Trumpet artist Buddy Deshler is an ambassador for the transformative powers of the arts, champion of living composers, and agent for change in the instrumental music field. His burgeoning career has taken him around the country, as well as internationally, and has allowed him to share the stage with ensembles such as the King's Brass, The Rodney Marsalis Philadelphia Big Brass, Foden's Band of Sandbach, Cheshire, his own Vice City Brass and Marquee Brass, and, as of 2017, the illustrious Dallas Brass.

As a performing artist for XO Brass, Denis Wick of London, and Smith-Watkins, Mr. Deshler tours nationally, conducting lectures and clinics everywhere from middle school through college students. His educational programs and masterclasses focus on sound pedagogical approaches to practice and the business acumen necessary for a modern career in music. His lecture, "The Entrepreneurial Student," instills the idea that one can develop and execute the skills necessary to jump start a career in music while still being a "student," and has been presented at numerous colleges throughout the United States.

As an educator, Mr. Deshler serves as the Artistic Director and Co-Founder of The Fredericksburg Brass Institute, a weeklong summer music festival offering a rich immersion in master classes and seminars, large and small ensembles, instrument exhibits, participant recitals, and free concerts featuring renowned guest artists. He also serves as the Co-Founder and Executive Director of the Tidewater Brass Institute, based in Norfolk, VA.
