

2000

Preface

M. Stuart North
University of Richmond

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarship.richmond.edu/lawreview>

Part of the Law Commons

Recommended Citation

M. S. North, Preface, 34 U. Rich. L. Rev. (2000).

Available at: <http://scholarship.richmond.edu/lawreview/vol34/iss3/2>

This Introduction is brought to you for free and open access by the Law School Journals at UR Scholarship Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Richmond Law Review by an authorized editor of UR Scholarship Repository. For more information, please contact scholarshiprepositary@richmond.edu.

PREFACE

The University of Richmond Law Review proudly presents the sixteenth Annual Survey of Virginia Law. Like earlier editions, the 2000 Annual Survey includes practitioner and professor authored articles analyzing and discussing recent legislative, administrative, and judicial developments in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Written by experts in their particular fields, the Annual Survey of Virginia Law endeavors to provide the Law Review's readership with a comprehensive and practical interpretation of the law in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

In addition to covering traditional legal fields, the 2000 Annual Survey of Virginia Law also includes a Foreword by the Governor of Virginia, the Honorable James S. Gilmore, III and an Introduction from the Attorney General of Virginia, the Honorable Mark L. Earley.

While the Annual Survey of Virginia Law is traditionally one of the Law Review's most popular editions, it is also one of the Law Review's largest editions. The 2000 Annual Survey of Virginia Law would not have been possible without the extraordinary effort and dedication of many individuals. The Law Review extends its gratitude and commends all of its authors for their willingness to participate in this scholarly work. The Law Review also thanks Professor W. Hamilton Bryson for providing the Law Review with advance copies of the Virginia circuit court opinions. I personally want to thank the Law Review Staff and Board Members for their dedication and hard work during the summer and fall semesters. I also thank Glenice Coombs for her guidance and patience. Finally, I thank Ellen J. North for her stalwart support during my tenure as editor.

It has been an honor to serve as the editor for the 2000 Annual Survey of Virginia Law. Thank you for your support and readership.

M. Stuart North
Annual Survey Editor

