LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

MaryAnn Grover

Dear Readers,

On behalf of the Richmond Public Interest Law Review, it is my honor to present the final issue of Volume XXII. This is the 2019 edition of our General Topics in the Public Interest Issue.

In this issue, our authors address timely issues focusing both on the ways in which society is evolving and is ripe for change. This issue explores the proportionality of the War on Terror, disruptive legal education, the intersection of abortion and capital punishment policy, juvenile criminal transfer laws in Virginia, and tax exemptions for nonprofit hospitals. While these articles touch on many high-profile issues, they also propose solutions and changes which can help alleviate these issues and help move to a more just society.

The publication of this issue would not have been possible without the tireless work of our Lead Articles Editors, Creighton-Elizabeth Boggs and Riley Henry. Additionally, we are thankful to authors: Waseem Qureshi, Nicholas Mirkay, Palma Strand, Erica Rebussini, M. Randell Scism, and Kim Simmons. We appreciate their willingness to share their expertise with our readers. On behalf of the Richmond Public Interest Law Review, we sincerely hope this issue offers you insight on some of the most important matters being discussed nationally and internationally at this time.

Sincerely,

MaryAnn Grover

Editor in Chief
