "I am to report in June to the Naval School at Newport, R. I."

Major Hugh L. Cardoza writes he'll soon be reporting to Camp Stoneman, Calif., for assignment to the Far East Command in Japan. Writes Major Cardoza, "Have just finished a 30-day refresher course at Ft. Benning, Ga., the Infantry Center!"

1937—

Dr. John N. Pastore reports "on March 1 of this year I was discharged from the U. S. Air Force, after having served some time at Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva, N. Y. Am back in practice of oral surgery in Richmond."

William Edward Moore, Jr., an engineer with the Cia Medicinal La Compana in Mexico, recently came back to the States for vacation.

The Rev. R. Carrington Paulette, who sold his first sermon for publication to Pulpit Digest just recently, is "still at the same stand" (Mt. Airy, N. C.). He writes, "we break ground on a $120,000 educational building next week."

The Rev. Paul G. Wiley, reporting on four members of the Class of '37, says: "there are four of us from the Class of '37 in Baptist Church pastorates in the Portsmouth Association—Fred Laughon, Talbot Park Baptist Church; Edward Hughes, London Bridge Baptist Church; George Bond, Virginia Beach Baptist Church; and myself, Spurgeon Memorial Baptist Church."

James Michael Lumpkin has been appointed assistant secretary of the Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

1938—

Born: Sarah Elizabeth Levy on August 23, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Levy, Jr., of Richmond.

Born: Bette Lynn Boykin on March 13 to Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Boykin, of Richmond.

Born: Billy Correll on April 8 to Mr. and Mrs. William B. Correll, of Richmond.

Dan M. Thornton writes he's manager of Customer Service for the Textile Fiber Department of Du Pont at Wilmington, Del.

1939—

Born: Sallie Adams Martin on April 28 to Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Martin, of Richmond.

DICKINSON PROMOTED

Alfred J. Dickinson, Jr., '37, Virginia's young man of the year in 1949, has been elected a vice president of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company where he has been manager of the purchasing department since 1948.

The action was taken by the V-C board of directors at a meeting in New York last month.

Dickinson, president of Student Government and the winner of the Alumni Medal awarded to the outstanding graduate of Richmond College in 1937, later served the General Alumni Society as president. He has been active too in the Alumni Council, and was recently elected as an alumni member of the Athletic Council.

His undergraduate trophies include Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa keys and varsity letters in basketball, track, football, and tennis. He captained the tennis team.

From Richmond he went to the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration where he won his MBA degree in 1939.

He became personal assistant to the comptroller of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Corporation in 1939. Following service with the FBI and the Marine Corps, Air Combat Intelligence, he returned to the purchasing department of V-C where he was named acting manager in May, 1947, and manager in July, 1948.

McCLURE PROMOTED BY VICK

G. Benjamin McClure, '39, has been appointed a vice president of the Vick Chemical Company International Division. He will be in charge of his company's activities in Asia and England.

McClure joined the Vick staff immediately following his graduation from the University of Richmond, but two years later he was called to duty in the Navy. He served in the Aleutians and in the Pacific Theater. He now has the rank of lieutenant commander in the inactive reserves.

He joined the staff of Vick's international division following the war, and in 1948 became regional director in charge of divisional operations in Asia.

Active in community affairs, he has served as president of his PTA, and as pack chairman of a cub scouts' group.

at the U. S. Army Hospital at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. However, John expects to be released next November.

Married: Paul Saunier, Jr., to Miss Jane Hayden Morris at Mocksville, N. C.

1941—

Born: Jerry Owens on Aug. 13, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Owens, of Richmond.

The Rev. R. Stuart Grizzard, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Norfolk, reports that his church has completed its remodeling program, has purchased new property, prepared it for Sunday School use and has opened a goodwill center.

Dr. Herman Rockoff, of Stamford, Conn., has limited his practice of dentistry to the specialty of periodontia, he writes.

Married: Hugh S. Crisman on June 23, 1951, to Miss Bette Sullivan. The young marrieds are making their home in Winchester.

The Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., announces the appointment of George H. Shackelford as manager, Life, Accident and Group Departments of the Rochester, N. Y., Branch Office.

Martin Markowitz, a captain in the Medical Corps of the Army, is now chief of surgical service at one of the U. S. Army hospitals in Japan.

Born: John Mitchell Ferneyhough on May 3 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Ferneyhough, Jr., of Richmond.

1942—

Born: Marie Susannah Humbert on Dec. 15, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Humbert of the University of Arkansas, at Fayetteville, Ark.

JAYCEES VOTE GILLETTE BEST CHAPTER PRESIDENT

Walter B. (Bo) Gillette, '40, was surrounded by trophies at the close of the Virginia State convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Virginia Beach in May.

The Richmond Jaycee club which he heads was voted the most outstanding chapter in Virginia—the first time since 1940 that this honor had gone to the Richmond Club—

Dr. T. W. Green writes he'll go into general medical practice this July at Richlands.

Emmett L. Hubbard has returned to Richmond after living in Maryland and Kentucky. He's now with the Chase City Construction Co., Inc.

Hugh Hamilton Sisson, Jr., former treasurer and business manager of Richmond Professional Institute, has been chosen bursar of the College of William and Mary.

Robert C. Cotten, Jr., has become a member of the law firm of Moyle and Wanlass in Washington.

IT'S MAYOR WARRINER

One of Virginia's youngest mayors is Thomas E. Warriner, Jr., '42, who was elected by the voters of Lawrenceville last month. Mayor Warriner, a lawyer, is a member of the Fourth District Committee of the Virginia State Bar. He is secretary-treasurer of the Lawrenceville Chamber of Commerce and a member of the board of directors of the Lawrenceville Playground Committee.

He is a member of the Board of Deacons and Clerk of the Lawrenceville Baptist Church.

1943—

Born: Beverly Robinette Schools on Sept. 4, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Schools, of Richmond.

Frank B. Hart, Jr., was married April 12 to Miss Martha Ann Hunter of Fairfield, Conn. He has been transferred from New York City to Los Angeles with the Reynolds Metals Co.

Born: Randall Keith Filer on January 14 to Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Filer of Durham, N. C. The father is now assistant professor of psychology at Duke University.

Benjamin H. Weston is back in service in the Army. He was recalled last December.

On June 15, the Rev. O. Edwyn Luttrell preached the baccalaureate sermon at Towson State Teachers College in Maryland. Ed has completed one year in the pastorate of the First Baptist Church at Baltimore.

Dr. H. O. Burnette is practicing general medicine at Randleman, N. C.

John L. Decker reports he's an assistant resident at the Presbyterian Hospital in New York City.

Married: M. R. Irby, Jr., to Miss Lila Louise Howard on May 31.

Maj. Joseph P. Nash, Jr., recently received orders to return to the United States from Korea under the Army's "phase out" program for National Guardsmen. Joe has been assigned to X Corps Headquarters as air officer for the G-2 (intelligence) section.

1944—

Dr. Richard Norton Baylor has been appointed by the City of Richmond as a medical examiner in the employees' medical service.

William F. Scheerer, recently discharged from service in the Marine Corps where he was a captain, is now attending summer school at the University of Richmond. He plans to teach at Goldsboro, N. C., High School next fall.

Married: James T. Hatcher, Jr., to Miss Betty Schrock on June 12. The couple are living in Richmond.

1945—

Lt. (JG) W. W. Walthall of the Naval Medical Corps was married to Miss Virginia May Ludwig on June 28. The couple are to live in Queens Village, Long Island, N. Y.

Born: Harry Webster Baldwin, III, on August 23, 1951, to the Rev. and Mrs. Harry W. Baldwin, Jr. Mr. Baldwin recently became Rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church and Chaplain of St. Andrew's Parochial School in Richmond.

1946—

Dr. Ezra Goyings, Jr., '46, who finished his studies in the Graduate School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania last month, signed on as ship's surgeon with the Grace Line for a cruise to South America. He began an appointment as resident in internal medicine at the Guthrie Clinic on July 1.

Married: The Rev. Scott C. Hutton, Jr., was married to Miss Helen Marie Landis on June 20.

Married: Paul Strickland to Miss Ruth Boykin on September 21, 1951.

Engaged: Oakley James Graham, Jr., to Miss Gladys Virginia Hanks.

Married: The Rev. Harold W. Tribble, Jr., was married to Miss Muriel Martin on June 28. Tribble writes he's received his B.D. degree from Andover Newton and is now working on his Ph.D. His wife received her M.A. degree from the Harvard Graduate School this June.

1947—

Born: Cathy Sue August on January 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. August, of Richmond.

Married: Robert Lewis McDanel to Miss Jewell Slusher on June 14. McDanel is the son of Dr. R. C. McDanel, professor of History at the University of Richmond.

Engaged: John Atkinson, Jr., to Miss Kathryn Louise Mumma. The wedding is scheduled for the fall.

Engaged: George Patteson Williams, Jr., to Miss Alice Mae Verra. Both are University of Richmond alumni.

An August wedding for Richard Henry Gibbs and Miss Lois Anne West.

Charles B. Dickerson, Jr., of Amelia, an Air Force sergeant, has been overseas for two years now. He's serving with the Third Field Hospital in Korea.

1948—

The Rev. Kenneth Crumpton, Jr., of Richmond, was recently ordained to the Lutheran ministry. He's accepted a call as assistant pastor of the First Lutheran Church at Norfolk.

Married: Phillip Clayton Yerby, III, to Miss Virginia Imogene Tipton on May 28. He received his degree in medicine from the Medical College of Virginia in June.

Born: Henry Sterling Trigg on March 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Locke Trigg, of Baltimore.

Born: Sara Elizabeth Rowe on December 30, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. William F. Rowe, of Baltimore.

Clinton L. China reports that he has been associated with the Georgia Institute of Technology as a member of the faculty and Assistant Director of the Evening School since May 5. He adds, "I have completed the course work for an M.S. degree from the North Carolina State College and am currently preparing my thesis in absentia."

Married: Major John S. Dennis to Miss Joan Johnson on March 24.

Donald L. Ball is now assistant manager of the George Washington Hotel in Ocean City, Md., in the summer, while in the winter he works at the Robert Whitney Hotel in Bradenton, Fla.

Married: Dr. William Cardwell Amos to Miss Jane Ellen Schultz on June 22.

Engaged: Stuart Lee William to Dorothy Lee Poarch, a July wedding slated.

Joseph S. James, Jr., writes that he is now employed as assistant technical supervisor of the chemical department of American Enka Corporation at Enka, N. C.

1949—

George Calhoun Field, Jr., Wilmington, N. C., was recently ordained to the Sacred Order of Deacons at St. John's Episcopal Church there.

Born: Paul Italo Ferramosca on March 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Italo Ferramosca, of Richmond.

Engaged: Donald B. Fendler to Miss Joan T. Aberle, a fall wedding scheduled.

William Thomas Smith, Jr., was ordained to the Baptist ministry on June 14 at Ginter Park Baptist Church in Richmond.

Herrick Stuart Massie, Jr., was married to Miss Doris Louise Anderson at South Sudbury, Mass., on April 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Marks, Jr., proudly announce the birth of their daughter, Linda, on June 18.

Joy is in two's for the Rev. and Mrs. Walter B. Barger who received a welcome addition, Brenda Jeanne, on July 24, 1951. Walter is pastor of a Baptist church at Hammondsport, N. Y.

Gordon Cousins is now a salesman in Richmond for the Southern Biscuit Co.

Born: Martha Converse Wilbourne to Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Wilbourne on May 22.

Married: Sidney Taylor Adair, Jr., to Miss Patricia Barksdale Johnson.

Married: Calvin Collidge Vernon to Miss Grace Ward Powell on February 19.

Married: Oliver Bruce Cross, Jr., to Miss Patricia Lois James on April 6.

Married: George Ira Johnson to Miss Ethel LaVerne Blankenship on May 25.

Married: James Ashby Moncure to Miss Jane Bruce Belk on June 14th.

Engaged: Shelley Harrell to Miss Rachel Sarah Eddy, an early fall wedding planned.

Married: Howard Tribble Sutton was married to Miss Laura Shirley Armstrong in May.

MULE WARFARE

Lt. Paul B. Beverly, '49, is executive officer for Battery "A," of the Fourth Field Artillery Battalion (Pack) at Camp Carson, Colorado. It is the last of the U. S. Army artillery units that still uses animals for transportation.

The duty is considerably different from that of World War II when he was an airborne forward observer. For heroic service he won the DFC, the Bronze Star with cluster and V, the Air Medal with 8 clusters, the Navy Presidential Unit Citation with 2 stars, the Army Presidential Unit Citation with cluster, and, more lately, the Korean Presidential Unit Citation.

Lt. Beverly, who has learned to ride "without being thrown too often," thinks much can be said for the mule as a carrier of 75mm pack howitzers. "We are capable," he says, "of operating on terrain that will stop even the mighty jeep," and are "especially effective in mountainous country."

Married: William Neville Gee, Jr., to Miss Helen May Harper on June 22.

George O. McClary has been appointed to a graduate research assistantship in the Instructional Film Research Program at Penn State. There he plans to continue his study in clinical psychology.

John Zizak has accepted a position at the Kempsville, Va., High School as assistant coach in football and head coach in wrestling.

Charles W. Coppedge, now an ensign aboard the U.S.S. Franklin D. Roosevelt, was recently graduated from the Naval Officer Candidate School at Newport, R. I.

John Goode, who graduated from the University of Virginia Law School on June 9, expects to enter the service soon.

David Clay Sager has assumed duties of manager of the Insurance Department of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., at Salisbury, N. C.

1950—

Joseph A. Arcaro, Jr., is at present a sophomore in the School of Pharmacy of the Medical College of Virginia.

A spring wedding for Eugene Du Laney, Jr., and Miss Mary Margaret Terrell.

Born: Richard Allen Claybrook, Jr., on May 13 to Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Claybrook.

Married: Myron Morgan Yagel to Miss Bobbie Lee Brown on May 19. The couple is making their home in Richmond at 3233 Patterson Ave.

Engaged: J. B. Hall, Jr., to Miss Susan Bowman Peters.

He started at the top, that is Herbert R. Blackwell who's now in Omaha with the Army as assistant adjutant for the Nebraska Military District.

Thomas L. Bondurant has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the artillery after completing 22 weeks of training at Fort Bliss, Tex.

Also in the army is Richard C. Tutwiler, stationed at Gonsenheim, Germany.

Now at the Bank of Virginia after a stint in the Marine Corps is Wayne A. Freeland.

The Rev. Letcher H. Reid, now studying at the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., recently conducted an evangelistic campaign at Raleigh Forbes Memorial Baptist Church in Richmond.

James A. McClellan is now in the Air Force in communications in Korea.

Thomas L. Howard is working with the Koppers Co., in Pittsburgh in market research.

Kent Lee Kiser was recently graduated from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

Paul Woodfin has begun work on his M.A. degree at Columbia University.

The Rev. Aubrey (Buddy) Rosser has accepted an assistant pastorate at the First Baptist Church at South Boston for the summer. Buddy is studying at Southeastern Baptist Seminary at Wake Forest, N. C.

Just out of the Marine Corps is William A. (Gus) Brown who's now claim manager of Mutual of Omaha.

Stuart B. Cary recently was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Another armyite is Rafael A. Nunoz-Noya who's a corporal in the U. S. Army. He expects to go to O.C.S. soon.

Married: William Evans Long was to have been married in June to Miss Lillian Anne Cox.

An August wedding is scheduled for Rudolph George Hetzer, Jr., to Miss Cile Scott Sarver.

Married: The Rev. Ernest Linwood Harris to Miss Rose Gentry Carr on June 21. Ernie is now pastor of the North Albemarle Baptist Field at Charlottesville.

1951—

Engaged: Rudolph Lee Gurley to Miss Margie Ruth Pittman.

Born: Dorothy Anne Flannagan on Oct. 30, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Flannagan.

Albert D. Murden has received his M.A. degree from Harvard and plans to teach in Portsmouth, provided his draft board cooperates.

Samuel L. Smith, III, is now a research scientist with the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at the Langley Laboratory at Langley Field.

An August wedding for Arthur Benjamin Frazier and Miss Hazel Hall Hootman. Art is attending the School of Medicine of the Medical College of Virginia.

"I am now an agent with the New York Life Insurance Co." in Richmond, writes W. Spilman Short.

A freshman at the Medical College of Virginia's School of Dentistry is Gilbert Frank DeBiasi.

A summer wedding for John Claude Edmonds, Jr., and Miss Nancy Louise Clement.

A June 21 wedding for James Henry Dwyer and Miss Evelyn Josephine Cox. Henry is now at M.C.V.

Engaged: Fred Bender, U. S. Army, to Miss Barbara Tavss. Fred is attending O.C.S. at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Aberdeen, Md.

Married: John Harry Hastings to Miss Jane Wheeler Vaughn on May 27.

A late summer wedding for Carol Hughes Kinsey and Miss Ann Beaman Martin.

Elwood L. Coates is now manager of the domestic section of the new Hecht's branch store in Parkington, Va.

Henry Pollard Cobb at present is establishing time standards for all the aircraft maintenance squadrons in the 91st Strategic Reconnaissance Air Force Wing. He recently assisted in setting up a planned inspection procedure for B-45 type jet aircraft.

A June 21 wedding for David Robert Hensley, Jr., and Miss Helen Douglas Clark at Winchester, Ky.

Bill Shahda is attending the Wharton Graduate School of Finance and Commerce in Philadelphia.

1952—

Married: Philip Joseph Snider, Jr., to Miss Thelma Louise Childer on June 18.

A June wedding for Russell Munford Winn and Miss Constance Graige Cooke. Russ is now serving in the U. S. Air Force.

A late summer wedding for Walter Lewis (Baby) Nelms and Miss Billie Lou Melville.

Claude J. Dawson, Jr., will marry Miss Ellen Ruth Lane in August, her parents have announced.

Married: Robert Donald Johnson, Jr., to Miss Frances Estelle Lyon on May 20.

GROUND BROKEN FOR LODGES

Ground has been broken for the first three of the lodges which will be located on Fraternity Row on the west side of College Road.

The builders are Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The lodges, which are of one-story brick construction, will cost approximately $20,000 each. The plans call for a large living room which can be used for social functions and for meetings of the chapter, a small kitchen, and a bedroom for the two chapter members who will live on the premises and serve as caretakers. There will be a full bathroom and, in addition, a lavatory and a powder room.

Under the University's lodge plan, each of the twelve brotherhoods which now occupy houses or space in the dormitories must be in lodges by 1957. After five of the fraternities have built lodges, the three fraternities which now occupy houses—Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Sigma, and Theta Chi—will be given a period of three years in which to move into lodges.

Westhampton Class Notes

1919 Secretary
MRS. PALMER HUNDLEY (Helen Hancock)
3021 Noble Avenue, Richmond, Virginia

Well we made it!

We were among the top ten in the percentage of giving. . . . It's the "Old Spirit" still in us.

It has been so much fun hearing from so many of you.

Juliette is all for having a Reunion in 1954—How about it????

The letters are coming so fast and there are so many interesting things about all of the "girls"—I'll just wait until the Fall Issue to give you the personal news. . . . However, I must mention that Mildred McDanel is all excited today, June 14th—her son is getting married today.

So until September—

1921 Secretary
MRS. E. L. DUPUY (Catherine Little)
Spencer, Virginia

I almost didn't write this bit of news, but somehow I just can't let our space be vacant in those columns! Especially, I am glad to report that 16 of our number have as of now contributed to the Alumnae Fund. We haven't done many square inches of the Swimming Pool with our amounts yet, but every little bit helps!

Our sincere sympathy goes to Maie Collins Robinson. Maie lost her mother in March and we were late hearing about it.

Elizabeth Elsea, who teaches Chemistry in Arlington, keeps her family house going at certain times during the year for her family gatherings. She makes visits to Richmond ever so often.

Mildred Rucker Oaks wrote that her son Howard would graduate in June from Wesleyan University and expects to enter Harvard next autumn to study dentistry. Mildred lost her husband in 1935 and has since been teaching part of the time in Temple University, but most of the time in Camden (N. J.) High School. She wishes she knew what we look like! Shall we send her snapshots of ourselves?

Marion Stoneman, who lives in Lynchburg, says she and her husband usually take advantage of the cultural programs at the three nearby colleges. She says they have had to cut down their activities because of his health.

Your Secretary was again elected Recording Secretary of the Virginia Baptist W. M. U. at its annual session in Danville. I am happy to be of some service with so fine a group of women.

1923 Secretary
MRS. EVAN LACY (Camilla Wimbish)
1324 Wilkerson Street, South Boston, Va.

Vacation time again! I hope yours is proving just the kind you need. Of course all of us can't sail for Europe as did Thurma Valentine Baxter. She returned June 16 on the Queen Elizabeth. I wish we could gather around and hear her give an account of her trip.

Recently I had a most interesting letter from Melba Harvey Booth. She is living in Danville. I want you to enjoy parts of her letter with me. She writes, "We have a wonderful family, a mighty nice Dad and three grown children. We are so proud of them. . . . Bill, our oldest, a graduate of the University of Virginia, is an architect, located in Charlottesville, with the firm of Stainback & Scribner. He is happy in his work. . . . Melba is a graduate of Longwood College and has been teaching in Fairfax for the past three years. Next fall she will enter Southwestern at Fort Worth, Texas, to get her degree in Religious Education. We are so happy that she has made this decision. . . . John, our youngest, is president of the freshman class at U. of R." I know that you are as pleased as I am to have this news of Melba and her family. She wants to hear from Ruth Campbell and Marjorie Downs. Please write me about them so I can pass it on to Melba and other interested members of our class.

Margaret Ostergren sends word that she plans to join us next June for our reunion. I am already looking forward to it. Our grey hairs and grandchildren will be wonderful topics of conversation. I have both. The first I don't mind and am doing nothing about; the second I adore and wouldn't be without. (Mercy, I didn't mean to make a rhyme!)

Ethney Selden Headlee writes that she went over on Eastern Shore during Garden Week and saw Rennie Parks Rue and her attractive fourteen year old daughter.

Donzella George Harper's mother-in-law died very recently. We send our love and sympathy to her.

Lelia Doan's mother fell early in April and broke her hip. She has been in the hospital ever since and has been very uncomfortable. Lelia and her sister, Wilmot, spend a good bit of their time going back and forth to see about her. Our love to both of them.

The Alumnae Board held the annual tea for the Senior Class at Ruth Powell Tyree's lovely new home in Windsor Farms on May 14. Jo Tucker and Hannah Coker were there.

A recent letter from Aggie Taylor Grey brought a very generous check for the swimming pool fund. I have had no definite figures from Leslie so I can't give you a report of our contributions. I am sure they will compare favorably with the best.

Evan and I went to the State Banker's Convention in Roanoke in May.

Happy vacation to each of you! Drop me a card so I can keep up with you and your interesting doings.

1924 Secretary
MRS. J. A. BROADDUS (Norma Coleman)
4211 Augusta Avenue, Richmond, Virginia

I am so happy to have some news of Elizabeth Carver Cosby to pass on to you. She and her husband, Stewart Carver, have lived these past 25 years all over the U. S. A., from Seattle, Washington, to Miami, Florida, and have traveled over most of this hemisphere. During the war years Elizabeth lived up and down the West Coast while her husband was in the service, a captain in the Coast Artillery Corps. At present she frequently tags along with said husband who is now sales engineer for seven states with a bakery equipment company. In addition, Elizabeth is busy with their 36 acre home, "Little Gardens," near Lawrenceville, Georgia. Here they raise vegetables, fruits, pecans, but mostly shrubs and flowers. They specialize in camellias, roses, and gardenias, and have a row of blue ribbons to show for their horticulture. Elizabeth is a past president of the Johnson Estates Garden Club, and is avidly interested in flower arrangements et cetera! I certainly hope to see her when I visit in Atlanta this summer.

Another letter brings us news from Bernie Whitlock Bowles. Her son, Page, who was in Germany for four years, is now home. The younger boy, Fred, who was at the University of Richmond last year, is now a plebe at Annapolis where Commander Bowles teaches. Bernie herself keeps busy with home and community interests. She is at present secretary of the Y.W.C.A. board of directors. Recently she went all out as a Red Cross Volunteer Worker for the Bloodmobile and was personally responsible for many donations. The Annapolis Evening Capital gave her special commendation for this work. In addition to active work in the College Woman's Club she is now helping to organize a branch chapter of A.A.U.W., an organization of which she was Virginia State President 1936-1938. Ceramics is a new hobby—just in case she has time on her hands.

Wilhelmina Wright, Inez Hite, Virginia Clore Johnson, Margaret Fugate Carlton, and I enjoyed being together at the annual Alumnae Fund dinner and meeting. Virginia's daughter has been a student at Mary Washington in Fredericksburg this year. Her son graduates from Thomas Jefferson High School in June. Inez's older daughter, Mary Jane, is a sophomore at T. J. Margaret Carlton got a running start on most of us. Her second grandchild was born this spring.

Your '24 committee enjoyed writing to you recently, personally and in behalf of the Alumnae Fund. If perchance you have not yet sent Leslie a check for this school session, send it now or during the summer months to her office at Westhampton.

Come June, school is out for me also, and I promise at least a post card of news to each of you.

1929 Secretary
MRS. W. S. SIMPSON (Violet Cervarich)
4413 Wythe Avenue, Richmond, Va.

I had a very interesting letter from Elizabeth Chandler Cox, who has two sons and a daughter in school and who spent the past year as school librarian—a job which she found very enjoyable but which kept her pretty busy.

I also had a card from Elizabeth Hale who was in Miami. She was sorry not to be able to be at Westhampton for Commencement, but for those of you who came back I am sure the program was of unusual interest. Virginia Perkins Yeaman was Alumnae Day Chairman and I know the Committee worked hard to make the occasion a memorable one.

Virginia's daughter, Ann Carol, who graduated in June from Thomas Jefferson H. S. will enter Westhampton in the fall and live in the dormitory. At Thomas Jefferson she was elected to the National Honor Society and was also one of 45 finalists in the Talent Search Contest of the Virginia Academy of Science.

Mary Richardson Butterworth's daughter who is in the 8th grade at Collegiate School for Girls had the leading male role in a play which was Garrett & Massie, Inc.

PRINTERS OF PUBLICATIONS, BOOKS
ADVERTISING

Dial 2-2809

1406 East Franklin Street
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

written and produced by the children in the class. They all had a wonderful time and the play was really good, too!

Louise Hardaway Boswell was in town recently looking as young and chipper as usual. She and Helen Moon had a fine time visiting.

Trudy Ryland Harlan (Mrs. H. H.) has recently moved and is now located at 1228 Greensboro Road, Birmingham, Alabama. Which reminds me—when you move please be sure you let me or Mrs. R. E. Booker, Alumnae Secretary, know your new address. It makes us feel mighty sad to have the BULLETIN returned with "incorrect address" or "unknown at this address" stamped on it—and it costs money, too!

The Richmond group was thrilled recently to see a reprint in the Richmond Times-Dispatch of an editorial from the Culpeper Exponent by Mary Stevens Jones on "Adlai Stevenson's Virginia Ancestry." Haven't I told you repeatedly that '29 is hard to beat?

Guy Mattox, Jr., was one of 2 boys selected from V.P.I. to go on a tour of inspection to West Point Military Academy as a guest of the school to get firsthand information on the "whys" and "wherefores" of the Army. Military Schools throughout the U. S. were represented.

So long for the Summer—have lots of fun—let's make this a real vacation that will take us refreshed into the hustle and bustle of winter.

1930 Secretary (Pro Tem)

MRS. MATTHEW L. WOOD (Dorothy Abbott)
105 Banbury Road, Richmond, Virginia
MRS. GEORGE E. WITHERS (Jean Collier)
505 S. Davis Avenue, Richmond, Virginia

Our sincere sympathy goes to Alice Richardson Connell in the loss of her father in April, Mr. Wilbur P. Richardson.

Through the "Round-Robin" we learned: Elinor Bell Camper has been working with Du Pont for the past ten years.

Sallie Belote Copes is teaching in Yorktown, where she is now making her home.

Margaret Billings Sentz keeps up her interest in music by teaching and playing the organ. She has two sons, ages 11 and 5½.

Helen Bowman Lieb was elected in March to the office of National Committeewoman of the Republican Party from Florida. She will be a Delegate-at-Large to the National Convention in Chicago. Her son, Joe, Jr., age 5½, played in his first piano recital at the age of 4 and gave his first Concert last November at the auditorium in Tampa.

1935 Secretary

MRS. C. M. TATUM (Gladys Smith)
2105 Rosewood Avenue
Richmond 20, Virginia

A.A.U.W. activities claim the interest of a number of the members of our class. Jean Shafer will serve next year as treasurer of the group in Richmond. Nan Owen Manning and Helen Caulfield Ballard attended the State Convention in Richmond, as delegates for the Arlington and Norfolk clubs respectively. When I was in Suffolk in the spring, I saw a picture in a Norfolk newspaper of Helen, who is president of the Norfolk branch of the A.A.U.W.; her club was sponsoring an antique sale, and Helen was displaying some articles which she had donated. Mention has been made previously of the A.A.U.W. affiliations of Mary Anne Guy Franklin and Billy Rowlett Perkins, and no doubt there are others who are members too.

Congratulations to Dot Nalle Gerzeny, whose daughter, Anne Bolling, arrived March 28!

Helen Whitten Adams' new address after September will be 715 Riverside Drive, Richmond 25. Her new home is on a hill overlooking the James River, and such a setting sounds like perfection.

Helen talked with Connie Vaden Rupel when Connie visited her mother at Easter. Connie taught during the spring term and traveled West during the summer; her plans for the fall are indefinite.

Mary Harrington Meaker and her family plan to live in New England, where her husband will teach after receiving his Master's degree in June from the University of Vermont. We wish good things for Mary in the future, as we know she has had a struggle (but fun too) managing a home and three children while her husband attended college.

Alice Harrington Hunt will move to Orangeburg, South Carolina, as soon as the Du Pont plant at which her husband will work has been completed.

Sue Cook McClure Jones now lives at 4169 Via Solano, Palos Verdes, California. Her husband is employed at Pratt-Whitney Airplane Engine Company, and her oldest child is an airplane enthusiast. He hitches a ride at every opportunity and hopes to fly East during the summer to visit his grandmother. Sue Cook's other two children, Catherine and Allen, are about nine and six. We hope Sue Cook is planning to be in the East for our reunion in 1955.

Jackie Johnston Gilmore has been elected second vice-president of the Westham Garden Club.

Lola Williams Pierce is kept busy chauffeuring Cheryl and R. G. to dancing school, music lessons, and entertainments in which they take part.

Harriet Walton was Editor of Hockey Guide, the official rule book published every two years by NEA. Harriet left the day after St. Catherine's closed to instruct during the month of June for Sergeant School of Physical Education.

Otelia Francis Bodenstein still lives in Crownsville, Maryland, although her husband has been recalled to Army duty. Fortunately, he is stationed at the Pentagon. Otelia and her husband have bought a new boat.

Beverly Bates leads a busy life. She instructs at the Medical College of Virginia, both physical and occupational therapy, is a practicing therapist, and counsels parents of crippled children from all over Virginia in the care and exercise of their children. Bev had a card from Tess Carter Hawkins at Christmas but had no news of Tess to report.

Our class had its largest representation at a college function in recent years when Lottie Britt Callis, Mary Mills Freeman, Betsy Marston Sadler, Jean Shafer, Harriet Walton, and Sue Whittet Wilson went to the card party given in Keller Hall by the Richmond Alumnae Club to raise money for the Swimming Pool Fund. The good attendance was due to Mary Mills Freeman's efforts.

Betsy Marston Sadler helped to chaperone a church group of young people during a spring outing, and one of the other chaperones was Patsy Pitts Henderson, who was a freshman with us. Patsy married Willard T. Henderson and lives at 1221 Windsor Avenue in Richmond. Betsy says that Patsy has two lovely daughters.

Martha Saunders Ziebe, who did her junior year's work at Westhampton as a member of our class, has three daughters, one of whom is brand new.

I had a wonderful trip in April to the Deep South. I went on a conducted tour to Natchez, Baton Rouge, New Orleans, along the Gulf Coast, and to Mobile. I can recommend without qualification that part of the country in the spring. One of the ladies on the tour and I became good friends when she learned that I know Miss Keller. She is a Pi Phi and attended a convention in New Orleans (at the same hotel where we stayed) when Miss Keller was Pi Phi president many years ago. I bought a copy of a Sunday edition of the Memphis Commercial Appeal and enjoyed reading in it Rhea Talley's weekly column.

1937 Secretary

ELIZABETH ANGLE
521 N. Belmont Street, Richmond 21, Va.

While this is being written your regular news gatherer is having a wonderful vacation in Europe. Liz Angle and Monny Bowers left in May for Europe by plane and have planned their own itinerary. We're just green with envy and will be eagerly awaiting Liz's own account of her travels.

Our class family is again on the increase. Congratulations are in order for Louise and Pat Chewning on the birth of Robert Lewis on March 14. This is Louise's third son and fourth child. Also congratulations to Kitty Broyles Kerr on the birth of Bruce Broyles Kerr, on April 17. This is Kitty's third child and second boy.

By this time Margaret Mitchell Meador and family are settled in their new home in Windsor Farms, 214 Banbury Road.

Wedding bells will be ringing again in June. This time they're for Margaret Isbell and Meredith. Margaret wrote us in March that she and Meredith were building a home which was nearly completed. Joyce Stanley Smith will be one of her bridesmaids.

Florence Moore Flake and her husband, Joe, who has recently been promoted to Lt. Col., are busy these days working on their new home in Denbigh, Va. They and little Joe had a vacation in March in Washington and New York, their first leave since returning from Okinawa a year ago.

Peggy Louthan Shepherd with her two children was in town visiting her parents the first week in May.

We want to thank all of you who responded so generously to the call for contributions to the Alumnae Fund. Those of you who have intended sending your gifts and have just put it off, please do so as soon as possible. It's never too late.

Liz will be back on the job for the next issue of the BULLETIN, so don't forget to keep sending her your news.

Submitted by Nancy Chappell Pettigrew, 1015 West 47th St., Richmond 25, Va.

1938 Secretary

MRS. R. M. NOLTING, JR. (Peggy Lockwood)
Box 658, R.F.D. 8, Richmond, Virginia

We class secretaries have been quite disappointed over the lack of personal responses to our recent letters to you concerning the Alumnae Fund. It leaves us newsmongers with very little to report.

Martha Ellis Ross brought me up to date on her family in one of those grand newsy letters that are such a pleasure to receive. She and Aubrey have been living in Culpeper over a year now—address 210 East Street, North—and they love it. Their daughter, Barbara, our baby-cup winner, is nearly twelve years old now, and a daughter of whom they are justly proud. Martha and Barbara both had parts in their Little Theater Play this spring, and Barbara also went to Washington in June for the National Auditions in connection with her music! Besides being wife and mother, Martha is working at the local radio station, WCVA, doing script and continuity writing.

Elizabeth Shaw Burchill made the news recently, as many of you Richmonders may have noticed. She

John G. Kolbe, Inc.

311 EAST MAIN STREET
RICHMOND, VA.

Phone 2-8314

Equipment

FOR THE PREPARATION AND SERVING OF FOOD

CHINA ★ GLASS and SILVERWARE ★

For Thorough Planning of Your Kitchen, for More Efficient and Modern Operation . . . Call in Kolbe's won the tri-color ribbon for the most outstanding arrangement in the first annual flower show of the Village Garden Club in Westhampton. Congratulations, Liz!

I had a nice chat with Ruth Ruffin Banks on the telephone this afternoon. She and Bob have been living in Sandston for several years now with their two young sons.

Please let us hear from the rest of you during the next few months. Hope that Leslie Booker has heard from each of you by now with your contribution for the Alumnae Fund.

1940 Secretary

MISS KITTY LYLE

2920 Noble Avenue, Richmond, Virginia

News is pathetically scarce this issue for a class the size of ours, but you'd probably rather see a little bit in print than none at all.

It's a real pleasure to have heard something about Judith Lucas. I don't believe there has been anything in the BULLETIN about her for a long, long time. I talked with her mother and learned that she is teaching history at Iowa State College. She received her M.A. degree from the University of Chicago about four years ago and also completed part of her work toward her doctorate. Mrs. Lucas said that she was at home for a while last summer on vacation and hopes to get home again this summer.

Did you know that Lucy Baird is now working for a lawyer? Her new employers are Hunton, William, Anderson, Gay & Moore, and she is secretary to Mr. Lewis Powell. Lucy had a trip to central Florida before taking her new job, and on her return moved to a new address at 932 W. Franklin Street (Telephone 6-3070).

The Class of '40 was represented at the card party in April by Doris Hargrove Kibler, Harriett Yeamans Mercer, Dell Williams Smith, Mildred Gustafson Donohue and myself. And at a meeting of the Richmond Club at Mrs. Decker's home in May there were four from our class present—Helen Smith Moss, Elsie Mattingly Dickinson, Harriett Yeamans Mercer, and myself.

Let's hope that the fall issue of the BULLETIN will be bursting with news. With the intervening summer months there should certainly be new happenings in the lives of the class of '40.

1941 Secretary

MRS. S. G. HARDY (Bitsy Epes)

Blackstone, Virginia

Anne Addison Bowling is one of our chief informants this time. In a long newsy letter she has set us straight on the class triplets, and I quote:

"Betty Melius married Fred Menuke, a dentist. I believe she has everyone beaten as to offspring. Already having a son and daughter, Betty now has three darling girls who were two years old in March. The amazing part of all this is that she was in the iron lung up until the triplets were born. Betty had polio but recovered with little or no ill effects. Her address is 200 Chicago Boulevard, Sea Girt, New Jersey."

Anne and Brag have a son, Brag, Jr., aged 3½. They have a house in Arlington and would like to see anyone passing that way. She had news of some ex-members of our class: Margaret Curley Balch is in Trinidad and has three boys. To Anne's sorrow, Betty Page Kemp Stark has moved from Arlington to Spokane, Washington. Betty Page has three children and the youngest, Gary, is Anne's godson and very special. Betty Page enjoyed learning to ski during the winter.

Patsy Garrett Kokinacis returned to Richmond to appear at the Mosque May 3, when she sang for the annual dance revue of the Elinor Fry School of Dance.

The Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs held their convention in Richmond in April. Lib Henry Belcher (Mrs. J. Raymond, Jr.) was elected secretary-treasurer of the junior clubs in the State at their business session, held in conjunction with the VFWC convention.

Teeny Evans Hardin's husband's name is appearing in many newspapers. While Gray and I were spending some time in Durham, N. C., this spring, Bristow's picture appeared in the Durham paper. He had been elected President of the Carolina Dramatic Association, comprising directors of community, college, and school groups, at a recent business session at the University of North Carolina. Then, in our Blackstone paper, a front page article was plugging the sixth consecutive production of "The Common Glory," Paul Green's stirring symphonic drama to run July 1 through August 31 at Williamsburg, Virginia. It stated, "Bristow Hardin, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., with the show every year since its opening except the 1949 season, will again be cast as Lord Dunmore." We hope Teeny and her family will again spend the summer months with the Hardins, Sr., at Virginia Beach so that some of us vacationing there might see her.

Louise Morrissey was married to Wilbur Joseph Moyer, of Lilly, Penn., Saturday, May 3, at 10 A.M. at St. Benedict's Catholic Church in Richmond. After a Southern wedding trip, they will make their home in Washington, D. C.

Virginia Lee Ball Glover (Mrs. P. LeRoy) leads

a busy life. In April she helped friends in Gloucester pick and ship daffodils for which that section of Virginia is famous. During the House and Garden tour there in May, she was hostess in one of the homes. She was glad to see Helen Martin Laughon who brought a group of friends from Norfolk to visit the homes. Also in May she and LeRoy went to Virginia Beach for a wonderful Jaycee convention at which they saw Rue and String (Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Stringfellow). Sometime soon Virginia Lee plans to have a meeting of the Peninsula Alumnae Group at her home.

Virginia Lee called Barbara Eckles Grizzard (Mrs. Stuart) in Norfolk recently. Things seem to be going fine with them, especially as their church's Good Will Center has been opened.

Betty Keese Rhodes (Mrs. L. F.) has a daughter, Margaret Granville Rhodes, who was born Easter Sunday morning.

Tinsy Garrett Buckler is hoping her husband, Lt. Col. Philip C. Buckler, will be home the last of July. Phil has been in Japan for ten months and in Korea for twelve months. During this time, Tinsy has been here in Blackstone with her parents.

Do any of you have the address for Evelyn Pomeroy Umstadd (Mrs. Lee)?

It's always good to hear from Eleanor Kindell Miller. My twelve year old niece who wants to go to Westhampton is especially happy as she adds to her collection of foreign stamps this way. The latest correspondence from Eleanor came from Venezuela in April, saying that she and Carter were on their way back to Aruba after taking a ten day trip on a Dutch ship, the Willemstad. They went from Aruba to Puerto Limon in Costa Rica, then to Cristobal, Panama, where they had their first look at the Panama Canal.

I want to share with you a nice letter from Margaret Purcell Spindler (Mrs. V. J., Jr.), who is living at 4347 Virginia Park, Detroit, Michigan: "Last summer while the children and I were at Mother's I started with my oil paints again, not having touched them since my Senior year in class under Marcia Silvette. I did a portrait of my grandfather, William Warren Harrison Lee, which Mother has, and since then I've done several others. Last month I presented a portrait to our minister at his birthday celebration. (She enclosed a clipping from the Detroit Free Press which told of this.) Since the portrait was presented (it hangs in the church lounge), I have received commissions to do three more. I'm very happy about it, as I love painting. All this leads up to the fact that I've decided to send a check to the Alumnae Association every time I'm paid for a portrait." We're proud of you, Purcy, especially since your time to paint must be limited because of the children.

1942 Secretary

ANN PAVEY GARRETT

1708 Grandview Drive, Richmond, Va.

By the time this news reaches you our tenth reunion will be here and gone and I hope a success because so many could be here.

Lillian Jung wrote a newsy letter telling about those in her group. Beth MacMurtry Clark and Frank have a baby, Jay Weston Clark, whose birthday is February 29. She also reported her recent visit to see Evelyn Cosby Jackson and family. Their new address is 45B Brookside Drive, Richfield Village, Clifton, New Jersey. Lillian had heard from Clarine in the Azores and learned that they are planning a month's leave in Europe this summer. Mary Hoffman wrote Lillian of her work with the Young Women's Republican Club and her full time job in a law office. Lillian had news from Mary Benjamin from our freshman year. She is Mrs. Irving Rosenthal and lives at 114-38 196th Street, St. Albans, L. I., New York. They had their first baby recently. Lillian also sent Evelyn Clifton Wisawaty's new home address: 1658 Sherwood, Baltimore 12, Maryland.

Lila Wicker Hunt wrote me recently to say that they would arrive in Richmond one month too late for reunion, because of her husband's Army Reserve duty. I'm sorry about the delay but hope the Richmond girls can see her and the children during her visit. John Wicker Hunt, now four, has a sister, Sara Katherine, who is eight months old. Lila reported gardening, Girl Scouts and

ESPECIALLY FOR YOU

For young men and women who are preparing themselves for business and professional careers, The Life Insurance Company of Virginia has designed a special plan which offers maximum protection at minimum cost.

If you cannot, just now, afford to own—on a regular plan—all the life insurance you need, but can look forward with reasonable assurance to a good future income, this special plan will ideally suit your needs.

Ask a Life of Virginia Representative to tell you about the many advantages of our Modified Life Plan.

THE LIFE
Insurance Company OF VIRGINIA

Established 1871 • Richmond, Virginia

free lance advertising for her activities. Doesn't she sound busy?

Esther Wendling Cline wrote that she and her husband have a new business, steel windows, and that they are hard at work selling, delivering, and collecting the sales.

Our congratulations go to Jayne Maire Massie who was elected President of Fifth District, Junior Woman's Clubs. She is also Recruitment Chairman, Henrico Red Cross.

Florine Mahone Palmer wrote saying she would be here for reunion and told about her family. She has three children, Charles, Jr., 10, Bobby, 8, and Carol Lynn, 5.

Pat Abernathy Riley hoped to be here but her plans were tentative because of her husband's hand injury. Her boys are now seven and five. Pat's activities include volunteer work for the Junior League and being editor and contributor to the Junior League Newsheet.

The Navy is cooperative in arranging for Commander Crutchfield's leave for the month of June and therefore Kay and Bob will be with us all weekend.

It takes reunion letters to hear from some of you who have been hiding but now we know what Lucy Burke Allen Meyer is doing. Her address is 667 29th Avenue, San Mateo, California. They have two boys, Christopher, 5, and Hal, 3. She is busy as president of Parents' Cooperative Nursery School. We are sorry that they won't be coming east this year.

Wilmer Peck Gambill of Norwich, Conn., wrote that she would be unable to attend the reunion but asked that I extend her best wishes to all. She said that Randy is senior physician at the Norwich State Hospital. Their son, David, will be five in June.

Dorothy Quinn Keeling and Bob are planning to be here Saturday and Sunday. Dot reported on her work as Chairman of Mecklenburg County Chapter, Virginia Orchestra Guild. She is active also in Junior Woman's Club and Garden Club in South Hill.

Annie Loie Walker Seacat is disappointed that they can't be in Richmond on the weekend of the reunion but it conflicts with Lot's law exams. They expect to come on about June 15.

Dorothy Hull wrote a note expressing her regrets on not being able to come to Richmond for reunion.

Ethne Flanagan Higginbotham is planning to come. Their new address is 123 E. Ward Street, Hightstown, New Jersey. Her husband is pastor of the First Baptist Church and their two children are Ethne Lee, 5, and Robert Leland, born November 6, 1951. Ruth Farley Linthicum is planning to be here from Silver Spring and we are glad that Jean Grant is coming from Atlanta.

Harriet Howe Byrider called after the last issue had gone to press to report their daughter, Barbara Anna, who was born December 12. They have moved from Ohio to Jeannette, Pennsylvania.

Mary Grace Scherer Taylor's second son was born May 20th. His name is John Bruce Taylor. That seems to be all the news for now.

1943 Secretary
MRS. R. M. HATHAWAY ("Pepper" Gardner)
7115 Dexter Road, Richmond 26, Va.

Well, I feel like chanting "I'm back doing business at the same old stand," but this time it's only on a temporary basis. Reba has resigned as class secretary and Mrs. Booker asked me to do this issue. By the time fall comes, however, your new secretary will be ready to take up for next year. My news this time is about the Richmond girls—present and ex—in other words, those I could get in touch with by phone.

In addition to about three jobs she does on a regular basis, Reba Booker Fox has a new interest—a twice-a-week TV show. It's called, "Here's How," and, as the name implies, is full of good ideas (with demonstrations). Apparently, there's no field barred for Reba has tips on things from sewing and cooking to making lamp shades and place cards. Tommy at 7 months stands up and walks around his play pen, and Reba's dream of having one child not start an active life so early seems crushed!

Mickey Allman Cage, Norman, and 2 year old Norman, Jr., are enjoying their country life on a 200 acre farm near Beaver Dam, Virginia. Norman is still with the railroad, but he finds time enough left to manage their farm. Evelyn Allen Krause is back in Richmond after a number of years in Vesuvius, Va. Charles is the new director of the audiovisual aid department of the Presbyterian Board of Education. Evelyn taught school for the past two years, but now finds keeping up with 4 year old Charles Allen a full time job.

Carolyn Babb Heflin is still in Norfolk. She, Bill and the two children were down for Alumnae Day and seem to get to most of the big functions at college now. I wish more of you could get back. Carolyn and I have a rather neat arrangement worked out for our 4 year old sons. We exchange visits so that once or twice during the year each of us is minus at least one child. It works very nicely.

Jean Bowers McCammon and Sam still live in Richmond, where Sam is the pastor of the Fairfield Presbyterian Church. Anne is enjoying school and 3 year old John is an ideal baby according to his mother. Fran Beazley Bell and Bob now live in Reading, Mass. They have another new house (I do believe Fran must have set a record for moving into and finishing new houses), and also a fairly new son. Jonathan Alden Bell made his appearance on New Year's Day. Four year old Carolyn is a big help with the baby. Bob is with a Boston bank.

Louise Cardoza Long is just finishing up a busy year of Junior Woman's Club work. She was the president of the Monacan club last year. Jean Crobarger Carver will be moving to Philadelphia soon. Her husband, Sidney, is working for the Firestone Co., and Jean hopes to take some classes at the U. of Pa. next fall.

I called Virginia Delp Ogg and was perfectly amazed to learn that she has four children—3 boys and a girl. The youngest, Samuel Bruce, was born March 13th. Wade is an engineer for Stone and Webster and they live in the west end of Richmond. Evelyn Flax Mirmelstein also has a new son, her second, Robert, born Nov. 15th. And Sweetie Emerson McSweeney's answer to my query as to what she'd been doing was wonderful—"Golly, Pepper, I stay busy just refereeing!" Sweetie's fifth will be one year old in June—3 boys and 2 girls.

I had a nice chat with Shirley Huxter Corson, and I was delighted that I happened to call the week she and 3 year old Miriam were in town. Shirley and Blake have a new house in Hilton Village. Barbara Fuller Cox and Al are also back in Hilton after some months in Annapolis.

Another person I caught in town on a visit was June Hargrove Ruble. I didn't see 3 year old Judy, but they tell me she looks like a doll with her blond hair and big blue eyes. June says that Mary Kayhoe Ford has taken her 3 children and gone to join her husband in Germany.

Barbara Krug Evans is in the throes of moving again and, believe me, with two boys that isn't easy! After a lovely year in Waynesboro and purchasing an ideal house, Evan has been transferred back to Wilmington, Delaware, this time with duPont.

Bee Lewis Talbott and Dave have a new house in Annapolis that they built. I assume they are in by now. I had a letter from Bee in Jan. and tho' they were to have been in by Christmas, they were hoping then to settle for Easter. Davey is 4 and a man of skates, scooter, and station wagon.

Shorty Nuckols Claytor has recently gotten a very nice promotion with the telephone company. She is a service supervisor, and also does civilian defense volunteer work. Joni Johnston Black and Bobby are busy trying to get their house and yard back in shape after two years of renting while Bobby was back in the Army.

Pudge Phillips Starke and Tom have recently moved into their new home in Goochland county. They are thoroughly enjoying six months old Bert (Robert Ashton) who is thoroughly enjoying exploring the new house on all fours! Marguerite Shell Ritchie is still nurse, receptionist, and general office help for George. She was recently elected vice-president of the Fifth District of Jr. Woman's Clubs.

After being in Richmond for several years Harriet Lewis Goodman and Harold are moving to Washington. Harold is going into practice with another radiologist. The two children are fine, but house hunting long distance is no fun, according to Harriet. Max Williams Rogers and Bob are also going into a new home in South Richmond. Carol Louise celebrated her first birthday, May 15, by learning to walk.

The Hathaways are "going outdoors" in a big way these days. At least, it seems a good part of our time is spent with the yard and flower garden. I'm not sure yet whether it's because we are nature lovers, or because we've discovered that's a good way to keep Bobby and Ricky, Skippy (our dog) and Tar-Baby (our cat) out. At least, we're all sporting nice tans. You'll be hearing from me during the fall and winter in relation to the questionnaire for our scrapbook, and it isn't too early to start thinking and planning for that big reunion in 1953. See you next June!

1944 Secretary
MRS. W. A. STANSBURY (Ann Burcher)
5814 Guthrie Avenue, Richmond, Virginia

Memories of our very wet first Saturday in May came to me when I went out to the campus for one of the very few sunny May Days in years. My children discovered Millie Cox Goode and Courtney (age 5) by the balloon booth and we all watched the coronation together. Those of you who attended the Richmond Alumnae Card party saw Courtney model a bathing suit in a fashion show inspired by the Swimming Pool Fund. Millie and Mary Alderson Graham have joined a group of golfers who play regularly. They were even in a tournament recently.

Billy Jane Baker had a grand letter from Butsy Muller Goldsmith who is also going in for exercise—"Since September I've been going to a modern dancing exercise class. Me, who took

Josten's Official Class Ring

STAN MARTIN

513 North Boulevard

Apt. 6 Dial 4-5232

RICHMOND • VIRGINIA

triple gym my senior year to graduate, going voluntarily to what amounts to a strenuous gym class every week! I can actually do 10 push-ups and I know the fundamentals of the can-can." Butsy has also joined an amateur dramatic group and directed a one act play in March. She sandwiches these activities in with volunteer work for three different organizations.

Spring brought warm, sunny days and to some people—hay fever. Billy Jane had a phone call from Doris Hedgepeth Neal in May. Doris and her husband were both in Richmond for allergy tests.

In June, Pierce and Heppy Patterson Ellis moved their family to Nashville where Pierce has a new job with the Abingdon-Cokesburg Press. He will take part in an executive training program which is something new in the publishing business.

My family is all agog because Warren is a civilian again. The Navy kept him for 17 months—too long to suit me.

Because she graduated with the summer school class of '43, Margery Peple has not been on our class roster and was not on the address list. I think she should be considered a member of our class and so does Margery so you will want to add her name and address (108 Tonbridge Rd.—Richmond) to your list. After graduating from Westhampton, Margery studied Occupational Therapy at R.P.I. Upon completion of her course she began working at Pine Camp Tuberculosis Hospital where she has now been promoted to Chief of Rehabilitation. Her duties include vocational guidance and educational placement, since their facilities offer scholastic as well as vocational training.

Another addition to our class list is Ruth Jones Wilkins who attended classes at Westhampton our senior year. She is currently teaching English at R.P.I. and MCV. We appreciate her contribution to the Alumnae Association of maps with Ellen Glasgow scenes which were part of the work on her Masters Degree at Westhampton last year. The proceeds from the sale of these maps will go to the Reading Room.

We have some very vital statistics—the first of which is the birth of Fleet Watson Kirk (named for both his grandfathers) on March 15. This is the second for Bill and Dee Dee Howe Kirk whose little "Kathy" was two years old in June.

Nell Collins Thompson and Bob are the proud parents of a baby girl, Nancy Robin, born on March 25.

Gene Shepard Kever reports that Richard MacIlwaine Kever, Jr., arrived on April 15. They are going to call him "Mac."

Gene has heard from Nancy DeJarnette Hansen who has been living in Okinawa for almost a year. Her husband is in the regular Army.

Back to our vital statistics with the birth of Almon Legrande Copley, Jr., on April 29. He was an RH baby and needed a complete transfusion soon after birth. Both Rita and the baby are fine now. Al and Rita Muldowney Copley have two other children—Frank is six years old and Beth is two.

The Felgers, Ted and Mary Bowden, announce the arrival of a baby girl, Katherine Caldwell, on April 30. They have a boy, Steve, who was two in March.

Another big event! Our class has received an announcement of the marriage of Meta Hill Ryland to Douglas R. Boynton in Arlington, Virginia on April 12. Doug is getting his Masters at VPI in architectural engineering. Our very best wishes to both of them!

The deadline for the next BULLETIN is September 15. Please keep your group leaders posted on vacation news and any address changes.

1945 Secretary
MARY ELLEN TUCKER
3229 Fendall Avenue
Richmond 22, Virginia

I know that all of you are anxious to know how our luncheon on Saturday, May 17, at the Hermitage Country Club turned out. I really don't know where to start because we had such a wonderful time. My only regret is that each of you could not be there and that I was not five persons so that I could be between every three or four people and hear all conversations. We had a beautiful day and just as Nancy Grey Stables and I drove up, there was Mary Campbell Paulson, who had just arrived from Hilton Village. Then we met Betty Lawson Dillard and her husband on the lawn and Les departed, knowing what a gab session we would have. Shortly after Kathy Mumma, Betty Clement Adair and Jen Lea Yancey had arrived, the head waiter came over to me to check on the time and told me that he thought the other ladies were on their way into the Club. I asked him if they were young ladies and his reply was, "Yes." Even though we have been out of school for seven years and might feel mighty old at times, we must not look old to others.

We were most honored to have Miss Lutz with us, and it was indeed a real treat. Those who were able to make the luncheon were, Christy Lou Miller Russell, Anne Woodward Hood, Anne Glazebrook Tompkins, Hollie Garber Kenyon (all of whom started with us in 1941), Mary Campbell Paulson, Nancy Grey Stables, Jen Lea Yancey, Betty Clement Adair, Betty Lawson Dillard, Connie Sutton, Ann Seay Jackson, Lillian Belk Youell, Kathy Mumma, Ruth Hiller Powell, Ruth Latimer, Jane Wray McDorman and Gin Pitt Friddell. Incidentally, while we were at the table, just out of curiosity, we decided to count the number of children represented. The fourteen married girls there represented 22 children. That's some record. Just for your information, there were six expectant mothers there but I'm not going to tell you who they were. You will just have to read subsequent issues of the BULLETIN.

Before giving you the news, I want to tell you that after lunch we had a business meeting. This seems quite funny for us to have had a business meeting after being out of school for so long or does it seem like yesterday to you?

Number one on the agenda was "The Scrapbook." I have received several pictures for the scrapbook and others have also. After a great deal of discussion and after various ones had suggested where our Scrapbook might be, it was decided that we would appoint someone to "track" it down. Jane Wray Bristow McDorman is going to do this for our class, but please continue to send pictures to the secretary.

I don't believe that I have told you that after I am married, I will be living in South Carolina. As you know, Stewart is an engineer for DuPont and he was transferred to Camden the last of March, and since we are planning to be married some time in the fall, I thought this was a good time to discuss the subject of a new secretary for our class. Don't misunderstand, it is not that I have not enjoyed being secretary thoroughly (although some of you just wouldn't write to me) but I felt that someone living in Richmond could do a much better job. Connie Sutton and Ruth Latimer are going to be Co-secretaries but until you are advised further, please send all your news to:

Miss Constance Sutton
Box 165
Bon Air, Virginia

Explanation for giving only Connie's address will follow later.

Everything has something unpleasant about it, doesn't it? So naturally we had such a matter on our agenda. Our finances are NIL and have been for several years. Over a period of time sending out notices to class members, writing to them, enclosing cards for them to return, and purchasing stationary and envelopes add up to quite a sum. After much discussion as to the best way to provide funds for our class secretary's expenses for such, it was suggested and decided that each girl would contribute a dollar per year to the class. At the luncheon each girl there contributed a dollar for that purpose and those of you who were not there and wish to contribute to the class secretary's fund may do so by sending a dollar with your news to Connie. As I can recall, this is the first time that our class has ever asked for money for expenses of the secretary.

We also agreed that at least once a year we would try to have a luncheon.

Now enough of this business and let's get on with the news!

Congratulations are in order for Betty Biscoe Tibbott. She has another little boy, David Bruce, who was born February 12 (did not get her letter in time for the last BULLETIN). Her other boy, Johnny, was two in February. Betty also wrote that her husband had finished Law School at George Washington University last summer.

One night when I came home from the movies, I had a note on my dresser to call Lillian Belk Youell. Finally I reached Lillian and she really brought me up to date on the Youells. As you know, Mac had been called back into the Marines and they had been living in North Carolina. Now they are back at their home, 1215 Dinwiddie Avenue, Richmond, Virginia and will be there at least for the next three years, during which time Mac will remain assigned as a member of the Staff of the Reserve Training Program of the Marines here in Richmond. Mighty glad that you are back, Lillian. Incidentally, Lillian took some pictures at the luncheon for our scrapbook.

Peggy Clark Huber was in town last week and it was wonderful to talk to her. Connie Sutton had lunch with her one day but Peggy was unable to be with us at our gathering. She and her husband are still running an antique shop and Peggy is doing some interior decorating. But she is completely fascinated by her "farming." Quote Peggy, "We'll probably have only two peas." Peggy, please keep in touch with us.

Lottie Blanton's address has changed slightly so please make this correction on your address list—instead of Annex IV, it is now New Hospital. Gin Friddell had a letter from Lottie and Lottie is still having a gala time at Fort Sam Houston—plenty of social life.

The Howes (Ann Clark) have moved from Harrisonburg, Virginia to Elkton, Virginia. Ann visited Ann Seay Jackson several weeks ago. She did not have any other address for Ann Howe except Elkton and said that she was sure that Ann would receive her mail. Will let you know when we get a street address.

The Class of '44 sort of beat me to the news about the Keplers (Anne Fisher) in the last issue. But in case you did not see it, John Philip Kepler arrived March 4, weighing 5 pounds and 12 ounces and measuring 18 inches. Anne says that his muscles and lungs are fully developed and that little Catherine is fascinated and has to be restrained from patting his head with whatever she has in her hand—generally a wagon or wooden rings. In a later note, Anne told me that they were going to Smith College where "Kep" will be an assistant professor.

Phone 7-4035

FLOWERS SCHOOL EQUIPMENT CO., INC.

327 West Main Street
RICHMOND — VIRGINIA
Furniture for Schools, Churches and Other Buildings
Folding Tables
Desks (Office and School)

LOUNGE FURNITURE CHAIRS
CHURCH FURNITURE WINDOW SHADES BLACKBOARD

Audrey Grubin Fixell has moved into her new home, so please change her address to: 85 Morris Drive, East Meadow, L. I., N. Y.

Lib Kibler Keihn has had quite a job on her hands. In addition to teaching this year Lib has been helping Fred some with his research but she says it is mostly "moral support." She says that they probably will continue to live in Syracuse after Fred has concluded his studies.

Congratulations, Ruth Latimer. We are indeed proud of you. Ruth has received her Masters in Physical Therapy from the Medical College of Virginia. She has not decided as yet whether she will stay in Richmond or work elsewhere after June. That is why I did not give you an address because if she leaves Richmond, it would be difficult for her to be co-secretary with Connie.

Sally Lawson Foster, why don't you write or call some of us? Indirectly I have heard that Sally is teaching at Montrose Elementary School here in Richmond. Would like to hear from you, Sally.

Nancy Grey Stables is mighty happy these days. Linton came home about a month ago and is stationed at Fort Meade. Nancy said that he had to stay in until November and after that they did not know what. Nancy did not know that he was even on his way home from Japan.

At the time of our luncheon, Doris Mills was either in France or Spain. She will be back in Richmond in June and we expect a detailed account of her trip.

At last we have heard from one of our travelers—Jean Motter. In order to bring you up to date with Jean's activities, I would like to quote a portion of the letter she wrote to Gin Friddell and me:

"I am sorry not to be able to make the class reunion this year as I have not made one yet, but I'll keep trying and one of these days I'll turn up. Please give my best regards to all who come. Along about this time of year I think about those hectic last few weeks of our Senior year and all the excitement surrounding our graduation. Remember how cold it was that night?"

"Since leaving school, I went to work for the Red Cross in the Separation Center at Ft. Meade, Maryland and from there over here to the Far East as a Club Recreation worker. I stayed in that capacity until March of 1948 when I returned for brief period at home in Summerville, South Carolina. At that time, the Red Cross clubs were being turned over to the Army for managing and in July of '48 I went over to Germany and did club work with the army in Bremen and Bremerhaven. I did not like Germany as well as Japan and I decided that club work was not what I really wanted to do, so I came home in August of 1949 and went to Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and took a business course. That lasted until May of 1950. The Korean war broke out about that time and I was impatient to get back into the Red Cross and go back overseas. This I did, but this time as a secretary. I arrived here in Japan in October of 1951 and my first assignment was in the town of Sasebo which is right at the very end of the island of Kyushu—the southernmost island in the Japanese chain. I worked at a large depot which handled all the United Nations troops en route to Korea and it was a magnificent job as well as a heart-breaking one. Convoys of troops rumbled past night and day all the time and the looks on some of their faces (some were going back over for the third and fourth time) I shall never forget and will forever haunt me. Last summer I was transferred up here to the Tokyo area to Camp McGill and have been here ever since. I am the secretary to the Field Director and like both my work and Camp McGill very much indeed. I will probably stay here until I go home. My contract expires on October 3 of this year, but I am going to request a six months extension as I am not at all ready to come home. It has been most interesting to be in Japan during the period of her regaining of independence and everything is quite different from my first tour of duty."

Now the latest from the MacKenzies (Anne McElroy):

"Anne Stewart continues to grow and get more spoiled every day. On her birthday April 7, she pulled a scalding cup of coffee off on her and burned her arm badly. She had the old fashioned measles in March and nearly died but we all managed to survive. She's climbing on everything, now, and doesn't give me a moment of peace. If they weren't so cute at this age, I guess no parents would be able to stand them."

Kathy Mumma became engaged to Jack Atkinson this spring and they are planning to be married in the fall of the year. Jack will finish Pharmacy School at MCV this June. Best wishes for all the happiness in the world and let us know where you will be living after you exchange that "Miss" before your name for a "Mrs."

I had a nice card from Carrie Trader Drinkard. She had been visiting for four weeks in Eastern Virginia.

Ann Twombly Leland couldn't make the luncheon but she said to be sure to put her down for our tenth reunion. She and the children came to Virginia in March in search of sunshine and warm weather since they were having a "dilly" of a winter in New York. She said that Diedre was still maintaining a perfect report card, Melissa continues to bathe the goldfish with Lava soap (when they were not looking) and that little Jim Parker, who was celebrating his first birthday while we were having lunch, was into everything. Twombly is also becoming a fine nurse too—with both of the girls having their tonsils out within six months.

Marianne Waddill Jones writes that they are all fine and happy. Around July 15th, she, Fred, Ann Latane and Patricia are planning to come to Richmond.

Lib Weaver Martin could not be with us at the gathering because she was busy typing wills, briefs, etc., for Lester. As you know, Lester is in law school at Wake Forest.

Congratulations to Nell White Gillespie. Jean Lynn arrived at the Gillespies May 1. This is Nell's second daughter.

Ruth Anne Lynch (Wicker) informed me that the Lynches are moving to Fork Union, Virginia where Jamie will instruct intramurals in the lower school of the Academy. She hopes that next year, being so close to Richmond, she will be able to participate in some of the Alumnae affairs.

It seems as though I am having a little trouble with the spelling of Jane Woodward's name—It is TONDETTAR. They are still planning to come to Richmond in September.

Now I would like to bring you up-to-date on some of the girls who started to Westhampton with us. Christy Lou Miller now is Mrs. Jack Russell and has one child. Anne Glazebrook is Mrs. J. Langhorne Tompkins and has one son. Anne Woodward Hood is Mrs. Ed. Hood and is the mother of three. Hollie Garber married John Kenyon and they have a little girl and a little boy. Hollie and John have recently moved into a new home which they had built.

Ellen Brooks Blackwell has just returned after living in Germany for three years. She has one little boy. While visiting Ann Jackson, she said they would be living in Indianapolis.

You remember Edna Earle Duckhardt? Well, I called her home to get her address and her mother told me that she had been in Japan for several months with her husband, Captain Charles Metzger.

At this point I think I have run out of news. It has been a real pleasure to write to you and has made me feel so much closer to each of you. Don't forget to send your news (and dollar) to Connie Sutton from now on.

1947 Secretary

MISS ISABEL AMMERMAN

6000 Crestwood Avenue, Richmond, Va.

We begin this letter as we begin all our letters with a plea to each of you to write to your group leader very very soon.

With summer now upon us we are beginning to dream of vacations. Some of the class were lucky and took theirs early. Frances Coles was one of those fortunate ones. She took herself to Florida. Virginia Wagstaff will probably be traveling too this summer, since she has recently acquired a brand new car. Speaking of going places, we hope that Lena Thornton Small and her family will be heading back towards this part of the world this summer. Her family now consists of her husband and a new son. The baby was born on April 25th. Our congratulations to you, Lena Dick.

We are always pleased to have somebody in the class of '47 move to Richmond. This time, however, we have to tell of the Elliots' leaving the city. John has a pastorate in Scottsville, Virginia and they moved there in June.

We have congratulations for one bride and one newly engaged girl. Magie Wingfield married Edward P. Webster of New York on June 7th. He finished the University of Virginia Law School in June. Marie Walthall plans a July wedding to Claude LeSueur. The date is the 26th and the place is the Second Presbyterian Church. Ann Wiley Kelley and Betty O'Brien will be two of her attendants.

We had a long interesting letter from Doris Pitman Rainey. She and Oris have been married for a year now and have a farm and a new house down in Dinwiddie County. Doris is not teaching now but is giving all her time to housekeeping. Her address is Route 2, Dinwiddie, Virginia.

It was nice to hear from Sylvia H. Silverman. She lives in New York and has a two year old daughter, Susan Margaret. Her address is 7604 170th St., Flushing, New York. It would be so nice if we had pictures of all the babies in our class to put in our scrapbook. Don't forget we have one and that one of these days we will want to show it off.

We have some new addresses to give you. Helen Shea has moved into her new house in Salem, Virginia—Walnut Road, Stonewall Forest. Art and Ann Young Lewis have bought a new house too, this one complete with television. Won't you send us the address, Ann?

Betty McLaughlin has recently transferred to McGuire Hospital as a technician.

The card party that was held in April for the Swimming Pool Fund was quite a success. We had a good number from our class and we even came away with some of the prizes. Izzy made

University of Richmond
School of Law
School of Business
Westhampton College Class Rings
Fraternity Jewelry

WALTER B. ANDERSON

(L. G. Balfour Co., Products)

4111 Kensington Ave.

Dial 4-3542

Richmond, Virginia

out the best with her cute lamp.

Well our first "big" reunion is over and quite a number of '47 came back—35 in all. We had 33 at the dinner on Friday, June 6th, and a good time was had by all. There was much talking, showing of baby pictures and a wonderful talk and movies of the west taken by Marylou and Guy on their trip. Miss Harris' tea on Sunday was lovely and we enjoyed seeing the faculty and everyone so much. Those back for the big event were Beth, Gussie, Marion Huske, Elsie, Betty McLaughlin, Mary Cox, Mimi, Susie, Alice, B. O., Ollie, Margaret, Lois Rynaldo, Ann Wiley, Shirley, Carolyn, Dottie James, Nancy, Keeling, Polly, Verda, Anne Higgins, Gin, Jean Waldrop, Dottie Hughes, Marie, Betty Tinsley, Izzy, Betsey Slate, Betty Brown, Sara Frances, Marion Collier, Marylou, Doris and Bev.

Ollie and Hank and the 3 Stirling children were at the tea. The "baby cup" girl, Alston, is 4 years old now, Hal is 2½, and Carol is 10 months. They were all darling and we were so thrilled to see them—Mama and Papa, too, of course.

We picked up a few more items for our letter at the reunion—2 more babies. Tina Clauter Stapleton and John have a little girl born the end of May. Copie and J. B. have a little boy, J. B. Hudson III, who was also born the end of May. Congratulations to all of you!

Four of our Richmond girls have moved from Richmond, and we surely hated to see them leave. Betsey Slate Riley and Buddy have moved to St. Paul, Va. Buddy finished the Theological Seminary in June and now has a church in St. Paul. Nancy Richardson Elliott and John have moved to Scottsville, Va., where John, who also finished at the Seminary this June, has a church. Betty Tinsley Andrews and Dick have moved to Williamsburg. Dick is now working for the Restoration as an engineer. Dottie Hughes will be living in Vicksburg, Mississippi, after her wedding June 14th, and already has a job lined up down there teaching the first grade. We hope all of you will be happy in your new homes and please come back often to visit. We heard that Peggy Hawthorne Charlton and Charles have been living in Dumfries, Va., for several months. Let us know your address, Peggy. Please let us know when you change your addresses so we can keep up with you. We have "lost" one '47'er—does anyone know where Bobby Rock Hardy and family are living now? If anyone knows, please drop us a card.

Majie picked June 7th (the hottest day of the year) for her wedding. She and Ed Webster were married in a lovely ceremony at home. She was a lovely bride, wearing white organdy, and I was her only attendant. They hope to settle in Charlottesville, but Ed is not sure yet where he will be working (he finished the U. of Va. Law School on Friday, June 6th). We hope you all will be near Richmond anyway, Majie.

Frances Coles has been elected President of the Richmond Association of Medical Technologists—Congratulations, Keeling!

It was so good to see so many of you at reunion, and I just wish all of you could have been here—start planning now to be here for June 1957! Please keep the mail coming and thank you all for your splendid response to the Alumnae Fund letters. We ranked 7th among all classes in number of contributors!

Love,
Izzy

1948 Secretary JACQUELINE JETER

Some mass hysteria seems to have gripped the Class of '48 during the spring. Symptoms are always the same—aversion to fountain pens, inability to write, and a downward trend in the sale of three-cent stamps. The most familiar cry from the group leaders is, "No answer." C'mon girls, let's have a little cooperation so we can hear from everyone. If you have lost contact with your group leader through moving, etc., won't you please write to me? Now, on to what we have learned.

Anne (Bruner) Woo's summer address is once more Monroe, Virginia. She is again working for Sweet Brier during the vacation months while Tommy is employed in Norfolk. Of course, when September comes, they hope to be back at Louisville for Tommy's third year at the Seminary. Kitty (Candler) Martin wrote Anne that she was going back to teaching in the fall, even though learning the arts of homemaking and baby care seemed a full-time job. In her "spare" time she is becoming more and more interested in gardening.

Doris Moore, who is always most faithful in reporting the news of her group, didn't write this time, but I have discovered that she has an excellent reason for being too busy this one time. Ginna Herndon informs me that Doris has a sparkling diamond ring and is making plans for a September wedding. Next time I hope to be able to give you the name of the lucky bridegroom. Ginna, the last time she wrote, was planning to visit with Betty (Hickerson) and Butter in Richmond. Ginna goes again this year in June to be a counsellor at Massanetta.

Emily (Holland) Lineberry gave a very apt description of her little girl and I imagine most of you mothers will know what she means when she says her daughter is in the "kitten stage" and she spends most of her time getting her down from her climbing escapades. Emily tells us that Pat (Parlow) Daniel moved to Connecticut and then back to New York, but I still have no address for her. If anyone hears from her, please let me know because we haven't been able to catch up with her for quite a few months.

Florence Goodman was married to Mr. Harrison (Hank) David Weber on Sunday, April 27, at the Essex House in New York City. The Webers are living now in Hartford, Connecticut. Sarah (Brenner) Rubin sent me the cutest picture of Mark! He was four-and-a-half months at the time and already looking very much like a "man of the world." Sarah said she had seen some W. C. girls in Washington when she went to Ruth Schimmel's wedding. Carol (Buxbaum) Waranch had been to visit her in Richmond and it seems that her daughter is a miniature of Stan.

Another beautiful colored postcard arrived from Hannah Barlow. She said Japan was beautiful in its fruit blossom pastels. She was getting ready to leave for Hakone, which is one of the big resorts near Fiji San.

Maria (Carter) and Sat are proud as can be of their two daughters now. Mary Minor arrived on George Washington's birthday and is a brunette, unlike Alice, who is a blonde. When we were in school, Maria's afternoon wasn't complete unless she could snatch some time for napping. . . . Now she says she feels sure her sleeping days are past forever!

Eleanor (Pitts) Rowan started with, "I celebrated my first wedding anniversary April 21st in an unexpected fashion." I thought she was going to tell me about a nice party or something, but I was wrong. She "celebrated" by taking a fast trip to the hospital "to have my obstreperous appendix removed." She has recuperated now and she and Bill are planning quite a few trips for the summer, having purchased a new car. Part of their vacation was spent at the Chamberlin Hotel at Old Point Comfort, and in early October they hope to drive to New York. Through Eleanor comes the word that Barbara (Wood) Miller is going to brush up on several courses at the University of Virginia this summer and will commute to Washington on the weekends. She and Lewis are planning vacation trips to Virginia Beach in June and August.

Faye (Hines) Kilpatrick and Bob will once more be lucky enough to be living at Virginia Beach during the summer. Faye tells me that Jean (Brumsey) Biscoe's husband, Johnny, will be released from the service in the early part of the summer and they expect to see them often. Judy (Barnette) Seelharst is going to give up teaching next year and devote all her time to homemaking. I don't wonder that she has been too busy with the end-of-school activities, inasmuch as she supervised the Junior-Senior banquet, directed May Day, and directed the class play, any one of which is a pretty good job in itself.

Monty (Elliott) Ownby's new address is Hunton Hall, Medical College of Virginia, 1200 E. Marshall Street, Richmond, where Ralph has a pediatrics residency after discharge from the service. Mrs. Elliott went out for a two-weeks visit with Monty and Ralph, but flew home when they received word that Mr. Elliott, Russell and her baby had been in an automobile accident. Her dad is still in the hospital, but expects to be out and about before too long. Pam (Burnside) Gray had written Monty about a recent trip to Chicago via Pittsburgh where she ran into Nancy Chapin working for T.W.A.

I have a new address for you to add to your list. It is for Marian (Thomson) Goolsby who now lives at 1114 So. Alfred, Alexandria, Virginia.

I suppose everyone gets wanderlust when these summery days come along. Ginna Herndon and I are getting our "ramblin' shoes" dusted off and again heading westward. Ginna, her cousin who was a member of the trio last year, another Fredericksburg gal, and I will leave F-burg about the 25th of June for Texas and California and return via Colorado. We'll be away a month or longer so I should have plenty to tell you about when we return. I have given up my job with the West Virginia Insurance Department so imagine my vacation will come to an abrupt halt when I have to begin reading the want ads and pounding the pavements!

I know a great many of you are looking forward to the beaches, mountains, and other favorite haunts, so let us hear all about your vacation time, too. Happy summer to you all!

1949 Secretary HATHAWAY POLLARD 239 South Hawthorne Road Winston-Salem, N. C.

Apologies from me to you for a misunderstanding of the deadline for summer BULLETIN news. Having thought the news due in June, I had planned to contact our group leaders accordingly, and did not have time to do so upon notification from the alumnae office of a May deadline.

I did have a bit of news on hand at the time which I'm sure you will all enjoy.

Betty and Fred Dick's son, Frederick William, Jr., was born April 19. Also a new son for Jean and Jules Kluger, born April 26, and named Joel Steven.

Anne Kraft and Ruby Weber reported alumnae activities bustling in Richmond, with an attendance of almost 400 at the benefit bridge party of April 25, "an event enjoyed by all and most successful."

Believe in signs?

THIS IS THE SIGN of America's premium table milk . . . the milk that gives you MORE of the food values you need MOST . . . such a lot more for such a little more! We're proud to hold the oldest continuous Golden Guernsey dealer permit in the country!

VIRGINIA DAIRY CO.

"Home of Better Milk"

DIAL 5-2838

Some new addresses which I did not include in the spring BULLETIN.

Mrs. Richard Foster (Pat Driscoll) 330 Haven Ave., New York, N. Y.

Mrs. Alec Finleyson (Mary Burton Haskell) 1810 Hinman Ave., Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. George W. Goforth (Joyce Roberson) 1106 Bedford Ave., Altavista, Va.

Mrs. Donald P. O'Donnell (Gevie Nager) 1360 Midland Ave., Bronxville, N. Y.

I am ashamed to mention the much-talked-of address list again, but at least can say that I'm in search of a mimeograph machine—so keep what little faith remains with you that one will be forthcoming. And one day it really and truly will.

1950 Secretary

MRS. M. B. PIERCE (Elizabeth Givens)
1533 Charles Street, Richmond, Virginia

Now that the alumnae activities and commencement are over and girls in the Class of '50 have returned home, it is grand to think about our first reunion. It was a real thrill to see approximately forty girls from our class at the different reunion activities, but we wish even more of you could have been present. Not only our local girls, but also girls from distant places such as Libby Rowse from California and Ludie Hickerson Wiley from New York City returned to Westhampton for the weekend of June 6-8.

Beginning our reunion activities was a banquet at Ewart's Cafeteria on Friday evening, which was attended by approximately thirty-two girls in our class. Piggy Wells did a grand job as "mistress of ceremonies" and presided over the class business meeting which was held following the dinner. Piggy read my resignation as class secretary and then a new plan for writing the class letter was discussed. Under this plan the group leaders in Richmond will form a committee with the chairman being the class secretary. The committee will write the class letter for each BULLETIN, thereby making the duties of the class secretary a little lighter. The class approved this plan and also elected Piggy as the new class secretary.

Next the financial report of the Class of '50 for the past two years was read and the class voted that each girl would be asked to contribute a dollar to replenish the class treasury. Most of the girls present paid this dollar and we are asking the girls who could not be there to please send their contribution to Betty Gray Finney, 1605 Lakefront Avenue, Richmond, Virginia.

Doris Lee Reeves has done a splendid job on the scrapbook and she had it on display that evening. If you have not sent her a clipping or a snapshot, please send it to her right away at 2312 Park Avenue, Richmond, Virginia, for we do want to keep the scrapbook up to date.

We were happy that Miss Rudd could attend the banquet with us and bring us some items of news about activities on the campus during the past year.

Saturday morning some of the girls from our class attended the Westhampton Alumnae meeting. It was interesting to learn that some girls in our class are taking an active part in local alumnae groups. Barbara Brann Swain and Jean Barbour Wyatt are officers in the Halifax Alumnae Club. Also Joanne Waring and Julie Wann have been doing outstanding work with the Washington, D. C., group, especially in connection with their high school night program.

More girls from the Class of '50 joined us for the Alumnae Luncheon in honor of the Senior Class given in the Westhampton dining rooms. It was such a treat to go over to Miss Rudd's home for the tea given that afternoon for our class. About twenty girls enjoyed the delicious and attractive refreshments which Miss Rudd served on her patio. Some of the faculty members who were there to chat with us were Miss Rivenburg, Miss Harris and Dean Roberts. A very special guest at the tea was Ann Dorsey James' little girl who was so cute with a little pink pinafore and a pink ribbon in her hair. Our appreciation goes to Miss Rudd for the many nice things she did as our sponsor during the whole reunion.

Of course, when this many members of the Class of '50 get together a lot of news was exchanged. One of the big items was the weddings which have taken place and will take place this summer. We were happy to see Louise Triplett at the reunion and to hear about her marriage to Bob Fridley at Elizabeth City, North Carolina this winter. Bob is pastor of the Branch Memorial Methodist Church in Richmond. In April, Lee Davis became Mrs. Cedric R. Head in Boonton, New Jersey. Lee and her husband are working with the Kingsland Marionettes. On May 7, Nancy Chapin became the bride of Alexander Phillips. They are living in Oklahoma since their marriage.

Several girls in our class will say "I do" this summer. Joy Hull will be married to Carlton Blandford Bolte in Northside Baptist Church on July 12. Betty Gray Finney is planning her wedding to Arthur N. Tuttle, Jr., for August 9 in St. Giles Presbyterian Church. Arthur has been doing graduate work in architecture at Princeton University and expects to enter the army in September. On August 16, Frances Sutton will become the bride of Raymond Eugene Oliver in the Christian Church at West Point, Virginia. In June, Fran went to New Haven, Connecticut for Raymond's graduation from Yale Divinity School.

The new babies in our class were another news item at the reunion. May 29 was the date of the birth of Dorothy Seldon Gardner, daughter of Dot Warner Gardner and her husband. Two days later Bea Covington O'Flaherty and Billy became the proud parents of a baby boy, William Jefferson, born on May 31. A boy was born to Charlotte Westervelt Bispham and her husband in Delaware on May 6.

Summer time being vacation time is also travel time for girls in the Class of '50. Mary Sullivan Tinder and Cecil will leave the United States the middle of July for Europe and will tour nearly all the European countries until the middle of September. Also Europe-bound are Sue Huff and her sister. Another lucky girl in our class is Doris Lee Reeves who spent a week's vacation in June in Nassau, Bahamas. I'm sure there are other girls in the class who are having interesting trips this summer, so be sure to let your group leader hear your vacation news and here's hoping each of you has a grand time.

One girl really seeing the world is Lorane Graves, who has accepted a job with an oil company in Arabia for two years. Now that Claire Noren has completed her work at Radcliffe College, she has taken a position as personnel assistant with Sylvania Electric Company in Boston.

Coming East from Akron, Ohio is Emily-Ann Mintz who is doing secretarial work at the Pan-American Union in Washington, D. C. Since completing graduate work, Marianne Beck is back in Richmond working for the Virginia Tuberculosis Association. One of our teachers who is working this summer is Doris Balderson who is doing secretarial work at Richmond Hardware Company.

A former member of our class, Peggy King Nelson, is moving to Philadelphia this summer where her husband, Earl, has secured a job. Earl received his degree in business administration from the University of Richmond in June.

My thanks go to Jean Tinsley who helped me compile this letter for the BULLETIN. Since this will be my last letter as class secretary, I do want to express my appreciation to each of you for your cooperation during the past two years. Let's all give Piggy and the group leaders our best support!

1951 Secretary

MRS. ROBERT M. JONES (Charlotte Her-rink)
214 S. Boulevard, Richmond, Virginia

We have now been alumnae for one year, and so much has happened to our class members that it's difficult to keep up with everyone.

I received a letter from Pat Atwill several weeks ago and she's got some important news for this issue. First, and the most important item about Pat, is her coming marriage to Cpl. Bill Wright Schwarz on June 14th. Bill is from Williamsburg and is now a research chemist with the Army, stationed in Huntsville, Alabama. He is supposed to get out of the Army in November. Since October, Pat has been working at Southern Materials Co., Inc., in Norfolk. Officially she is a receptionist, but she also works the switchboard, types invoices and keeps the sales journal. Pat has also been working in the Little Theater at Virginia Beach and is a member of the Junior Woman's Club.

I'm sure that everyone who saw May Day thoroughly enjoyed it. It was beautiful and the Class of '52 had perfect weather for the event. Many girls from our class were there—it was practically a Class Reunion. Among those present were Eleanor Wright Weston, Joy Hodgkins Legg, and Doris Goodwyn Bridgeforth. Joy will be here in Richmond with her parents for the coming year since Johnny is in Korea until September '53.

Weddings, weddings, and more weddings! Ann Marie Hardin and Ben were married on June 21st. Betsy Bethune and Norma Streever were in the wedding. Libba Eanes' wedding was also on the 21st of June. Recently, Doris Goodwin Bridgeforth gave a luncheon for Libba and it really was fun seeing everyone. Mary Booth and John D. were married on June 28th. Eleanor Wright Weston was an attendant. Ann Jones and George Mof-fatt are planning to be married in the latter part of July. In August, Millie Wright and Joe Alton will be married. Liz Latimer and Charlotte Houchins will be in Millie's wedding. Joe and Millie will live here in Richmond next year. More and more of our class are coming to Richmond to live. Jean Lowe received a beautiful ring in May and she and Hawkins Bradley are planning a July wedding.

I hear that Bobbie Brown's wedding on May 17th was beautiful. Bobbie had a garden wedding and was fortunate to have perfect weather for it. Elizabeth McRae Dudley and Pat Smith were in Bobbie's wedding and Sue Pitts and Betsy Bethune served at the reception. Bobbie and Myron are living here since returning from Sea Island, Georgia where they went on their honeymoon.

Helen Blackwelder has been very busy since returning from Europe last fall. Helen taught Modern Dance at the Y.W.C.A. for a while and has also been doing some choir work and has been taking swimming. Her main job with the "Y" is with the World Fellowship service and Helen seems to love it.

Maryglyn Cooper who has been teaching school in Florida, will be here in Richmond this summer to go to school for a few courses.

Millie Waters Harford and Jim have gone to Paris for two years and I know they will have a wonderful time. Liz Latimer and Charlotte Houchins went to Millie's wedding.

In April, Susie Gibson was here for a couple of days. She stopped here on her way to a convention of social workers at the Chamberlin.

Marilyn Montague Harper and T. G. have moved to an apartment house near the Williamsburg highway.

Piret Koljo is getting along fine since her operation. She has not been working for about two months, but will probably go back to work soon.

Liz Latimer is now working for the Juvenile Court in Washington and Jo Asbury Hopkins is with the Long Island Telephone Company. Starting in September, Pat Smith will teach piano at St. Catherine's school.

Henrietta Dow Vinson is working at the Norfolk shipyards. Her work has something to do with the printing of plans. They are moving into a house soon.

This summer Joyce Gladding is going to camp and next winter she will continue to teach school.

Martha Carpenter and Betty Luke finished at Pan American on the 23rd of May. Martha wants to work for a bank and Betty wants to work in Charlottesville next winter as a secretary.

As usual Jane Lawson is having quite a time. She spent two wonderful weeks in Mexico for her vacation, visiting in Mexico City and Acapulco.

Everyone have a wonderful time this summer, and I hope to hear from all of you for the fall BULLETIN.

Westhampton Alumnae Local Clubs

Boston Club

Chairman: MRS. JOHN E. MILLEA (Priscilla Kirkpatrick), 8 Mt. Ida St., Newton 58, Mass.

Since our April meeting we have received addresses from two prospective members:

Louise Schmidt, 261 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.

Ilse Schott, 135 Ocean St., Lynn, Mass.

If things work out satisfactorily, there is a possibility Mrs. Booker may meet with us in the fall. We hope everyone will be able to come to that meeting. If any alumnae should move to the Boston area during the summer, do communicate either with Addie Eicks or with me.

Eastern Shore Club

President: MRS. W. T. ROBERTS, JR.
Parksley, Virginia

Dean Tucker and Leslie Booker were guests of honor at our annual spring luncheon, April 26, at the Owl Restaurant, near Accomac. We enjoyed hearing about the scholarship quizzes on radio, Religious Focus Week, Robert Frost's visit to the campus, the students who have lived in foreign countries, and the A. D. Williams bequest, and about such alumnae activities as helping the students in various practical ways, organizing new alumnae clubs, and the swimming pool project.

Mrs. William T. Roberts, Jr., and Mrs. H. P. B. Rue, Jr., were unanimously re-elected president and treasurer, respectively. The Club voted to give $50.00 to the Woodfin Memorial Fellowship, and a copy of Virginia's Eastern Shore by Whitelaw, to the University of Richmond Library in memory of Miss Maude Woodfin who helped organize our Club while she was serving as Acting Dean.

Halifax Club

President: MRS. DOROTHY BAGWELL MACDAN-NALD, Vernon Hill, Virginia

The Westhampton alumnae in South Boston and Halifax and their vicinities had a picnic meeting at the Mountain Road Swimming Pool in Halifax on June 2. There were 13 members present with 10 classes represented. Several of these reported that they would attend the class reunion.

In the business section our president, Mrs. Dorothy Bagwell MacDannald reported on some Westhampton projects which were of much interest to all of us. Officers for '52-'53 were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Barbara Brann Swaim; Vice-President, Mrs. Nell Collins Thompson; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Jeanne Barbour Ware.

After singing "Our Alma Mater" and "Tell Me Why" we disbanded in the spirit of our Westhampton college days.

New York Club

President: MRS. JULES F. DE DAN (Frances Gottlieb)

On October 6, 1951, we were invited to Kittle House at Mt. Kisco, New York, to be the guests of Emily Carlson and her husband. We had a wonderful luncheon (filet mignon, no less) at Kittle House, and then Emily escorted us the short distance to her home where we held our actual meeting. We had a most enthusiastic group out on that occasion. In addition to many of our "old faithfuls," we welcomed some young mothers from nearby towns. They said they hoped we could meet in Westchester County more often.

Perhaps some day a plan for rotating the location of meetings can be worked out, i.e., Westchester County, Long Island, New Jersey, etc. It is a thought for the future welfare of our group.

On February 26, 1952, we held a dinner-meeting at the Barbizon-Plaza Hotel, 101 West 58 Street, New York. Dinner was served in the Cafe downstairs while the East Lounge on the 30th floor was reserved for our meeting. We shifted on this occasion from our usual Saturday afternoon to a Tuesday night in an effort to lure more members. While we gained many new (and most welcome) faces, we did lose some of our regulars so that the net result was about the same. However, the suggestion was made that we maintain both Saturday afternoons and mid-week nights on our schedule so that both groups may feel an integral part of our organization. Also Saturday meetings are more appropriate when visitors are coming from Richmond, etc.

Dr. H. Ruth Henderson, the National Director of the International Division of the Girl Scouts, was our guest of honor at the Barbizon-Plaza meeting. Dr. Henderson so fascinated the group with the account of her work, particularly on behalf of world friendship, that the girls kept plying her with questions long after her main talk was concluded.

The problem of a meeting place is always with us. When this was brought up, Dr. Henderson volunteered the use of her apartment in New York. Naturally, we all appreciated this gesture, and we may avail ourselves of the privilege within the next few months. (With such loyal and enthusiastic boosters, how can our New York Club fail to progress?)

For our closing meeting of the season, we had hoped to have either (or both) Miss Lutz or Miss Tucker; but neither could leave her duties for a meeting either in April or May. However, we scheduled our meeting without the inducement of a Westhampton personage on Tuesday, May 20, 1952, at the Cortile Restaurant, 37 West 43 Street, New York. Much to our amazement, we had the largest turn out in years! Lest you think I am casting any aspersions on the members of our faculty, let me hasten to explain it only proves how unpredictable the human can be!

Prior to our last meeting, the Nominating Committee consisting of Sally Davis, Chairman, Natalie Heller Moore, and Elizabeth Baker had met at my home to propose a slate of officers for the term of 1952-1954. The election of officers was, therefore, our first order of business. Those selected were the following: President, Frances G. De Dan; Vice-President, Natalie Heller Moore; Secretary, Lillian Jung; Treasurer, Dorothy Ihnken. During the course of business, the Secretary and Treasurer reported, one a slight increase in our membership, the other a substantial increase in our funds. Both were welcome news items since establishments in New York now require about $35 for appropriate meeting facilities in addition to their dinner charges.

Although we have had our disappointments in the last two years, I do feel we have more cause for rejoicing. One of the biggest gains has been in securing newspaper cooperation. For years we had little or no newspaper publicity of our New York activities because the editors maintained our Alma Mater was too far away and too little known. However, because of persistent effort, we now secure publicity in both New York and Newark, New Jersey, papers.

In the last four years, Carlene Wagner (my predecessor) and I have tried to cultivate a sense of unity among our group. Because of the wonderful response from our members, I think we have succeeded.

With a feeling of unity, a continuity of meetings, with an increase in members and a decided gain in our Treasury, I am proud to state that New York has taken many steps in the right direction. With the continued cooperation of the members in

New York and of the Alumnae Association here in Richmond, and most of all, under the guidance of The Good Lord, we shall take many more in the next two years!

Peninsula Club

President: MRS. RICHARD SHEPHERD (Peggy Louthan) 87 Post Street, Hilton Village, Va.
Report of Activities 1951-1952

I. Meetings:

1. December 7, 1951—Covered dish dinner at the home of Mrs. Richard Sawyer.
2. February 9, 1952—Luncheon at Chamberlin Hotel—Guests: Mrs. R. E. Booker and Mrs. T. Preston Turner.
3. April 5, 1952—Tea in honor of the Westhampton Students. Guest speaker, Miss Helen Want, Senior at Westhampton.
4. May 16, 1952—Lecture given at the Hampton Baptist Church by Dr. Smart.

II. Business:

1. The Peninsula Chapter voted to have $2.00 dues to meet the proposed 1951-1952 budget.
2. Alumnae from Gloucester and West Point were invited to join our Peninsula Group.
3. Sent $46.00 to Westhampton Alumnae Fund.
4. Officers for the coming year:
President: Mrs. Richard Shepherd
Secretary: Mary Lou Sawyer
Treasurer: Mary Paulson

Roanoke Club

President: MRS. BOYD DICKENSON (Mary Ann Hubbard), 407 King George Avenue, Roanoke, Virginia

The Roanoke Club held its first meeting in a long while the evening of May 15th. To begin our meeting we had dinner together at Hotel Patrick Henry, with Mrs. R. E. Booker, our alumnae secretary, as our special guest. This gave all the old and new alumnae a wonderful opportunity to become acquainted with each other—and, too, a chance to bombard Mrs. Booker with questions concerning all the latest happenings at Westhampton.

Following dinner, we met in a private clubroom for our business session. At this time, officers for the coming year were elected. They are: Mrs. Boyd Dickenson, president, Miss Susie Blair, vice-president and Miss Barbara Rhudy, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Reba Hash, past president, expressed her desire for the Roanoke Club to become more active now that more and more Roanoke girls are attending Westhampton.

Mrs. Booker then closed our meeting with a most interesting and informative talk on activities at Westhampton and illustrated her talk with lovely color slides showing scenes of May Day, graduation and various views of the campus grounds.

The group present at the meeting was very enthusiastic about making our club more active, and we hope in the next year to be able to have several more meetings in which we can include girls attending Westhampton at the present time.

Southwest Virginia Club

President: MRS. ROBERT C. MOORE, JR. (Arlene M. Moore), Box 68, Christiansburg, Virginia

The Southwest Virginia Club was organized May 16th, 1952. Mrs. R. E. Booker conducted the meeting held at the home of Mrs. J. B. McCarty in Christiansburg. Twelve alumnae from Blacksburg, Christiansburg, Pulaski and Radford were present. Officers elected were:

Arline M. Moore '48—President
Anne Bing Abbott '49—Vice-President
Rosamond Calhoun McCarty '49—Secretary

Tidewater Club

President: MISS CHARLOTTE BEALE

There were thirty-four enthusiastic alumnae present to hear the beloved combination—Keller and Turnbull. Miss Keller "gossiped" on campus news in her own delightful manner and Miss Turnbull, in turn, showed a number of lovely spring slides of Westhampton.

This "treat" occurred at the fourth and final meeting of the Tidewater Branch which met at the Carriage House in Norfolk on April the 26th. After the invocation given by Dorothy Foster, lunch was served. This was followed by a brief business meeting presided over by Elizabeth Bell, President of the Branch.

A check for $56.00 has been sent to the swimming pool fund.

The officers for '52-'53, elected at this meeting, are:

Charlotte Beale '39—President
Carolyn Babb Heflin ex '43—Vice-President
Mildred Pope Andersen '29—Secretary
Dorothy Monroe Hill '44—Treasurer

Washington Club

President: MRS. F. M. CLEVINGER (Mary Brock)
4329 Lorcom Lane, Arlington, Virginia

Our chapter enjoyed our annual spring tea for Westhampton students in the city and prospective students, March 30th, in the home of Betty Sherman Cale. One of her lovely daughters assisted her and Frances Burnette, who was in charge of refreshments, helped also, and Estelle Kemper Butler poured the tea. Dorothy Knibb, who is chairman of the Puppet Project, reported on her committee's findings and it was decided by voting to attempt to have at least one puppet show next year.

The final meeting of the year was held May 25th in the beautiful new home of Alice Garnett Thomas. We were invited to bring our families and friends and to bring our suppers, drinks to be provided. Delicious punch and hot coffee were made by Mervyn Lee Judd, and hot turnovers filled with chicken salad and tuna fish salad prepared by Alice Thomas made our supper on the porch a very much enjoyed occasion.

Frances Burnette and her nominating committee consisting of Elizabeth Hutchison, Elizabeth Frazier Burslem and Julia Decker Bristow offered the following slate:

Charlotte Moore '40—President
Joanne Waring '50—Vice-President
Elizabeth Latimer '51—Secretary
Frances Flick '38—Treasurer

The nominees were wholeheartedly endorsed and we're looking forward to another year of happy times together.

CHAPTERS

Baltimore

On May 20 the Baltimore chapter met with wives and guests for dinner at the Belvedere Hotel. The guests included Congressman Vaughan Gary, and Robert J. Lally, Assistant Special Agent for the F.B.I., Baltimore office, and Joe Nettles, Alumni Secretary. We were especially glad to have some of the ladies of the Westhampton alumnae visit with us.

At the conclusion of the dinner, the meeting was opened by president Marty Logan. Dr. Emmet Ried, who is celebrating his 60th year as an alumnus, was presented.

The chapter elected Vernon B. Richardson, '35, as president; Channing Wilson, '25, vice-president; Lawrence Edberg, '38, secretary, and Ben West, '27, treasurer.

Mr. Lally gave a talk about crime in the nation today. He appealed to the community, church, and home to do all they could to aid law enforcement agencies.

Joe Nettles spoke of the A. D. Williams bequest and explained how it was to be used. He reported on the activities of the school and extended an invitation to all to visit the campus in June.

Congressman Gary, 40 years an alumnus, spoke to us about his travels to the Pacific. First he paid tribute to the F.B.I. as the most efficient agency in the country.

The first part of the trip took him to Juneau, Alaska where several of the military installations were inspected. Then on to the Aleutians to visit some more posts. The next stop was Japan. "There exists today in Japan a strong anti-communistic feeling," he said, "but the nationalistic sentiment is growing every day. In fact it is not limited only to Japan but is world wide."

The Korean front was next visited. "The American troops are the best equipped of any ever to be in the field," Mr. Gary asserted. He added the United Nations are in Korea because of "the principle of liberty and not for reasons of conquest." There are at present 52 nations in Korea.

Formosa was the next stop and the troops and equipment were inspected. The troops are in excellent condition, Mr. Gary reported, but lack equipment. Several other islands were visited on the way back to Washington.

Washington

Members of the Washington Alumni Chapter cast aside their inhibitions and kicked up their heels at an old-fashioned square dance to wind up the 1951-52 "college" year on a festive note.

Alumni, wives, and dates—most in informal attire—whirled around the floor to the strains of first-class mountain music and directions from the champion caller of Arlington County. During breathing spells, they munched doughnuts and drank cider.

At a brief business meeting, these officers were elected for 1952-53: Henry W. Riley, '23, assistant treasurer of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, President; J. Earle Dunford, Jr., '48 editorial staff member of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, vice-president; and Robert C. Cotten, Jr., '42, Washington attorney, secretary-treasurer.

Necrology

1888—

Dr. Charles M. Hazen died on April 22 at his Richmond home after a long illness. First football coach at Richmond College, Dr. Hazen at the time of his death was one of the oldest alumni of old Richmond College where he matriculated in 1884. He won the degree of B.A. at Richmond College in 1888 and the degree of M.A. in 1889.

In past years, Dr. Hazen had been professor of physiology at the Medical College of Virginia and was one of the first x-ray physicians in Richmond.

He had been for 50 years a member and an elder in the Bon Air Presbyterian Church.

1890—

The Rev. John William Reams died at his Richmond home on May 25 at the age of 89. A retired Baptist minister, he was educated in the Charlotte County schools; at Homestead Academy, Chesterfield County, and at Richmond College.

Mr. Reams was a pastor in the James River Baptist Association for six years; in the Accomac Association for 17 years, and in the Blackwater Association for 12 years. He had been retired since August, 1940.

His last ministerial service was as supply pastor of Hardware Baptist Church and Moorland

Baptist Church, both in Albemarle County. Reams was also field secretary of the University of Richmond for three years in the "Million-Dollar Campaign," four years in the "Two-Million-Dollar Campaign," and two years in the "Half-Million-Dollar Campaign."

1894—

Malcolm Elmore Walthall, retired electrical and mechanical engineer, died on April 19 at a Richmond hospital. A member of an old Virginia family and a native of Richmond, Mr. Walthall was a son of the late Howard and Olenia Elmore Walthall.

He was educated at old Richmond College and at the General Electric School at Lynn, Mass. He was the author of a history of the Walthall family and was a member of the Peter Williamson Lodge, No. 323, AF&AM, of Scranton, Pa.

1896—

Jesse H. Binford died on June 10 in a Richmond hospital at the age of 77. Superintendent of Richmond school for 12 years, Mr. Binford attended Richmond public schools and was graduated from Richmond College. He received his master's degree at the University of Wisconsin and studied school administration at Columbia University.

Mr. Binford became superintendent of the Richmond public school system in May 1933, and served until his retirement, Dec. 31, 1945, at the age of seventy.

His administration was marked by a series of great strides in the city's educational program, at least one of which drew national attention.

J. Herbert Mercer, veteran sheriff of Richmond, died June 23 at the age of 78 at his Richmond home. Sheriff for 43 years, Mr. Mercer's death came after an illness of several months.

A native of Richmond, Mr. Mercer was educated at Nolley School, McGuire's University School and the University of Richmond. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Gentry Mercer; a son, Stuart Gray Mercer; a brother, Dr. Willie Mercer; and two grandchildren.

1898—

Robert Beverley Munford, Jr., died on June 24 in a Richmond hospital at the age of 73 after an illness of six weeks. Obituary editor of the Richmond News Leader for many years, he was educated at Mrs. Camm's School for Boys, at Wistar Archer's University School and at Richmond College. He took graduate work at the University of Virginia, receiving his bachelor of laws degree at the latter institution in 1902.

1900—

The Rev. Allen Pressley Wilson, for many years rector of Episcopal churches in Baltimore, died on June 24 at the age of 76 in Santa Rosa, Fla. He was once national chaplain of the Spanish American War Veterans and a national officer of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

1903—

Mark Richards Lloyd died at his home at The Tuckahoe Apartments, on Sunday, March 30, after a long illness.

Born at Louisa Courthouse, the son of Senator Mark R. Lloyd and Mrs. Ida Ballowe Lloyd, he spent his early boyhood days in Manchester, which is now South Richmond.

He was educated at Colonel Gordon McCabe's School and graduated from Richmond College, where he studied law.

Known for his kindness and generosity, he was a true Christian gentleman, ever ready to lend a helping hand to his fellow man.

He was a communicant of St. James Church, where he was active until failing health forced his retirement.

Mr. Lloyd was a member of the Manchester Lodge No. 14 A.F. & A.M. Scottish Rite bodies of Richmond, receiving his degree November 19, 1931, and Acca Temple Shrine.

The funeral was conducted at his home by the Reverend Doctor Churchill J. Gibson, with Committal Service at the grave in Hollywood.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Elizabeth Wormeley Cardoza, and one brother, Wickham T. Lloyd, of Norfolk.

1905—

J. Aubrey Saunders died on April 15 in Medical College of Virginia Hospital at the age of 73 as a result of an automobile accident. He was a former owner of the Highland Park Sand Company.

1910—

Sydney J. Lodge died in Hyattsville, Maryland on April 17. He had been a professor at Briarly Hill Military Academy.

1918—

R. H. Wilson died on October 13, 1950 at Honaker, after being an invalid for five years with paralysis.

1925—

Alvin Judson Babcock died on June 13 in a Richmond hospital at the age of 49. An organizer of Babcock-Phillips Corporation, Mr. Babcock served as president of that business. He was born in Powhatan County and lived in Chase City prior to attending the University of Richmond and establishing his home in Richmond.

Mr. Babcock was a member of the Richmond Kiwanis Club and a member of the Country Club of Virginia, and was formerly on the board of the Henrico County Tuberculosis Association.

1932—

Carl Gray Gillikin, Jr., died on March 5 in New York City.

1940—

Abram P. Staples died at his Roanoke, Va., home on May 5 from a shotgun wound. Mr. Staples was graduated from the University of Richmond law school in 1940. At that time he entered the merchant marine and Army Transport Service. He had just recently made his home in Roanoke and had resumed law practice.

1949—

Philip C. "Tippy" Duling died on May 3 in an auto collision. He was 28 years old. Mr. Duling, the son of Police Captain Dan W. Duling, of Richmond, was unmarried, was a former Air Force pilot, credited with 35 combat missions over France and Germany during World War II. He attended the University of Richmond for two years after his separation from service in 1945.

Happy Red

(Continued from page 5)

round of the parties and drank in the stories of the good old days when football players were in the game for the duration, when the Christmas Eve fire destroyed the administration building on the old campus, when "toe pulling" was a favorite indoor sport, and when the ladies—God bless them—were regularly enrolled students in Richmond College.

From the girls who came back for the reunions, Friddell drew out a chain of memories.

Memories of "chiggers in the Spanish

moss imported for the Junior Prom . . . sunbathing on the first spring day . . . the rush for irons just before a dance . . . the watchman locking the gates too soon . . . the last streetcar to run on the Westhampton line . . . the seventh-inning stretch during exams . . . rain on May Day . . . blue roads in the rain . . . the lamp post to which they had to bow as freshmen."

The 1942 men, who worked particularly hard in lining up their reunion, published a booklet listing the careers of the class members. The survey revealed that 89 per cent of the class members are married. Sixty-eight per cent of those who are married have children (an average of 1.4 child). Eighty-one per cent served in World War II—46 per cent in the Navy, 32 per cent in the Army, and 22 per cent in the Air Force.

From the Westhampton class of '50 (the photographer arrived too late, but he took a picture of the deserted banquet hall to prove he had been there) to the classes of 1901 and '02 which met jointly as the guests of Dr. J. P. McCabe, the old grads were all agreed on one thing:

"Ours was the best class in the history of the University."

Members of reunion classes met with other returning old grads on Alumni Day, June 7. Alumni and alumnae had separate rounds of activities on their respective sides of the University lake and then got together for a joint dinner at which Dr. Samuel W. Stevenson, professor of English, spoke amusingly on the subject: "Husbands Arise: You Have Nothing to Lose But Your Chains." (See page 16.)

(The nation's press gave considerable play to Dr. Stevenson's remarks and some readers, not realizing that the good professor was speaking tongue-in-cheek, wrote caustic letters to him. "You," they said, in effect, "are no gent.")

In more serious vein, President Modlin told the sons and daughters of Alma Mater that the year had been one of the most notable in the University's history. He cited the $2,700,000 bequest of A. D. Williams, which already has been reflected in the establishment of twenty-seven additional scholarships and will be of continued value in the operation and maintenance of the T. C. Williams School of Law and the entire University. Other noteworthy events of the year included the establishment of two Reserve Officers' Training Corps units (Army transportation and Air Force), the completion of the $275,000 Alumni-Student Center Building, authorization for the construction of a new $400,000 law school building on the main campus, and the organization of a school of Christian education with 407 persons enrolled in classes in Norfolk, Roanoke, Richmond, and Baltimore.

Guests of honor at the dinner were: Dr. Herman P. Thomas, '17, professor of economics, who has rounded out twenty-five years as a member of the University of Richmond faculty. His career was reviewed in a eulogy by Dr. Vernon B. Richardson, '35, president of the General Society of Alumni.

Mrs. Nora Turpin Turner, '29, president of the Westhampton Alumnae Association, presided.

Earlier in the day, Westhampton old grads had listened at the Alumnae Hour to Mrs. Elizabeth Burns Gaylor, '32, and Mrs. Jean Grant, '42, who spoke on the subjects: "Do You Enjoy a Show?" and "A Biologist in Public Health."

Members of senior classes were guests of honor at luncheons on both sides of the lake. Three men, each chosen as the outstanding graduate in his class, were given medals and were elected to the Alumni Council. Lynn Calgar Dickerson, II, of Harrisonburg, president of the senior class of Richmond College; Roy Spencer Cayton of Richmond, chairman of the Honor Council in the School of Business Administration, and William Jerry Roberts of Richmond, vice chancellor of the McNeill Law Society and vice-president of the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity, were the medal winners.

The Richmond College medal was presented by Dr. George W. Sadler, '10, of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board; the Business School medal by E. Claiborne Robins, '31, president of A. H. Robins Company, and the law medal by City Attorney J. Elliott Drinard, '27.

After lunch, the men moved out to Mill-hiser Field to watch the first annual High School invitational track meet which was conducted under the expert direction of Track Coach Fred Hardy. The meet brought to the campus a galaxy of champions from Virginia's high and preparatory schools.

Credit for the success of Alumnae and Alumni Day activities was shared by committees headed by Mrs. Thomas C. Yeaman, '29, and Robert R. Martin, '39.

An Adventure

(Continued from page 2)

What such programs as these can do to promote world understanding was summed up by one of the trainees in the closing days of the program. "We have learned about an America which is so different from that which most Europeans know. To understand America—her peoples and institutions—one must visit this great country. High sky scrapers, television and mechanized people are not America. The country has its own beauty, whether you think of the hills, the great plains, the rolling landscape, the winding rivers or the endless cottonfields in the South, all of which we were so undeservingly fortunate to see. We got to love it and to love the people who live here and who showed us so much hospitality, cordial interest, good will, friendliness and even more than that. While in America we were ambassadors of our own country, but when we return—whether in the large cities or small hamlets—there will be those of us who can say to our countrymen who do not know or understand America—America is not as you say for I was there."

Drink More Milk for that “Picture of Good Health!”

She's growing up with lots of valuable, nourishing milk. Each brimming glassful means more energy, better health, better looks. For your good health drink plenty of Richmond Dairy MILK, nature's most nearly perfect food, EVERY DAY.

RICHMOND DAIRY COMPANY

THE SPOTLIGHT'S ON CHESTERFIELD.

First Cigarette to Name All its Ingredients

WORLD'S BEST TOBACCOS pre-tested by laboratory instruments for the most desirable smoking qualities . . .

KEPT TASTY AND FRESH by pure, costly moistening agents proved by over 40 years of continuous use in U.S.A. tobacco products as entirely safe for use in the mouth—natural sugars and chemically pure, costly glycerol — nothing else.

HIGHEST PURITY CIGARETTE PAPER—the best that money can buy.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR

Chesterfield

Scientists from Leading Universities Make Sure that Chesterfield
Contains Only Ingredients that Give You the Best Possible Smoke